C-USA GOLFER OF THE WEEK

Conference USA will name a Men's and Women's Golfer of the Week throughout the fall season each Wednesday, with honors beginning September 14 and ending on November 2. Athletes must be nominated in order to be considered for the weekly recognition.

WOMEN'S GOLFER OF THE WEEK

Julia Strandberg, East Carolina

Making just her fourth career start for the Pirates, senior Julia Strandberg helped the Pirates to the 2011 Golfweek Program Challenge women's title Tuesday afternoon. She had a career tournament, finishing third with a three-day score of 216 (68-76-72) -- both career-bests. She capped off her opening round 68 (35-33) recording five birdies in the last seven holes for a career-low round, which was also the second-lowest 18-hole score of the Challenge. During the third round, she posted six birdies, four on the front nine. In all, she fired 14 birdies with 26 pars. For Strandberg, it was her first career top three finish.

CO-MEN'S GOLFERS OF THE WEEK

Jason Shufflebotham, UAB

Senior Jason Shufflebotham shared medalist honors at the Sam Hall Intercollegiate with a 54-hole watershed mark of nine-under par 204 (69-69-66). As a result, Shufflebotham helped UAB capture its first tournament title since winning the 2008 C-USA Championship. He also became the first UAB golfer to earn top honors in a tournament since Zack Sucher captured the 2008 Shoal Creek Intercollegiate. During the two-day tournament, Shufflebotham set an 18-hole career-low of five-under par 66 on Tuesday, which came one day after setting his 36-hole low mark of 138.

Brad Schneider, UCF

Schneider earned co-medalist honors as he led UCF to the team title at the Northern Intercollegiate at Rich Harvest Farms in Sugar Grove, Ill. The senior finished the 16-team tournament at 1-under 212. Schneider, who has been a member of three C-USA Championship title squads during his time as a Knight, opened the tournament with a 2-under 69 before carding a 70 (-1) in the second round. The tournament title was the first of Schneider's collegiate career. The Northern Intercollegiate included six teams that finished last season ranked in the top-60 nationally according to GolfStat.

NOTABLE PERFORMANCES

MEN'S

Roman Robledo - Houston

Robledo was the Cougars' leading performer at the season-opening Gopher Invitational, tying for 14th during his collegiate debut and his first tournament outside of the state of Texas. He fired the team's lowest round of the event with an even-par 72 in the second round and osted a combined seven birdies through three rounds.

Bosten Miller - Marshall

Miller fired three rounds of under par play in Marshall's 54-hole Invitational. After a one under par round of 70 to open up the first 18 in day one, he shaved off four strokes in the second 18 of day one to finish with a 66. The senior captain delivered one more round of under par play on day two, finishing his third round one under par. Miller ended the tournament tied for fourth, just two strokes behind the Invitational medalist.

Cory Gaylord - Memphis

Competing in his first collegiate tournament, Gaylord tied for third place at the Sam Hall Intercollegiate. His score of -8 (68-69-68=205) was just one stroke behind medalists Jason Shufflebotham (UAB) and Blake Kelley (South Alabama). He posted 14 birdies and two eagles in the tournament.

John Young Kim, Tulsa

In the first tournament of the season at the Northern Intercollegiate at Rich Harvest Farms in Sugar Grove, Ill., Tulsa sophomore John Young Kim led the Golden Hurricane to a second-place team finish. He carded rounds of 68-74-72 for a one-over par score of 214, just two strokes off the individual champion. In three rounds his tournament average was 71.3.

WOMEN'S

Korakot Simsiriwong, Marshall

Simsiriwong fired a 75 in her inaugural competition against Eastern Kentucky and Morehead State. Her three over par round landed her second place within the tri match. Last weekend she shot a 225 through poor conditions over three rounds. The freshmen's total tied her for seventh individually among the 15 teams, just 11 shots off the lead.

Marissa Steen, Memphis

Steen shot (34-36--70) in the one-round, rain-shortened Chris Banister Golf Classic last weekend, finishing as the tournament's first-place finisher. Steen's victory marks the fifth of her career.
