ABOUT THE GAME

Soon after UNC Pembroke reinstated its football program in 2007, former UNCP Director of Athletics, Dan Kenney, and former FSU Director of Athletics, Dr. Edward McLean, contracted the universities into a four-year contract to play football.

The Two Rivers Classic was developed by FSU's AD in order to expand the FSU audience and positively expose the overall talents of its student-athletes. The first meeting between the two UNC-system institutions was scheduled for Saturday, August 29, 2009 in FSU's Luther "Nick" Jeralds Stadium. The inaugural clash attracted over 8,000 spectators to "Nick" Jeralds stadium.

The "total" Two Rivers experience has something for everyone! It includes community outreach events focusing on area youth, tailgating, and the Two Rivers Golf Tournament! The Two Rivers Golf Tournament gives the two communities the opportunity to engage in friendly competition on the links.

Fayetteville State University is a four-year, public comprehensive regional university. The Historically Black College & University is located in the city of Fayetteville. UNC Pembroke is a public, co-educational, historically American Indian liberal arts university located in the town of Pembroke in Robeson County. The two institutions are located approximately 47 miles apart.
