IOWA BASKETBALL

2007-08 Outlook

The 2007-08 basketball season at the University of Iowa will feature a number of new faces, both on the court and on the sidelines, as Todd Lickliter and his staff take over leadership of the Hawkeye program.

Lickliter takes over as Iowa's head coach after leading the program at Butler University for six seasons. Lickliter posted a 131-61 (.682) mark with the Bulldogs, taking two teams to the NCAA Sweet Sixteen. Butler posted a 29-7 overall record a year ago, setting a school record for total wins and conference wins.

Lickliter was named national Coach of the Year by the National Association of Basketball Coaches last season. The Bulldogs advanced to the Sweet Sixteen for the second time under Lickliter, falling to eventual national champion Florida (65-57) after opening the NCAA Tournament with wins over Old Dominion and Maryland.

Lickliter's staff at Iowa includes a pair of former Butler University players, as LaVall Jordan and Joel Cornette, members of the Butler staff a year ago, have joined their college coach at Iowa. The third Hawkeye assistant, Chad Walthall, served as the head basketball coach at Loras College for the last seven seasons.

Along with a new staff, the Hawkeye roster includes three new faces, along with three returning starters and six lettermen from a team that posted a 17-14 overall record a year ago. Iowa tied for fourth place in the Big Ten Conference last season with a 9-7 record. Iowa has posted seven straight winning seasons, matching the longest streak in school history. The Hawkeyes won 25 games and the Big Ten Conference post-season tournament in 2006 and advanced to the NCAA Tournament in both 2005 and 2006.

While the Hawkeyes return three starters, Lickliter and his staff must replace the top two scorers and rebounders from a year ago. Guard Adam Haluska, a second round selection in the most recent NBA draft (New Orleans), not only led Iowa in scoring (20.5), but also led the Big Ten in scoring. Haluska earned first team all-Big Ten honors and was also an academic all-American. Along with his scoring, Haluska was second on the team in rebounding (4.6) and steals (53) and third in assists (80).

Forward Tyler Smith, who was named to the Big Ten Conference all-Freshman team, must also be replaced. Smith led the team in rebounding (4.9) and joined Haluska as the only Hawkeye to average over 10 points per game (14.9). Smith transferred closer to his home to be near his ailing father.

The returning starters include junior guard Tony Freeman (6-1, 190), junior forward Cyrus Tate (6-8, 240) and senior center Kurt Looby (6-10, 210). Additional returning lettermen include junior guard J.R. Angle (6-7, 200), senior center Seth Gorney (7-0, 245) and senior guard Justin Johnson (6-6, 190).

Since taking over as Iowa's head coach in April, Lickliter has had a chance to work with his Hawkeye squad and begin preparing for his first year in the Big Ten Conference.

"I think the players have reacted well," said Lickliter. "Change is hard. We've talked about the coaches transition, but the players are going through a transition as well. It's a daily process, us getting to know one another, and, building a trust. I wouldn't be at the University of Iowa if I hadn't had teams that were successful. We have somewhat of a proven track record. This is a system that can be successful, and the players make that happen. They make it happen by committing, and by using their talents and strengths to form a stronger team than the total; the total is greater than the sum of the parts. This group has shown a real desire to be the best they can be."

"We have had to evaluate this group in a short period of time," admitted Lickliter. "They have had success the last two years. They have proven they have the ability to compete and win in the Big Ten Conference. We want to build on that while finding a balance between patience and urgency. It will be a learning process of how we want to play the game. We will focus on doing the best we can do today, at a rate where we can compete at the highest level."

Lickliter built his success at Butler with well-coached basketball teams that valued the basketball on offense and played solid man-to-man defense. Butler, last season, led the nation in fewest turnovers per game. "We want our team to value the basketball, and to be determined to create the shot we want," explained the Hawkeye head coach. "We want to defend with a purpose, and support our teammates. We want to be strong defensively, within the system. We will be primarily a man to man defensive team, but we will also incorporate our defense to give us the best chance to win basketball games."

While the Hawkeyes don't return a proven scorer over the course of a full season, Lickliter is confident his first Iowa team can fit together and play well. "We will evaluate where our points come from," noted Lickliter. "We will replace our losses from last season as a team; different players will have that opportunity. We'll have to let the scoring come as we move forward. No one or two players have to replace the losses, we will do that as a team."

Freeman is the most experienced returning player, having started 21 games the last two seasons. He started 17 of 31 games in 2007, leading the team in assists (3.7) while averaging 7.5 points and 2.9 rebounds. He scored a career-high 16 points against highly-regarded Alabama last season.

Looby joined the Iowa program two years ago after a two-year junior college career. He redshirted in 2006 before playing in all 31 games in 2007, starting 19. He averaged 3.8 points and 4.6 rebounds and led the team with 53 blocked shots, giving Iowa a defensive presence in the middle.

Tate started 22 games a year ago, in his first season at Iowa, averaging 4.2 points and 4.4 rebounds. He had a career-high 14 points, along with nine rebounds, in a home win over Michigan State and collected 11 points and 10 rebounds in a home win over Purdue.

Johnson also joined the Iowa program after playing two years at a junior college. He started seven games as a junior, averaging 5.4 points and 2.3 rebounds. Angle, after redshirting in 2006, started two games a year ago while averaging just under two points per game. Gorney started 17 times as a junior while playing in all 31 games, averaging 5.5 points and 3.8 rebounds. Gorney's career-highs included 12 points against Indiana and nine rebounds against Northern Iowa.

Additional returning players include sophomore forward David Palmer (6-9, 240) and sophomore guard Dan Bohall (6-4, 193). Palmer, who played one season at Seton Hall, redshirted last season. Bohall saw limited action in 11 games.

The trio of freshmen include point guard Jeff Peterson, forward Jarryd Cole and shooting guard Jake Kelly.

Peterson (6-0, 185) attended DeMatha HS in the Washington, DC area, earning first team all-conference honors as a senior. He averaged 13.9 points, 7.7 assists, 3.4 rebounds and 1.8 steals per game in leading DeMatha to a 33-6 record in his final prep season.

Cole (6-7, 250) gives the Hawkeyes another big body. He earned first team all-state honors as a senior at Winnetonka HS near Kansas City when he averaged 19.1 points, 13.7 rebounds and 5.2 blocked shots per game. He earned all-Metro honors for three seasons and was named Most Valuable Player in his conference as a senior.

Kelly (6-6, 180) attended Carmel, IN HS, averaging 13.7 points and 2.9 rebounds as a senior. He earned first team all-conference recognition and was team MVP for three seasons.

"Jeff, Jake and Jarryd will all fit well in our system," said Lickliter. "They are the type of players, and student-athletes, that we want to have in the program. All three can be successful here."

The Hawkeyes open the season with four straight home games before meeting Bradley University in the South Padre Invitational (Nov. 23-24). The Hawkeyes will also meet either Vanderbilt or Utah State in that event before a quick trip home to host Wake Forest (Nov. 26) in the Big Ten/ACC Challenge. Iowa will host Louisiana-Monroe, Eastern Illinois and Rice in the annual Hawkeye Challenge.

The in-state series includes a home date with Drake (Dec. 14) after road games at Northern Iowa (Dec. 5) and Iowa State (Dec. 8). The Hawkeyes close the non-conference schedule by hosting Southeastern Louisiana (Dec. 29).

The Big Ten Conference has increased its conference schedule from 16 to 18 games, beginning this season. Iowa opens against Indiana at home before road games at Wisconsin and Ohio State. Illinois and Minnesota are the conference teams Iowa plays just once. The Fighting Illini visit Iowa City late in the season, while the only meeting with the Golden Gophers takes place in Minneapolis. The Big Ten Conference Tournament (March 13-16) returns to Indianapolis.

"With the addition of two Big Ten games, you lose a home game, and you add another road game within the conference," pointed out Lickliter. "That only adds to the strength of the schedule. The in-state series is good, yet very demanding. Those games, home or away, are on the level of Big Ten Conference games. It gives us the chance to compete against other well-respected programs within the state and prepare in a conference environment for the Big Ten season."

IOWA BASKETBALL

Todd Lickliter, Head Coach

Todd Lickliter was named The University of Iowa's 21st head men's basketball coach on April 3, 2007. Lickliter spent the last six seasons as the head coach at Butler University.

Lickliter posted a 131-61 (.682) record as Butler's head coach. He led Butler to four post-season tournament berths, including trips to the NCAA Sweet 16 in 2003 and 2007.

Lickliter was named the 2006-07 Division I Coach of the Year by the National Association of Basketball Coaches (NABC) and was recognized as the High-Major Coach of the Year by collegehoops.net. He was also named 2007 Horizon League Coach of the Year for the second consecutive year after guiding the Bulldogs to a school and league-record 29 victories.

He led Butler to the regular season co-championship in the Horizon League in 2007. The Bulldogs advanced to the Sweet 16 in the NCAA Tournament before falling to eventual national champion Florida (65-57).

In posting a 29-7 record in 2006-07 Butler led the nation in fewest turnovers per game (9.5), ranked fifth in scoring defense (57.1), seventh in free throw percentage (76%), 13th in won-loss percentage (.806), 17th in scoring margin (10.5) and 20th in three-point field goals per game (8.9).

Butler was ranked in the national top 25 for 16 consecutive weeks during the 2006-07 season and became the first team in the history of the Horizon League to be ranked in the top ten. The Bulldogs won three games over top 25 opponents (Tennessee, Gonzaga, Maryland) and recorded eight victories over teams that participated in the NCAA Tournament.

Along with winning at least 20 games in four of the last six seasons, Lickliter's student-athletes have also excelled in the classroom. Butler's most recent graduation rate of 82% for men's basketball ranked best among all Sweet 16 teams in the NCAA Tournament and guard A.J. Graves joined Iowa's Adam Haluska on the academic all-America first team.

Lickliter's squad opened the 2006-07 season with a 40-point win at Tulane and captured the Midwest Region title of the NIT Season Tip-Off with back-to-back victories over Notre Dame and Indiana. The Bulldogs continued their roll in New York, defeating 22nd-ranked Tennessee and 23rd-ranked Gonzaga to capture the NIT Season Tip-Off championship.

The Bulldogs began the year with 10 straight victories, including a triumph over Purdue in the Wooden Tradition. The 10 wins matched the second-fastest start in school history and the fifth-longest winning streak in school annals. Butler cracked the "Top 25" on November 27 and was nationally-ranked for a school and league record 16 consecutive weeks. Lickliter's club became the first team in Horizon League history to break into the nation's "Top 10" on Feb. 5.

At mid-season Lickliter was named the Jim Phelan National Coach of the Year, presented by Collegeinsider.com. He also earned the mid-season Hugh Durham Award, which at mid-season recognizes the top coach at the mid-major level.

The 2006-07 Bulldogs became the first team in league history to record 20 wins before February and the first Horizon League team to win 26 regular season games. Butler had three wins over teams that were ranked in the "Top 25" and eight victories over squads that advanced to the NCAA Tournament.

Lickliter became the first coach in Horizon League history to be honored by the NABC as Coach of the Year. He owns the top three single-season win totals in Butler history, including 29 wins in 2007, 26 in 2002 and 27 in 2003. The Bulldogs also won 20 games in 2004.

Lickliter ranks fourth on Butler's all-time list for basketball coaching victories. He ranks second among Butler head coaches with at least three seasons in winning percentage (.682) and second in number of 20-win seasons (four). He became the first Butler coach to reach 50 career wins in just two seasons and the first to achieve 100 victories in five seasons. And, he's one of just four coaches in the history of the Horizon League to guide a team to the NCAA "Sweet 16".

Lickliter also ranks third nationally among the "Top 10 Best Career Starts by Wins-two years" in NCAA Division I basketball (53), trailing only Bill Guthridge of North Carolina (58 wins, 1998-99) and Everett Case of North Carolina State (55 wins, 1947-48). He led the Bulldogs to an unbeaten home record (12-0) in 2002-03, and mentored Butler to a 70-12 (.854) home mark in his six seasons. Lickliter also directed Butler to 61 victories away from Hinkle Fieldhouse. His Bulldog teams were 6-5 against teams ranked in the "Top 25" and compiled four of the top 10 winning streaks in Butler history.

In his first season as Butler's head coach, Lickliter guided the Bulldogs to a then school-record 26 victories and a third consecutive Horizon League regular season title. He led Butler to regular season tournament championships at the Top of the World Classic in Alaska and Indiana's Hoosier Classic. The win at the Top of the World Classic marked Butler's first regular season tournament title in 41 years. The victory at the Hoosier Classic ended Indiana's streak of 19 consecutive titles in the 20-year history of the event.

6-year total		131-61	.682	65-31	.677

Lickliter was the first basketball coach in Butler history to win his first 13 games, and he became the first coach to lead Butler to more than 20 regular season wins. He set school and conference records for most wins by a first-year coach, and he led the Bulldogs to the third-highest single season win total in league history. He had Butler ranked in the "Top 25" for the first time in 53 years, and he guided the Bulldogs to their first-ever unbeaten non-conference record.

Lickliter guided the 2003 Bulldogs to an even more impressive season in his second year as head coach. He led Butler to a 27-6 record, breaking the single-season mark for victories for a second consecutive year. His squad earned a second straight Horizon League regular season title and returned to post-season play for the second consecutive year. Butler earned its first "at-large" bid to the NCAA Tournament since 1962, and the Bulldogs went on to reach the "Sweet 16" with upset victories over fifth-seeded Mississippi State and fourth-seeded Louisville. Butler became the first team from the Horizon League to win two games in the NCAA Tournament in more than a decade.

Lickliter was named Butler's basketball coach in May, 2001, following a strong lobbying effort by Butler players (Horizon League "Player of the Year" Rylan Hainje called Lickliter ". . . a great coach." Mike Monserez said, "Coach Lickliter treats us with respect; he treats us like men." Guard Brandon Miller added that Lickliter ". . . is one of the smartest coaches I've ever been around.").

He replaced his former boss, Thad Matta, who left the Bulldogs after one season to become head coach at Xavier. Lickliter, who became Butler's third head coach in three seasons, had served as an assistant coach under the Bulldogs' previous two head coaches, Barry Collier and Matta. He was also an assistant coach (1988-89) for one season at Butler under Head Coach Joe Sexson. He became the third consecutive former Butler player to guide the Bulldogs.

A 1979 Butler graduate, Lickliter played a prominent role in refining Butler's basketball system ("The Butler Way") while serving as an assistant coach under Collier and Matta. During his three seasons on the staff of the two former head coaches, Lickliter helped the Bulldogs post three 20-win seasons, three conference regular season titles, three league tournament crowns and three trips to the NCAA Tournament. In his final two seasons as a Butler assistant coach, the Bulldogs compiled a 47-18 record, including "Top 25" wins over 10th-ranked Wisconsin and 23rd-ranked Wake Forest. The win over the Demon Deacons in the 2001 NCAA Tournament was Butler's first NCAA Tournament victory in 39 years.

Lickliter began his collegiate coaching career at Butler in 1988-89 under his former college coach, Joe Sexson. He left Butler after one year to accept a head coaching job at Danville, IN High School, where he remained for three seasons.
