TRENDS: With their first trip to the Final Four in school history, Mason is enjoying what is undoubtedly its finest season. The Patriots have won an NCAA Tournament game for the first time, set a school record with 27 wins, and defeated a pair of top-10 teams (Connecticut and North Carolina) for the first time in school history.

In the Patriots' four NCAA Tournament games, they are shooting 48.3 percent while holding the opposition to 39.4 percent shooting. The Patriots are outrebounding their opponents and have gone to the free throw line more than twice as often. Mason has attempted 93 free throws while their four opponents have taken 45.

Nearly half of Will Thomas' eight career double-doubles have come in the NCAA Tournament. The sophomore forward has had three double-doubles in the past four games and is averaging a double-double in the tournament, with 13.8 points and 10.5 rebounds. Folarin Campbell is shooting .629 from the field and is averaging 16.8 points, 5.0 rebounds and 3.3 assists.

Mason is now 4-3 all-time in the NCAA Tournament. The Patriots have won 20 of 23 and the only teams to defeat the Patriots since Dec. 30 are Hofstra and UNC Wilmington. Mason is 7-1 this year against NCAA Tournament teams.

Mason is the first 11 seed to make the Final Four since LSU in 1986 and the first non-BCS team to make it since Penn and Indiana State in 1979.

NCAA Final Four
No. 11 George Mason (27-7)
vs.
No. 3 Florida (31-6)

HIGHLIGHTS FROM HISTORIC WINS: Mason displayed both the fluid offense and staunch defense that has been a hallmark this season in defeating Michigan State, North Carolina, Wichita State and Connecticut. In the first half against Michigan State, Mason held the Spartans scoreless for more than seven minutes, from 7:33 to go in the first half until 21 seconds remained. In the second half, Mason went one stretch making 4 of 5 shots, using a 10-0 run to take the lead for good.

Against North Carolina, the Patriots outscored the Tar Heels 63-44 over the final 35:34 of the game. Against Wichita State, Mason took a 9-0 lead and led by double digits for nearly the entire game.

In overtime against Connecticut, the Patriots made 5 of 6 shots from the field and outrebounded the Huskies.

This season, Mason has set new school records for wins in a season (27), assists in a season (497), field-goal percentage defense (.384) and scoring defense (58.9).

STANDOUT PERFORMERS: The All-CAA team was announced on March 2 and a trio of Mason players received honors. Jai Lewis was named to the All-CAA first team, Tony Skinn was selected to the All-CAA second team and Will Thomas was named to the CAA All-Defensive Team.

For Lewis, it was his third all-conference selection in the past three years. As a sophomore, he was named to the first team. As a junior, he was selected to the second team. This year, in addition to first-team All-CAA, he was also selected NABC first team All-District, making him eligible for All-America honors.

Skinn earned his second All-CAA selection. As a junior, he was named to the All-CAA third team. This year is Thomas' first selection to the All-Defensive Team. The sophomore has previously earned a CAA year-end honor as he was named to the CAA All-Rookie Team last season.

A complete list of this year's honorees can be found on Page 5 of the notes.

UNCHARTED TERRITORY: For the first time in George Mason school history, the Patriots earned a ranking in one of the national top 25 polls. The Patriots spent the week of Feb. 20 ranked 25th in the ESPN/USA Today Coaches Poll, the first time a CAA school has ever cracked that poll.

Mason did not have a perfect week while ranked, going 1-1, with a road loss at Hofstra. Voters held that against the Patriots despite the fact that the Pride had the second-longest home winning streak in the nation heading into that game. Mason has since fallen out of the top 25.

Mason is currently receiving votes in the Coaches Poll equivalent with 34th in the nation. In the Associated Press poll, the Patriots are also sitting in what is essentially 39th place.

Mason's journey into the top 25 began two months ago. On January 30, Mason received one vote in the AP historic poll. It's believed to be the first time a Mason team received votes in that poll. On Feb. 6, more respect was garnered as Mason received seven votes. The Patriots also received eight votes in the ESPN/USA Today Coaches poll that week, which would have put them at 30th in the nation.

On Feb. 13, Mason found itself on the verge of breaking the top 25. The Patriots were tied for 27th in the ESPN/USA Today poll with 22 votes while sitting at 31 in the AP poll with 19 votes.

The breakthrough week came on Feb. 20 when the Patriots sat at No. 25 in the Coaches poll and received votes commensurate with 27th in the Associated Press poll. Northern Iowa and Nevada received 76 votes to tie for 25th. Mason received 74 votes.

It was the first time a CAA team had been ranked in the top 25 since Jan. 20, 1987 when Navy was 18th in the AP poll.

EYE-POPPING STATS: The Patriots are currently among the top 20 teams in the nation in several critical categories. Mason entered the week 9th in the nation in field-goal percentage defense, allowing 38.6 percent of the opponent's shots to fall. The Patriots are 14th in the country in field-goal percentage, making 48.4 percent of their shots.

The Patriots are also among the nation's leaders in scoring defense and scoring margin. Mason is 14th in the nation in scoring defense, allowing 59.1 points per game. The team is also 14th in the nation in scoring margin, beating teams by an average of 10.4 points per game.

Mason is also 10th in the nation in personal fouls per game, committing just 15.0 per contest.

LEWIS = LONGEVITY: When Jai Lewis stepped on the court last Friday, he broke a school record that had stood nearly unchallenged for 15 years. That record is games played in a career. Robert Dykes held the record of 122, which he set from 1987-91. Lewis tied that mark on Sunday against North Carolina and broke it on Friday against Wichita State. He has now played in 124 games in his Mason career.

Lewis is a three-time All-CAA player and he also made first-team All-District this season. He has played in front of both NBA and NFL scouts this season as he has drawn some interest from professional football teams as a potential tight end or defensive end. Lewis played basketball, football and lacrosse in high school.

BRACKET BUSTER: For the second consecutive year, George Mason took part in the ESPN BracketBuster presented by eBay. This season, Mason appeared on national television as the Patriots' downed Wichita State 70-67 on ESPN2.

The Bracket Buster is in its fourth season. It has grown to 100 teams, representing 18 conferences in a 50-game, one-day event. The concept behind the event is that it provides an opportunity for NCAA Tournament-caliber teams to get both national exposure and a late-season game against comparable teams from an RPI standpoint.

Mason is now 2-0 in the BracketBusters, having defeated Manhattan last year. Wichita State was 21st in the RPI entering the game and 13-1 at home..

CAA RECORD FALLS: The CAA record for steals in a game heading into this season was eight, a record shared by many players, including three Patriots. Myron Contee, Nate Langley and Jon Larranaga each had eight steals in a game with Langley accomplishing the task three times.

Against Northeastern on Jan. 19, Tony Skinn toppled the long-standing record when he had nine steals, setting a new team record as well. Skinn had six steals in the first half and three in the second, reaching the new mark with nine minutes remaining in the game.

DEFENSE WINS CHAMPIONSHIPS: With the season coming to a close, there has been one theme that has stood out and has helped Mason win more than 75 percent of its games and claim a share of first place in the CAA.

With a defense that leads the CAA in field-goal percentage defense, and is on pace to set a school record for scoring defense, the Patriots have been particularly tough to score against this season.

So far, Mason has held seven opponents to fewer than 50 points in a game. That's more than a fifth of this year's games.

This year's Mason squad has already broken the school record for most times holding an opponent to fewer than 50 points. Prior to this year, no Mason team had accomplished that feat more than three times in a season.

The 2002-03 team that went 16-12 held three teams to fewer than 50 points but that group averaged just 64 points per game. The 1986-87 team also held three opponents to fewer than 50 points while going 15-13. That team still allowed nearly 69 points per game.

In the history of George Mason men's basketball, the Patriots have held the opposition to fewer than 50 points in a game 27 times. That means 26 percent of the time they've accomplished that task has been this season.

FIVE AND DIME: The Patriots are pulling off something no one else in the CAA has accomplished. Currently, Mason has five players averaging in double figures.

The five players averaging in double figures, Jai Lewis, Tony Skinn, Will Thomas, Lamar Butler and Folarin Campbell, have combined to make 165 out of a possible 170 starts. They have all topped the 300 point mark this year, making this the first Mason squad with five players to reach 300 points in the same season. Mason also has five players with 100 rebounds, Lewis, Thomas, Campbell, Skinn and Sammy Hernandez.

HISTORY IN THE MAKING: When Tony Skinn scored eight points at Hofstra, something historic happened at Mason that has only taken place once in the school's 30-plus year history - there were three players on the court at the same time with more than 1,000 career points.

Jai Lewis has scored 1,506 career points in 124 games. Lamar Butler currently has 1,480 points scored after playing in 122 games. Skinn, who has appeared in 92 games, has 1,066 points.

Mason has had 26 players reach 1,000 points in their career, and many played on the same team, but only once before did three play on the same team after having reached 1,000 points.

Late in the 1984-85 season, Carlos Yates, Rob Rose and Ricky Wilson all appeared on the court for Mason with 1,000 career points under their belt. Yates played his final season that year, finishing with 2,420 points. Rose and Wilson each had a year remaining, and they finished with 1,565 and 1,505 points, respectively.

While a trio of 1,000 point scorers has happened before at Mason, what has never happened before is a quintet of 100 assist passers.

Currently, five Mason players have 150 career assists, with Butler having recorded 254, Skinn with 191, Lewis with 182, Gabe Norwood with 161 and Folarin Campbell with 158. Prior to this year, Mason had never had as many as three players on the same team with 100 assists.

HISTORY OF SUCCESS: The Patriots began the season on a streak of seven straight seasons with 10 or more wins in conference play. Such a streak is rare among NCAA Division I teams.

The Patriots are one of 14 teams that began the season on such a streak. There were 330 schools that participated in Division I play in 2004-05, meaning less than 5 percent of all teams have managed to put together such a streak. With the Feb. 2 win over Delaware, Mason extended its streak to eight straight years. Arizona (22), Kansas (12), Creighton (10), Duke (10), Connecticut (9), Gonzaga (9), Kent State (8) and Southern Illinois (8) have also extended their respective streaks another year.

Teams that lost such streaks this season are Kentucky (16), Valparaiso (12), Michigan State (8), Niagara (8) and Oklahoma State (8). Mason is now one of nine teams in Division I to have won 10 or more conference games each of the past eight years.

The last time Mason failed to win 10 games in the CAA was the 1997-98 season which was Jim Larranaga's first as head coach of the Patriots.

MASON AT THE VERIZON CENTER: Every player on the George Mason roster has had experience playing at the Verizon Center and they all have good memories, as the last time Mason played in that arena, they downed American, 75-35. That win saw the Patriots hit several milestones (see page 6 of the notes).

Prior to that, Mason played two games at the Verizon Center, participating in last season's BB&T Classic. The Patriots lost to Maryland, 78-54, and Michigan State, 66-60. Both teams were ranked in the top 12 at the time.

Lamar Butler has had the most success of any Mason player at the Verizon Center. He is averaging 15.4 points per game in the arena, including 14 of 36 from 3-point range. Jai Lewis is averaging 11.2 points and 7.0 rebounds.

As a team, however, the Patriots have not been as successful. Mason is shooting just .421 as a team at the Verizon Center over the past two seasons and Mason has averaged just 67.6 points per game in those contests.

Despite the statistical evidence to the contrary, the Patriots think of Verizon Center with nothing but fond thoughts. They opened up the game against American with a 16-0 run and took a 37-12 lead into the half. They opened their Regional Semifinal game against Wichita State with a 9-0 run and never trailed. And finally, they defeated Connecticut in that building to advance to the first Final Four in school history.

COACHING MILESTONES: George Mason head coach Jim Larranaga has recently surpassed three major milestones which further cement his legacy in Mason, CAA and national coaching lore.

With the Feb. 4th win over UNC Wilmington, Larranaga passed Dick Tarrant for most CAA coaching victories in a career. The CAA counts both regular-season and conference tournament games toward its coaching records and as a result, Larranaga now has 110 CAA wins.

With Mason's win over Northeastern on Jan. 19, Larranaga reached 350 in his career. On Jan. 12 against William & Mary, Larranaga earned his 150th win at Mason.

CREAM OF THE CAA CROP: There have been several hallmarks to the Jim Larranaga era at George Mason. First and foremost among those is success in conference play.

Over the past seven-plus seasons, the Patriots have been the CAA's top teams in terms of conference wins, overall wins, CAA winning percentage and overall winning percentage, while ranking second in postseason appearances. The chart below shows the top three teams in the CAA over the past seven-plus seasons and how they stack up in the aforementioned categories.

	Mason	UNCW	VCU

ONE GAME AT A TIME: The George Mason men's basketball team has suffered 104 losses under head coach Jim Larranaga in his eight-plus seasons as head coach of the Patriots. One hallmark of a well-coached team is a group's ability to put a loss behind it and focus on the next challenge.

Very few teams finish the season with a win - the NCAA and NIT champions are traditionally the only ones that manage that feat. Over the past eight seasons, Mason has suffered 94 losses in which the team retook the court that season. In those games, Mason has rattled off a 59-37 record, good for a .615 winning percentage. That winning percentage is nearly identical to Mason's overall winning percentage under Larranaga (.610).

Not only are the Patriots more focused and harder to beat after they've suffered a loss, they're also particularly hard to beat after suffering a road loss. The Patriots are 43-26 after road losses, which translated into a .623 winning percentage.

Here's a look at Mason's performance after a loss under Larranaga:

Year	Rec. after loss	Rec. after road loss
97-98	6-11	4-6
98-99	5-5	4-4
99-00	7-3	5-3
00-01	8-3	7-2
01-02	6-3	5-1
02-03	6-5	4-4
03-04	8-1	6-1
04-05	7-5	4-4
05-06	6-1	4-1
Totals	59-37	43-26

Beginning with Larranaga's second season, Mason is 53-26 after a loss (.671) and 39-20 (.661) after a road loss.

NEW ADDITIONS: Three George Mason players will see their eligibility exhausted after the 2005-06 season and the men's basketball program has three players signed to take their spots on the roster.

Louis Birdsong of Mount St. Joseph High School (Baltimore, Md.), Richard Flemming of Notre Dame Academy (Middleburg, Va.) and Darryl Monroe of Central Florida Community College (Ocala, Fla.) will join the Patriots beginning with the 2006-07 season.

Birdsong was recruited by a number of CAA schools, including Old Dominion, Virginia Commonwealth, UNC Wilmington. The 6-foot-5, 230 power forward averaged 14.0 points, 10.0 rebounds and 3.0 blocks as a junior.

Flemming is a 6-foot-7, 200-pound win player who is quick off the dribble. Originally from Harrisburg, Pa., he averaged 16.7 points, 10.0 rebounds, 4.0 assists and 2.0 blocks as a junior.

Monroe is also a 6-foot-7, 230-pound power forward who will have two years of eligibility. As a freshman at CFCC, he averaged 17.0 points, 9.0 rebounds and 5.0 assists.

CAMPBELL NOT A GAMBLE: Folarin Campbell has made a big splash for the Patriots this season, stepping into the starting lineup and taking over as the point guard for a team that has plenty of backcourt options.

Mason has plenty of scoring options, and Campbell does an excellent job of distributing the ball. He also has done an excellent job of being involved in every facet of the game, crashing the boards, scoring when necessary and playing defense.

So far this season, Campbell has been the only Patriot to finish a game as the leading scorer, rebounder, passer and defender.

Twenty times this season Campbell has led or tied for the Mason lead in assists. Eight times he has led or tied for the team lead in rebounds. Against American and Drexel, he led the team in blocks with three, the most by a Patriot in a game this year. Against UNC Wilmington and Drexel, he led the team in steals with two.

LEGACY: It's been quite a season for Lamar Butler. First, the fifth-year senior graduated from Mason, earning a degree in communication. Then, against Holy Cross, Butler set a school record by recording the 252nd 3-pointer of his career, breaking Donald Ross' career record. With two steals against Mississippi State, Butler topped 100 steals. With two assists against Michigan State, he became one of just three players in Mason history with 1,400 points, 250 assists and 100 steals.

HELPING HAND: The Patriots have been a very unselfish group this season, with Mason fifth in the CAA in assists per game (14.73) and fourth in assist-to-turnover ratio (1.14:1). On 58 percent of Mason's baskets, the Patriots have recorded assists.

It should come as no surprise that Mason has been so pass-happy, considering five players have more than 100 career assists.

SEVENTY = SUCCESS: There are several hallmarks to George Mason basketball under head coach Jim Larranaga. First and foremost is that the Patriots traditionally fare well in a high-scoring affair. In fact, the Patriots have only lost once in the past eight-plus seasons on an occasion when they scored 90 points or more. On November 21, 1998, Mason fell on the road at Fairfield, 93-91 in the AT&T Shootout. Since then, Mason has gone 11-0 when scoring 90-plus points. Here is a breakdown of Mason's record under Larranaga in terms of points scored:

	W	L	Win Pct.
100-plus	3	0	1.000
90-99	9	1	.900
80-89	33	8	.805
70-79	69	17	.802
60-69	44	29	.603
50-59	7	36	.163
Less than 50	1	13	.071

Mason is 114-26 (.814) when scoring 70 or more points, 8-49 (.140) when scoring 59 or fewer.

On the flip side of the team's record when scoring 70 or more is how the team fares when holding the opposition to less than 70. Mason enjoys nearly equal success when the defense limits the opposition to fewer than 70. Here is a breakdown of Mason's record under Larranaga in terms of points allowed:

	W	L	Win Pct.
90-99	1	3	.250
80-89	6	23	.207
70-79	25	35	.417
60-69	65	29	.691
50-59	54	12	.818
Less than 50	15	0	1.000

Mason is 134-41 (.766) when allowing fewer than 70 points, 7-28 (.200) when allowing 80 or more points.

A TRUE WINNER

When Lamar Butler walks off the court for the final time as a George Mason student-athlete, he will be known as the winningest Patriot in school history. Butler's teams have put together a record of 85-40 for a .680 winning percentage. That tops the previous record of 76 wins in a career set by Deon Cooper and Raoul Heinen. Butler's current winning percentage gives him the second-best winning percentage in school history, behind teammate Tony Skinn (.684). They are easily topping the previous record, Rob Rose and Ricky Wilson's .638 mark (1982-1986). Here are the win-loss records and winning percentage of the George Mason seniors entering this year:

	Overall	Win Pct.	CAA	Win Pct.
Lamar Butler	85-40	.680	49-22	.690
Jai Lewis	82-42	.661	47-24	.662
Tony Skinn	65-30	.684	36-17	.679

MASON FINDS HOME IN INTERNET POLL

The web site CollegeInsider.com Mid-Major Top 25 is released every Monday during the basketball season and the Patriots have spent most of this season in the top 25. The poll is comprised of teams from 19 different conferences from across the nation. Mason is currently 3rd in the poll, down from its highest ranking of the year, 2nd, which it was last week. The Patriots trail just Gonzaga, which received all 31 first-place votes, and Bucknell.

Impressively, Mason has already played 16 games against teams that were on the preseason list and went 11-5 against those teams.

Mason has faced Creighton, Manhattan, American, Holy Cross, Old Dominion, Northeastern, UNC Wilmington, Virginia Commonwealth, Drexel, Wichita State and Hofstra this season, all of which received votes at some point this year. Three CAA teams are among the top 8 in the poll while six are currently receiving votes.

HOME IS WHERE THE WINS ARE

Over the past seven-plus seasons, the Patriots have been very difficult to beat at the Patriot Center. In fact, this year, Mason has extended its streak of seasons with 10 or more home wins to eight. Over that same stretch, Mason has had two winning road records, 2001-02, and this season. The following is Mason's home and road records, both overall and in Colonial Athletic Association action, over the past seven seasons.

Year	Home	Road	Neutral	CAA Home	CAA Road
1998-99	11-2	5-8	3-1	8-0	5-3
1999-2000	12-1	6-8	1-2	8-0	4-4
2000-01	10-1	6-9	2-2	7-1	4-4
2001-02	11-3	7-6	1-1	8-1	5-4
2002-03	10-3	6-8	0-1	7-2	4-5
2003-04	14-1	7-8	2-1	8-1	4-5
2004-05	10-2	5-8	1-3	7-2	3-6
2005-06	12-1	8-5	7-1	9-0	6-3

PATRIOTIC LANDMARKS: Mason's 75-35 win over American University had a number of impressive performances, both on the team and individual level.

For starters, the 40-point win was Mason's largest margin of victory in nearly five years. The last time Mason won a game by 40 or more points was January 22, 2001 when Mason defeated East Carolina, 104-62. That win came at home.

Since rising to the Division I ranks in the 1978-79 season, Mason has never defeated an opponent by as many as 40 points in a game played off campus. The previous largest margin of victory for Mason in a neutral site game was 38 points, when Mason downed Johns Hopkins 96-58 at the United Virginia Bank Cavalier Invitational on November 27, 1982.

Combining the Patriots' wins over Georgia State and American, Mason outscored the opposition by 70 total points in back-to-back games. That ties a second-place school mark for largest margin of victory in back-to-back games as a Division I school. The aforementioned win over East Carolina was followed by a 28-point win over American, giving Mason a 70-point combined win over those two schools. The only time Mason has won back-to-back Division I games by a larger margin was when Mason opened the 1995-96 season with a 66-point win over Delaware State and a 15-point win over Troy State, for an 81-point margin of victory.

While the Patriots were setting some team marks, senior guards Tony Skinn and Lamar Butler accomplished some intriguing individual marks. Skinn finished the first half with 15 points and five 3-pointers. After 20 minutes, he had single-handedly outscored American, which went into the break with 12 points. The Eagles made just five total field goals in the half. Skinn tied his own career high for 3-pointers in the game in just the first half.

Butler, meanwhile, went to the bench for the final eight minutes, watching from the sidelines as the Mason reserves increased the lead on American. There was no doubt Butler did his part in the win. When the senior from Fort Washington, Md. went to the bench, he had outscored American. Butler finished with 23 points and when he left the game American had scored just 22.

BB&T RECORDS: Mason's big win over American brought with it several tournament records. The 11th Annual BB&T saw the Patriots set tournament records for largest margin of victory, 40, and fewest points allowed, 35.

Mason last beat a team by as many as 40 points in the 2000-2001 season. That was also the last time Mason held a team to less than 40 points in a game. On March 5, 2001, Mason won the CAA Tournament over UNC Wilmington, winning a defensive battle, 35-33. In that contest, both teams shot less than 30 percent from the field. Earlier this month, American shot just .226 from the field.

In terms of opponent field-goal percentage, it was the best performance by any Mason team under Jim Larranaga, setting a new record-low.

HANGTEN: Ten Mason players hung points on American earlier this season, with every available player scoring with the exceptions of Makan Konate and Gabe Norwood. The Patriots duplicated that feat in the regular-season finale as Mason downed the Dukes, 95-68. Konate and Makings were the only players that failed to score in front of the sixth-largest crowd in school history.

INVASION: It's been more than 50 years since a state has been added to our country, the longest such stretch without a change in our nation's history. Perhaps the next border-changing event that will take place will happen in Fairfax, and it will start with the basketball team.

Currently, seven Mason players, half the team, hail from the state of Maryland. While they may not have plans to force Fairfax to secede or to help Maryland annex the county, they certainly are doing plenty to draw attention to their mini invasion.

Five of the seven players are currently starters for the Patriots, with Lamar Butler, Tony Skinn, Jai Lewis, Folarin Campbell and Will Thomas all calling Maryland home. John Vaughan, a starter much of last year, is also a native of Maryland, as is junior Charles Makings.

What makes any plans for a coup even stronger is the fact that they face no real competition on the team. No other state in the union or nation on the planet is represented by more than one individual. Chris Fleming hails from Virginia, Sammy Hernandez from Florida, Jordan Carter from Indiana, Tim Burns from Massachusetts, Gabe Norwood from Pennsylvania, Jesus Urbina from Venezuela and Makan Konate from Mali.

When the players from The Old Line State decide to rebel, who will be there to stop them?

DANDY DOZEN: For the typical first-year college student, the freshmen dozen is something to be feared - the weight that can be gained due to a varied menu in the cafeteria and the late hours a student-athlete usually has to endure.

For Sammy Hernandez, the freshman dozen has a complete different meaning, one that is completely welcome. For Hernandez, it means the number of minutes per game he is playing.

After playing 14 minutes in his first collegiate start against Manhattan and 21 minutes against Georgia State, Hernandez has found a steady level, averaging 11.4 minutes per game. The freshman is making the most of his time on the court. He has grabbed rebounds and been selective with his shots, contributing with his defense as well as his offense.

Hernandez is 42 of 80 from the field. He reached double-digits in rebounds for the first time against Manhattan. He is coming off a seven-rebound performance against Northeastern.

Thus far this season, Hernandez is averaging 2.8 points and 3.1 rebounds.

CARTER ANSWERS CALL: With such a comfortable lead against American, there was a chance for several Mason players to play many more minutes than usual. One of those beneficiaries was Jordan Carter. The sophomore point guard played a season-high 16 minutes and his performance reflected what can happen with extended playing time.

Carter set new career highs in rebounds and steals, tied a career high in blocks and came within one assist of matching his career high in that category as well. The native of Indianapolis, Ind. grabbed five boards, swiped three steals, blocked one shot and handed out four assists. Carter is the only player on Mason's roster that has more career assists, 51, than field goals, 20 (minimum 15 field goals).

BENCH: One area this season that Mason has not been as productive as it would like is in contributions off the bench. The Patriots have received 13 or more points from the bench just eight times this season. For the year, Mason has scored 2371 points. Of that production, 87 percent has come from the starting quintet of Skinn, Butler, Lewis, Thomas and Campbell. The remainder of the team has scored just 298 points.

WHIRLWIND 2006 FOR NORWOOD

CLAN: What a year for Gabe Norwood and his family. On Jan. 2, junior Gabe played 18 minutes against Northeastern. The next morning, Gabe hopped a flight to Miami, where he met up with the rest of his family as both his father and brother were preparing for the Orange Bowl.

That night, Gabe's father, Brian Norwood, concluded his fourth season as the defensive backs coach for the Nittany Lions. In that game, Gabe's younger brother, Jordan, a freshman wide receiver, led all players with six catches for 110 yards.

Since returning from Florida, Gabe has played 21 more games and he has been a part of 18 wins.

STINGY STREAK: Mason held William & Mary to 46 points and James Madison to 43 points in back-to-back games. That ranks as the second-lowest total Mason has ever allowed in back-to-back games. The Patriots held James Madison and UNC Wilmington to a combined 69 points in the 2001 CAA Tournament, as Mason won the league title and automatic bid to the NCAA Tournament.

Mason's 89 points allowed bests the previous second-best performance of 90 points, which happened in December of 2002. Mason beat Coppin State, 68-45, and Niagara, 65-45.

While Mason came up shy of the best back-to-back performance, the Patriots were able to set a school record for fewest points allowed over a three-game stretch. Prior to the William & Mary contest, Mason held Delaware to 56 points, making it 145 points allowed over three games.

The previous record was 146 and that had happened twice. The first time when Mason gave up 77 points to Richmond prior to the CAA Tournament run in 2001, and the second time was when Mason followed up its wins over Coppin St. and Niagara by beating ECU, 66-56.

The school record for fewest points over a four-game span is 200, which the Patriots set in 2002-03, following up the win over ECU with a 55-54 win over Hartford.

JIM LARRANAGA

HEAD COACH, NINTH SEASON

For George Mason men's basketball head coach Jim Larranaga, his first challenge with the Patriots was to rebuild a program that had fallen into disarray. He has quickly done that in his eight seasons in Fairfax, having made four postseason appearances in the past seven years, and with a long-term contract at George Mason, he prepares for the next challenge of maintaining the level of success he has established at Mason.

Larranaga, who owns a 166-104 record in eight-plus years at George Mason, including a 157-86 mark over the past seven-plus, became the Patriots all-time leader in men's basketball victories with his 131st win on January 22, 2005 when the Patriots won 77-58 at arch-rival James Madison.

Larranaga, 56, accomplished many of the same things in his 11 years at Bowling Green State University from 1986-97 and in two years at American International College from 1977-79. In 21-plus years as a head coach, he has a career record of 364-273, earning his 300th coaching victory in Mason's third game of the 2003-04 campaign – a 92-83 victory at Iona on Nov. 29.

The remarkable turnaround at George Mason began just two years into Larranaga's tenure. A 9-18 record in his first year with the Patriots in 1997-98 drew plaudits from knowledgeable basketball people who realized the program was headed in the right direction.

George Mason was 19-11 overall and a school-best 13-3 in the CAA in 1998-99, making a 10-game improvement over the previous season. The Patriots won their first-ever conference regular season championship and their second CAA Tournament title to advance to the NCAA Tournament.

The performance by the Patriots earned numerous honors for Larranaga as he was named Coach of the Year by the CAA and in the NABC District 4, and he was selected state Coach of the Year by the Virginia Sports Information Directors (VaSID) and the Richmond Times-Dispatch.

George Mason followed up with another 19-11 overall mark in 1999-2000, tying James Madison for first place in the CAA at 12-4 and earning the top seed in the conference tournament. In 2000-01, the Patriots finished 18-12 overall and 11-5 in the CAA, good for a tie for second place, and they won the CAA Tournament title and advanced to the NCAA Tournament for the second time in three years. The Patriots produced another solid campaign with a 19-10 overall record (13-5 in the CAA) and a NIT berth in 2001-02. Mason's 2002-03 roster was hampered by injuries, but managed to pull together a 16-12 record (11-7 in the CAA), and a fourth-place CAA finish.

The 2003-04 George Mason season was one for the record books. Larranaga led the Patriots to a 7-2 non-conference record and to a school-record 23-win season, as Mason finished 23-10 on the year, its first 20-or-more win campaign in 14 years. Gaining an NIT berth (the Patriots fourth postseason appearance in six years), Larranaga led Mason to two consecutive postseason victories for the first time in school history, and in the process, earned his first postseason.

Last season, a young Mason squad with three junior starters and nine sophomores and freshmen battled to a 16-13 overall record and 10-8 mark in league play. Finishing above .500 and with 16 wins, the Patriots won 15 or more games overall and 10 or more games in league play for the seventh consecutive year – a streak unmatched by any other CAA team. Mason is one of just 14 schools in the nation to win 10 or more conference games in each of the past seven seasons.

At his previous stop on the coaching circuit, Larranaga recorded a 170-144 mark in 11 years at Bowling Green. He was the 1997 Mid-American Conference Coach of the Year after leading Bowling Green to a 22-10 record, a conference regular season co-championship and a berth in the National Invitation Tournament. The 22 victories were the most by a Bowling Green team in 47 years.

Larranaga received his first head coaching position in 1977 when he was named to the post at American International, a Division II program in Springfield, Mass. Taking over a team that had suffered through five consecutive losing seasons prior to his arrival, Larranaga turned AIC into a winning program in his first year and compiled a 28-25 mark in two seasons.

A native of Bronx, N.Y., Larranaga is a 1971 graduate of Providence College with a degree in economics. A four-year letterman for the Friars, he was the captain as a senior, leading Providence to a 20-8 record and an NIT appearance. He graduated as the school's fifth all-time leading scorer with 1,258 points and was selected in the sixth round of the draft by the Detroit Pistons of the National Basketball Association. He was the team's top scorer as a sophomore and junior and was named New England's Division I Sophomore of the Year in 1969. He was rewarded for his career when he was inducted into the Providence College Hall of Fame in 1991.

His first coaching opportunity came at Davidson College, where he served as an assistant coach to Terry Holland. Davidson captured three Southern Conference regular-season championships and an NIT berth in his five years there, and he compiled a 47-12 record doubling as the freshman team coach. In 1976, he left Davidson and spent one season as player-coach for the Geronemo Basketball Club in Belgium.

After his two-year stint at American International, Larranaga was reunited with Holland at the University of Virginia in April 1979. An assistant coach under Holland for seven seasons from 1979-86, he helped the Cavaliers reach the NCAA Final Four on two occasions (1981 and 1984), finish in the top five of the AP and UPI polls and average more than 24 victories per season. The Cavaliers were 169-62, won three regular season Atlantic Coast Conference championships and made four NCAA Tournament appearances. Virginia also made a pair of NIT appearances, winning the NIT Championship in 1980. Larranaga was on the staff during the careers of three-time National Player of the Year Ralph Sampson and NBA first-round draft choice Olden Polynice.

Larranaga and his wife, Liz, have two children. Jay, 30, plays professional basketball in Spain, and Jon, 25, was a member of his father's George Mason teams from 1999-00 to 2002-03.
