

SEASON REVIEW

The 2005-06 season was a year of unprecedented success for the Air Force women's basketball team, which posted a double-digit win total for the first time ever in its Division I era. The Falcons, which ended the year with a 13-15 overall ledger, also posted a program-best four wins in the Mountain West Conference, sweeping both San Diego State and Colorado State. As a result, Air Force finished the season as the seventh-seed in the conference tournament, losing to eventual MWC champion and Elite Eight participant Utah.

After securing a 67-60 season-opening victory versus in-state rival Northern Colorado, the Falcons headed to the Beehive State over Thanksgiving break for a pair of contests against Utah Valley State and Weber State. Against UVSC, the Falcons put together a 29-4 run midway through the first half before running away with the 97-70 victory. It marked the highest point total for Air Force as a Division I program, while the team also set a school Division I record for field goals made (32) and field goal percentage (.561). In addition, it marked head coach Ardie McNelly's 100th career win. Air Force continued its season-opening road trip with a game versus Weber State, and matched its record for field goals made with 32, en route to the 78-65 victory.

The team returned home the next week-end for the annual Air Force Classic, featuring teams from Bucknell, High Point and Stephen F. Austin. In the first game, the Falcons went up against Bucknell, and, holding the Bison to just 41 points, picked up the 58-41 victory. It marked the lowest point total for an Air Force opponent since moving to the Division I level and helped the Falcons achieve their best start as a Division I team at 4-0.

The Falcons moved on to the championship game of the Air Force Classic, taking on the Southland Conference's Stephen F. Austin. Unable to overcome an early 15-point deficit, the Falcons suffered their first loss of the season against the Ladyjacks, despite coming back to tie the game late in the second half. Letricia Castillo, named to the all-tournament team, was the lone Falcon in double digits, scoring a career-high tying 22 points, while Lauren Henderson was also an all-tournament selection.

Ready to bounce back from its first loss of the season, Air Force next embarked on its final non-conference road trip of the season. Unfortunately, the team would be forced to play without starting point guard Henderson, who was forced out of action after undergoing an emergency appendectomy. The Falcons returned to Utah to face Utah State, and behind a furious late-game comeback, secured the 60-56 victory to remain undefeated on the road. Junior co-captain Andrea Taylor stepped up in Henderson's absence, finishing with nine points and four assists.

Next up for the Falcons was a trip to Bozeman, Mont., to face Montana State. Air Force ran away with the 81-61 victory to end the non-conference road slate undefeated.

The Falcons were ready to return home for their final four non-conference contests. After suffering a narrow 65-59 defeat to Denver, Air Force closed out its non-conference slate with three-straight victories, defeating UCCS, 68-56, service academy rival and NCAA-bound Army, 73-61, and Western State, 76-34. The 42-point margin of victory against Western State was the most lopsided win in Air Force's Division I history, while the 34 points scored by the Mountaineers set a new opponent low (set earlier against Bucknell). In addition, the Falcons notched a new Division I record for fewest turnovers, finishing with just four turnovers in the game.

With a Division I-best nine wins already under their belts, the Falcons were now ready to get the MWC schedule underway. First up was a road trip to BYU and San Diego State. Against the Cougars, the Falcons lost the battle of the boards for the first time all season in the 64-43 defeat. However, the team rebounded in its trip to San Diego State, getting it done from the free throw line in the 63-59 overtime victory.

The Falcons returned home for their next contest, a meeting with Wyoming. Although the game was tied 23-23 tie at intermission, the Cowgirls pulled away behind hot three-point shooting for the 64-55 victory.

Next up was a trip to league-newcomer TCU. The Lady Frogs used hot three-point shooting to gain their advantage, before taking the 71-57 victory. Air Force would have three in a row in the loss column when they next traveled to Utah, as the Utes rolled to a 90-45 victory.

The Falcons' biggest crowd of the year witnessed a thriller versus 18th-ranked New Mexico, but despite a late advantage, Air Force could not pull off the upset, falling, 59-54. The Falcons remained home for a mid-week contest against UNLV, and after trailing by as many as 21 points, made a late push. However, missed free throws down the stretch proved to be their detriment, as Air Force dropped the 66-56 contest.

After a week off, Air Force was ready to bring the first half of the conference slate to a close with a road trip to rival Colorado State. Though the Falcons had not won in Fort Collins since 1979, tough defense helped secure Air Force's 76-60 victory over the Rams. Castillo was hot offensively, scoring a career-high 27 points on 5-of-8 shooting from long range, while the team also dished out a season-high 22 assists, despite playing without its second starting point guard, Taylor, who suffered a knee injury in practice, and was forced to miss the remainder of the season.

With just eight games remaining in the regular season, and a school-record 11 victories already on their schedule, the Falcons were ready to get started with the second half of the MWC slate. However, this portion of the schedule went much like the first, with the only conference victories coming against San Diego State and Colorado State. While the team was somewhat disappointed with the final results, the Falcons did accomplish something they had never done before—complete a season sweep of not one, but two teams.

In the Mountain West Conference tournament, the Falcons were able to avoid the newly developed play-in game by virtue of their victories over San Diego State and Colorado State. Unfortunately, this meant that they would face second-seed Utah, the team which has given Air Force the most problems over the past few years.

While the Falcons would not be intimidated against the Utes, a 13-2 run for 19th-ranked Utah proved to be the major difference, as the Utes ran away with the 67-47 victory, despite a career-high 20 points for Ellen Jaeschke. Utah went on to capture the MWC title and advanced to the Elite Eight in the NCAA Tournament, losing to eventual national champion Maryland, helping demonstrate the strength of this year's Mountain West Conference.

While Air Force's season had a disappointing ending, it was a remarkable year in many senses. In addition to the school-record 13 wins and four conference victories, the Falcons also had many other outstanding accomplishments. Alecia Steele, an honorable mention All-MWC selection as a freshman, was named a third-team all-conference selection after finishing as the team's top scorer and rebounder for the second-straight season. As a result, she garnered MVP honors once again. Findlay was recognized for her performance both on and off the court, as she was named a CoSIDA Academic All-District second team selection. Jaeschke established a new Division I single-season blocks record with 30, and ranks sixth on the Falcons' all-time list with 56, while Castillo, a two-time team captain, has proven herself one of Air Force's most steady offensive performers, and ranks 16th on the all-time scoring list at the Academy.

With such amazing accomplishments under their belts, and the bulk of the team returning to do it again next year, the 2006-07 season is sure to be even more memorable for Air Force fans.

MWC TOURNAMENT

Denver, Colo. - Despite a career-high 20 points by sophomore Ellen Jaeschke, the seventh-seeded Air Force women's basketball team suffered a 67-47 defeat to second-seed Utah in the opening round of the 2006 Mountain West Conference Women's Basketball Championship. With the loss, the Falcons end the season with a 13-15 overall record.

Air Force led early in the game with a pair of baskets by Jaeschke and Alecia Steele, but the Utes went on a 13-2 run to take the lead for good. While Utah held a 20-10 advantage with under nine minutes to play in the opening stanza, Air Force put together an 8-0 run over the next six minutes to cut the margin to two points. However, the Utes would not let the Falcons get any closer, ending the half with eight straight points to go into the locker room with a 28-18 advantage.

The two teams played fairly evenly for the first five minutes of the second period and a three-pointer by sophomore Pamela Findlay brought the Falcons within nine points, its smallest deficit of the second half. At that point, Utah assembled yet another of its spurts, outscoring Air Force 11-0 to keep the game out of reach. While the Falcons were able to put together another quick 8-0 run, it was not enough to overcome the Utes' large advantage, as Utah ran away with the 67-47 victory.

Air Force shot 100 percent from the charity stripe (10-for-10), but was outrebounded 34-27 for the game and committed 19 turnovers.

While Jaeschke was the only Falcon scoring in double-figures, Steele added eight points and sophomore point guard Lauren Henderson had a team-high six rebounds and six assists to go along with her four points. For the Utes, Kim Smith, four-time conference player of the year, had a double-double with 29 points and 13 rebounds, Jessica Perry added 13 points and Shona Thorburn had nine points and 11 assists.
