Todd Harbour is in his 13th season as Baylor’s head track and field coach. He has served in that capacity for the cross country team for the last 17 years. Harbour was named as Clyde Hart’s successor June 14, 2005, after he had been Baylor’s head cross country coach and assistant track coach since January 2000.

Last year’s Big 12 Coach of the Year, Harbour continues to build Baylor’s cross country and track and field teams into one of the nation’s most successful and prominent programs. Under his watch, Baylor has posted 23 top-20 finishes nationally since 2005-06, including eight top-10 finishes. In track and field, the women have seven top-20 finishes at nationals, while the men have been top-20 12 times with four women’s cross country top-20 finishes.

Last season, Harbour and the Bears brought home the nation’s elite. In cross country, Harbour’s women’s teams have excelled, with a school-record 129.5 points in Ames, Iowa.

In track and field, the women have seven top-20 finishes at nationals, putting them consistently among the nation’s most successful and prominent programs. Under his watch, Baylor has posted 23 top-20 finishes nationally since 2005-06, including eight top-10 finishes.

The team success has been built around a multitude of athletes who have succeeded individually. In his 12 full seasons as head coach, Harbour’s student-athletes have won 10 NCAA titles, earned 201 All-America certificates and 239 conference championships, including eight straight from 2003-09 and two in the last three years (2014, 2016). The streak was the sixth-longest active run at the Big 12 newsletter.

In track and field, the women have seven top-20 finishes at nationals, while the men have been top-20 12 times with four women’s cross country top-20 finishes.
