Last Time Out

*Belmont 46, Air Force 38
Nov. 30, 2003 at Nashville, Tenn.*

Center Adam Mark shot 11-of-12 from the field and posted game-highs of 24 points and seven rebounds Sunday as the Bruins defeated Air Force, 46-38, in Nashville. Air Force lost its first game of the season and is now 2-1.

Belmont (3-1) jumped out to an early 7-0 lead 3:15 into the game with a three-pointer by Brian Collins and two layups from Mark. Soon thereafter, Mark took an early seat on the bench with two fouls.

The Falcons finally got on the scoreboard at the 16:27 mark with a free throw by Joel Gerlach. Antoine Hood gave Air Force its first field goal with a layup at the 13:50 mark. Two layups and a three-pointer by Nick Welch capped a 10-0 run for a 10-7 lead as Air Force held the Bruins scoreless for more than nine minutes.

Air Force (2-1) suffered from early foul trouble as well, as Welch, Gerlach and backup center David Peterson were each called for two fouls in the first 12 minutes. Welch and Gerlach led the Falcons with nine points apiece. Hood chipped in with eight.

The Falcons took a 15-12 lead into the locker room at halftime as made buckets were at a premium in the first 20 minutes. Air Force made 6-of-19 while Belmont was 4-17 from the field. The Bruins made just one of its last 12 field goal attempts in the half.

"We played great defense today," said Air Force head coach Joe Scott. "We just missed a lot of shots."

The second half was the Adam Mark show as Belmont looked to get the ball to him in the post as often as possible. He scored the Bruins' first eight points of the half to give Belmont a 21-20 lead. Mark had a stretch of seven consecutive points later in the half as the Bruins extended their lead to 36-28. He had 17 of his 24 points in the second half.

Freshman Dan Nwaelele broke Mark's streak and five scoreless minutes for the Falcons with a three-pointer at the 5:27 mark, cutting the lead to 36-31. Two free throws by Collins bumped the lead to 38-31 with 3:56 left and the Bruins never led by less than six the rest of the way.

Belmont, which shot 64.7 percent (11-for-17) in the second half, finished the game shooting 44 percent, while Air Force shot just 35 percent (14-for-40) for the game.

Air Force Against the SEC

Air Force holds a 3-5 all-time record against teams in the Southeastern Conference. The Falcons have played six of the 12 teams in the conference. Here is a look at Air Force vs. the SEC:

	Won	Lost
Auburn	1	0
Arkansas	1	1
Florida	1	0
Kentucky	0	1
South Carolina	0	1
Vanderbilt	0	2
Total	3	5

Air Force has not played Arkansas, Georgia, LSU, Mississippi, Mississippi State and Tennessee. AFA's last game against an SEC team was a 95-50 loss to Vanderbilt at the Music City Classic in Nashville, Tenn., on Dec. 28, 1993.

Keller Preseason All-MWC

Tim Keller was selected to the preseason All-Mountain West Conference team at the league's media day in Denver, Colo.

The Austin, Texas product earned third-team All-MWC honors last season after averaging 14.8 points per game. He led the MWC in three-point percentage (41.3 percent) and was second in the league in free throw percentage (conference games only) at 87.3 percent.

Keller became the second Air Force player to earn an All-MWC selection, as Jarvis Croff was a second-team pick in 2000.

Three-Point Streak

Air Force has now made a 3-point shot in 328 consecutive games. The last time the Falcons failed to make a three-pointer was Dec. 4, 1991 in a 57-51 victory over Adams State College.

Fabulous Freshmen

Joe Scott's freshmen have been very impressive so far this season. Dan Nwaelele poured in a team-high 18 points in Air Force's 86-46 blowout of Navy, while Jacob Burtschi is tied for fourth on the team in rebounding with seven.

Two other freshmen, Jared Dillinger and Matt McCraw, are averaging more than eight minutes per game and McCraw is scoring at a 5.3 points per game clip.

First Half Knockout Punch

Air Force has outscored its opponents 96-50 in the first half this season. The Falcons have led at halftime in each game, including margins of 18 (36-18) against Arkansas-Pine Bluff and 25 (45-20) against Navy.

The Falcons have not been nearly as dominant in the second half, but are still outscoring their opponents, 91-82.

Joe Scott, Air Force head coach

Joe Scott is a winner. From early on in his life, winning is the one constant that has defined him more than any other. It's that quality that Air Force put their hopes on when the school made him only its fourth head coach on April 7, 2000.

Taking over a program that had not posted a winning season since the 1977-78 campaign, Scott arrived in Colorado Springs with a new system and a new attitude for the Falcon basketball program.

In his first season, he led the Falcons to an 8-21 record, posting the most Division I wins by a Falcon team since the 1989-90 campaign. The Falcons played their first-ever all-Division I schedule in Scott's first season.

In 2001-02, as Air Force again played an all-Division I schedule, the team captured nine victories, just shy of the school record for the most Division I victories in one season.

Last season, the milestones kept piling up. The Falcons led the nation in scoring defense, allowing their opponents just 57 points per game. They also won more games (12) than in any season since 1989-90, and their 9-4 non-conference record was one of the best in school history. Junior Tim Keller became the first Air Force player in Scott's tenure to achieve all-conference honors with a third-team selection.

Scott came to the Academy after eight tremendous years at his alma mater, Princeton. He coached for four years under Hall-of-Fame coach Pete Carril and four as the top assistant under Bill Carmody.

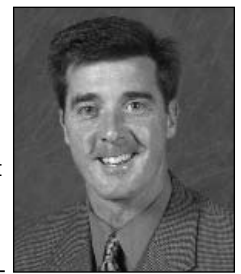

The 38-year-old helped Princeton to a 163-61 overall record, a 90-22 Ivy League record, three league titles and five consecutive post-season appearances. Princeton averaged 23 wins per year during the four years Scott was the No. 1 assistant. Prior to that, the school had just 23 wins in a season three times in 95 years.

The Tigers were 37-19 against schools that offered athletic scholarships in the last five years, including wins over Florida State, Texas and UNC Charlotte on consecutive nights to win the 1998 Rainbow Classic. The team also defeated Georgetown and North Carolina State in the 1999 NIT, and UNLV in the 1998 NCAA tournament.

Scott was a four-year letterman and three-year starter at Princeton under Carril. He helped the Tigers to the 1984 Ivy League championship and a first-round NCAA Tournament win over San Diego. He captained the 1987 squad to a 16-9 overall record while earning all-Ivy League honors for the second consecutive year.

Scott averaged 11.9 points per game as a senior and ranked fourth in the conference in three-point field goal percentage (.407). He finished his career with 809 points in 99 games. He ranks fourth all-time at Princeton in steals, eighth in assists and 10th in three-point field goal percentage. Scott also ranks 11th on the single-season three-pointers made list with 59, including a then-school-record seven against rival Pennsylvania in 1987.

The Pelican Island, N.J., native earned his bachelor's degree in history from Princeton in 1987, then attended Notre Dame Law School where he earned his Juris Doctor degree in 1990. His basketball playing days were by no means over. While at Notre Dame, Scott played in the famous Notre Dame Bookstore Basketball Tournament, leading his team to two titles and earning most valuable players honors twice.

Keller Outstanding at the Line

Tim Keller is No. 3 on Air Force's career free throw percentage list. He made 83.5% (81-97) of his free throws last season, the seventh-best mark for one season in school history, and has made 83.6 percent (117-140) in 59 games as a Falcon. He has currently made 20 consecutive free throws.

Following is the list of the top free throw shooters in Air Force history:

#	Name, Years	Pct.
1.	Lamoni Yazzie, 1999-2002	87.0 (161-185)
2.	Dan Kraft, 1972-75	84.1 (116-138)
3.	Tim Keller, 2001-present	83.6 (117-140)
4.	Dale French, 1987-90, 91-92	81.7 (236-289)
5.	Charles Smith, 1988-92	80.9 (131-162)
6.	John Judd, 1961-64	80.2 (239-298)
7.	Maurice McDonald, 1982-86	80.1 (177-221)
8.	Chris Lowry, 1987-91	79.4 (235-296)

Tops in NCAA Stats

The Falcons finished the 2002-03 season ranked No. 1 in the country in scoring defense, allowing just 57.0 points per game. The Falcons are well on their way to that title again this season, as Air Force is allowing just 44 points per game after three games. AFA finished last season ranked in the top 20 nationally in the following categories:

Category	#	Rank
Scoring Defense	57.0	1st
Turnovers per game	11.4	8th
Field-goal percentage	48.1	18th

Up Next

The Falcons play their fourth consecutive road game on Tuesday, Dec. 9 at Texas A&M-Corpus Christi. Tip-off is scheduled for 7 p.m. (CT).

Welch Is Just Fine

Sophomore center Nick Welch, who sat out the season opener against Arkansas-Pine Bluff while still recovering from knee surgery in September, flourished in the games against Navy and Belmont.

Starting the first game of his career at Navy, Welch scored a career-high 16 points on 6-of-8 shooting from the field. He drained both of his three-point attempts and pulled down three rebounds. Welch followed that performance with nine points and three boards against Belmont on Sunday.

Record Setting Victory Over Navy

Air Force's 86-46 victory over Navy in Annapolis, Md., is the largest margin in a road game against a Division I team in the 48-year history of Air Force basketball.

In fact, it doubled the previous record, which was a 20-point win at Fresno State (71-51) on Jan. 23, 1993.

Air Force's largest margin of victory in any road game is 44 in a 91-47 rout of Division II Western State College in Gunnison, Colo., on Feb. 23, 1976.
