ESPN College GameDay Comes to Tucson

Riding a six-game home winning streak, Arizona looks to jump back into Pac-10 title chase against league-leading Oregon

Some Game Themes: A game of considerable importance for the Pac-10 title, with Oregon a full game ahead of two challengers in Arizona and Stanford, with several different tie-breaker scenarios involved for each... Arizona sees how it handles itself under the microscope of national attention -- College GameDay on campus -- against a team that it beat in a somewhat similar situation in November 2007 in an ESPN telecast from raucous Arizona Stadium on a Thursday night... A clash of offensive teams, with UO checking in at No. 6 in rushing and No. 9 in scoring while Arizona is ahead in total offense at No. 24... But two defenses aren't bad, either, with UA at No. 18 and Oregon at No. 22 in total D... Two running backs with elusiveness in Arizona's Nic Grigsby and Oregon's LaMichael James. The latter ranks ninth nationally with 119 yards per contest while Grigsby could be 100 percent after nursing a shoulder injury for five games... A passing quarterback in Arizona's Nick Foles against a two-way threat in UO's Jeremiah Masoli... Two teams that get after the quarterback, with UA 14th and Oregon 20th nationally in sacks. The Cats are led by Ricky Elmore (8.5) while Oregon's Kenny Rowe (7.0) leads the Ducks... The Ducks shoot for a third consecutive nine-victory (or better) season while Arizona works to set itself up for improving on its eight victories a year ago... Defense (Mike Stoops) vs. offense (Chip Kelly) in the head coach-pedigrees department... The Ducks have only a Civil War at home remaining after this one, while Arizona heads out on the road to Tempe for a Territorial Cup battle and then to Troy for the regular-season finale... The Pac-10 has six bowl affiliations and currently has five teams with seven victories; Arizona works to join the group and make it a done deal...

Last Week: Arizona made the control of its own destiny a no-loss situation by falling at California, 24-16. The Cats had a narrow lead at the half, 10-9, and a lead in the fourth quarter, 16-15, but couldn't come up with the culmination of a final drive. Then, to make things worse, UA gave up a 61-yard touchdown run to Shane Vereen to further dampen the spirits inside the final minutes. Even then, UA had a final minute to tinker with, and the ball near midfield, but couldn't move the ball. That was a refrain, as the UA's league-best offense came up with its second-lowest output of the year, 274 yards. The Bears, meantime, kept at it with kicking -- a field goal in each quarter by Giorgio Tavecchio -- and recorded three sacks against what had been the best pass protection in the Pac-10. Vereen's big late run gave him 159 yards on the ground -- twice the UA's team total of 73. The Cats punted a season-high six times, but had a season-low 36.0 average by Keenyn Crier to help give UC-Berkeley average field position at its own 40-yard line. That and good defense helped the Bears maintain momentum nearly from the onset. Eight Arizona penalties also hurt. The Cats were 3-for-3 in the red zone but didn't get there enough, limited in part by converting only three of 13 third downs. (Cal was 2-for-10, not much better.) But the Bears got the stop when they needed them and got Tavecchio's three-pointers frequently enough to put up scores. The loss put UA at 4-2 in league play, a full game in the loss column behind its next opponent, Oregon, but still kept some hope for a league title by virtue of one tie-breaker scenario that involves UA winning out. On the potential game-winning drive, UA got the ball to the Cal 25-yard line, and at 3rd-and-3, quarterback Nick Foles was called for an illegal pass after his first try bounced off a Cal defender and he caught it himself, rolled out and threw another. Oops.

Arizona Postgame Interviews
There is no player availability on the field immediately after the game. Arizona has a closed locker room policy after games.
At home games, individual players and coaches will be made available to media members for postgame interviews in the Media Room near Gate 15 only through request and approval of the media relations and coaching staffs.
On the road, the locker room situation will dictate postgame protocol. Please consult the UA SID staff members.
Head coach Mike Stoops will address the assembled media only after his postgame radio show responsibilities have been completed both at home and on the road. Coach Stoops will address the media prior to any player comments.
Weekly Practices
All practices will be closed to the media during the season. Arizona players and coaches will be available post-practice to the media on Monday-Wednesday only. Players and coaches will not be available to the media post-practice on Thursdays and Fridays. Media members are requested to make post-practice interviews with individual players through the media relations staff.
Phone Interview Requests
Phone interviews Monday through Wednesday with requested players will be taken by the media relations staff and every effort will be made to fulfill them. However, due to class schedules and team commitments, not all interview requests can be honored. Student-athletes are not available for phone interviews on Sunday, Thursday or Friday. No student-athlete phone numbers will be provided to media members.

UA is one of three teams in FBS to rank in the Top 25 for both total offense and total defense?

Arizona-Oregon 2007 Flashback: In front of a national TV audience on ESPN, CB/PR Antoine Cason's 100 yard night proved one key in Arizona's rousing 34-24 victory over No. 2 Oregon on Thursday, Nov. 15. Cason's 42-yard interception return for a score gave Arizona the lead for good five seconds into the second quarter, 17-11, and his 56-yard punt return for a score 10 minutes later capped a Wildcat 24-0 splurge in just over 15 minutes. UA took a 31-14 lead into the locker room, a bit of additional daze for an Oregon squad that suffered through the loss of quarterback Dennis Dixon to a knee injury 10 minutes into the game. He opened the scoring with a 39-yard run and through 20 plays under his direction the Ducks had 183 yards in total offense. Afterward: a whopping 77 more plays for a respectable 240 more yards but only sporadic success on the scoreboard. Cason's interception, two others by safety Nate Ness and a fumble play by Cason and safety Corey Hall helped UA get four takeaways to thwart any UO continuity. Linebacker Spencer Larsen had 16 tackles to help make the point in the middle of things, three of those for losses, plus forced a fumble. LB Ronnie Palmer had 11 tackles to give that pair its first double-digit double of the year. Cason broke up five passes (of UA's nine PBU's) to help make Dixon's sub, Brady Leaf, ineffective with a 22-for-46 evening. On the other side of things, the Ducks' feared sack attack reached UA's Willie Tuitama just once, and he enjoyed a modest but more effective 21-for-39 for 266 yards and two scores – big catches of 34 yards by Mike Thomas for the Cats' first score and 46 yards by Money Mike for the second. UA sacked Leaf three times and was credited for a sack on Dixon's injury play. UO running back Jonathan Stewart was as advertised, pounding for 131 yards, but the Duck offense was that: predictable, without Dixon at the reins. Not to be measured by one player alone, Oregon did recover enough to draw within a score a 31-24 with just under eight minutes remaining, but the Cats had enough verve to put together the longest drive of the night -- 4:26 -- on 11 plays for 38 tough yards that put them in position for a 46-yard field by Jason Bondzio to cap the scoring and provide some cushion. It was JB's second goal of the night, his ninth consecutive double-dip. In the end the Cats had enough offense (322) to score some points, had the special teams' plays to boost that effort with more points, and had the defensive spine to notch another six and stop the Ducks when it counted. No one in the green helmets likely felt warmed by the 238 yards rushing or 463 yards in total offense.

The Coaches: The refrain in 2009: another defense-offense match of head coaches... Arizona, Mike Stoops, 47, (Iowa '86), sixth year at Arizona (31-37) and sixth year overall as a head coach. The 2009 season is his 24th in coaching. He's eighth on the Arizona career coaching victories list. Stoops took a 2-10 program and rebuilt the Wildcats into an 8-5 bowl champion last December. He carries a record of 20-27 in Pac-10 games and a 10-9 slate in non-conference games. His teams are 21-17 in home games and 10-20 on the road. The Wildcats have beaten a ranked team each of his first five seasons including a pair a year ago. Stoops was a UPI All-American as a senior and All-Big Ten pick his last two years as a Hawkeye in 1983-84. His coaching background as an assistant was all defense including eight seasons as a coordinator. Oregon, Chip Kelly, 45 (New Hampshire '90), first year at Oregon (8-2) and overall as a head coach. Kelly was offensive coordinator for eight years at his alma mater prior to assuming that role for two years in Eugene as the heir apparent. The Ducks' version of his play-maker offense has produced points and yards in prolific numbers. His background includes two years coaching New Hampshire RBs and a pair with the offensive line, but he broke into the trade at as a defensive coach (DBs, OLBs, Special Teams at Columbia) for two seasons and as defensive coordinator at Johns Hopkins in 1993.

Home Sweet Home: The Wildcats have treated the home faithful to a run of 12 victories in the last 14 games played at Arizona Stadium. The only two losses came in gut-wrenching fashion, as UA dropped showdowns to No. 6 USC (17-10) and No. 22 Oregon State (19-17). Otherwise, the Cats have protected their turf as well as anyone can, posting the best stretch of home wins since Arizona won 11-of-13 home contests in the 1997-99 seasons. UA's 5-0 home record in 2009, including the Oct. 17 shootout against Stanford (43-28), has pushed Mike Stoops' home record to 21-17 in his five plus seasons in Tucson. Dating back to last year's 31-10 win over Arizona State, the Wildcats have quietly put together a six-game home winning streak.

Visiting the Zoo? The Arizona student section - affectionately named the `Zona Zoo' - seats nearly 11,000 standing-room only seats from endzone-to-endzone behind the UA team bench on the east side of the stadium. It's been as raucous as any around, filling to capacity an hour before kickoff for opponents ranging from Idaho to USC. The in-game atmosphere has certainly picked up in recent years giving UA a decided home field advantage. The Wildcats have posted a 12-2 mark in their last 14 home games, with the two losses coming by a combined nine points to No. 6 USC and No. 21 Oregon State in 2008. In fact, during the 14-game span that dates back to the end of the 2007 season, Arizona has outscored opponents 498-236 in Arizona Stadium, or by an average score of 35.6-16.9. Additionally, Arizona won five home games in a season ('08) for the first time since 1998 and has done so again in 2009. Since 1950, the Cats have won five games at home 16 times. Arizona was perfect at home twice in that span, 6-0 in 1961 and 6-0 in 1993.

House of "No Names": Ranked No. 18 in total defense (305.1 ypg) and No. 20 in rushing defense (104.9 ypg), the Arizona "No Name" defense has taken an even better liking to playing in Arizona Stadium, shutting down some of the nation's best offensive teams this year and in recent seasons. In the last 12 games in Arizona Stadium, UA's defense has held opponents to a paltry 184 total points (15.3 points per game). The Wildcats have allowed just 83 points in the second half of those games (6.9 ppg). Only two teams, California (27) and Stanford (38) have broken the 20-point barrier, and UA emerged victorious against both.

Late Season Success: Mike Stoops' Wildcats have enjoyed a nice run of success in the months of November and December since his arrival in 2004. A career record of 31-37 includes an impressive 12-8 mark in the final two months of the season. Over the last three seasons, Arizona is 9-5 in such late-season games. But, perhaps most impressive, the Wildcats are 6-2 against ranked teams in November/December showdowns, which includes last year's Las Vegas Bowl win over BYU last December. This year, the Wildcats entered November with a national ranking of their own and now, despite a loss at Cal, continue a crucial stretch of games. Next up will be a home showdown with nationally-ranked Oregon on Nov. 21, followed by roadies at rival Arizona State and USC to close. Stoops' teams have been building toward the position they are in this year: playing meaningful football into November and December.

Cats in the Pac: Arizona's 4-2 mark in the Pac-10 to date gives it 12 victories in the last 19 conference games, dating to the last four games of the 2007 season. That 12-7 record (0.632 winning percentage) is impressive by itself, but, even in the Wildcats' six losses, they have been just a few plays away from winning. UA has lost four of the six games by three points or less and by a total of 34 points (average of 4.9 per game).

Total Package: The Wildcats are one of just three teams to rank in the national Top 25 in both the total offense and total defense categories. Arizona is gaining 429.2 yards per game, while allowing just 305.1 yards per game. The other two teams to rank in the Top 25 of both categories are TCU (10-0) and Boise State (10-0).

Farewell and Thank You: Arizona will cite 23 seniors prior to the Oregon game, their last home game as Wildcats. The group includes a baker's dozen starters but all have contributed in one way or another. They are: defensive back Haig Abnous, long snapper Jason Bertoni, running back Nick Booth, offensive tackle Mike Diaz, H-back Chris Gronkowski, offensive guard Herman Hall, safety Corey Hall, defensive tackle Donald Horton, linebacker Xavier Kelley, center Blake Kerley, linebacker Sterling Lewis, tight end Tyler Lyon, defensive tackle Earl Mitchell, fullback Kevin Morris, safety Cam Nelson, receiver Brad Posten, cornerback Devin Ross, safety Brandon Tatum, receiver/snapper Sean Trowbridge, linebacker Vuna Tuihalamaka, receiver Terrell Turner, H-back/special teams player Orlando Vargas and long snapper Ricky Wolder. Corey Hall, Horton, Kelley, Kerley, Mitchell, Nelson, Ross and Turner were four-year lettermen. Bertoni, Booth, Diaz, Gronkowski, Herman Hall, Lewis, Tatum, Tuihalamaka and Vargas also lettered.

Fun Foles Facts: Sophomore QB Nick Foles is making a run toward the single-season passing yardage chart, despite not starting in the first three games. He has 1,736 yards and No. 12 is Bruce Hill (1974) who had 1,814 yards and at No. 10 is Keith Smith (1999) who had 1,903... Interestingly, too, Arizona's single-season passing touchdowns chart is within reach of Foles, who has 13. Dan White (1994) holds the No. 10 spot with 14 touchdown throws. Last year Willie Tuitama had 23, and 27 in 2007 for the top two spots... Foles' pass efficiency rating of 141.13 shakes out near the top 5 if held up, while his passing percentage of 69.7 would rate the best ever, compared to Smith's 68.5 in 1998, while Tuitama sits at No. 2 with 64.9 in 2008... Foles is currently No. 5 in the nation in completion percentage at 69.7... Foles' 415 yards passing against Stanford rates No. 8 in Arizona single-game passing history, while his 420 yards in total offense in the game rank sixth on the UA chart. His 40 completions rank as the No. 2 figure in history behind Willie Tuitama's 42 at California in 2007... Foles and SU's Andrew Luck combined for an Arizona combo record of 62 pass completions, besting the 60 tossed by Keith Smith (25) and Pat Barnes (35) of California in the first quadruple overtime game in NCAA history at Berkeley in 1996... Foles set a school record for pass completion percentage (78.4) for games with 20, 30 and 40 completions. Tom "Terrific" Tunnicliffe hit 78.0 (21-for-27) against Pacific in 1982, Willie Tuitama hit 74.5 (38-for-51) at Washington in 2007 and Willie hit 68.9 (42-for-61) at Cal in 2007.

Arizona Versus Ranked Teams: Historically the Wildcats are 37-89-1 against teams ranked in the Associated Press poll at the time of the game. Since Mike Stoops arrived at Arizona for the 2004 season it's played out to 7-15. Included therein are victories (8) over a ranked squad each year -- No. 18 ASU in 2004, No. 7 UCLA in 2005, No. 25 and No. 8 California in 2006, No. 2 Oregon in 2007 and a pair over No. 25 Cal and No. 22 BYU in 2008. Six of those (except WSU and BYU) came in Arizona Stadium.

Arizona Head Coach Mike Stoops

Mike Stoops

Head Coach | 6th Season

Arizona Record: 31-37
Alma Mater: Iowa (1986)

- Capped the University's first eight-win season in 10 years with a bowl victory over No. 17 BYU in the Pioneer Las Vegas Bowl in 2008.
- Stoops has coached in 16 bowl games and competed in four others as a player.
- Coached three Wildcats to four first-team all-league honors in 2008, one of them earning an All-America nod from AP.
- Kept overall team improvement going with a unit that rated No. 24 nationally in total defense and 16th in scoring offense in 2008.
- Helped Arizona record a fifth consecutive 50,000-plus per-game attendance figure, its best streak in the 30 years Arizona Stadium has been near its current capacity. The 2006 club attracted a record 390,589 fans for the second-best game average in UA history, 55,798.
- His re-tooling of the offense for 2007 brought new dimension to Arizona football, with UA finishing 10th nationally in passing. Arizona improved nearly 145 yards in per-game total offense in the two seasons since he revamped his approach, plus kicked scoring up 21 points per game.
- Arizona has had 10 players selected in the NFL draft the past three seasons after their development under Stoops' training systems.
- The Cats have beaten ranked teams each of his five seasons in Tucson including an unbeaten squad in 2005 and the potential No.1 club hours before that possibility in 2007.

Chart Watchers: UA QB Nick Foles is one touchdown pass shy of tying Dan White (14 – 1994) for No. 10 on UA's single season passing TD chart ... Foles is also just 167 passing yards shy of the No. 10 spot on the single season yardage chart, held by Keith Smith (1,903 – 1999) ... The sophomore already is seventh on the single season completions chart (175), and one more will move him into a tie with Tom Tunnicliffe (176 – 1982) for sixth-most ... Senior WR Terrell Turner, who has a catch in 15 consecutive games, now has 136 in his career, which ties him with Jon Horton (1983-86) for fifth-most in school history. Next in line is 'T' Bell's 153 catches ... Junior WR Delashaun Dean has quietly moved into the No. 9 spot for career receptions at UA, hauling in 114 grabs. Five more will tie him for the No. 8 spot, held by Richard Dice (119 – 1993-96) ... Junior RB Nic Grigsby's next rushing touchdown will move him into a tie for No. 4 all-time at Arizona. Grigsby, who has 20 rushing scores in his career, is one shy of Ontiwaun Carter's 21, set from 1991-94 ... Grigsby ranks eighth on UA's career rushing yardage chart with 2,392 yards, which is 238 shy of Clarence Farmer's career tally (2,630 – 2000-03).

Overcoming Adversity: The fact that Arizona is still in contention for the conference crown at this stage of the season is a testament to the program's depth and maturity given the amount of adversity the Wildcats have overcome in 2009. Among the issues the Cats have dealt with this year are ... Losing All-American tight end Rob Gronkowski to a season-ending back injury prior to the season ... The Wildcats played three consecutive road games, including trips to Iowa, Oregon State and Washington that spanned 7,116 round-trip miles and left UA without a home game for 35 days, the second-longest stretch in the nation ... Arizona has trotted out five different starting offensive line combinations in nine games ... Over 50 players have suffered from the flu, with only a handful missing games, but nearly all missing 2-3 days of practice time ... Running back Nic Grigsby, who suffered a sprained shoulder on his first carry at Oregon State, has been in and out of the lineup since late September, missing two full games. After carrying the ball 49 times for 400 yards in UA's first three games, he has since carried just 22 times for 135 times in the team's last six games ... Keola Antolin, the team's No. 2 runner entering the year, suffered through ankle problems early in the season forcing redshirt freshman Greg Nwoko to assume the No. 2 duties. He did so admirably until spraining his shoulder against UCLA and has since missed nearly all of UA's last two games ... Junior wide receiver Delashuan Dean, the team's top returner at the position, missed all of fall camp with a hamstring injury, then suffered a concussion against NAU and later injured his ankle at Washington ... '08 sack leader Brooks Reed suffered a high ankle sprain at Iowa in Week 3 and did not return to his starting role until last week at Cal ... Not to mention, a controversial deflected interception at Washington and an unfortunate batted pass at Cal stand between UA and a perfect Pac-10 record to date ... And lastly, UA entered the season having to replace the Pac-10's all-time leading receiver in career receptions (Mike Thomas) and the school's all-time leading passer (Willie Tuitama), along with a second round draft pick in tackle Eben Britton.

Staring at the Stats: The Wildcats need to move the ball to win. Duh. Facts bear it out, too. UA had a season-low eight first downs at Iowa and dropped a 10-point game, and had 18 at Cal and dropped an eight-point game. In the other loss, UA outgained Washington in yards, 461-256, and first downs (26-14) but also had more turnovers... Neither team in Arizona games seems to be turnover prone to excess. The Cats are even-up with 16 TOs and 16 by opponents. UA has error free against only WSU (0-2) and had more than the opposition at Washington (2-1) and against UCLA (5-2). The rest of the games were even... The Wildcats have completed passes at a 67 percent clip, better than the school-record team passing percentage of .646 spearheaded by Willie Tuitama last year... Senior receiver Terrell Turner needs eight receptions to hit the 50 mark, his career high as a sophomore in 2007... Should UO running back LeGarrette Blount return to action against Arizona, he'll test his superlative 8.3 yards per carry vs. UA a year ago in Autzen Stadium (9-75). That wasn't even tops in the game. Jeremiah Masoli averaged 8.9 yards with 10 carries for 89 markers. Of those 164 yards, 117 of them came on TD runs topped by Masoli's 66-yard scamper less than two minutes into the game... Arizona has more penalties and yards than opponents, a first for Mike Stoops' UA squads if it holds up. Arizona has a tenure-low 53 flags for 457 yards in his first year. Opponents averaged 83 turnovers per year in the five years; they have 42 penalties for 389 yards this year compared to UA's 52 markers for 436 yards with three games to go... It may not solely be former kicker Jason Bondzio's missing leg, but Arizona has gone for it on fourth down 17 times this season, making eight. Bondzio had 48-yard range, whereas current kicker Alex Zendejas is more comfortable in the 38 neighborhood, with all 13 of his field goals coming from 39 and in... An expected crowd of about 55,000 in this weekend would assure Arizona of a fifth consecutive season average above the 52,000 per game level, some 90-percent plus of capacity (57,000)... Sophomore cornerback Trevin Wade is seventh nationally in FBS rankings in passes defended at 1.33 per game (12 total). He has four interceptions. Senior safety Cam Nelson got his first career pick last week at Cal near the goal...

Threes-and-Out: Arizona is in the national top 20 and the Pac-10 leader in standard 3-and-out defense, playing tight enough to force 4.0 per game. Clemson is No. 1 in the FBS (5.8). UCLA and USC, at 3.7 each, also have shown a penchant for accumulating the quick possessions on defense... A derivative of it for Arizona is offensive time of possession.

Stanford leads the league at 33:13 minutes per game, while UA is close behind at 32:48. Both those offenses are the only two in the league's top five in both rushing and passing.

Ps and Qs: Pass pressure by defensive end Ricky Elmore gives him 8.5 sacks, making him the Mike Stoops' era leader at Arizona. He passed fellow junior end Brooks Reed's 8.0 from a year ago. No other Wildcat in Stoops' six years has passed the eight mark. UA doesn't blitz often, so sacks have come from man-to-man action up front mostly since Mike and brother Mark arrived for the 2004 season. Even so, UA has 26 sacks on the season, a per-game figure of 2.94, which ranks No. 14 in the nation. One more sack will match the '07 squad which tallied 27, the highest in the Stoops era at UA.

Can't Touch This: Arizona has given up just seven sacks this year, and only four in league action. The Cats' 0.78 sacks allowed per game is second in the Pac-10 and ranks No. 6 in the nation. UA's impressive 5.2 yards per carry figure has also gained a boost to the limited number of sacks (which take away from rushing yardage in the NCAA). And certainly, Nick Foles' 69.7 percent completion percentage is a byproduct of the pass-protection allowed by the big boys up front. Considering there have been a number of players hurt up front and the line has seen five starting combinations, that's pretty good. It's a credit to offensive line coach Bill Bedenbaugh and his troops for working hard together on and off the field.

Touchdown Trends: The 2008 Arizona Wildcats became the first UA team to score at least 20 rushing touchdowns and 20 passing touchdowns in the same season (33 rush, 24 pass) since the school joined the Pac-10 in 1978. This year's squad could repeat the feat as UA has 16 rushing and 14 passing touchdowns to date. Interestingly, only eight UA teams (including the '08 squad) balanced even 15 rushing TDs with 15 passing TDs in the same season. The '09 Cats could join that group as early as this week with another scoring toss.

East-West and Plenty of Mo: Senior defensive tackle Earl Mitchell has accepted an invitation to play in the East-West Shrine Game Jan. 23 in Orlando, Fla. Also in early November Mitchell was named the Western region male recipient of a National Academic Momentum Award from the Scholar-Baller program and the National Consortium for Academics and Sports.

Fast Starts: In the last two seasons, the Wildcats have developed a knack for fast starts to games and halves. In 2009, the Wildcats are outscoring their opponents 91-41 in the first quarter of games and 70-36 in the third quarter. Combined with the 2008 season, those numbers are even more impressive. UA has outscored opponents 183-103 in the first quarter of its last 22 games, and 198-90 in the third quarter of those games. What does it mean? Either the Wildcats thrive playing fully rested or perhaps game plans and coaching adjustments are spot-on and the players are executing those plans.

Ground Control: Arizona ranks in the Top 30 nationally in both rushing offense and rushing defense. The Cats are rushing for 187.1 yards per game, while limiting opposing teams to just 104.9 markers per game. That puts among just a dozen schools that can claim a spot in the offensive and defensive Top 30 charts. Alabama (10-0), Ohio State (9-2), TCU (10-0), Oklahoma State (8-2), Florida (10-0), Wisconsin (8-2), Pittsburgh (9-1), Nevada (7-3), Louisiana-Monroe (6-4), Northern Illinois (7-3) and Southern Miss (6-4) are the other teams. Combined with UA's 6-3 record, the 12 teams are a cumulative 90-21 on the season. Obviously, teams that can control the ground game consistently over the course of the season should be in good shape in the end.

Strength of Schedule: The NCAA rates the Wildcats' schedule as the 18th-toughest in the nation based on cumulative opposition. Through last Saturday's action, Arizona's previous opponents have a combined record of 49-33, while UA's next three opponents have a combined record of 19-11, yielding a cumulative opposition record of 68-44 for the season.

Return Game: One of the area's the Wildcats have shown significant improvement from a year ago is in the kickoff return game. In 2008, the Wildcats ranked 105th among all FBS teams. Through nine games, UA has upped its 19.3 average from a year ago all the way up to 26.8 yards per return, good enough for No. 8 in the nation and second in the conference. Travis Cobb leads the way with a 28.3 yards per return average, including a 95-yard touchdown return that ended a drought of 136 games between kickoff return touchdowns for Arizona. On the flip side, UA has limited opponents to just 20.4 yards per return.

Ball Control: On the season, the Wildcats are possessing the ball just under six minutes longer than their opponents (32:49-27:10). One of the contributing factors has been UA's ability to move the chains on a consistent basis. The Cats have 205 first downs on the season and lead the conference with 22.8 first downs per game. That mark ranks No. 14 nationally and has helped UA run an average of 71.8 offensive plays per game, the top figure in the Pac-10. UA's opposition has run an average of just 59.8 plays per game, another mark that leads the league (fewest opponent plays per game).

Movin' Up the Charts: Junior running back Nic Grigsy, who has been sidelined at times with a shoulder sprain, continues to move up the UA career rushing charts. To date, he has 2,392 career rushing yards (446 attempts), which ranks No. 8 all-time at Arizona. His 20 rushing touchdowns are tied with Kelvin Eafon and Vance Johnson for fifth-most in a career. Grigsy is averaging a Pac-10 best 7.5 yards per carry in 2009 (on 71 attempts), which has pushed his career average up to 5.4 ypc. He has rushed for at least 100 yards in a game on 10 occasions in his career.

Steady TT: With his nine-catch, 101-yard performance against Stanford, senior wide receiver Terrell Turner moved past Richard Dice for seventh place in Arizona history for career receptions. Turner, who now has 136 catches for 1,565 yards in his career, is just 97 yards shy of breaking into UA's top 10 for career receiving yards. He pushed his receiving TD tally to nine with a score against the Cougars and stands three shy of hitting the career top 10 in the respective category. With a reception in each game this season, Turner now has a streak of 15-consecutive games with a catch. He leads the team with 42 receptions for 407 yards and four scores in 2009.

Just What D.R. Ordered: Sophomore wide receiver Dave Roberts has emerged as a key weapon for the Wildcats in the first half of the season. Against Washington, Roberts led all receivers with 12 receptions for 138 yards. The dozen grabs tied with eight other players for second-most in a single game at Arizona, while the 138 yards were the most for a UA receiver in 2009 (until Juron Criner hauled in 152 yards worth of passes against Stanford). Roberts is the Cats' second-leading receiver by reception tally with 33 on the season for 352 yards, and he tallied his first career touchdown grab against Huskies. His emergence has helped fill the void left by Mike Thomas, the Pac-10's all-time reception leader who is now starring for the Jacksonville Jaguars on Sundays.

The Other Double D: Junior wide receiver Delashaun Dean is easily identifiable as a top threat in the passing game, but early in '09 it has been a different DD – David Douglas – who has been a pest for opposing defenses to defend. Through nine games, Douglas has 29 receptions for 300 yards, improving upon his freshman total of three catches a season ago. Douglas hauled in a pair of touchdown grabs – the first two of his career – in a seven-catch, 92-yard effort against Stanford. Combined with the above-mentioned David Roberts, the Cats have 62 catches for 652 yards from their inside receivers. Now you can also add in a healthy Bug Wright, who has nine grabs for 79 yards on the season since returning from a knee injury.

Unlucky 13: For some reason, UA receivers in recent seasons haven't been able to reach the elusive No. 13 for single game receptions. The number is significant because no player has ever finished a game at Arizona with 13 catches. In 1996, Jeremy McDaniel eclipsed the mark by hauling in 14 passes for 283 yards (another school record). Since, UA receivers have snared 12 catches a total of six times. Bobby Wade hit the dozen mark in 2002, while Mike Thomas did so twice in 2007. A season ago, Rob Gronkowski caught 12 passes in a game at Oregon, while teammate Dave Roberts did so this year on the road at Washington. Juron Criner is the latest Wildcat to join mix, pulling in 12 grabs for 152 against Stanford. In all, eight single game performances have fallen one catch shy of 13 in UA history.

IN"T" Wade: Sophomore cornerback Trevin Wade snagged his fourth interception of the year and eighth in his short 22-game playing career against Oregon State. A backup to Marquis Hundley and current mate Devin Ross a year ago as a redshirt freshman, Wade has blossomed into a ball-hawking cover man with some serious smarts. Wade is tied for No. 17 nationally with his four interceptions (0.44 per game) and has 12 passes defended on the season, which is good enough for No. 7 in the country. He has two career double-pick games, one last year against Idaho and one against Northern Arizona this year. Additionally he is in the Top 5 on the team with 38 tackles.

"Cam"araderie: A senior-laden defense includes free safety Cam Nelson, one of the leaders of the tight-knit unit. A two-year starter at strong safety, Nelson moved to free safety prior to the start of his senior campaign. The move seems to have paid off as Nelson checks in third on the squad with 50 tackles, including four for loss, and three sacks. Against Cal, he snared his first career interception and he was named Pac-10 Defensive Player of the Week following his six-tackle, two-sack and two-forced fumble game against UCLA. In the game against the Bruins, Nelson narrowly missed hauling in his first career interception.

Running to Pay Dirt: Nic Grigsby's three-yard TD run against CMU extended the Cats' streak for consecutive games with a rushing touchdown to 14, surpassing the 1998-99 streak of 13 games. UA rushed for scores in all 13 games in 2008, marking the first time a Wildcat squad had done so since the 1998 season. The '99 club added a rushing TD in the opener before seeing the streak end at 13 one week later. The Cats extended the streak to 15 games, but saw the run snapped at Iowa. Since, UA has found paydirt on the ground in six consecutive games.

Gronkowski Out for Year: Arizona junior tight Rob Gronkowski, who missed most of the full-action drills in fall training camp and the first three games with back trouble, will not play this season, Coach Mike Stoops announced Saturday. Gronkowski was a third-team AP All-American as a sophomore and a top preseason candidate for the John Mackey Award this year. He also is the reigning first-team All-Pacific-10 Conference man at his position.

Kicking A to Z: Sophomore place kicker Alex Zendejas' four field goals in four tries at Washington tied the school record for which he already grabbed a share. He hit on relative chip shots of 18, 23, 29 and 24 yards against the Huskies. For his effort, Zendejas was named one of three "Stars of the Week" by the Lou Groza Collegiate Place Kicker Award. He opened the season 4-for-5 against Central Michigan to join four other former Wildcats with four in a game. His UW performance also gave him a piece of the 4-for-4 single-game high-percentage mark held by the same four kickers (Doug Pfaff vs. Stanford 1989, Max Zendejas at LSU 1984, Charlie Gorham vs. Indiana 1973 and Steve Jurley vs. UTEP 1968). Collegefootballperformance.com gave Alex its honorable mention PK of the Week honor. For the year, Alex, the nephew of Max, is 13-for-16 (.813), potentially within reach of Jason Bondzio's school record of .875 (14-16), posted last year.

30 Is (Usually) The Magic Number: Arizona's 36-33 loss to Washington on Oct. 10 was a rare one. Since joining the Pac-10 in 1978, the Wildcats have played 110 games in which they have scored 30 or more points. Their record in those games? An astounding 99-10-1. That record included a streak of 18 consecutive victories prior to the Oregon game in 2008 (55-45 loss), and UA is now 20-2 under Mike Stoops in such games following the 48-7 win over Washington State on Nov. 7. Arizona was 8-1 in such games in 2008 and is 4-1 in 2009.

If Not 30, Try 40: If Arizona's .900 winning percentage since 1978 when scoring 30 or more points isn't enough, then try out a 40+ point stat. In its entire history of football, Arizona is 110-4 when scoring 40 or more points in a game, something it did in four home games a year ago. As you might expect, Arizona was 4-0 in those games. What you might not know is that the last time UA reached the mark four times in one season was in 1954, when it did so six times. In 2009, the Wildcats have reached 40 points twice (43 vs. Stanford and 48 vs. WSU), putting the season record at 2-0.

All-100 Club: Arizona had at least three players gain 100 all-purpose yards for the second time this season with efforts against Washington State. Kickoff return man Travis Cobb (2-131, plus a reception) had 146, punt returner Bug Wright (3-115) plus a catch had 121 and running back Nick Booth (18-84) plus two receptions had 100 on the nose. Against Stanford Arizona had RB Nic Grigsby (101) and receivers Terrell Turner (101), Juron Criner (152) and Cobb (102). No Wildcat averages more than 84 all-purpose yards per game, but the Cats have six over the 50 level -- Grigsby, RBs Keola Antolin and Greg Nwoko, plus receivers Turner, Criner and Cobb.

Sub-200: The Wildcats' defense has been a nightmare for opposing offenses, particularly when it comes to moving the football. In its last 21 games, the UA defense has held five opponents under 200 total yards in a game, the most recent being Washington State (42 plays -- 185 yards on Nov. 7). The stat is even more impressive when compared to previous UA clubs, as the Wildcats have accomplished the feat just six other times in the last 12 seasons. The Cats stifled Central Michigan (182 yards) in the '09 opener, just one year after holding Idaho (112 yards), UCLA (196 yards) and Arizona State (162) under the 200-yard mark. Previously, in 2006 UA had a superlative effort at Stanford and held the Cardinal to 32 plays and a total of 52 yards, the Cats' Pac-10 -game record. That season UA held Stephen F. Austin to 50 plays and 196 yards. In 2005 Arizona held Stanford to 58-195. In 2000 the Cats held San Diego State to 66-196. In 1998, the 12-1 team held Oregon State to 54-167 and Hawaii to 60-176.

Getting Pickier: The magic number for the UA defense, most notably the secondary, is 17 - as in that's the number to beat last year's 16 interception total. That mark by the '08 squad continued a trend of increasing the total number of picks each year under the defense led by coordinator Mark Stoops. To date, the Wildcats have 10 interceptions and, if they are going to surpass last year's total, need to pick off - err, pick up - the pace.

The 40 Club: Arizona has six veteran seniors -- all defenders -- who have played in 40 or more games, led by safety Cam Nelson and nickelback Corey Hall with 46 GPs apiece. Cornerback Devin Ross (45), linebacker Xavier Kelley (45), tackle Earl Mitchell (45) and tackle Donald Horton (42). Nelson (34) and Mitchell (33) lead in starts. They played as true freshmen, as did Ross. Horton and Kelley already have their college degrees. On offense, senior receiver Terrell Turner leads with 40 games played (30 starts). Junior center Colin Baxter has played in 34 games, with 33 starts, ahead of his position predecessor and current reserve senior Blake Kerley (32 GP, 29 starts). A knee injury caused Kerley to miss the last two-thirds of last season, and gave Baxter a chance to shine.

Cats in the Polls: On Oct. 25, the Cats joined the AP Top 25 poll for the first time since the 2000 season, at No. 23. This week the Cats are unranked in any of the three polls after losing to California. UA was last ranked at No. 24 (AP) on Oct. 22, 2000, but lost to UCLA, 27-24, to drop out of the polls. UA stayed unranked for 104 games until the victory over UCLA brought the Cats back into some national limelight. UA checked in at No. 22 last month in the first BCS rankings of the season. Arizona in the 2009 polls:

Pals and Peers: Four players serve a pair of University of Arizona athletics department student organizations, the Peer Athletic Leaders and the Student-Athlete Advisory Committee. Senior defensive tackle Donald Horton and redshirt freshman linebacker R.J. Young are members of the PAL group that offers transitional assistance to younger students, while senior defensive tackle Earl Mitchell and sophomore quarterback Bryson Beirne are members of SAAC, which works with athletic administrators to provide feedback on improving the Arizona experience for student-athletes. Additionally, seniors Cam Nelson and Chris Gronkowski were selected to serve on Student-Athletes Taking Active Roles (STAR), a group that instills a "we are always in uniform" message to the 500-plus UA athletes, advocating responsible personal comportment.

2009 Captains: Senior defensemen Earl Mitchell and Cam Nelson will join classmate Terrell Turner and junior Colin Baxter as this year's team of captains. Each was voted to the team by fellow teammates and approved by the coaching staff. A balance of experience and talent across various positions is clearly evident in the group, as the group has a combined 95 starts. Mitchell, Nelson and Baxter started every game of the 2008 season, while Turner started all but one at wide receiver.

Pac-10 Players of the Week: Three Arizona players have been named Pac-10 Players of the Week this season ... Most recently, Cam Nelson was named the Pac-10 Defensive Player of the Week following his game against UCLA on Oct. 24 when he recorded a career-high two sacks and forced two fumbles, which led to UA offensive touchdowns ... Nick Foles was named the offensive POW for his sensational performance in rallying the Wildcats to a come-from-behind victory over Stanford on Oct. 17, 43-38. Foles passed for a career-high 415 yards in the game ... Devin Ross was handed the weekly honor for his defensive effort in UA's 38-33 win at Oregon State on Sept. 26. The senior hauled in a game-clinching interception late in the fourth quarter and added 12 tackles.

Up Next: On November 28, Arizona will travel 100 miles to the northwest to battle intrastate rival Arizona State in the battle for the Territorial Cup, the NCAA's oldest recognized trophy game. The game will be televised live on ABC with kickoff set for 1:30 p.m. at Sun Devil Stadium.

UA-Oregon Series Notes

The Ducks have taken the lead in the all-time series thanks to eight victories in the last 10 meetings ... Arizona has won two of the last three, including a 37-10 victory in Eugene in 2006, followed by a 34-24 upset of No. 2 Oregon in Tucson the following year ... The Wildcats have out-scored Oregon 116-89 over the last three seasons ... The series has seen some high-scoring affairs over the years, including in recent seasons ... Games in Tucson have been slightly higher-scoring, nearly by a touchdown for the Wildcats who have been outscored by the slim margin of 24.83-24.17 at Arizona Stadium ... Each of the last three meetings have come in the month of November ... UA is 6-4 in the series in games played in November.

Eugene (AP) -- Jeremiah Masoli threw for a career-high 298 yards and accounted for five Oregon touchdowns, leading the Ducks to a 55-45 victory against Arizona. Masoli rushed for three touchdowns and threw for two more, all in the first half.

The Ducks (8-3, 6-2 Pac-10 Conference) then withstood Arizona's second-half rally from a 48-17 deficit.

Masoli, a sophomore, completed 21 of 26 passes, including all 11 of his attempts in the second quarter against Arizona (4-2, 6-3). But it was Oregon running back LeGarrette Blount who sealed the victory with a 40-yard touchdown run with 3:38 to play after the Wildcats had scored 28 straight points to cut the Ducks lead to 48-45.

Blount finished with 75 yards on nine carries. Arizona's Keola Antolin rushed for 87 yards and four touchdowns and tight end Rob Gronkowski had 12 catches for 143 yards and a touchdown. Willie Tuitama had 328 yards passing, two touchdowns and two interceptions.

Masoli scored on the third play of the game, running 66 yards on an option-keeper to put Oregon up 7-0 just 42 seconds in. Less than a minute later, Patrick Chung stepped in front of Tuitama's pass and returned the interception 31 yards for the score.

The Wildcats (4-2, 6-3) cut the Ducks' lead to 14-10 on a 29-yard field goal by Jason Bondzio and a 2-yard run by Antolin. But Masoli hit Terrence Scott with a 44-yard touchdown pass to give Oregon a 21-10 lead at the end of the first quarter.

In the second quarter, Masoli had scoring runs of 5 and 6 yards, Jeff Maehl scored on a 65-yard catch-and-run from Masoli and Morgan Flint added a 23-yard field goal to give the Ducks a 45-17 lead at the break.

Flint added a 39-yard field goal 2:14 into the second half to make it 48-17 before the Wildcats came to life and nearly came all the way back.

Tuitama and Gronkowski connected on a 7-yard touchdown at the 8:53 mark of the third quarter to make it 48-24, and Antolin followed with fourth-quarter touchdown runs of 3, 1 and 13 yards. The last came with 6:38 to play.

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) -- Nic Grigsby ran for 118 yards and a touchdown, Alex Zendejas Jr. matched a school record with four field goals and Arizona defeated Central Michigan 19-6 on Saturday night in a game delayed 43 minutes by lightning.

Ending weeks of mystery over Willie Tuitama's successor, Arizona coach Mike Stoops started Matt Scott at quarterback ahead of fellow sophomore Nick Foles.

After a slow start, Scott completed 19-of-30 passes for 202 yards, and he was intercepted once. Scott also rushed for 83 yards on nine carries.

Scott may improve with seasoning. But with Arizona's offense sputtering, the Wildcats needed their defense to take control, and it did.

The Wildcats neutralized Central Michigan senior quarterback Dan LeFevour. He ran for a touchdown but finished with 108 passing yards, his third-fewest in 40 career games.

Zendejas' missed 43-yarder in the third quarter cost him the outright school record for most field goals in a game, although his five tries also matched the UA's mark. The four made FGs matched previous efforts by four different Wildcats six times including three 4-FG games by his uncle, former UA star Max Zendejas, in 1983-85.

The Cats ran for 246 yards to help the team post a 448-yard output in total offense. That also helped UA dominate in time of possession with a margin of 15-plu minutes.

UA senior linebacker Vuna Tuiahahalamaka led UA with 10 tackles and an interception in his first career start after playing 2008 as a backup following a solid junior college career.

Arizona helped Mike Stoops post his sixth consecutive victory in home openers as the UA head coach.

Quotes:

"Matt, I thought most of the night, was pretty accurate with the football," Stoops said. "He made some youthful mistakes, and rushed a couple of his passes, but only more live game experience is going to help him."

"I've got no complaints with 19 for 30 and 202 yards," said Stoops, who was more pleased by Scott's 83 rushing yards. "You can really see the dimension that Matt brings."

"That's the mentality we want to take the field with — playing fast, playing furious and playing relentless," UA defensive coordinator Mark Stoops said.

"Defensively," coach Mike Stoops said, "we played as well as we could have most of the night."

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) - Nic Grigsby ran for a career-high 207 yards and ripped off the second-longest run in school history, and Arizona tuned up for its trip to Iowa with a 34-17 victory over lower-division Northern Arizona on Saturday night.

Grigsby raced 94 yards to the Lumberjacks' 1-yard line early in the third quarter. That was two yards shy of a school-record 96-yard run by Trung Canidate in 1997.

Grigsby opened the scoring with a 25-yard touchdown run five minutes into the game and went 30 yards for another score six minutes later.

The Wildcats (2-0) have won four straight games for the first time since 2000.

Arizona's first two wins this year have come against Central Michigan and NAU (0-1). Next week, the Wildcats invade Big Ten country for a game against Iowa, coach Mike Stoops' alma mater.

Northern Arizona made the Wildcats work.

Down 14-3 early in the second quarter, the Lumberjacks marched 79 yards in 14 plays, scoring on a 4-yard pass from Michael Herrick to Ed Berry to cut the deficit to 14-10.

That's how it stood until Arizona's Matt Scott hit Terrell Turner for a 2-yard score with 30 seconds to go in the half. Making his second college start, Scott completed 14 of 20 passes for 150 yards and a touchdown, and he threw his second interception in as many games.

Cornerback Trevin Wade had two interceptions for the Wildcats, who are 10-1 against Northern Arizona.

The first came near Arizona's goal line with the Wildcats leading 21-10 early in the third quarter. On the next play, Grigsby went 94 yards to the NAU 1-yard line, setting up a touchdown plunge by Keola Antolin.

Wade picked off another pass later in the third quarter.

Backup quarterback Nick Foles, a sophomore transfer from Michigan State, made his first appearance with Arizona leading 27-10 midway through the third quarter.

Foles completed 6 of 8 passes for 44 yards and a touchdown. He also lost a fumble.

Scott returned in the fourth quarter and threw an interception to Matt Steinbach, setting up a 19-yard touchdown pass from Herrick to Berry.

Herrick completed 20 of 30 passes for 159 yards and two touchdowns. He was intercepted twice.

NOTES...

...The Cats' 99-yard scoring drive to close the first half was their longest since a single-play drive covering 99 yards against Idaho Sept. 8, 2001. Jason Johnson threw a 99-yard pass to Brandon Marshall for a TD. The 17 plays were the most on a march since a 16-play, 72-yard drive for a field goal against Oregon State last Nov. 22 ... Nic Grigsby's 94-yard run in the third quarter -- to the 1 yard-line -- was the second-longest in school history. Trung Canidate pulled off a 96-yard against San Diego State in 1997, his for a score... Grigsby's 207 rushing yards were a personal high, besting his 189-yard outing against WSU in 2008... It was his 10th career 100-yard game... He reached Arizona's career top 10 with 2,082 for the No. 9 spot ... The Cats' three fourth-down conversions -- in four tries -- were the most since a 3-for-6 effort at Ohio State in 1997... Arizona's 365 rushing yards were its most since a 317-yard game at Washington State a year ago ... The Cats' 500-plus yards in total offense was its fourth time over that barrier in the last two seasons... The last time before that over 300 was a 315 total against UCLA in 2005.

Quotes:

"Nic is one of the most underrated players in the country," UA coach Mike Stoops said of running back Nic Grigsby. "He continues to put up numbers, week in and week out. He's a game-changer and a gamebreaker. He's a guy who can hit the home run, and we need that."

"Sometimes these games can affect you in some ways that you're not as sharp mentally as you need to be," Stoops said. "Great teams do it every week, but it's hard."

IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP) -The motto for Iowa's defense this season is "Six Seconds of Hell."

It must have felt like 60 minutes to Arizona.

Freshman running back Adam Robinson rushed for a career-high 101 yards and two touchdowns and Iowa held Arizona to just eight first downs in a 27-17 victory Saturday, spoiling coach Mike Stoops's return to Kinnick Stadium.

Ricky Stanzi added 205 yards passing for the Hawkeyes (3-0), but this win belonged to the defense. The Hawkeyes limited the Wildcats to 253 yards of offense - including just 94 in the second half - and 2 of 12 on third-down conversions, an impressive showing before next weekend's Big Ten showdown at No. 5 Penn State.

"We said last week during practice, just go hard for six seconds every play, because that's usually how much a play takes," Iowa defensive end Broderick Binns said. "That's what we did."

Iowa's defense helped compensate for an occasionally lackluster offense, which held the ball for nearly 38 minutes but didn't put the game away until the fourth quarter.

Iowa's Daniel Murray hit a 20-yard field goal to put Iowa ahead 17-10 late in the third, and his 40-yarder following Tyler Sash's interception made it 20-10 early in the fourth.

The Hawkeyes then went on an 8 1/2-minute drive that took up much of the quarter, and Brandon Wegher's 2-yard TD plunge put Iowa ahead 27-10 with 4:40 left.

Nic Grigsby had 75 yards rushing to lead Arizona (2-1), which lost its seventh straight to a Big Ten opponent. The defeat was especially bitter for Stoops, who played for the Hawkeyes in the early '80s.

"We knew defensively they're as good as anybody we've played," Stoops said. "They're bigger, they're faster than what people give them credit for."

The Wildcats entered play with the nation's fifth-best rushing offense at 305.5 yards per game, but couldn't get the run or the pass going against an Iowa defense that took control of the game in the second half.

It was close for a while, though, until Arizona's Matt Scott threw a critical interception late in the third quarter. He heaved a deep ball that floundered like a punt until it landed in the arms of Sash, who returned his fourth interception in the past two games 41 yards to set up Murray's second field goal.

Given how well their defense was playing, the Hawkeyes were content to milk the clock. Their final touchdown drive went 74 yards in 14 plays and took away any hopes of a Wildcat comeback.

Arizona pulled Scott, who was 4 of 14 for 50 yards, in favor of Nick Foles early in the fourth quarter. Foles finished 6 of 11 and threw a 10-yard TD pass to Juron Criner with 1:53 left, the first touchdown allowed by Iowa on defense since the season opener.

Arizona's offensive woes don't figure to get any easier with the loss of tight end Rob Gronkowski. He did not travel with the Wildcats because of a strained back, and Stoops said after the game that the third-team All-American won't play all season.

The Wildcats took their only lead, 10-7, behind a breathtaking 58-yard run by Grigsby midway through the second quarter. He broke through the line, dashed to the sideline and then cut across the length of the field - traveling at least 100 yards - before being dragged down at Iowa's 1 yard line.

The Hawkeyes stuffed Arizona from there, though, forcing the Wildcats to settle for a 20-yard field goal by Alex Zendejas midway through the second quarter.

"When you can hold teams to a field goal, when they have the ball down and tight like that, it's a victory. It's not what you want, but it's a victory," Iowa coach Kirk Ferentz said.

Robinson answered Grigsby's jaw-dropping run with an impressive one of his own. Robinson went 43 yards - on third-and-23, no less - and followed with a 1-yard plunge that put the Hawkeyes back ahead with 6:28 left in the first half.

The Wildcats then went for a fake field goal on the Iowa 23, but the Hawkeyes snuffed it out to preserve a 14-10 halftime lead. That's as close as Arizona would get the rest of the game.

Iowa went 75 yards on the opening drive, and Robinson's 2-yard TD leap put the Hawkeyes ahead 7-0. Arizona cornerback Terevin Wade even things up by jumping in front of Iowa wide receiver Trey Stross, intercepting Stanzi and returning it 38 yards for a touchdown midway through the first quarter.

Grigsby, who was ranked second in the nation with 325 yards through two games, gained all but 17 of his yards on one carry.

"We've had to work hard offensively. Nic has been our big-play guy. We've got to find some other guys who can step up and make plays for us offensively. Nic can't make every play," Stoops said. "The quarterbacks have to become more consistent. We've got a long way to go."

CORVALLIS, Ore. (AP) Nick Foles passed for 254 yards and three touchdowns in his first start and the Arizona Wildcats shrugged off the loss of leading rusher Nic Grigsby to beat Oregon State 37-32 Saturday in the Pac-10 opener for both teams.

Making his first start as a college quarterback, Foles was patient and precise in directing the Wildcats' spread offense, which carved up Oregon State's inexperienced secondary.

James Rodgers had eight catches for 119 yards for the Beavers. Jacquizz Rodgers ran for 85 yards and two touchdowns and also caught 13 passes for 70 yards. Sean Canfield was 31-of-47 for 303 yards, two touchdowns and two interceptions. He was sacked five times.

The Beavers (2-2) fell behind 28-17 in the third quarter and had three chances for a winning drive. Starting at their own 3 with just over three minutes left in the game, the Beavers completed three passes, but Canfield was picked off by Devin Ross.

Arizona (3-1) went three-and-out, but punter Keeyan Crier pinned Oregon State to its 2, and the Beaver offensive line wilted. On the first play, Canfield was dumped in the end zone for a safety. The Beavers recovered the on-side kick, but Canfield was sacked twice more to end the game.

The Beavers are 109th in the country in passing defense.

Foles, the 6-foot-5 sophomore with a big arm, completed 25 of 34 passes and ran an efficient and effective offense even though Grigsby was lost to a shoulder injury after just one carry and backup tailback Keolo Antolin was slowed by a leg injury. In their absence, redshirt freshman Greg Nwoko had 76 receiving and 44 yards rushing.

Foles, who replaced Matt Scott as the starter this week, started out strong, coolly completing five of his first seven passes on deliberate 15-play, 71-yard scoring drive capped with a 2-yard strike to Delashaun Dean.

The Beavers tied up the game with an 11-yard touchdown pass from Canfield to Damola Adeniji and led 17-14 lead at halftime.

The Wildcats took the lead in the third after Trevin Wade intercepted Canfield's pass, setting up Foles' 1-yard TD run. Foles also connected with Nwoko for a 52-yard reception and found Juron Crier for a 3-yard touchdown pass four plays later.

Jacquizz Rodgers scored on a three-yard run and James Rodgers ran in the two-point conversion to cut the lead to 28-25.

But starting the drive at the Beaver 45, Foles engineered a five-play drive and found Terrell Turner wide open in the end zone.

Canfield threw a 13-yard touchdown pass to Aaron Nichols that got the Beavers within 35-32.

Four of the last six meeting between the two teams have been decided by seven points or less.

Post-Game Quotes

"We hung in there and made plays when we knew we were going to have to make plays," head coach Mike Stoops said. "We earned it for 60 minutes; we made the plays we had to, and that was the difference in the game. We're decimated by injuries, but guys stepped up. That's the biggest difference on the team."

"Nick has a great attitude," UA offensive coordinator Sonny Dykes said of Foles' debut. "I just told him, after Matt (Scott) started, that he had to keep working, and that's what he did. That's the way life works: You're going to get a chance."

SEATTLE (AP) -Washington's Mason Foster intercepted a deflected pass off the foot of Arizona's Delashaun Dean and returned the carom 37 yards for a touchdown with 2:37 left, and the Huskies rallied with two touchdowns in the final three minutes to stun the Wildcats 36-33 on Saturday night.

Jake Locker had just pulled Washington (3-3, 2-1 Pac-10) within 33-28 on a 25-yard touchdown strike to Kavario Middleton with 2:55 left. On Arizona's first play of the next possession, quarterback Nick Foles tried to throw a quick screen that had worked against the Huskies' defense all night.

The screen was read by Washington's defense, and Foles tried to hit Dean. The throw was low and behind Dean, deflecting off his left foot and into the arms of Foster who ran untouched for the shocking touchdown. Locker then hit Jermaine Kearse on the two-point conversion to give the Huskies a three-point lead.

With just 2:29 left and only one timeout, Foles and the Wildcats (3-2, 1-1) got to the Washington 38, before the Huskies came up with their first sack of the night. Daniel Te'o-Nesheim tripped up Foles for a 5-yard loss after the Wildcats had taken their last time out. Foles rushed his attempt on third down and threw incomplete. His last-ditch, fourth-down pass was intercepted by Desmond Trufant setting off a wild celebration that had Washington defensive coordinator Nick Holt high-stepping down the sideline after his defense was picked apart most of the night by Foles.

Foster finished with 11 tackles, including a pair of key stops on Arizona's last drive when it appeared running back Greg Nwoko had a chance for a big play.

The stunning ending leaves Oregon as the only undefeated team in Pac-10 Conference play. For much of the second half, it appeared Arizona would join them at the top of the conference.

Foles and the Wildcats scored the first 17 points of the second half and built a 33-21 lead. Picking apart the Huskies depleted secondary with smart, quick screens, Foles threw for 384 yards and one touchdown, and ran for another in the third quarter as the Wildcats appeared in control thanks to special teams meltdowns by Washington.

Foles completed 39 of 53 passes on a night that star running back Nic Grigsby carried just five times and didn't see the field in the second half. David Roberts caught 12 passes for 138 yards and a touchdown.

Washington punter Will Mahan muffed one kick in the third quarter to setup an Alex Zendejas field goal and shanked another punt leading to Foles' touchdown run. But those mistakes will be forgotten thanks to the stunning rally.

Down by 12 with 4:16 left, Locker raced the Huskies 59 yards. The drive was helped by a 15-yard personal foul on Arizona, and Locker capped it with his third touchdown pass of the night, hitting Middleton in the corner of the end zone.

Then came Foster's unbelievable interception return, giving life to the Huskies' hopes of making a bowl game in coach Steve Sarkisian's first season.

Post-Game Quotes

Mike Stoops: "It's a tough loss, obviously. Disappointing in a lot of different ways. Just a lot of errors in the last four minutes of the game."

On the play call for the Foster INT: "It's a run. Something that we were doing all night. It's an either/or play, like everybody. He's doing what he's supposed to do. That's our fault for leaving the option for him to do that. That falls on me and our coaches. It's disappointing. It's just a freak play."

On the productive passing offense by Arizona: "Nick [Foles] did a great job of distributing the ball to all of our receivers. Dave [Roberts] seemed to be the open guy and was very involved with our offense and played awfully well. I thought Nick played awfully well most of the night, too."

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) -Nic Grigsby raced 57 yards for a touchdown with 2:57 to go, and Arizona rallied from a 15-point deficit to defeat Stanford 43-38 on Saturday night.

The Wildcats ended a wild night in the desert by repelling the Cardinal on fourth-and-10 at Arizona's 17, with cornerback Trevin Wade batting down a pass intended for Chris Owusu in the end zone.

Nick Foles threw for 415 yards and three touchdowns as the Wildcats (4-2, 2-1 Pac-10) overcame a big night by the Stanford offense. Cardinal tailback Toby Gerhart ran for 123 yards and two touchdowns, and Andrew Luck threw for 423 yards and three scores. He also had an interception.

The Cardinal (4-3, 3-2) had their four-game winning streak in Tucson snapped.

The game turned when Stanford, leading 38-36, went for it on fourth-and-1 at Arizona's 8 with 5:27 to go.

The natural call would have been a handoff to the hard-charging Gerhart, but he limped off before the play. Luck found Owusu in the flat, but Owusu dropped the ball.

Given new life, the Wildcats rallied on Grigsby's dramatic run on third-and-17 from the Arizona 43-yard line.

With Stanford in pass defense, the shifty Grigsby took a delayed handoff, danced through traffic at the line and then broke down the left sideline, outrunning the secondary to the end zone as the Arizona Stadium crowd of 53,479 erupted.

The Cardinal responded in a heartbeat.

Luck kept the drive alive by scrambling for a first down on fourth-and-5 in his own territory, then hit Doug Baldwin for 36 yards to the Wildcats' 17 with 50 seconds remaining.

But that's where the drive died, as Luck missed on his last three passes, including one that glanced off Ryan Whalen's fingertips in the end zone.

The two teams combined for more than 1,100 yards of offense in a game that evoked memories of old-style, run-and-gun Pac-10 football.

Arizona and Stanford haven't both finished in the upper division of the Pac-10 since 1995. But both teams entered this game with dreams of contending for the title in the wide-open conference race.

Leading 31-29 midway through the third quarter, the Cardinal seemingly took command with a 6-play, 86-yard march. The big play was a 47-yard strike down the middle from Luck to Owusu, setting the Cardinal up at Arizona's 2.

Gerhart barged over on the next play to give the Cardinal a 38-29 lead.

Arizona's Greg Nwoko burst up the middle for a 43-yard touchdown to trim the deficit to 38-36 with 10:06 to go, setting the stage for the memorable finish.

The first half was just as wild as the second, with the teams combining for 48 points and 547 yards in the first 30 minutes.

Arizona jumped ahead 7-0 less than three minutes into the game when cornerback Robert Golden picked off a Luck pass and raced 79 yards for a touchdown.

Luck answered with a 30-yard scoring strike to a wide-open Jim Dray to tie it at 7-7.

Foles hit David Douglas for a 43-yard touchdown, and Arizona led 13-7 after Stanford blocked Alex Zendejas' extra point try.

Stanford reeled off 21 unanswered points in less than 13 minutes. Gerhart scored on a 2-yard run, and then Luck threw touchdown passes to Whalen and Owusu to put the Cardinal ahead 28-13.

The Wildcats rallied late in the half on a masterful drive by Foles, who led Arizona 89 yards in 12 plays and 2:36. Foles hit Terrell Turner on an 11-yard slant with 18 seconds remaining to cut the lead to 28-20 at halftime.

Post-Game Quote

"We're obviously excited and proud of tonight's win," head coach Mike Stoops said. "We fought through a very difficult night against a very good team. I think that our offense gained control of the game in the second quarter. We had been playing very flat, and that gave us some more momentum. It looks like we are moving into more of a spread offense."

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) -Nick Foles threw two touchdown passes to Juron Criner, and Arizona overcame five turnovers to defeat UCLA 27-13 on Saturday and keep pace in the Pac-10 race.

Nic Grigsby and Nick Booth each ran for a touchdown for the Wildcats (5-2, 3-1 Pac-10), who remain tied for second place.

Foles had a hand in all of five of Arizona's turnovers. The Pac-10's leading passer threw three interceptions, had a fumble returned for a touchdown and botched a handoff that led to a fumble.

UCLA's defense did everything it could to keep the Bruins (3-4, 0-4) afloat. All 13 UCLA points resulted from turnovers.

UCLA free safety Rahim Moore, the national interception co-leader, picked off his sixth and seventh passes of the season, and strong safety Tony Dye returned a fumble 28 yards for a score.

Bruins coach Rick Neuheisel tried three quarterbacks - starter Kevin Prince, Kevin Craft and Richard Brehaut.

"Tonight was another very good win. All the turnovers we had tonight were troublesome, but I'm glad that we were able to pull through this so convincingly," Stoops said after the game.

Nick (Foles) was not at his best tonight. I don't think he was himself tonight. I'm not making excuses for him, and he isn't either, but it seems like he's probably a little under the weather tonight. Despite all the good, he made quite a few careless choices, and there is definitely some room for him to improve.

Defense did a very good job tonight of keeping UCLA out of the end zone, and it's great to see them play so convincingly. Mark (Stoops) did a great job game planning this week, and the kids did a great job executing it.

This bye week comes at a very good time. We definitely are going to need this week to heal up. I want to spend this week getting our guys back up to full strength for the back end of our schedule. We are in a very good position right now. The kids feel good, and I am pleased with their overall effort.

I see that we are becoming more mature, and our depth is continuing to grow. With our injuries, people are forced to step up, and take a bigger role, which helps them mature quicker.

From here on out, we're going to take it one game at a time. There's no question that we need to take advantage of the position we are in right now, and I think we will do that coming into our next game against Washington State.

Post-Game Quotes

"Nick wasn't at his best," said coach Mike Stoops of Foles, who had flu-like symptoms. "I think Nick was a little under the weather, but still made some careless choices with the football, but again, still did some awfully good things."

"We challenged our guys this week," defensive coordinator Mark Stoops said. "Just play with a little tougher mindset, just to prepare a little harder and put a little more into it."

"We don't wholesale blitz, we don't bring the whole farm," Mark Stoops said. "But we did hurt them with blitzes early. We just practiced those things and it got the guys juiced up. They executed well. That's what I was looking for."

"Coach Stoops and his brother are defensive guys and they were embarrassed last week," said UA safety Cam Nelson. "We took that to heart."

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) - Travis Cobb returned the opening kickoff 95 yards for a touchdown to set the tone for No. 21 Arizona and the Wildcats went on to rout Washington State 48-7 on Saturday.

The Wildcats scored the first seven times they had the ball.

Arizona led 34-0 at the half, then William "Bug" Wright returned a punt 86 yards for a score the first time the Wildcats touched it in the third quarter.

Arizona (6-2, 4-1 Pac-10) stayed in the thick of the Pac-10 race. The Wildcats are the only team in the conference never to play in the Rose Bowl.

Washington State (1-8, 0-6) lost its starting quarterback, freshman Jeff Tuel, when he sprained his right knee in the second quarter.

Marshall Lobbستاael replaced Tuel and finished 7 of 11 for 103 yards and a touchdown. The Cougars avoided a shutout when Jared Karstetter made a one-handed grab of Lobbستاael's pass on a 64-yard touchdown play with 6:23 to play.

Nick Foles threw for 151 yards and a touchdown in limited playing time for Arizona. Matt Scott, the Wildcats' starting quarterback the first three games of the season, rushed for 83 yards in nine attempts and threw for another 26 yards.

Arizona rolled up 471 yards, 294 on the ground. Washington State managed 185 yards - 64 on one play and just 59 rushing.

The Wildcats, in the national rankings for the first time since 2000, were up 14-0 with the game barely three minutes old.

Cobb, a 5-foot-11 transfer, took the opening kick and burst up the left side of the field, racing to the end zone for Arizona's first kickoff return for a touchdown since 1998.

After Washington State went three-and-out, Foles quickly drove Arizona to another score, lofting a 28-yard pass to Terrell Turner to make it 14-0 11:43 left in the first quarter.

Keola Antolin's 19-yard run and a pass interference penalty against Washington State's Brandon Jones set up Arizona's third score. Antolin, starting in place of injured Nic Grigsby, dived over the line from a yard out to make it 21-0 with 7:21 still left in the opening quarter.

The Wildcats led 24-0 after one quarter, then made it 31-0 after Tuel fumbled on a sack by D'Aundre Reed and Arizona's Lolomana Mikaele recovered at the WSU 14. Foles completed a pair of short passes, then Nick Booth scored on a 1-yard run. Booth had 84 yards in 18 carries.

The Cougars then mounted their only drive of the first half, moving from their own 9 to the Arizona 9. A holding penalty moved Washington State back to the 19, then Tuel was hit hard by Xavier Kelley. The WSU quarterback fumbled and Arizona's Ricky Elmore recovered.

Tuel was hurt on the play. He was able to walk off the field but did not return.

Post-Game Quotes

Arizona Head Coach Mike Stoops:

"For the most part, we played a very complete game today. It was great to see special teams getting those two touchdowns. This was a very positive game for us, especially going into Cal next week."

"Today really showed the improvement we've made and the depth that our program has. I'm most proud of how we took the field today. This week in practice, we focused on the details that win you football games. We came out and got off to a fast start, which we also talked about, and we did good things with it."

"Six wins puts us in a good position with going into Cal next week. From here on out, each win puts us in a different category, and our goal right now is to go as far as possible. Our players definitely know what is at stake right now, but we can't get too far ahead. Right now we need to focus on next week's game, and then it will all fall into place."

BERKELEY, Calif. -- It took a career day by a backup running back, a fluke tackle by a kicker and an odd penalty that thwarted a potential go-ahead drive for California to pull out a victory without star tailback Jahvid Best.

Shane Vereen scored on a 61-yard run immediately after an illegal forward pass knocked Arizona out of position for a potential game-winning field goal, and the Golden Bears went on to a 24-16 victory over the 18th-ranked Wildcats on Saturday.

Best gave the Bears (7-3, 4-3) an emotional boost with his presence on the sideline and participation in the coin toss as an honorary captain just a week after being carried off this same field on a stretcher following a scary concussion.

But it took much more than that to beat the Wildcats (6-3, 4-2). Giorgio Tavecchio kicked four field goals, giving Cal (7-3, 4-3) an 18-16 lead with a 22-yarder with 4:46 remaining.

That's when things really got interesting.

Travis Cobb took the ensuing kickoff and looked like he was going to take it back a long way before Tavecchio somehow managed to trip him up at the 38. Coach Jeff Tedford said Tavecchio might be the team's worst tackler, making the play even more improbable.

Cal needed another quirky play soon after. Arizona drove the ball down to the Cal 25 and was in position to kick a go-ahead field goal with less than 2 minutes left. Then on third-and-3, Nick Foles' pass was batted by defensive lineman Tyson Alualu. The ball went right back to Foles, who instead of letting it drop, caught it at the 34 and tried to throw again.

So instead of fourth down at the 25, Arizona was backed all the way up to the 39 with the 5-yard penalty from the spot of the foul and the loss of down. With no chance at a field goal, Foles threw an incomplete pass on fourth down, giving Cal the ball.

The Wildcats can still clinch a Rose Bowl berth by winning their final three games against Oregon, Arizona State and USC, but they now have no margin for error.

After Arizona turned it over on downs, Vereen ran it in on the next play, giving him a career-high 159 yards on 30 carries on a day where he had to shoulder all of the running load while his close friend Best could only watch.

Vereen, who had "JB" under his right eye and "4" under his left, said Best gave him advice each time he came to the sideline.

Foles, who completed 25 of 41 passes for 201 yards, gave Arizona a 16-15 lead on an 8-yard touchdown pass to A.J. Simmons with 12:26 to go.

Tedford stuck to the ground after watching Kevin Riley throw two interceptions earlier in the half. Cal ran on 10 of 12 plays to move the ball from its 23 to the 5, setting up Tavecchio's short field goal.

Riley was 13 for 22 for 181 yards, throwing a 27-yard touchdown pass to Verran Tucker in the third quarter after a 14-yard punt by Keenyn Crier.

Arizona was also without its starting running back as Nic Grigsby has been slowed by a shoulder injury. Keola Antolin ran for 78 yards on 19 carries, scoring a touchdown and losing a fumble that helped set up a field goal for Cal.

Post-Game Quotes

Arizona Head Coach Mike Stoops, QB Nick Foles, OC Sonny Dykes:

"How about that one? It's a tough way to lose a game," said Stoops.

"Tomorrow's a new day," said Stoops. "These are long seasons, and there's a lot left in front of us."

"It's not very likely, those two passes," Foles said, quietly. "It was just a bad mistake by me. I knew it was a penalty. I knew I had screwed up."

"We threw a jillion passes at Texas Tech and never saw anything like this," said UA offensive coordinator Sonny Dykes. "I've watched a lot of games and coached a lot of games, but I've never seen two games (earlier this year at UW) end like this, ever."
