MICHIGAN WOMEN'S BASKETBALL HEAD COACH KEVIN BORSETH

KEVIN BORSETH
HEAD COACH
FIRST SEASON

Kevin Borseth was named the eighth head coach of the University of Michigan women's basketball program on April 10, 2007. Believed to have one of the best basketball minds in the country, Borseth's name has become synonymous with success in his 25 years as a college head coach.

The 53-year-old Borseth has utilized a passionate, enthusiastic and animated brand of basketball that has allowed his teams to compete with the top programs in the nation. He will look to use this same approach to restore the pride in Michigan Women's Basketball and put it back on the national map.

In his 20 years as a head coach at the NCAA Division I and II levels, Borseth owns a 441-159 (.735) career record. He has strung together 19 consecutive winning seasons, including 15 campaigns with at least 20 victories, while his teams have won or shared 13 regular-season conference championships. Borseth has carried his success over into the postseason as well, capturing eight league tournament titles and guiding his teams to 14 NCAA and a pair of WNIT appearances in two decades on the hardwood.

Prior to his arrival in Ann Arbor, Borseth spent nine years at the helm of the University of Wisconsin-Green Bay women's program. Under his direction, the Phoenix earned nine straight postseason appearances, including seven berths in the NCAA Tournament. Borseth compiled a 216-62 (.777) record as head coach of UW-Green Bay and his teams cracked the Associated Press Top 25 on three occasions in five years. The Phoenix claimed the Horizon League regular-season championship every year Borseth was on the bench, capturing the conference tournament title seven of those years. Borseth garnered Horizon League Coach of the Year honors in all but two of his nine seasons at UW-Green Bay.

In his ninth and final season at UW-Green Bay, Borseth led his 2006-07 squad to a 29-4 record, including a perfect 16-0 conference mark, en route to a Horizon League postseason championship as the top seed in the tournament. The Phoenix claimed the conference title after soundly defeating Butler, 91-64, earning it a bid into the NCAA Tournament. UW-Green Bay made it to the second round of the tournament before bowing out to top-ranked Connecticut, 94-70. Borseth was named the conference's Coach of the Year for the seventh time, while senior forward Nicole Soulis became the first player in 17 years to garner back-to-back Horizon League Player of the Year accolades.

Borseth's 2005-06 team posted a 23-7 mark, its 29th consecutive winning season and the 19th 20-win campaign in the program's history. The Phoenix captured its eighth straight conference regular-season crown after amassing a 14-2 record but fell in the semifinals of the Horizon League Championship. After being invited to the WNIT, UW-Green Bay was eliminated in the first round, dropping a 79-71 overtime decision to Iowa State.

On Jan. 12, 2006, Borseth's team handed him a 66-51 victory over Cleveland State, the 400th NCAA win of the coach's career. In addition to that milestone, Soulis earned her first Horizon League Player of the Year award, becoming the third Phoenix player in four years to receive the honor. Junior guard Natalie Bergman was named to the all-conference second team, while guard Rachel Porath was tabbed for the all-freshman team.

Borseth guided his 2004-05 Phoenix team to a 27-4 overall record, accompanying a 16-game winning streak, its longest in the program's Division I history. The unbeaten streak also tied for the longest winning streak of Borseth's collegiate coaching career. UW-Green Bay appeared in both the coaches and the media top 25 polls and advanced to the NCAA Tournament for the fourth consecutive season, earning Borseth his sixth Horizon League Coach of the Year accolade.

After leading his team to 23-8 overall record, including a 13-3 Horizon League mark, Borseth was tabbed as the conference's 2003-04 Coach of the Year for the third straight season. Despite a host of injuries that shortened the bench for the majority of the year, UW-Green Bay posted its eighth straight 20-win season, earning it a bid to the NCAA Tournament.

The 2002-03 season was a record year for Borseth's squad as UW-Green Bay rattled off a 28-4 record, the best in team history as well as the winningest season in the history of the Horizon League. The Phoenix also enjoyed a 14-week stint in the national top 25 polls, peaking at No. 16 in mid-January. With a 60-58 defeat of then No. 25-ranked Texas Christian, Borseth notched his first win over a top 25 team. In a year of firsts, UW-Green Bay posted its first-ever victory in the NCAA Tournament, defeating Washington, 78-65.

With his success in the 2002-03 season, Borseth was recognized as the Women's Basketball Coaches Association Region VI Coach of the Year and was named a finalist for the Naismith Coach of the Year award. He was also elected to the Upper Peninsula Sports Hall of Fame Class of 2004.

Before taking the helm at UW-Green Bay, Borseth spent 11 years as head coach of the women's program at Michigan Technological University in Houghton, Mich. During his tenure, Borseth accumulated a 225-97 (.699) record, claimed four Great Lakes Intercollegiate Athletic Conference (GLIAC) championships, and qualified for the NCAA Division II Tournament seven times. During the 1992-93 campaign, Borseth led the Huskies to a 30-3 mark en route to a third-place finish in the NCAA Division II Tournament.

From 1987-98, Borseth was named GLIAC Coach of the Year on five occasions in addition to being honored as the Great Lakes Region Coach of the Year twice. As the all-time winningest coach in Michigan Tech history, Borseth was named to the Huskies' Hall of Fame in 1999.

Borseth began his coaching career in 1982 as the mentor of the Gogebic Community College women's program in Ironwood, Mich. In five seasons at GCC, Borseth led the team to a 65-51 (.560) overall record. He also spent time as an assistant football coach at Bessemer (Mich.) High School for a pair of seasons, helping the team to a 20-3 record.

Borseth graduated from Lake Superior State University in Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., in 1976 with a degree in business administration. As a member of the Laker basketball roster, Borseth helped his team to a 27-3 record over two years as well as a 1976 NAIA championship berth. Prior to his time at LSSU, Borseth attended Gogebic Community College and played for the Samson basketball team.

A native of Bessemer, Mich., Borseth and his wife, Connie, have five children, sons KC (11) and Kale (4) and daughters Carli (10), Kayla (10), and Kaitlyn (6).
