SERIES HISTORY

Boise State leads the all-time series against New Mexico, 10-8, dating back to 2012. The Broncos have won four-straight over the Lobos, including a sweep last season in Albuquerque, in which the Broncos outscored New Mexico 17-1. Boise State is also boasts a 6-3 advantage over the Lobos when playing in Boise.

SCOUTING REPORT

In the first year under the direction of head coach Paula Congleton, New Mexico has already surpassed their Mountain West win total from last season entering the final weekend of this season. New Mexico comes into town coming off a series win over San Diego State last weekend. At the plate, the Lobos have two players batting over .300 on the season in Chelsea Johnson (.345) and Andrea Howard (.301).

In the circle, first-year pitching coach Megan Betsa – a three-time All-American at Michigan – has helped lead the Lobos’ staff to post more complete games than the team had last season, with 18 on the year. Jensen Main has tossed 152.0 innings this season, striking out 70 batters.

BATTLE FOR THE MOUNTAIN WEST

After entering last weekend in third place in the Mountain West, Boise State has a chance to clinch the Mountain West title this weekend. Currently in first with a game lead over San José State, the Broncos need only to win two games this weekend to earn the first conference title in program history. The previous best-finish for Boise State in the Mountain West was a runner-up effort in 2012, and a third-place finish at the 2011 WAC Tournament.

Winning the Mountain West title would also give Boise State the conference’s automatic bid to the NCAA Tournament.

HOME, BITTER HOME?

With three of the top four teams in the Mountain West already having visited Dona Larsen Park this season, Boise State is only 7-5 in home games this season, and have posted a losing home record in conference games at 4-5. The series victory over Fresno State (April 27-29), was the first series victory at home for the Broncos, after relying on game three victories against both San José State and UNLV earlier in the year.

CHASING THE FINISH LINE

Since dropping the first two games of the series against UNLV, Boise State has been on a tear to close out the season. The Broncos are 10-1 in their previous 11 games, dating back to an April 15, ninth-inning win over UNLV. In that stretch, Boise State has swept two series, and outscored opponents 79-39.

MANCHA NEARS RECORD

With 12 wins on the season, freshman pitcher Gianna Mancha is a win away from tying Aubray Zell for the most wins by a freshman pitcher in school history. Zell won 13 games in 2009, the first season of the program.

GET OUT YOUR BROOMS (x2)

A week after sweeping Mountain West Player and Pitcher for the first time since 2012, Boise State did so for the second-consecutive week. The Broncos became the first program to sweep weekly honors since BYU had a share of the accolades from April 19 – May 3. Alison Seng and Micaela Leal took home Player and Pitcher of the honors last week (April 24), followed by Rebekah Cervantes and Kelsey Broadus this past weekend (May 1).

SENG MAKES HISTORY

Currently sixth in the nation in batting average, Alison Seng became the first player in Mountain West history to become a finalist for Schutt Sports/NFCA National Division I Freshman of the Year. Seng made the top 25 list, and will now wait for the list to be trimmed down to the top 10 on May 10, and the final three on May 23.

HIGHWAY DON'T CARE

The weekend series against UNLV (April 13-15) will be Boise State’s first home games since March 23-24. The Broncos are coming off an impressive 8-1 record during a nine-game stint on the road, which featured three doubleheaders and all nine games being played in a nine-day period. During the road stint, Boise State out-scored opponents 47-13 over only 24 innings, and won three games by run-rule.

HISTORIC SWEEP

Boise State notched a historic sweep over Utah State (March 16-18). Boise State out-scored the Aggies 41-14 (+27) on the weekend, the largest run-differential in a three-game series as members of the Mountain West (2012-present). This was the first time Boise State has opened conference play with a sweep since 2012, and only the fifth sweep as members of the Mountain West.

SENG NAMED MW PLAYER OF THE WEEK

After batting .800 on the week, freshman Alison Seng was named the Mountain West Player of the Week (March 20) for the first time in her career. Seng is the second Bronco to earn the honor this season (Kora Wade, March 6).

BACK-TO-BACK SHUTOUTS

Boise State recorded back-to-back shutouts behind the arms of Gianna Mancha and Kelsey Broadus in wins over North Dakota State and Columbia on March 9. It is the first time Boise State has shutout opponents in back-to-back games since Christina Washington and Paige Reimann held New Mexico scoreless last season (May 11-12, 2017). It’s also the first time Boise State has shut-out two opponents on the same day since doing so against Maryland Eastshore and South Carolina State (Feb. 25, 2017)

STRONG WEEKEND IN CALIFORNIA

The Broncos posted a record of 4-1 at the UCR Classic, their second-consecutive weekend finishing a tournament with a winning record. Boise State outscored opponents 29-12 enroute to ending the tournament on a 3-0 record

WADE GARNES A MW HONOR

Junior outfielder Kora Wade was named the Mountain West Player of the Week for games played through March 4. This is the first weekly honor Wade has received. Wade had a career weekend at the Red Desert Classic, going 11-for-17 with seven runs, two doubles and four RBIs. She was phenomenal running the bases, going a perfect seven-for-seven running the bases, including a career high three over Montana (March 2) – tied for the second-highest single game total in program history.

RIDING A HOT HAND

After struggling to get above .500 for more than a day, Boise State broke off a three-game winning streak to close out the Red Desert Classic. The Broncos went 4-1 on the weekend, but won their final three games, downing Southern Utah (10-1), Montana (8-0) and Weber State (9-1). All three games were won in five innings due to the eight-run rule. This was the first time in program history that Boise State won three-consecutive games in five innings, and only the second time Boise State has run-ruled three-straight opponents.

LEAVE IT IN VEGAS

The Broncos went 2-3 in Las Vegas at the Marucci Desert Classic, winning games against UTEP (8-2) and Buffalo (7-3), but dropping contests against Iowa State (7-2), Long Beach State (5-1) and Hawai'i (3-1). Boise State is currently on a two-game losing streak.

THREE UP THREE DOWN

Boise State went 3-3 to open the season at the Kajikawa Classic (Feb. 8-11), their best start to a season since opening the 2015 season, 3-3 at the North Texas Tournament. Boise State nabbed wins over South Dakota (11-3) and Saint Mary's (13-5), while also surviving a 7-6 game against Big Ten opponent Indiana.

CERVANTES NAMED AN ALL-AMERICAN

Junior Rebekah Cervantes will enter the 2018 season as a preseason All-American, according to Fast Pitch News. The outlet named the shortstop to their 15-member first-team preseason All-American. Cervantes is one of two Mountain West players to enter the season on the first-team, and one of four players from mid-major conferences.

BOUNCE BACK YEAR

2017 was a bounce back year for the Broncos. After opening her career with a 26-80 record through her first two seasons, head coach Cindy Ball led a historic turnaround of the program. Boise State saw the largest turnaround nationally in both RPI and overall record – rising 131 spots in the RPI from 2016, as well as seeing a 19-win improvement.

HISTORIC SEASON

The Broncos reached the postseason for the first time in program history in the 2017 season. Boise State reached the Ogden Regional Final of the National Invitational Softball Championship (NISC) – the softball version of the NIT. The Broncos ended the season with a 33-20 record. The 33 wins rank tied for second in program history with 2011 season (33-20), and is one win shy of the program record of 34-20 (2012).

QUICK ACCLIMIZATION

The Broncos will open the 2018 season on Feb. 8, and in the first month of the season, Boise State will play 21 games in 31 days, while logging over 9,528 miles of travel. The Broncos will 11 games in the first 10 days of the season.

COMPETITIVE NONCONFERENCE*SLATE

Six opponents on the nonconference schedule ended 2017 in the top 100 of the NCAA RPI, led by No. 12 Tennessee. The first weekend of the season will present the Broncos with a stiff challenge, as Northwestern (65) and Stanford (83) also ended last year in the top 100.

Cindy Ball, the second head coach in program history, begins her fourth season at the helm of the Boise State softball program in 2018.

In only her third season as head coach, Ball took the Broncos to their first postseason appearance in program history. The 2017 Broncos reached the Regional Title Game of the National Invitational Softball Championship.

After a combined 26-80 record in her first two seasons, Ball led a turnaround of the program, finishing 2017 with a 33-20 record. The 33 wins are tied for second for the most in a season in program history. Under her watch, the 2017 team finished the season ranked in the top 25 nationally in three categories: batting average (8th), double plays (5th) and runs scored per game (23rd). Ball also helped Boise State finish with a 12-12 record in Mountain West play, the most conference wins in her tenure.

Ball's first season as the Bronco boss concluded with a 12-42 record and a 4-20 mark in Mountain West play. Boise State, however, ended the season strong at home, capturing two of its final three home series in conference play (Nevada, Colorado State).

Along with the performances of All-Mountain West payers Devon Bridges and Jordan Kreiger, Ball helped develop the next wave of Broncos as freshmen Sara Ketelsleger (.278, 45 hits, 12 doubles, 26 RBI) and Makenzie Sullivan (.259, 37 hits, 13 doubles, six home runs, 30 RBI) as well as junior-college transfer Teauna Hughes (.263, 36 hits, nine doubles, four home runs, 17 RBI) had strong campaigns in 2015.

Ball brought four years' experience as a head coach as well as eight years as a Division I assistant coach with her to Boise. She spent the 2013-14 seasons as an assistant at Cal State Northridge, and served on the coaching staff at Washington for the 2011-12 campaigns after serving as head coach at Cosumnes River College in Sacramento, Calif. from 2008-10.

At Cal State Northridge, Ball worked primarily with the pitching staff while also assisting with the Matador outfielders. Ball helped develop two NFCA All-West Region selections in 2014, as freshman outfielder Taylor Glover earned a spot on the first team, becoming the first Matador field player named all-region since 2004, and junior pitcher Brianna Elder was tabbed for the third team. Glover and Elder were each named to the All-Big West First Team while Glover also earned a spot on the Big West All-Freshman Team.

In two seasons at Washington, Ball served as recruiting coordinator and was responsible for the development of a Husky pitching staff which produced second-team All-American Kaitlin Inglesby in 2012. The Huskies went 76-35 during Ball's two seasons in Seattle and reached a pair of NCAA Super Regionals.

She began her collegiate head-coaching career at Modesto Junior College in Modesto, Calif., where in 2007 she led the program to a 16-win improvement from the prior campaign, going 25-22 and capturing a regional title. Ball then took the helm at Cosumnes River College, overseeing the restart of the program after a year's break in 2007. Over three seasons Ball guided the Hawks to a 111-44 record, highlighted by an appearance at the Cal JC State Final Four Tournament in 2010.

Ball began her coaching career in the season following her graduation from the University of Pacific in 2002. While working towards her master's degree in education, she served on the Pacific staff during the 2003-06 seasons.

At Pacific, Ball served as pitching coach while helping scout, assist with practice plans, monitor students academics and promoting and organizing camps. Over her four years in Stockton the Tigers accumulated an overall record of 126-97 with a 41-39 mark in the Big West.

During her four-year playing career at Pacific (1999-2002), Ball was twice named an NFCA All-American (2001-02) and Big West Pitcher of the Year (2001-02) as the Tigers went 162-77 and made three NCAA Tournament appearances (1999, 2001-02). She enjoyed her best season in 2001, going 33-9 while helping lead Pacific to a still-standing school-record 50 wins. Ball remains the most decorated pitcher in school history, holding nine career-pitching records through the 2014 season: appearances (149), starts (116), innings pitched (883.1), wins (91), saves (10), strikeouts (761), strikeouts per seven innings (6.03), complete games (104) and shutouts (45).

She was just as dangerous at the plate as in the circle, batting .275 over four seasons with 19 home runs, 111 runs batted in and drawing 76 walks. The latter three marks remain top-seven career marks in the Pacific record book through 2014. Ball also established single-season records in pitching appearances (49, twice), starts (39), wins (33), saves (6), strikeouts (291), strikeouts per seven innings (7.21), complete games (37), shutouts (18) and RBI's (46). Of those marks, seven still stand through 2014.

On March 3, 2012, Ball was one of the first two players in program history to have her number retired (No. 9) in recognition of her contributions on and off the field to the growth and endurance of the Pacific program.

Ball graduated from Pacific in 2002 with a bachelor's degree in sports sciences and earned her master's in education in 2006.

She played professionally in Italy in 2002, leading Team Bussolengo to the playoffs while pacing the squad in batting, home runs and earned-run average. In 2004, Ball played for the Stockton-Sacramento Sunbirds in the National Pro Fastpitch League, and from 2008-10 participated in the Canada Cup where she was an All-Star in 2008.

Ball and her husband, Bobby Malone, reside in Boise with their sons, Four (Robert Malone IV) and Ryder, and daughter, Sawyer.
