2008 SEASON PREVIEW

The Paladins celebrate the 20th anniversary of the 1988 National Championship and Furman will play the first twelve-game regular season slate in program history. Six home games and a clash with Atlantic Coast Conference member Virginia Tech highlight Furman's 2008 football schedule, rated as one of the toughest in the Football Championship Subdivision (FCS). The home lineup features an August 30 kick-off game against Mars Hill, an opportunity to welcome 2007 FCS runner-up Delaware to Paladin Stadium, and conference match-ups against Chattanooga, Western Carolina, The Citadel and Georgia Southern. On September 6, the Paladins will face ACC Champion Virginia Tech in Blacksburg for the first football meeting with the Hokies since 1947.

Head coach Bobby Lamb will welcome twelve returning starters to the 2008 squad. The Paladins return three All-Southern Conference selections in senior offensive tackle Joel Bell and junior tight end Larry Hedden, and junior defensive tackle Justin Brown. The multiple set Paladin attack will be led by quarterback Jordan Sorrells and the backfield will include senior fullback Brantley Kendall, junior tailback Stephone LaFrance and sophomore tailback Mike Brown.
