The University
Fordham, the Jesuit University of New York, offers a distinctive, values-centered educational experience rooted in the Jesuit tradition of intellectual rigor and personal attention. Since 1841, Fordham’s partner in this great enterprise has been New York. Students enjoy the unparalleled educational, cultural and recreational advantages of living and learning in one of the world’s most diverse and dynamic cities.

Engaged Students

The University enrolls more than 15,600 students in its four undergraduate colleges and six graduate and professional schools. With its two distinctive residential campuses—green and gothic Rose Hill, on 85 acres adjacent to the New York Botanical Garden and the Bronx Zoo; and cosmopolitan Lincoln Center, in the heart of Manhattan, across from Lincoln Center for the Performing Arts—Fordham offers students virtually unlimited possibilities for learning and personal growth.

The Rose Hill campus houses Fordham College at Rose Hill, the College of Business Administration, the Graduate School of Arts and Sciences, the Graduate School of Religion and Religious Education, and Fordham College of Liberal Studies. The Lincoln Center campus, established in 1961, houses Fordham College at Lincoln Center, the Graduate School of Social Service, the Graduate School of Business Administration, the Graduate School of Education and the School of Law. A third campus, the Marymount Campus of Fordham University in Tarrytown, N.Y., is home to the Westchester divisions of the Graduate School of Business Administration, the Graduate School of Education, the Graduate School of Social Service and Fordham College of Liberal Studies.

Fordham draws students from across the country and around the world who want to live and learn in the global capital of commerce and culture. The University offers one of the most extensive internship programs in the country. Students choose from more than 2,600 internship options in business, communications, education, government, health care, biomedical research, law, the arts and other fields. The Office of Career Services also offers workshops, career days, one-on-one career counseling and on-campus interviews with major corporations. Students compete for and earn prestigious fellowships and scholarships—including Fulbright, Truman, Mellon and other competitive awards. And each year, more than 1,300 students engage in community service, both locally and in distant corners of the world, through the University’s award-winning Global Outreach program.

Great Teaching

Fordham has a proud history of approaching education in a distinctly Jesuit way, one that emphasizes cura personalis, a commitment to nurturing the whole person—mind, body and spirit—and challenging students to surpass their perceived limitations. This kind of education unites both heart and mind, and at Fordham it occurs within and beyond the classroom.

Fordham’s world-class faculty is committed to teaching and research. In small classes (the average class size is 22 and the University boasts a 12:1 student-faculty ratio), these scholars and mentors challenge students to develop to their full potential—and they give each student the individual attention he or she needs to excel.

Students choose from more than 65 majors and academic programs in the liberal and performing arts, sciences, and business. Every student also completes a rich Core Curriculum that spans literature, history, science, religion, philosophy, the social sciences and the arts, and is designed to nurture curiosity and inspire a lifelong love of learning. Special academic offerings include honors programs, study abroad, dual-degree programs with Fordham’s graduate schools, and pre-professional programs in law, medicine and other health professions. Fordham’s G.L.O.B.E. international business program combines liberal arts and business courses, and prepares students for multinational careers. Undergraduate students often collaborate with faculty on original research, and they also work with faculty and staff to prepare to compete for Rhodes, Fulbright and other prestigious fellowships and scholarships.
New York Is Our Campus, Fordham Is Our School
New York City provides unparalleled internship and career advantages, but it also offers students a never-ending list of things to see and do—from Broadway theater, museums, and concerts to major league sports or a bike ride through Central Park.

Fordham’s two residential campuses—Rose Hill and Lincoln Center—are easily accessible by public and private transportation. The University’s Ram Van service also makes it easy for students to enjoy the social and academic life of the two campuses.

Strong orientation programs, special freshman seminars and active faculty advising ensure a smooth transition to college life. Integrated learning communities in the residence halls on the Rose Hill campus give students the chance to collaborate with other students, staff and faculty to design social, service and educational activities and events throughout the year. Students majoring in pre-health professions are mentored by resident upperclassmen in the new Science Integrated Learning Community. The Lincoln Center campus features McMahon Hall, a 20-story complex that provides apartment-style living and great views of Manhattan. Fordham’s state-of-the-art facilities also include one of the most technologically advanced libraries in the country.

More than 130 student organizations offer a remarkable range of programming that capitalizes on the cultural resources of New York City. An extensive athletics program includes 22 varsity sports and a range of club and intramural sports. Each year, the Community Service Program gives hundreds of students an opportunity to work together on volunteer projects at dozens of sites in New York City, including soup kitchens, nursing homes, transitional shelters, hospitals and community parks.

Successful Outcomes
A Fordham education blends a challenging curriculum with the resources, culture and energy of New York City—a unique combination by any measure. Fordham students serve as interns at the United Nations and are mentored by CEOs of Fortune 500 companies. They win mtvU Student Filmmaker Awards and capture prestigious Marshall and Fulbright fellowships. The opportunities Fordham provides students through close contact with influential professors and the school’s urban setting translate into jobs and internships at graduation. More than 2,600 organizations in the New York metropolitan area offer students internships that provide hands-on experience and valuable networking opportunities in fields such as business, communications, medicine, law and education. Students also earn admission to top graduate programs and win prestigious fellowships and scholarships for further study. As the Jesuit University of New York, Fordham is a place where talent and intellect are truly nurtured and dreams are achieved.

Over the past few years, Fordham has become a popular stage for both television and movies, including U2 rocking Rose Hill on ABC’s Good Morning America (left) and filmed scenes from Wall Street 2 featuring Michael Douglas and Shia LaBeouf (bottom left), USA Network’s White Collar (bottom middle), and the movie The Adjustment Bureau, featuring Matt Damon as a former Fordham basketball player.

Frank McLaughlin
Assoc. Vice President of Student Affairs/
Athletic Director Emeritus

Student-Athlete. Coach. Athletic Director. Frank McLaughlin has done it all for Fordham University over the past 40 years. Starting his tenure on Rose Hill as a member of the basketball team from 1965-69, he returned to serve as an assistant coach under Digger Phelps in 1971 and then came home for good in 1985 when he was named Director of Athletics.

After serving as the Director of Athletics for 27 years, the past 14 as the Executive Director of Intercollegiate Athletics and Recreation, McLaughlin was promoted to the new position of associate vice president of student affairs for athletic alumni relations and external affairs/athletic director emeritus at the University on July 1, 2012.

In his new position, McLaughlin’s responsibilities will include providing leadership for institutional efforts focused on athletic alumni relations, fundraising and external athletic affairs as well as supporting the overall University fundraising and campaign efforts with a special focus on intercollegiate athletics. He will also work closely with varsity coaches and athletic department staff in identifying fundraising needs and opportunities for individual programs, and advancing efforts in support of same.

Under McLaughlin’s tenure, the Fordham University athletic department has experienced numerous improvements. Among those has been the recent renovation of the Bahoshy Softball Field, a new football locker room, new basketball locker rooms and renovations to Jack Coffey Field and the Murphy Field complex. Both fields have been resurfaced with state of the art FieldTurf, with Coffey Field adding lights, a baseball press box and a new scoreboard. Murphy Field, a multi-purpose athletic facility, added tennis courts, a softball field, and a soccer, football and recreational field, all lighted. Under McLaughlin’s watch, the athletic department constructed the Walsh Training Center, the first varsity training center at Fordham dedicated exclusively to student-athletes.

McLaughlin has also overseen the addition of eight full-time coaching positions, the promotion of several coaches from part-time to full-time status and the addition of full-time staffing in the sports medicine, strength and conditioning and sports information offices. He also directed the addition of women’s soccer and rowing as a varsity sport.

During McLaughlin’s time as athletic director, the Rams experienced success both on and off the playing fields. Since 1985, Fordham has won 26 conference championships, including the 2011 Atlantic 10 softball title last spring, the 2010 Atlantic 10 Women’s Swimming Championship, and two Patriot League football championships.

Academically, Fordham annually ranks among the leaders in the number of student-athletes named to the Atlantic 10 Commissioner’s Honor Roll and has routinely been among the national leaders in NCAA Academic Progress Rates, ranking 18th in the country in 2011.

In May of 2008, McLaughlin was inducted into the Basketball Old Timer’s of America Hall of Fame while in June of 2006, he was one of 29 GeneralSports TURF Systems Athletic Directors of the Year (ADOY) by the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA).

A 1969 Fordham graduate and standout basketball student-athlete, McLaughlin captained the Rams during his senior season and was drafted by the New York Knicks following graduation. He went on to become an assistant coach at the College of the Holy Cross and after a season there returned to Fordham as an assistant under Richard “Digger” Phelps in 1970-71, helping the Rams to a 26-3 record (.897) and an NCAA Tournament appearance. Fordham finished the season with a ranking of ninth in the nation.

McLaughlin moved to Notre Dame with Phelps the following year where he was a major part of the Fighting Irish’s program through his outstanding recruiting and academic guidance. He helped the Irish to consistent national rankings and NCAA Tournament bids.

In 1977, McLaughlin was named the head coach at Harvard University, where he remained for eight years. In his final season he compiled a 15-9 mark, and currently ranks fourth in both seasons and wins in Crimson history.

McLaughlin has served as the president of the Metropolitan Intercollegiate Basketball Association (MIBA) which was responsible for the preseason and postseason National Invitation Tournaments. He is also very active in the Fellowship of Christian Athletes and the Bronx Special Olympics, and was voted to the Catholic High School Athletic Association Hall of Fame in 1988. McLaughlin is also a member of the Fordham University Kiwanis Club.

McLaughlin and his wife, Susan, have three daughters: Tara Marie (a 1999 Fordham graduate), Mary Heather, (a 2002 Fordham graduate) and Colleen Patrice (a 2005 Fordham graduate). The McLaughlins reside in Briarcliff Manor, N.Y.

Charlie Elwood, former Senior Associate Athletic Director at St. John’s University, is in his ninth year as Fordham University’s Director of Athletic Administration, being named to the post in July of 2001.

Elwood is responsible for the department’s 22 intercollegiate sports, the intramural, recreation and club sport programs, as well as the comprehensive day-to-day internal operations of the Athletic Department. These responsibilities include fiscal management, facility management, scheduling, staff training and development, compliance, implementation of the department’s long range planning process, and managing related support operations for all varsity sports.

A member of the NCAA Division I men’s soccer committee since 2006, Elwood served as the Chairman of the committee the past two years and will do so again in 2009-10. He is also in the process of serving his second term with the Atlantic 10 men’s soccer committee, having served as chairman of the committee in 2005-06.

Elwood was promoted to Senior Associate Athletic Director at St. John’s in December 2000 after serving as Associate Athletic Director/External Affairs since July of 1997. He joined the University in February 1996, after eight years in the Department of Athletics at the College of William & Mary.

At St. John’s he was responsibility for overseeing the areas of marketing, advertising, fundraising, ticketing, sports information, business office and the equipment room for St. John’s 21 intercollegiate sports. He served as the liaison with Madison Square Garden for scheduling and game operations and was the scheduling administrator for Men’s Basketball. He was also the Director of Licensing for the University.

Elwood served as the Tournament Manager of the NCAA Division I Men’s Basketball Tournament First/Second Rounds at Nassau Coliseum in March 2001, hosted by St. John’s. In that capacity, Elwood managed all operations of the NCAA Championships, from travel and lodging for competing teams to media and game operations as well as fiscal responsibility for the tournament.

Elwood had been a member of the BIG EAST men’s soccer committee since 1997 and served as its chair through the 2000-01 academic year.

He joined the University in 1996 as Associate Athletic Director/Athletic Business Affairs. In that position, he oversaw all elements of the business office, ticket office, facilities, game operations and the equipment room.

Prior to his arrival at St. John’s, Elwood served as Assistant Athletic Director of Business Affairs at the College of William & Mary from November 1988 to February 1996. He was responsible for supervising financial operations of the business department and ticket operations.

A graduate of Fordham University, Elwood began his career in Chicago in 1982 at DePaul, when he was hired to work as Director of Business Affairs. He worked there for six years (1982-88), before leaving to take the position at William & Mary. He received his master’s of science in sports administration from Biscayne (Fla.) College in 1981 and his MBA in marketing from DePaul University in 1986.

Charlie and his wife, Carolyn, are the proud parents of two daughters, Blake (14) and Kylie (12).
From the Seven Blocks of Granite to the Digger Phelps “Rams.” From Frankie Frisch to major league pitcher Pete Harnisch. From Mike Marchiano, a 1997 Baseball All-American, and Bobby Kingsbury, the first Atlantic 10 baseball player to earn Player of the Year honors twice, to Jen Mineau, a 2010 & 2011 Softball All-American, Fordham University Athletics has enjoyed a tremendous amount of success on the local and national playing fields.

Fordham currently sponsors 22 men’s and women’s varsity sports teams. On the men’s side the Rams field teams in baseball, basketball, cross country, football, golf, indoor and outdoor track, soccer, swimming and diving, squash, tennis and water polo, while the women compete in basketball, cross country, indoor and outdoor track, soccer, rowing, softball, swimming and diving, tennis, and volleyball.

Last year marked the 17th season of competition in the Atlantic 10 Conference for the Rams, who were a member of the Patriot League for the previous five years (the Rams are still affiliated with the Patriot League for football). In 17 years as a member of the Atlantic 10, Fordham has come a long way in all sports with softball winning the 2011 championship and making consecutive NCAA championship appearances in 2010 & 2011, joining the men’s soccer, baseball, and women’s swimming & diving teams as conference champions. Eight coaches have won Atlantic 10 Coach of the Year Awards, including Ness Selmani and Steve Potskian, who have both been honored twice as Atlantic 10 Coach of the Year, while Bridget Orchard has captured the honor four times. Additionally, the football squad won Patriot League titles in 2002 and 2007, the women’s lightweight four placed third at the IRA National Rowing Championships in 2008, the women’s freshman four won the gold medal at the 2012 Dad Vail Regatta, Fordham’s second medal at the prestigious championship, the golf team won the 2009 ECAC Championship, and the water polo team captured a share of the 2009 CWPA Northern Division regular season title with head coach Bill Harris earning Coach of the Year honors.
