ACC ANNOUNCES 2013 MEN'S GOLF ALL-CONFERENCE TEAMS AND INDIVIDUAL AWARD WINNERS

GREENSBORO, N.C. --- The Atlantic Coast Conference announced its 2013 Men's Golf All-Conference team and individual awards today as selected by the league's 11 head coaches. NC State junior Albin Choi was named the ACC Player of the Year and Florida State's Hank Lebioda was selected ACC Freshman of the Year. Duke's Jamie Green garnered ACC Coach of the Year honors.

Albin Choi, NC State
ACC Player of the Year

In becoming only the third NC State player to be named ACC Player of the Year, Choi is currently ranked third by Golfstat and 26th by Golfweek. The Toronto, Ontario, junior was the only ACC player among the 10 semifinalists for The Ben Hogan Award and currently leads all ACC golfers with five victories during the 2012-13 season. In addition, Choi, a three-time All-ACC selection, ranks second in the league with a 70.71 scoring average.

Lebioda leads all ACC freshmen, and ranks ninth overall, in stroke average (71.84) and is ranked 94th by Golfweek. In becoming only the second Seminole to earn ACC Freshman of the Year honors, the Winter Spring, Fla., product finished tied for 10th place at last month's ACC Championship with a three-under 213 (68-71-74) and during the spring season finished no worse than 19th in five tournament competitions.

Hank Lebioda, Florida State
ACC Freshman of the Year

Green, in his fourth season at the helm of the Duke program, was named ACC Coach of the Year honors after leading his Blue Devils to their first ACC title since 2005, and the program's seventh overall. Duke won five tournament titles this season and placed in the top six in eight of 10 tournaments overall.

Eight of the 11 ACC men's golf programs are represented on this year's All-ACC team. Florida State led the way with three players selected to the All-ACC squad. Seminole sophomore Daniel Berger, the runner-up in the balloting for ACC Player of the Year, was joined on the team by senior Chase Seiffert and Lebioda.

Georgia Tech and Virginia Tech each had two players tabbed for the All-ACC team, with Duke, Maryland, NC State, Virginia and Wake Forest each having one player chosen.

Jamie Green, Duke

Choi, Wake Forest's Evan Beck, Maryland's Sean Bosdosh, Virginia's Denny McCarthy and Duke's Brinson Paolini complete the 12-member All-ACC squad.

2013 ACC Men's Golf

Duke Rallies in Final Round to Capture ACC Men's Golf Championship Georgia Tech's Anders Albertson Fires Tournament-Record 201.

Tenth-ranked Duke, behind the play of seniors Adam Sumrall and Brinson Paolini, shot a final round four-under-par 284 to overcome 13th-ranked Florida State in the final holes of the Atlantic Coast Conference's 60th Annual Men's Golf Tournament held at the 7,102-yard, par 72 course at the Old North State Club in New London, N.C.

The Seminoles led throughout most of the Tournament, but the Blue Devils caught them early in the final round and the two teams battled back and forth for the lead all afternoon as weather conditions gradually deteriorated, with driving rain over the final nine holes. Duke finished by shooting a 25-under-par, 54-hole score of 839.

Florida State finished in a tie with Virginia Tech for second-place with a three-round total of 842, some three strokes behind the Blue Devils, but still recording an impressive 22-under par.

Ninth-ranked Georgia Tech finished fourth with an 851, followed by Clemson (859), Virginia (862), North Carolina (869), Wake Forest (872), NC State (881), Maryland (883) and Boston College (896).

"The guys on our team loved the opportunity today," said Duke coach Jamie Green. "In practice this is what you tell your players they're working for. It was a lot of fun on the back nine out there. There were some birdies made and some nip and tuck, but when you got to that final hour, it was just a survival test. There were times when you wondered whether this putt's playable. Saw their hat turned backwards and they got their blinders on and did a great job."

The win for Duke was its seventh ACC men's golf title, but its first since 2005 and the first for Green, in his fifth year as head of the Blue Devil program.

While the Blue Devils claimed the team title, Georgia Tech sophomore Anders Albertson made news of his own, taking individual medalist honors by shoot an ACC Tournament record 201 for 54-holes of play. Albertson, from Woodstock, Ga., shot 66-67-68-201 over the three days of competition to better the Conference's previous best 54-hole total of 202, set by former Wake Forest All-America Webb Simpson in the 2006 Tournament, also held at the Old North State Club. The feat was made even more impressive by the bad weather over the final nine holes.

Albertson became the eighth Georgia Tech golfer to win ACC medalist honors joining Paul Haley (2011), Chesson Hadley (2010), Cameron Tringale (2006), Bryce Molder (2000), Mikko Rantanen (1994), David Duval (1991, 1993), and Bob McDonnell (1985).

Virginia Tech senior Mikey Moyers (Stanardsville, Va.) and Florida State senior Chase Seiffert (Panama City, Fla.) tied for second-place in the individual competition, both shooting 206 over the three days of golf.

Florida State sophomore Daniel Berger (Jupiter, Fla.), the first round leader of the Tournament, finished in fourth place with a nine-under-par 207.
