Turnovers doom Rams in loss at New Mexico

CSU falters at The Pit for second consecutive loss

By Danny Mattie
 Athletic Media Relations

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. – The Colorado State men's basketball team suffered its second consecutive loss Wednesday night, falling at New Mexico, 85-52, in front of a crowd of 14,089 at The Pit.

The Lobos (16-4, 2-2 MW), who were selected as preseason favorites in the Mountain West, pulled even with the Rams (13-6, 2-2 MW) in the league standings, forcing CSU into a season-most 20 turnovers and using a 17-2 run midway through the second half to blow open the contest.

"We just turned the ball over too many times," said Miles. "We just didn't have a steady flow of offense where we could get consistent stops."

The Rams turned the ball over five times alone during the five minute, 38-second stretch that comprised the Lobos' run.

"A season-low five assists, and a season-high 20 turnovers is just an easy example to show that we're trying to do too much with the dribble, so we turn it over," said Head Coach Tim Miles. "We don't share the ball, and we're just not a very good team right now."

The Rams showed signs of life right after intermission, cutting the Lobos' 18-point halftime lead to 13 points with five straight from junior forward Pierce Hornung to open the second stanza. But the Lobos countered with six straight to push the lead back to 19, 53-34, with 16:27 left in the contest.

Hornung, who earned his first start since returning mid-December from an early-season concussion, added a team-high seven rebounds in the contest. Hornung finished one point off the pace of 11 set by junior guards Dorian Green and Wes Eikmeier, and senior forward Will Bell. He also added four steals, tying a career-best mark.

UNM's Drew Gordon led all players with 13 points and 14 rebounds, finishing with his 11th double-double of the season.

"We just have fractured out, and we have to build ourselves back up," said Miles. "That's what we'll get to at practice before the No. 12 team in the country, San Diego State, rolls into Moby. We're going to get back to work and get better, and we're going to get better immediately."

The Rams and the No. 13/12 Aztecs tip off Saturday at 2 p.m. from Moby Arena. The contest is the Rams' annual "White Out" game to raise cancer awareness. The game will be televised live on NBC Sports Network.

- Jamaal Franklin ranks third in the league in rebounding (6.8 rpg), while Chase Tapley is 17th (4.4 rpg). The duo joins CSU's Dorian Green and Greg Smith on an elite list of nine players that rank among the MW's top 20 in both scoring and rebounding.
- As a team, the Aztecs rank fourth in the MW in both scoring offense (72.8 ppg) and scoring defense (60.7 ppg). SDSU ranks 23rd nationally, and second in the MW, in field-goal percentage defense holding opponents to 38.8 percent shooting.

Series vs. San Diego State

- Saturday's matchup between the Rams and Aztecs marks the 67th in the series between the programs.
- Colorado State leads the series, 35-31.
- SDSU has won nine straight in the series since the Rams' last victory, 69-64, in the 2007 MW tournament.
- The Rams lead 22-8 all-time in games played against the Aztecs in Fort Collins.
- The Aztecs have won six straight at Moby Arena since the CSU captured a 93-88 overtime victory at home during the 2004-05 season.
- The series between the schools dates back to 1961-62 season, when CSU picked up a 71-57 road victory on Dec. 30, 1961.
- The programs have faced off at least twice each season as conference foes since 1978-79, with the exception of 1997-98 and 1998-99 seasons in which they competed in different divisions of the Western Athletic Conference.
- In 27 matchups since the formation of the Mountain West in 1999-2000, the Rams trail 19-8.
- Head Coach Tim Miles is 0-9 vs. San Diego State in five seasons at CSU.
- Last season, the Aztecs swept the Rams, escaping with a 56-54 victory in Fort Collins thanks to D.J. Gay's game-winning jumper with 1.8 seconds left on the clock. SDSU also picked up a 66-48 victory over the Rams at Viejas Arena in San Diego.

A win over San Diego State will...

- Move the Rams to 14-6 overall and 3-2 in the Mountain West.
- Extend the Rams' home-court winning streak to nine games, and improve CSU's home record to 10-1.
- Push CSU's home-court winning streak vs. Mountain West foes to four games.
- Snap the Rams' 16-game losing streak against ranked opponents and give CSU its first win over a top-25 team since March 11, 2004 vs. No. 25 Air Force (60-48) at the MW tournament.
- End the Ram's six-game home-court losing streak against ranked opponents. CSU's last home victory over a top-25 foe came Dec. 30, 2003 when Micheal Morris' "Miracle at Moby" produced two three-pointers in the final seven-tenths of a second to rally the Rams to a 71-69 win over No. 22/21 Purdue.
- Give the Rams their first victory over SDSU in nine tries dating back to March 8, 2007, a 69-64 win in the MW tournament.

- On May 19, 2011, Director of Athletics Paul Kowalczyk announced that Miles had agreed to an extension to keep him at CSU through the 2015-16 season.
- Miles, the first coach hired by Kowalczyk on March 22, 2007, earned an initial contract extension on Sept. 10, 2008.

Improved RPI

- On Head Coach Tim Miles' watch, the Rams' RPI has steadily improved from year to year, increasing by an average of 71 spots in each of the his first three seasons.
- The Rams' climb from an RPI of 273 at the end of Miles' first season to their 62 following 2010-11 represents the fifth-best improvement nationally over that span behind Princeton (287), Harvard (265), Long Beach State (239) and St. Peter's (219).
- CSU's RPI peaked at No. 38 in mid-February last season, putting the program in the hunt for an NCAA tournament berth throughout the conference slate.
- In the initial RPI figures released by the NCAA on Jan. 2, the Rams rank second in the MW with an RPI of 35. Mountain West RPI figures are located at the bottom of the column at right.

Moby Madness

- Colorado State basketball fans have taken notice of the Rams' improvement under Head Coach Tim Miles and the Rams closed the 2010-11 season by reaching an 11-year high for average attendance at Moby Arena.
- CSU recorded two sellouts, vs. BYU (Jan. 22) and vs. UNLV (Feb. 19), at Moby Arena during the 2010-11 season, marking the program's first home sellouts since Jan. 25, 2003, vs. rival Wyoming.
- It marked the first time that Moby Arena hosted two capacity crowds in the same season since 1990.
- The Rams averaged 6,156 fans in Mountain West play and averaged 4,879 fans per game for the entire home schedule, the program's highest average attendance figure since 1999-00 (4,880).
- Previously, CSU's largest crowd in Tim Miles' tenure was 5,956 vs. Minnesota on Nov. 22, 2008.

CSU's NLI Signees

Jordan Mason | 6-2/175 | Guard | Ennis, Texas (Ennis High School)

Mason, who was recruited by Rams' assistant Craig Smith, is a highly touted scoring guard from Ennis High School in Ennis, Texas, where he plays for his father Jerry Mason. Regarded as one of the top prospects in the state of Texas, Mason ranks No. 13 in the state and is rated nationally as a three-star recruit by TexasHoops.com and Rivals.com. Mason has scored 1,885 points in his first three seasons, averaging 21.5 points per game, to go along with four assists, four rebounds and two steals per contest. As a junior in 2010-11, he led the Lions to a 26-6 record. He is a three-time all-district performer and returns for his senior year after earning district MVP honors on a team that is ranked No. 9 in class 4A by MaxPreps.com and No. 14 by TexasHoops.com.

Miles on Mason: "Jordan is a play-making guard that can score in any fashion. He can shoot the three from deep, has a great pull-up game, and can finish in the paint and get fouled. He is the type of player that can make plays for others, or himself, at the end of the shot clock. Jordan is a very good defender on the ball and rebounds well for a guard. He is the prototype coach's son; he is a gym rat, accepts coaching, and is always looking for ways to improve. We are thrilled that Jordan is joining the CSU basketball program."

Jermaine Morgan | 6-8/210 | Forward | Chicago, Ill. (Whitney M. Young High School)

Morgan will join the Rams from Chicago, where he previously played for current CSU assistant coach Ronald Coleman at Whitney M. Young High School and AAU Mac Irvin Fire. Morgan, ranked as a three-star recruit by Rivals.com, is rated nationally as a top-40 power forward and the No. 15 player in talent-rich Illinois class of 2012. He averaged 10.6 points, 10 rebounds and 2.6 blocks per game as a junior in 2010-11, helping his team to a regional championship and city runner-up finish. Morgan was part of an Illinois state championship as a freshman in 2008-09 and helped his team to a state runner-up finish during his sophomore campaign. As a senior in 2011-12 he will anchor a team that is ranked in the top five in the state of Illinois and No. 34 nationally by ESPN.

Miles on Morgan: "We are very excited to add a player like Jermaine Morgan. He's the true meaning of a 'GATA GUY.' Jermaine has been battle-tested through his experiences in great AAU and high school programs. He is a player that's going to make an impact on our program at CSU. He is long and athletic, has a great motor, and plays with tenacious energy. I love his nose for the ball. Jermaine blocks shots and rebounds well. He's a quality kid that our fans will fall in love with, and I am look forward to coaching a player of his caliber."

In addition to Mason and Morgan, the 2012-13 season will also see a return to the court for talented transfers Daniel Bejarano and Colton Iverson, who will sit out 2011-12 after coming to CSU from the University of Arizona and the University of Minnesota, respectively.

Tim Miles | University of Mary (1989) Fifth Season at CSU (64-82); 17th Season Overall (276-214)

When Tim Miles came to Colorado State University to coach men's basketball he arrived on campus with a winning attitude and a smile. Both are essential to the program Miles is building with the Rams. His personality draws fans and student-athletes alike to him. His attitude is apparent in the feats that sprinkle through his resume.

Despite a pair of injury-plagued seasons to begin his tenure at Colorado State, Miles, his staff, and the team beat the odds time and time again, and have taken the first steps to re-establishing Colorado State men's basketball as a power in the Mountain West, and on a national stage.

In 2007-08, Miles' first year with the program, he led a roster that featured just one returning starter to early season success, including a tournament championship at the BP Top of World Classic in Fairbanks, Alaska. And, after battling through a tough conference slate, the Rams ended the season on a high note with a victory over rival Wyoming in the opening round of the MW tournament.

His second season at Moby proved to be just as fruitful as the Rams continued to make strides. Miles led the Rams to early season victories over Montana and Northern Colorado, both of which had beaten the Rams the previous year, and CSU took national power Minnesota, led by Tubby Smith, to the brink of defeat before falling 72-71 at Moby Arena. In addition, the Rams boosted their win column with four conference wins against UNLV, Air Force (twice) and TCU.

The diligence and hard work shown by Miles, his staff, and the student-athletes he has recruited to Colorado State, continued to pay dividends in 2009-10. The Rams came into Miles' third season looking to take the next step, and did not disappoint, finishing tied for fifth in the MW standings and making their first postseason appearance since 2003 with a berth in the 2010 College Basketball Invitational (CBI). CSU closed the season with a 16 wins, marking the most by a Rams' squad since future NBA first-round draft pick Jason Smith led the team to 17 wins in the 2007 season. For his efforts, Miles was selected as the 2010 Mountain West coach of the Year by CollegelInsider.com.

In 2010-11, Miles' fourth season at the helm at CSU, he guided the program to a 19-13 record, a fourth-place finish in the Mountain West, and a berth in the 2011 NIT, reaching milestones at every step along the way. The 2010-11 campaign marked the Rams' first winning season in seven years, and the squad became the 10th in program history to record 19 or more victories in a single season. The Rams' nine conference victories were the most for CSU since the formation of the Mountain West in 1999-2000, and CSU's fourth-place finish was the best since a fourth-place finish in the inaugural MW season. Miles and the Rams' received votes in the top-25 national polls for the first time since 2005-06, and he became just the third coach in program history to take the Rams to back-to-back postseason appearances.

Miles' persistence and hard work has not gone unnoticed by Colorado State and Athletic Director Paul Kowalczyk. In 2008, Miles was rewarded with a contract extension through the 2012-13 season, and following the 2010-11 season, he was signed to an additional three-year contract extension to keep him on the Moby Arena sidelines through the 2015-16 season.

"Tim is a proven winner," said Kowalczyk. "He's been a winner everywhere he's coached, and has produced at CSU one of the greatest turnarounds in Division I men's basketball. Our reputation and national profile are growing thanks to his talent.

"With Coach Miles at the helm, we are in the process of building a program that will be a model for many years to come, one that is focused on success on and off the court. Tim is a first-class representative of CSU who embodies the values we so readily embrace, while winning games and graduating his student-athletes."

Off the court, Miles believes strongly in academics, family and CSU, and in the fall of 2011 he donated back to CSU and the community by capping the J.J. Williams scholarship endowment and establishing the Ram Basketball Legacy scholarship endowment, while making a contribution to School is Cool, a CSU-driven program to support Poudre School District.

"My job is to come in and establish a winning mentality in our basketball program," Miles said. "That means we're going to win outside hanging out with the students, we're going to win in the classroom when it comes to grades and we're going to win on the basketball floor."

While establishing a tradition of winning in college basketball, Miles' philosophy extends far beyond the basketball court. He and his staff are committed to academics and the success of their student-athletes in the classroom.

"It is essential that our players realize the value of their education at CSU," Miles said. "Academics are our top priority. We also want to represent this program, this university, and this community in a first-class manner at all times."

With 17 years of experience as a head coach at four institutions, he has compiled a career record of 263-208 that includes three conference championships and three national tournament appearances.

At North Dakota State, Miles earned 16 wins in each of his last five seasons, knocked off No. 8 Marquette and No. 15 Wisconsin both on the road, and finished as one of only two independent programs with a winning record in 2006-07.

He also previously served as the head coach at Southwest Minnesota State University from 1997-2001 and Mayville State University from 1995-97. Miles began his coaching career in 1989 as an assistant at Northern State, where he served from 1989-95.

A native of Doland, S.D., Miles earned his bachelor's degree in Elementary Education and Health/Physical Education from the University of Mary in 1989. He went on to earn his master's degree in Health and Physical Science from Northern State in 1990.

Miles, and his wife, Kari, reside in Fort Collins with their daughter Ava, and son Gabriel.
