BUCKNELL NOTEBOOK

• Bucknell finished 3-8 in 2007, bookending the campaign with victories over Duquesne and Fordham, two teams that posted winning records last season. Fordham won the Patriot League title and was ranked No. 18 when the Bison walloped them 38-24 in The Bronx in the season finale.

• Bucknell will have two new assistant coaches in 2008. Harold Nichols has been named offensive coordinator, replacing Ashley Ingram, who was hired as offensive line coach at Navy. Nichols was most recently the offensive coordinator at Rhode Island. Also on board is Bill McCord, who will coach the Bison cornerbacks. McCord was on the staff at Franklin & Marshall in 2007.

• Three Bison were named to the All-Patriot League Team at season's end, including two first-team selections in RB/KR A.J. Kizekai and DL Josh Eden. Senior OL Chad Glasser was named to the all-league second team.

• Two Bison earned major academic honors in 2007. Senior OL Nick Mozal was named a semifinalist for the Draddy Trophy, also known as the "Academic Heisman," which is awarded to college football's top scholar-athlete. Senior DL Ryan Walsh was named to the ESPN the Magazine Academic All-District Team.

• Prior to last season no player in Bucknell history had ever recorded three 80-yard touchdowns in a career, but sophomore A.J. Kizekai did it within a single season. He had a 92-yard kickoff return TD at Colgate, an 82-yard TD catch at Fordham and an 80-yard TD run against Holy Cross. In that Colgate game, Kizekai also had rushing and receiving touchdowns, making him the first in Bucknell history to have a kickoff return, rush and reception for a TD in the same game.

LB Sam Nana-Sinkam, the team's rookie of the year in 2006, has returned after sitting out a year due to injury.

• A.J. Kizekai also broke the school records for all-purpose yards (1,908) and kickoff return yards (1,113) in a season. The all-purpose yardage record was previously set in 1980 by Hall of Famer Ken Jenkins (1,884), while Troy White had the old record for kickoff return yards in a season (753 in 1994).

• Two other special teams records fell last season. P Phil Azarik recorded the highest punting average in a season (41.1), while K Will Carney shattered the record for consecutive extra points (58 and counting).

• Nine Bison freshmen earned varsity letters last year. Two of them — DB Tyler McFarlane and WR Shaun Pasternak — earned Patriot League Rookie of the Week citations.

• Bucknell was the least-penalized team in the nation in 2007. The Bison were flagged only 29 times all season. No other Division I FCS team had fewer than 41 penalties.

• The Bison return 36 lettermen and 16 starters (6 offense, 8 defense, 2 specialists) in 2007. Of the five graduated starters on offense, four of them played on the offensive line.

2008 BUCKNELL SPRING OUTLOOK

There will be plenty of storylines when the Bucknell football team takes the field for the first day of spring practice on Saturday, March 29. Will the offense seamlessly adapt to new offensive coordinator Harold Nichols? Who is going to replace the four graduated starters on the offensive line? How will the position battles on the defensive line and linebacker shake out? Can former freshman sensation Sam Nana-Sinkam return to form after missing all of last season with an injury?

With the exception of offensive line, experienced players are in abundance at every position as head coach Tim Landis' squad looks to rebound from a 3-8 season. Bucknell finished strong last season, routing 18th-ranked Fordham, the Patriot League champion, 38-24 on the road. Despite the disappointing final record, the Bison left Jack Coffey Field in The Bronx feeling good about the future, and for the 67 returning players, spring ball could not get here soon enough.

The Bison will practice 15 times, culminating with the annual Orange-Blue scrimmage at 10 a.m. on Apr. 26. Interspersed will be a heavy load of weightlifting and team meetings, as the team makes important preparations for the 2008 season.

Bucknell this season returns 36 letterman and 16 starters — six on offense, eight on defense and the two kicking specialists. Below is a position-by-position look at the Bison heading into spring practice.

OFFENSE

New offensive coordinator Harold Nichols comes to Bucknell from a similar offensive system at Rhode Island. In fact, former OC Ashley Ingram was an offensive assistant under Nichols at Rhode Island prior to his tenure at Bucknell. Ingram is now the offensive line coach at Navy, and Nichols takes over the reins of a Bison offense that averaged 292.3 yards and 21.0 points per game in 2007.

"I am excited to have Harold on board this spring," said Landis. "One of his big focal points is evolving the passing game, and I think everyone is looking forward to that. It is great that he already knows our system so well, so there will not be a significant learning curve. At the same time, I think we will be more multi-dimensional in terms of formations. We want to get our best guys on the field in sets that will allow us to put the ball in their hands both in the running and passing games.

"We feel really good about the skill positions. There is a lot coming back and good depth all around. We also feel good about the talent on the offensive line, but obviously there is some inexperience there."

QUARTERBACK

Reinforcements will be coming in the fall, but this spring the Bison will be thin at the quarterback position. Returning starter Marcello Trigg will get most of the reps, with backup Ben Bouffard and converted wide receiver A.J. Pompliano backing him up.

Trigg had a solid sophomore year in 2007, completing 64 of 133 passes for 1,130 yards and eight touchdowns. He threw only four interceptions all year and finished with a very good 133.32 efficiency rating, third-best in the Patriot League. Trigg, who also had a team-high five rushing touchdowns, showed off his quick-strike potential in that season-ending upset of Fordham, when he parlayed five pass completions into 214 yards and two scores.

Junior Andrew Lair has returned after leaving the team early last season, but he is studying abroad this semester and will not be available for spring practice. He will be back in the fall along with four promising incoming freshmen quarterbacks.

"Marcello Trigg has come a long way," said Landis. "He has played a lot of football, and it's easy to forget he's only going to be a junior. This is an important spring for him to get a jump on the competition, which we hope will be heavy in the fall."

RUNNING BACK

All-Patriot Leaguer A.J. Kizekai is the most prominent name in the offensive backfield, but a number of seasoned veterans will be back on the field this spring. Kizekai and Rashod Bumpers, both juniors-to-be, were the regular starting slotbacks last season, while classmates Justin Pulgrano and Josh Lee and rising senior Nolan Applegate all contributed as well. Hard-running fullbacks Kevin Mullen and Ryan Smith also figure to play significant roles in 2008.

Kizekai was not only the team's leading rusher with 432 yards on 70 carries (6.2 average), but he was also a big-play receiver out of the backfield. He caught a team-high 17 passes for 363 yards (21.4) and four touchdowns.

"We obviously need to get the ball in A.J.'s hands more this year," said Landis. "He is the centerpiece of the offense. But we also have depth there, with Rashod Bumpers and Kevin Mullen both very experienced. Justin Pulgrano has had some good games, and Ryan Smith is coming off a great freshman year. We expect big things from them all."

WIDE RECEIVER

The Bison should also have a deep and talented corps of wide receivers in 2008, with the top four in the rotation all logging considerable field time in the past. Cale Cadman and Shaun Pasternak finished last year as the starters, but Josh Lovett and Alex Odenbach are also very capable. Throw in the athletic Marlon Woods, who moves over from defensive back, and two promising incoming freshmen, and this could be one of the team's strengths this fall.

Cadman tied Kizekai for the team lead with 17 receptions last year. Pasternak averaged 20.2 yards on 13 catches and scored two touchdowns as a rookie.

OFFENSIVE LINE

The big men up front represent the biggest question mark in the program entering spring practice, only because four of the five starters at the end of the season have graduated, including an All-Patriot League selection in left tackle Chad Glasser and a three-year starter in right guard Jonathan Grainger.

Rising junior Ian Fullmer is back after starting all 11 games at left guard in 2007, while classmate James Phelan began the year as a starter at right tackle before suffering an injury. Despite the significant graduation hit, Landis feels the Bison have some young talent ready to take over.

"We are really excited about the rising sophomores," said Landis.

2008 BUCKNELL OUTLOOK

Rashod Bumpers will be part of an experienced backfield in 2008.

"There are three guys in that class who have the potential to be impact players. We see Paul Brazinski as someone who can take over for Greg Conti at center. Hesham Abdelaal got a taste of it last season and is probably best suited to play guard, and Nick McLeod has shown a lot of promise at tackle."

Stephen Edwards, who is studying abroad this spring, will also be in the mix at tackle next preseason, as will six incoming freshmen.

DEFENSE

DEFENSIVE LINE

Bucknell lost two senior defensive linemen in nose guards Ryan Walsh, a four-year starter, and Brandon Friday, and First Team All-Patriot Leaguer Josh Eden is taking the next two years off to serve a Mormon mission. The Bison still have plenty of experience, however, in Todd Rinaldo, Will Braaf and David Young, while Chris Ingram and John von Paris jumped into the rotation as interior linemen late in their freshman seasons last fall.

At the "stud" position, a sort of hybrid defensive line/linebacker, returning starter Marques Morgan comes back for his senior season.

Defensive line was also a recruiting priority for the Bison, with five promising newcomers set to arrive on campus in August.

LINEBACKER

Even with the loss of co-captain Ryan Slater and his 273 career tackles, linebacker should be one of Bucknell's deepest positions in 2008. Leading tackler Todd Manjuck (76) and No. 2 stopper Greg Jones (66) should both return to their starting positions, while the veteran Julius Hopson and sophomore-to-be Travis Nissley will both see plenty of action as well.

The Bison linebacker unit also gets a major boost from the return of junior-to-be Sam Nana-Sinkam, who missed all of last season after shoulder surgery. Nana-Sinkam was Bucknell's rookie of the year in 2006, when he made 85 tackles (49 solo) and two sacks.

"We are very happy with the returning cast at linebacker," said Landis. "Two of the three starting linebackers are back. Todd Manjuck did a great job the second half of last season, and Greg Jones was a pleasant surprise as a sophomore. Julius Hopson has split time at the 'mike' position and can step in there for Slater. Getting Sam Nana-Sinkam back gives us a lot of experience and good depth."

DEFENSIVE BACK

At this time a year ago the Bison were faced with the daunting task of replacing all four starters in the defensive secondary. Bucknell had nothing but freshmen and sophomores in the two-deep at DB last season. The newcomers experienced some growing pains in 2007, but now the entire secondary is back intact with a full year of game action to their credit.

At cornerback, juniors-to-be Jason Davis and Brandon Simmons are returning starters, and at the safety positions, Brigham Farrand, Tyler McFarland, Josh Gornto, Casey Williams and Ahkiel White all played major minutes. Williams and Farrand could also play linebacker if needed.

"In the back half of the defense we are fortunate to return all four starters," said Landis. "It's unique for us to have that much experience back in the secondary, and we are looking forward to having them all back this spring working to get better."

SPECIAL TEAMS

The Bison are also happy to welcome back their starting kicker, punter and both return specialists, all four of whom have all-conference potential.

Kicker Will Carney, who will be a senior in 2008, hit 7 of 11 field goals last season and has not missed an extra point since his freshman campaign. Another rising senior, Phil Azarik, broke the school record with a 41.1 punting average a year ago, and he dropped 15 punts inside the 20.

"Both of our kickers are among the best in the league, but both have room to be more consistent," noted Landis, who coaches the special teams himself. "It is comforting to have experience there."

Kizekai earned First Team All-Patriot League honors as a kickoff returner last year, when he demolished the school record with 1,113 return yards. He ran one back 92 yards for a touchdown against Colgate and averaged 25.9 yards per attempt, the No. 1 figure in the league.

Nolan Applegate averaged 11.5 yards per punt return, the second-best mark in the conference. Applegate was Bucknell's Special Teams MVP two seasons ago after posting a 12.2 PR average.

Bucknell's kickoff and punt coverage teams have been outstanding in recent years, although 2007 team Special Teams MVP and leading special teams tackler Corin Erby has been lost to graduation.

LB Todd Manjuck led the Bison in tackles last season.

HEAD COACH TIM LANDIS

Tim Landis returns for his sixth season as the Bob Odell Head Coach of Bucknell Football.

Landis is now the third-longest-tenured coach in the Patriot League, behind only Colgate's Dick Biddle and Lafayette's Frank Tavani.

Bucknell has been .500 or better in three of Landis' five years in Lewisburg, including a 7-4 season in 2004. Last year, a youthful Bison team finished with a 3-8 record, finishing on a strong note with a 38-24 victory over 18th-ranked Fordham on the road.

Having already resurrected programs at Davidson and St. Mary's, Landis arrived at Bucknell in December 2002 to take over a football program that was undergoing a trying period.

As Landis' first spring practice approached, the Bison were still coping with the death of legendary head coach Tom Gadd, and they were still tasting the bitterness of a 2-9 record that ended a school-record run of seven straight winning seasons.

But under Landis' leadership, pride was quickly restored in the program, and the Bison turned in two very good seasons, first going 6-6 in 2003 then improving to 7-4 in 2004. Bucknell placed third in the competitive Patriot League standings both seasons.

Landis has coached both an All-American (DL Sean Conover, now a member of the Tennessee Titans) and an Academic All-American (OL Justin Gibson, DB David Frisbey) during his tenure at Bucknell.

Upon his hiring, Landis, 42, brought to the Bison football program an impressive cache of head coaching experience at the Division I-AA level. He became Bucknell's 25th head football coach since the program's inception in 1883.

"I have worked a very long time in this profession to earn a tremendous opportunity such as this," said Landis at the time of his hiring. "To coach at a quality educational institution like Bucknell that also has a long and proud history of football is the culmination of a lifelong dream of mine."

"I am pleased to have Tim Landis continue to lead the Bison football program," said Hardt in announcing a new multi-year contract for Landis in November 2006. "He has a proven track record of coaching winning teams throughout his career, and during his tenure at Bucknell has recruited true scholar-athletes who are quality young men on and off the field. Coach Landis is determined to bring additional Patriot League championships to Bucknell, and I look forward to working with him in achieving this important goal."

Following a seven-year tenure as head coach at Davidson College, Landis spent the previous three seasons building a winning program at St. Mary's (Calif.) College. In both positions, he garnered national accolades for turning modestly successful programs into winners.

Upon his arrival at St. Mary's in the spring of 2000, the Gaels had been just 4-17 over the previous two seasons. Landis quickly forged a 6-5 season in his first year at the Moraga, Calif., school, marking the program's best one-year turnaround since football was reinstated at St.

Mary's in 1967. The Gaels finished 6-5 again in 2001 and 6-6 in 2002, and Landis was honored as the Division I-AA Independent Coach of the Year after both seasons.

Landis helped Davidson to a school-record eight victories in both 1998 and 1999, while laying the groundwork for a perfect 10-0 season the year after his departure to St. Mary's. Prior to Landis' arrival, Davidson had enjoyed just one winning campaign since 1980, but the Wildcats promptly went 6-4 in 1993 under the then first-year coach, and they would go on to enjoy four winning seasons in his seven years at the North Carolina institution.

Landis, who has a career head coaching record of 76-85-1, was very familiar with Bucknell and the Patriot League, having coached against league teams at both Davidson and St. Mary's. The Bison and Gaels met in each of the two prior seasons, with St. Mary's winning 23-22 in overtime in 2002 and Bucknell capturing a 38-6 decision in 2001.

St. Mary's 2000 team gained acclaim for its victories over nationally ranked Colgate and a talented Towson squad. He also posted a win over Patriot League foe Georgetown during his stint at Davidson.

"Having so many roots in the East, I have followed the Patriot League for a long time and it is becoming one of the premier conferences in Division I-AA football," Landis said upon his arrival at Bucknell. "Just look at the success that Patriot League teams have had in the I-AA play-offs. Every school in the league has academic prestige and football prestige. That is a great combination."

Landis' trademark spread option offensive attack put up 2,908 ground yards in 2003, missing the school record by just a single yard while finishing 10th nationally in rushing offense. In 2003 the Bison were eighth nationally, averaging 251.8 rushing yards per game, and in 2006 they were fifth at 235.2 yards per contest.

In his first season at St. Mary's the Gaels ranked fourth nationally in rushing at 309.5 yards per game and 24th nationally in total offense at 434.4. The team broke school records for total yards (4778) and touchdowns (50) in a season. Defensively, the Gaels were equally opportunistic, ranking 12th in Division I-AA in turnovers forced (32). St. Mary's also ranked fourth in the country in rushing offense in 2001 and fifth in 2002.

At St. Mary's, Landis coached an Associated Press First Team All-American in defensive end Travis White, and he mentored a total of seven Verizon Academic All-District honorees in three years.

In his final season at Davidson, the Wildcats defense led the nation with a school-record 28 interceptions, including eight by All-American Ryan Crawford, a current assistant on the Bison staff. Landis' special teams unit blocked a Division I-AA record 13 kicks in 1999, and the defense allowed only 101 rushing yards per game to rank 13th in the nation.

In 1998, Davidson ranked first nationally in pass efficiency defense, second in scoring defense (a stingy 10.4 points per game allowed), fourth in total defense (231.9 yards per game) and 12th in rushing defense.

Landis originally joined the Davidson staff as its defensive line coach in 1991, and two years later, at the age of 29, he became one of the nation's youngest head football coaches.

A native of Yardley, Pa., and a 1982 graduate of The Hun School in Princeton, N.J., Landis went on to earn a bachelor of arts degree in English from Randolph-Macon College in 1986. A First Team All-Old Dominion Athletic Conference honoree both as a quarterback in football and a pitcher in baseball, Landis was inducted into the Randolph-Macon Athletic Hall of Fame in 2000. He was the ODAC Baseball Player of the Year in 1986, and he also earned the school's Compton Award for excellence in academics and athletics. In May 2002, he was inducted into The Hun School's Hall of Fame.

Landis took his initial steps into the coaching profession in 1986, when he remained at Randolph-Macon to coach his alma mater's wide receivers. In 1988, he began a three-year stint as head football and baseball coach at Morrisville (Pa.) High School, where he led the grid squad to an 8-2 record, a state ranking and coach of the year honors by the Bucks County Courier Times, the Bicentennial Athletic League and the Independence Football League. He also guided the baseball team to a conference crown. During his final two years at the school, he served as director of athletics.

Landis returned to the collegiate level in 1991, when he was hired as an assistant at Davidson.

Off the field, Landis is a member of the American Football Coaches Association (AFCA), where he serves as the chairman of that organization's Division FCS All-America Selection Committee. He also served as a member of the FCS AFCA Board of Directors Executive Committee.

Landis and his wife Karen have four children — 15-year-old son T.J., 6-year-old daughter Jordan, 5-year-old son Jack, and 2-year old son Charlie.
