

Men's Soccer Announces 2012 Winter Training Camp

CHICAGO - DePaul men's soccer coach Craig Blazer and his staff will be holding their annual Winter Training Camp on Saturday, Feb. 11, 2012 at the Sullivan Athletic Center, 2323 N. Sheffield Ave., on DePaul's Lincoln Park campus.

The one-day camp designed for competitive high school players (boys only) who aspire to play at the college level will run from 9 a.m.-noon. Blazer and assistant coaches Hobie Hare and Craig Reynolds will direct the camp after leading the Blue Demons to their sixth consecutive BIG EAST Conference playoff appearance in 2011.

The Winter Training Camp will be held on the gym floor of McGrath-Phillips Arena inside the Sullivan Athletic Center. Appropriate shoes and attire are required at all times. Please contact the DePaul men's soccer staff with questions or concerns.

Training sessions, small-sided games and full-sided games will give the DePaul staff an opportunity to provide feedback to each player over the course of the camp while giving the player a glimpse of the level of intensity needed to compete as a collegiate athlete.

2012 DePaul Winter Training Camp

WHO: High school boys soccer players aspiring to play at the collegiate level

WHAT: DePaul University Men's Soccer Winter Training Camp

WHEN: Saturday, Feb. 11 from 9 a.m.-Noon

WHERE: Sullivan Athletic Center
2323 N. Sheffield Ave.
Chicago, IL 60614

COST: $90 + registration fee

CAMP FORMAT:

9 a.m.-10 a.m. – Check-in and technical instruction

10 a.m.-11 a.m. – Small-sided games and possession training

11 a.m.-noon – 7v7 games

For more information, please contact:

Assistant Coach Craig Reynolds at 773-325-4737 or creyno13@depaul.edu