2010-11 WOMEN'S BASKETBALL

ACC NOTABLES

* For the 9th-straight year, the ACC was represented by at least six teams in the NCAA Field of 64, while two ACC teams in the WNIT gave the league eight postseason teams for the 8th time overall, 7th consecutive, and 8th time in the last 12 years.

* The ACC was one of only 2 leagues (Big East) to place six or more teams in the 2011 NCAA Big Dance.

* Six ACC programs are ranked among the Top 25 teams in the country, according to the Associated Press, while six league teams also rank in the Top 21 of the RPI rankings, including four in the Top 15.

* Boston College's Carolyn Swords remains the No. 1 leader in FG% in the country. The veteran has ranked atop the national charts in FG% for the past two seasons.

* The Blue Devils won their 7th ACC Championship with an 81-66 victory over 19th-ranked UNC. Duke has now won ACC titles from 2000-04 (5-straight) and 2010-11 (2-straight).

* Duke's Joanne P. McCallie has guided the Blue Devils to a 58-4 overall record in Cameron Indoor, including an active 25-win streak.

* A season after setting the school record by earning the highest seed in school history at No. 3 for the NCAA Tourney, FSU tied that mark this year.

* Georgia Tech earned a school record 5th consecutive berth in the NCAA Tournament. Of Tech's six previous appearances, four have come under head coach MaChelle Joseph.

* The WBCA selected Georgia Tech's Deja Foster as the 2011 recipient of the Charles T. Stoner Law Scholarship, given annually to a player who intends to pursue a career in law.

* The Terps have made seven NCAA Tournament appearances in Brenda Frese's nine years in College Park. In fact, she owns an impressive 18-7 mark as a head coach in the NCAA.

* Miami's No. 3 seed was the second-best seed in program history behind the No. 2 seed earned by the 1992 Hurricanes, who reached the Sweet 16 that season. The NCAA appearance was the 7th in school history.

* UNC head coach Sylvia Hatchell has led her teams to at least 20 wins on 27 occasions in 36 seasons, good for 4th-most nationally. Only Pat Summitt, Vivian Stringer and Jody Conradt have coached more 20-win seasons.

* Virginia freshman Ataira Franklin tops all ACC players for 3-point FG%.

WEEKLY/POSTSEASON AWARDS

The Atlantic Coast Conference's "Blue Ribbon Panel," consisting of national and local media members, as well as school representatives, will vote for the league's preseason poll, weekly honors and post-season All-Conference teams for the 2010-11 season.

The ACC, with nominations from its 12 member institutions, will designate approximately 24 media members who regularly cover ACC Women's Basketball regularly to the panel. The two dozen individuals cannot be directly affiliated with an ACC program and do not necessarily have to come from the schools' geographical areas.

In addition, each school will be permitted to nominate one at-large member, who is affiliated with the institution (i.e., school radio personality or school newspaper beat writer), to serve on the panel.

Both of these groups will be asked to commit to a two-year term and will be held accountable to voting on a consistent basis, including Player and Rookie of the Week selections, which will be announced on Monday afternoons.

In addition to the 36 members, the league's media relations office will invite additional national and selected persons to the panel, including ACC television partners.

Finally, all 12 league head coaches will receive one ballot to vote on preseason and postseason accolades; however, they will not be permitted to vote on a weekly basis or for their own studentathletes.

The designated "Blue Ribbon" panel will also be responsible for naming the All-ACC teams, All-Freshmen team, Coach of the Year, Player of the Year, and Rookie of the Year, while the All-Defensive, Defensive Player of the Year and Sixth Player of the Year honor will be voted on by the league's 12 head coaches. The teams and individual award winners will be announced during the week immediately following the conclusion of the regular season.

PRESEASON PREDICTIONS

The Duke women's basketball team has been predicted to finish atop of the 2010-11 ACC Women's Basketball standings for the first time since 2005. The predictions were made by a vote of the Blue Ribbon Panel, consisting of national and local media, as well as school representatives.

The Blue Devils, who earned 24 of a possible 33 first-place votes, are coming off a 2009-10 campaign in which they were regular season ACC co-champions and won their sixth league Tournament title. Duke posted an 8-4 record against ranked opponents last season and was listed in the Top 25 of the AP Poll for 206-straight weeks, which marks the longest current streak in the ACC and is third nationally.

The ACC Newcomer Watch list, which replaces the Preseason Rookie of the Year honor, highlights freshmen, true and redshirt, and transfers that are expected to make an immediate impact in the league.

ACC/BIG TEN CHALLENGE

The ACC won its fourth-straight ACC/Big Ten Women's Basketball Challenge with a 6-5 edge on December 1st and 2nd, 2010, in its fourth year of what began as a four-year agreement and has been extended until 2012.

Last year, the ACC won seven of the 11 Big Ten/ACC Challenge games. In 2008, the ACC also won seven contests, while the inaugural Challenge in 2007 saw the ACC collect eight victories.

The ACC and the Big Ten conference offices determine the 11-game schedule each season, and match-ups may repeat from year-to-year in efforts to coordinate similar opponents and reach competitive equity. Each of the Big Ten's 11 institutions will participate, while the ACC will select 11 teams from its 12-team membership.

In addition, the official title of the Challenge will rotate each year. The 2010 event will be referred to as the ACC/Big Ten Women's Basketball Challenge and will continue to mirror the official title of the two conferences' challenge agreement for men's basketball.

Through the previous three Challenges, Florida State, Georgia Tech, Maryland and Virginia remain undefeated for the ACC, while Michigan boasts the only unbeaten record among Big Ten squads.

WOODEN MIDSEASON LIST

The ACC had the highest number of players chosen to the John Wooden Midseason list, with four. Other conferences with two or more players represented include the Big East (3), Pac-10 (3), Big 12 (3), SEC (2), and Big 10 (2).

The midseason list is comprised of 20 student-athletes who, based on last year's individual performance and team records, are the current front-runners for college basketball's most prestigious honor.

The ACC was one of only two conferences (Big East) to have five players named to the John Wooden preseason Top 30 list. Transfers, freshmen and medical redshirts were not eligible for the preseason list; however, have been re-evaluated and included in the December Midseason list and the official voting ballot released in March.

The National Ballot consists of approximately 20 top players who have proven to their universities that they are also making progress toward graduation and maintaining at least a cumulative 2.0 GPA.

The Wooden Award All American Team, consisting of the nation's top five players, will be announced the week of the "Elite Eight" round of the NCAA Tournament.

North Carolina was one of only three schools to have three players represented on the 2010-11 Naismith preseason watch list, announced by the Atlanta Tipoff Club. The ACC placed nine on the list, which consists of the top women's college basketball players from 37 schools from around the country, including six programs in the ACC.

Each year, the Atlanta Tipoff Club's board of selectors narrows the preseason watch list comprised of 50 players to 30 then chooses the four finalists who will make up the final ballot. The board, comprised of leading basketball journalists, coaches and administrators from around the country, base its criteria on player performance for the season.

In late February, the Atlanta Tipoff Club's Board of Selectors will compile a mid-season team of the top 30 players in the nation. Then in March, the Naismith Trophy voting academy will vote to narrow the list to the four finalists

2011 ACC TOURNAMENT

GREENSBORO COLISEUM

In the past 33 years of the ACC Women's Basketball Tournament, there have been eight different sites. The inaugural tournament was held in 1978 at University Hall on the campus of the University of Virginia in Charlottesville.

The Tournament then moved to Reynolds Coliseum in Raleigh, N.C., in 1979, hosted by NC State. The University of Maryland's Cole Field House in College Park was the site of the 1980 Tournament, while Clemson University's Littlejohn Coliseum was home to the 1981 event. It returned to Reynolds Coliseum in 1982.

The Conference Tournament remained in North Carolina from 1983 to 1991, hosted by Fayetteville's Cumberland County Memorial Arena. The Tournament then moved to Winthrop Coliseum in Rock Hill, S.C., for a four-year span (1992-96), until the 1997 move to Independence Arena in Charlotte, N.C., which hosted the event for three years.

The 2011 ACC Women's Basketball Tournament marked the 12th year the four-day event was held in the Greensboro Coliseum.

MIAMI'S JOHNSON NAMED ACC PLAYER OF THE YEAR

Miami junior guard Shenise Johnson was named the Atlantic Coast Conference Women's Basketball Player of the Year. The honor was selected by a 42-member Blue Ribbon Panel, consisting of media and head coaches.

Johnson, who was a first-team All-ACC selection a season ago and was represented on this year's Preseason All-ACC Team, was named to the 2010-11 All-ACC First Team. After her first season in 2008-09, the Henrietta, N.Y., native was named Honorable Mention All-ACC and to the ACC All-Freshman team. The dynamic guard ended the regular season as the only player in the ACC to rank in the Top 10 in scoring (2nd, 19.6 ppg), rebounding (8th, 7.8 rpg) and assists (9th, 3.7 apg). Johnson, who had a league-high three 30-point performances and 11 20-point showings while being named the ACC Player of the Week on three occasions this season, was also named to the 2010-11 All-Defensive team. She is one of three Miami players to average more than three steals per game and owns an impressive 86 percent free throw accuracy. In addition, Johnson has found time to lead her team in blocks, registering 26 in 29 games played.

Miami head coach Katie Meier was named the Atlantic Coast Conference Women's Basketball Coach of the Year. The honor was selected by a 42-member Blue Ribbon Panel, consisting of media and head coaches.

Meier has led her Miami Hurricanes through the ultimate turnaround -- from finishing 12th in the league one season ago, despite making to the Women's NIT Championship game, all the way to sharing the league's regular season crown this season. Meier has guided the 'Canes to 26-3 overall record and a 12-2 ACC mark, tying with Duke as regular season champions. The regular season title is the first for the Miami program and the No. 2 seed in the 2011 ACC Women's Basketball Tournament is the team's highest seed in school history since joining the league in 2004-05. # ACC IN THE WNIT

Georgia Tech's appearance in the 1992 WNIT not only marked the school's first postseason tournament appearance, but also the first WNIT title for an ACC school. Boston College made its third consecutive WNIT showing after the Eagles made NCAA appearances in seven of the last 11 years. All 12 ACC schools have now participated in the WNIT at least once. Miami has received five bids, while Georgia Tech, Clemson and Virginia have each received four. Boston College, FSU, Virginia Tech and Wake Forest have three appearances, while Maryland, UNC and NC State have earned two berths. Duke has been to the WNIT once.

AIAW TOURNAMENT PARTICIPATION

The Association for Intercollegiate Athletics for Women (AIAW) was formally organized in 1971-72. This commission established the national championships and encouraged organization of colleges and universities and/or organizations of women physical educators to govern intercollegiate competition for women at all levels of the sport.

Although the AIAW was the national governing body for collegiate women's athletics from 1971 to 1981, it did not establish its own legal identity until 1979. From 1971 to the AIAW's final Women's Basketball Tournament in 1981, the ACC was well represented with three of the eight schools participating in the tournament, including Maryland's appearance in the championship game of the 1978 AIAW Tournament.

The ACC record in order of win percentage follows:

School	App	W	L	Pct
Maryland	4	6	4	.600
NC State	2	2	2	.500
Boston College	2	1	3	.250
Clemson	1	0	1	.000
Miami	2	0	2	.000
