ACC IN THE WNIT

Georgia Tech's appearance in the 1992 WNIT not only marked the school's first post-season tournament appearance, but also the first WNIT title for an ACC school. Eleven of the 12 schools have participated in the WNIT at least once. Georgia Tech, Clemson and Miami each have received four WNIT bids, Florida State has three appearances, while North Carolina, Virginia and Virginia Tech have earned two berths. Duke, Maryland, NC State and Wake Forest have each earned one bid.

AIAW TOURNAMENT PARTICIPATION

The Association for Intercollegiate Athletics for Women (AIAW) was formally organized in 1971-72. This Commission established the national championships and encouraged organization of colleges and universities and/or organizations of women physical educators to govern intercollegiate competition for women at all levels of the sport.

Although the AIAW was the national governing body for collegiate women's athletics from 1971 to 1981, it did not establish its own legal identity until 1979. From 1971 to the AIAW's final Women's Basketball Tournament in 1981, the ACC was represented well with three of the eight schools participating in the tournament, including Maryland's appearance in the championship game of the 1978 AIAW Tournament.

The ACC record in order of win percentage follows:

| School | App | W | L | Pct |
|----------------------|-----|---|---|------|
| Maryland..... | 4 | 6 | 4 | .600 |
| NC State | 2 | 2 | 2 | .500 |

The Price of Being No. 1

Top-seeded teams have won 43 percent of the ACC titles for a total of 13 ... the lowest seed to earn the crown was at No. 5 (North Carolina in 1984 and Maryland in 1986) ... however, the No. 1 seed has won six of the last seven tournaments. The No. 1 seed has won 13 of the 30 ACC Tournaments.

Ranking High at Tournament Time

At least one team has been ranked in the Top 10 of the Associated Press poll heading into 25 of the 30 tournaments ... two teams have been ranked in the Top 10 11 times. 2006 marked the first season in which three teams ranked in the Top 5 of the AP Poll going into the league tournament (UNC #1, DU #2, MD #4), while 2007 showcased a trio as well (DU #1, UNC #4, MD #6).
