BC's College Cup run highlights ACC Women's Soccer in 2010

The 2010 Atlantic Coast Women's Soccer season was highlighted by many firsts.

Boston College earned its first-ever trip to the NCAA Women's College Cup, reaching the national semifinals before suffering a 2-0 loss to top-seeded Stanford on Dec. 3 at WakeMed Soccer Park in Cary, N.C. The Eagles' run capped a postseason that again saw the ACC tie a conference record by placing eight teams in the NCAA Tournament field.

WakeMed had been the site of another first-time accomplishment four weeks earlier, when Wake Forest outlasted Maryland on penalty kicks to claim its first-ever ACC Championship. The Demon Deacons became the fourth team to win an ACC title, joining North Carolina (21 times), Virginia (once) and NC State (once).

Eleven ACC student-athletes were named to at least one All-America team, with five -- Boston College's Kristie Mewis, Florida State's Toni Pressley, Maryland's Jasmyne Spencer, North Carolina's Crystal Dunn and Virginia's Sinead Farrelly -- earning first-team honors.

ACC COACHES PRESEASON POLL

Two-time defending NCAA champion North Carolina was the narrow favorite to claim the 2010 Atlantic Coast Conference women's soccer title, according to a preseason vote of the league's 11 head coaches.

The Tar Heels, who are bidding for their sixth straight ACC championship and their 22nd overall, were listed first on five ballots. UNC edged 2009 regular-season co-champion Boston College, which received four first-place votes. Florida State, which shared the regular-season title with the Eagles last season, received one first-place vote, as did Virginia. FSU placed third in the overall coaches' voting, followed by the Cavaliers.

Four other teams that participated in the 2009 NCAA Tournament followed. Duke was picked fifth, followed by Maryland, Wake Forest and Virginia Tech. Miami placed ninth in the voting, followed by NC State and Clemson.

North Carolina, which compiled a 23-3-1 record en route to its 20th NCAA title last season, returned six starters but had to replace defender Whitney Engen, the 2009 Honda Award and 2009-10 Mary Garber Award winner, four-time All-American Tobin Heath and two-time NCAA Women's College Cup Offensive MVP Casey Nogueira.

The ACC entered the fall off a 2009 season that saw a league-record tying eight teams receive NCAA Tournament bids and post a conference-record 20 postseason wins.

Ten student-athletes that earned first- or second-team All-ACC honors in 2009 returned this season, including Soccer America National Freshman of the Year and ACC Freshman of the Year Victoria DiMartino of Boston College, and three-time All-ACC first-team midfielder Sinead Farelly of Virginia.
