2003 big west conference
TOURNAMENT
Nov. 7-9 • Hosted by Cal State Fullerton • Titan Stadium

For the first time since the 1997 season, the Big West Conference will hold a four-team postseason tournament to determine its representative to the NCAA Tournament.

Cal State Fullerton will host the postseason tournament for the second time in the history of the event, having hosted the inaugural Big West Soccer Tournament back in 1996.

The tournament will feature the top four teams in the conference, with the semifinals to be held on Friday, Nov. 7, and the championship match following on Sunday afternoon, Nov. 9. Game times will be announced at a later date.

In the first-ever Big West Conference Tournament, Cal Poly and UC Irvine advanced out of the semifinal round, eliminating host Cal State Fullerton and Pacific, respectively. The Mustangs emerged victorious, downing the Anteaters, 2-0, in the championship match.

The 1997 edition of the tournament in Irvine, Calif., was the closest, with all three matches decided by a single goal. Cal Poly defeated Cal State Fullerton, 3-2, and UCI downed Pacific 2-1, to set up a rematch of the previous years' championship.

This time, the Anteaters exacted some revenge, beating the Mustangs, 3-2, in double-overtime to win the conference's automatic berth to the NCAA Tournament.

Ticket prices for the 2003 Big West Tournament will be $12 for an adult day pass and $7 for youth/seniors/student pass. An all-tournament pass will be priced at $20 for adults and $10 for youth/seniors/students.

Tickets can be obtained by calling the Cal State Fullerton athletic ticket office at (714) 278-2783.

2002 COLLEGE CUP FINAL RECAP

University of Portland sophomore Christine Sinclair scored both of the Pilots' goals, including the game-winner in the second overtime to lift Portland to its first-ever national championship in any sport, 2-1, over conference rival Santa Clara. Dewyn Hawkins gave the Broncos the early 1-0 lead in the 53rd minute, but Sinclair netted the equalizer in the 61st and won the game by finishing a rebound off her own shot in the 104th minute.

Sinclair was named the tournament's Most Valuable Offensive Player and set a NCAA Tournament record with 21 points (10 goals, 1 assist), breaking Mia Hamm's (North Carolina) record of 16 points set in 1993.

2002 SEASON IN REVIEW

Goalkeeper Karen Bardsley became the Titans' first-ever Big West Freshman of the Year in 2002 after posting a 12-3-1 record in net with a 0.96 GAA in her rookie season.

Lindsey Glick (No. 14) earned third-team NSCAA All-West Region honors as a senior in 2002 and helped the defense to a record-low 21 goals allowed last season.

Midfielder Erin Shelton was part of a stellar freshman class for the Titans in 2002, finishing among Big West Conference leaders in assists and assists per match.

Just a year removed from its first Big West Conference title and trip to the NCAA Tournament, the Cal State Fullerton women's soccer team looked for a repeat of their storied 2001 campaign.

Picked by the league's coaches to repeat as conference champs and with a recruiting class ranked in the top 25 in the nation by one publication, the Titans had the ingredients for yet another storied run.

However, late season defections by two of the team's top scorers, nagging injuries to key players, and a late-season slide that saw the Titans lose four of their final six matches, prevented Fullerton from ruling the Big West once again and knocked them out of contention for an at-large NCAA berth.

On the bright side, the aforementioned recruiting class and NCAA berth brought the Fullerton program into the national spotlight for the first time in its brief history.

The Titans took it one step further in 2002, winning 10 of their first 12 games to break into the national rankings for the first time in the history of the program, reaching as high as No. 23 in the nation according to Soccer Buzz.

Cal State Fullerton finished the year 12-5-1, posting back-to-back 10-win seasons since 1995-96 under Al Mistri and double-digit victories for only the fourth time in the history of the program.

After a sluggish open to 2001 in Head Coach Ali Khosroshahin's first year, Fullerton burst out of the gates in 2002, winning its first three matches, including an upset of No. 24 Saint Mary's College at the UCI Nike Holiday Invitational.

The next week, the Titans headed north to Oregon as one of four teams at the University of Portland's Nike Invitational, facing its toughest test of the season.

Fullerton performed admirably despite a 0-1-1 record on the trip, forcing the eventual national champion Pilots to overtime before falling, 2-1, and getting a late tally from Erica Jacalone to earn a tie with No. 12 Washington.

The Titans then ran off seven consecutive victories (tying the school record for longest winning and longest unbeaten streak), including wins over longtime Southern California rivals San Diego and San Diego State, and wins in their first four conference contests – three of those by a single goal.

However, that's where the Titans' luck ran out. Fullerton, ranked in the top 25 by three major polls at the time, was upset by arch-rival Long Beach State, 2-1, on a goal with :22 remaining.

Then, after a strong showing in a 6-1 victory over UC Irvine, the Titans dropped a pair to non-conference foe Fresno State, 2-1, and eventual league champion Cal Poly in overtime, 1-0.

Fullerton then snapped its skid two days later with a 4-3 double-overtime win over UC Santa Barbara thanks to a pair of goals from both Kellie Cox and Nicole Mularkey.

With an outside chance of an at-large NCAA berth, the Titans had to defeat UC Riverside in the season finale and get a little help from the teams above them, but the stars were aligned against them.

On a rainy Fullerton night, a free kick from just inside the midfield stripe by the Highlanders was deflected past a leaping goalkeeper by one of the Titans' own defenders with just over a minute remaining in the contest, sealing Fullerton's fate.

"Last season we learned that on any given day in Division I soccer, any team can beat you," Khosroshahin said.

Season's end brought numerous accolades to several Titan players. Eight Cal State Fullerton players were honored on the All-Big West Conference teams, including four first-team selections.

Goalkeeper Karen Bardsley and defender Lindsey Glick joined a select group, becoming only the fourth and fifth players in the history of the program to be named to the National Soccer Coaches Association of America's All-West Region squad.

Bardsley became Fullerton's first-ever Big West Conference Freshman of the Year while also earning Second-Team Freshman All-America, Second-Team All-West Region, and All-West Region Freshman honors from Soccer Buzz.

Bardsley, along with forwards Nicole Mularkey and Michele Bannister, also earned spots on both the Soccer America and Soccer Buzz National Teams of the Week at one point in the year.

Internationally, the Titans were able to strut their stuff on a larger stage.

Defender Marlene Sandoval and midfielder Nadia Hernandez each had a chance to compete with the Mexican Women's National Team in Gold Cup play and Women's World Cup qualifying matches throughout the year.

Sandoval scored a goal as Mexico defeated Panama at Titan Stadium in Gold Cup play and also tallied a goal in a 2-2 draw against Japan in World Cup qualifying.

Bardsley was one of two American-born players invited to England's U-19 International Training Camp and was eventually selected to the squad, competing in the UEFA U-19 Women's Championships in Leipzig, Germany.

She made her first international start in net against Sweden in a 2-1 opening round victory.

BIG WEST CONFERENCE

HISTORY OF THE BIG WEST...

Cal State Fullerton is one of 10 current members of the Big West Conference, which will field a full complement of women's soccer teams in 2003.

The Big West is in its 16th year of existence since changing its name from the Pacific Coast Athletic Association prior to the 1988 football season. The name is seen as a simpler, more accurate description of the league's member institutions: Cal Poly (San Luis Obispo), Cal State Fullerton, Idaho, Long Beach State, UC Irvine, UC Santa Barbara, Pacific, UC Riverside, Cal State Northridge, and Utah State.

Nevada, New Mexico State and North Texas left the conference in the summer of 2000 and Boise State departed in the summer of 2001. A year ago, the conference welcomed UC Riverside and Cal State Northridge to the ranks.

This will be only the eighth year that women's soccer has been recognized as a Big West Conference sport and the third season that men's soccer will be recognized.

In 1996, Cal State Fullerton went undefeated in the regular season but Cal Poly won the postseason tournament at Fullerton and captured the official league championship.

In 1997, Cal Poly finished atop the regular season standings but host UC Irvine beat the Mustangs, 3-2, in double overtime to capture the tournament and league championship and avenge a loss in the 1996 title match.

The tournament format was discontinued for 1998 and Pacific captured the regular season title. The Tigers defeated Cal in the first round of the NCAA playoffs before losing to national power Santa Clara.

In 1999 Cal Poly won the conference and went two rounds into NCAA play and took back-to-back league titles in 2000 with a 6-2 record while advancing to its second consecutive tournament, falling to Santa Clara, 3-1, in the first round.

In 2001, Cal State Fullerton clinched its first-ever conference title, posting an 8-1 record and clinching the league's automatic NCAA berth. The Titans fell to UCLA, 3-0, in their first-ever NCAA appearance.

In 2002, Cal Poly and UC Santa Barbara battled it out until the final conference match of the season (coincidentally against one another) when the Mustangs triumphed, 2-0, over the Gauchos to earn the conference's automatic bid. Cal Poly then fell to top-seeded Stanford, 4-0 in the NCAA Tournament's first round.

Big West Conference members are nationally competitive and have won 13 NCAA Division I men's championships and 12 NCAA Division I women's championships.

Women's volleyball is one of the strongest sports for the Big West Conference as Long Beach State, Pacific and Hawaii (former member) have all won national titles in the past 13 years. Baseball is nearly as strong and Cal State Fullerton brought home its third national championship by winning the 1995 College World Series.

2001 NCAA TITANS

2001 CAL STATE FULLERTON WOMEN'S SOCCER • BIG WEST CHAMPIONS & NCAA TOURNAMENT QUALIFIERS

Just a scant 10 years after the first women's soccer team donned the Navy and Orange and took the field at Titan Stadium, the members of the 2001 Cal State Fullerton women's soccer team continued to bring the program to new heights.

Under the tutelage of first-year head coach Ali Khosroshahin, Cal State Fullerton proved all pundits wrong in 2001. Picked to finish eighth in the 10-team Big West Conference, the Titans stormed to a 13-6 overall mark and an 8-1 record in league action to claim the school's first-ever Big West title in the sport and, more important, a spot on the national stage with a berth into the NCAA Tournament.

The Titans got in a hole early, losing four of their first five games – each one by a single goal, with one of those losses in overtime – and the pattern of slow starts which became prevalent in recent years, began to rear its ugly head once again.

However, if you look at the competition, things probably wouldn't seem that bad. Denver was a nationally-competitive program which had claimed four conference titles and made a trip to the NCAA Tournament in 1995.

Portland is a fixture in the NCAA Tournament with eight trips to the postseason, four semifinal appearances and a trip to the championship game in 1995 (the Pilots would eventually win the national championship in 2002).

San Diego State was an up-and-coming program with two trips to the NCAA Tournament in the previous three seasons.

However, following the loss to the Aztecs, the Titans had taken enough. It was now time to show what the team had learned. Apparently, judging by what followed, they learned it well.

Cal State Fullerton reeled off seven consecutive victories, including three straight wins over Big West opponents to start the conference season, and outscored the opposition, 24-3, during that stretch.

The streak included a 69th-minute tally to defeat Loyola Marymount, a pair of mid-second half scores to beat Wyoming, two shellackings of Southern Utah and San Francisco, and a thrilling double-overtime victory over Pacific as Michele Bannister scored both of Fullerton's goals in the 2-1 win.

The road to a perfect conference season hit a bump in Logan, Utah, as a goal off a corner kick and a solid Aggie defense held the Titans scoreless en route to a 1-0 victory.

Cal State Fullerton bounced back quickly, defeating local rivals Long Beach State, 1-0, and UC Irvine, 2-1, in double OT as Bannister was once again the heroine against the Anteaters, finding the back of the net in extra time for the victory.

Fullerton's momentum was temporarily halted as the Titans ran into nationally-ranked San Diego, which defeated Cal State Fullerton, 5-0, at Torero Stadium. Fullerton didn't let that stop it as Cal Poly, UC Santa Barbara and UC Riverside ran into the Titan offense as Cal State Fullerton closed the season with three consecutive victories to clinch the conference crown and a first-ever trip to the NCAA Tournament.

The excitement was brief, yet satisfying, as the Titans learned their postseason fate, lumped into a bracket which featured the national No. 3 seed UCLA, Pepperdine and Southern California at the Bruins'

Drake Stadium.

However, the dream came to a nightmarish end as the Bruins, led by two goals from junior Tracey Winzen, registered a 3-0 victory over the Titans.

The Titans did have some small victories, even if the war didn't quite come out like they wanted it to. Cal State Fullerton held the Bruins scoreless for the entire first half and the first three minutes of the second half before UCLA struck.

Eight players were honored by the Big West Conference on post-season all-star teams. Senior Tennli Ulicny, juniors Jenny Mescher and Michele Bannister and freshman Kellie Cox were named to the first team, freshman Vanessa Valentine was voted to the second team, and three Titans (Erica Jacalone, Laura Janke and Deena Miller) were honorable mention selections.

Head Coach Ali Khosroshahin was honored as the conference's top coach and finished second in the voting for West Region Coach of the Year as voted by Soccer Buzz.

Ulicny, the lone four-year senior on the 2001 roster, was voted to the All-West Region third team by both Soccer Buzz and the National Soccer Coaches Association of America.

As a team, the Titans received votes in the final Soccer Buzz West Region poll – the first time a Cal State Fullerton team had finished the season mentioned in any poll.

Although the season probably ended much too soon for the Titans, the 2001 season will continue to serve as a launching point for the future successes this program strives to achieve.
