Tech Baseball Begins Six-Game Road Swing at Miami

The Yellow Jacket baseball team will begin its six-game road swing in Coral Gables, Fla. this weekend when they meet Miami (18-13, 5-7 ACC) in a three-game series beginning Friday at 7 p.m. at Mark Light Field. Tech and Miami will conclude the series with 1 p.m. games on Saturday and Sunday.

Georgia Tech (20-11, 8-4 ACC) enters Miami riding a seven-game winning streak, which includes a series sweep of Maryland last weekend and an 11-8 victory over Wofford Tuesday evening. After beginning the season 9-9, the Yellow Jackets have won nine of their last 10 games, and 11 of their last 13. Miami has won three of its last four conference games, including two in Clemson last weekend.

Over the last 13 games, the Yellow Jackets have posted an 11-2 record as the Georgia Tech pitching staff has held opponents to just 3.2 runs per game and a .246 average.

Pitching Matchup (GT vs. UM)

Friday: LHP David Duncan (4-2, 3.54) vs. LHP Eric Erickson (4-3, 1.96)

Saturday: RHP John Goodman (1-1, 4.18) vs. LHP Scott Maine (2-5, 4.42)

Sunday: LHP Ryan Turner (3-3, 3.57) vs. RHP Enrique Garcia (2-2, 2.91)

The Yellow Jacket offense is led by outfielder Danny Payne (.409-2-22-13), shortstop Michael Fisher (.359-3-27-6), DH Wally Crancer (.355-4-23) and catcher Matt Wieters (.325-6-33-1). Georgia Tech, as a team, is hitting .294 on the year.

2007 Georgia Tech Baseball

The Hall Era at Georgia Tech

Georgia Tech is 599-259 in 14 seasons under head coach Danny Hall, a winning percentage of .698 and an average of 43 wins per season. Over the last five seasons, Hall has led Tech to the College World Series (2002 and 2006), ACC tournament championship (2003 and 2005) and ACC regular season championship (2004 and 2005). Hall, the 2005 ACC Coach of the Year, became Tech's all-time winningest coach in an 11-10 win at Miami on Mar. 27, 2005.

The Yellow Jackets have made 12 NCAA appearances in 13 years under Hall. Tech has won six NCAA regionals and finished second in two others, and advanced to the championship game of the College World Series in his first season in 1994. The Yellow Jackets have made CWS trips under Hall in 1994, 2002 and 2006.

Hall was named ACC Coach of the Year and also earned National Coach of the Year honors by The Sporting News in 1997 after leading the Jackets to an ACC regular-season title, and was again named the ACC's Coach of the Year in 2000 after leading Tech to the ACC's regular season and tournament championships. He earned his third ACC Coach of the Year award in 2005.

Tech is 219-113 vs. the ACC under Hall, finishing third or better in nine of his 13 years.

Along the way, 67 of his players at Tech have gone on to play professional baseball, 22 have earned all-America honors and 72 have made the all-ACC team; 92 have made the ACC Academic Honor Roll and 11 have made the GTE or Verizon Academic all-America team.

Georgia Tech vs. Miami

Miami leads, 38-21-2

Miami leads Georgia Tech, 38-21-2, in a series that dates to 1958. The Yellow Jackets have played at least three games every year since 2002, including five times in 2006, with the Jackets winning four of the five meetings.

After dropping the 2006 regular season series opener to the Hurricanes, 8-7, Tech won the next two games, 14-5 and 12-7, to earn the series win and then downed Miami in a pair of ACC Tournament games, 2-1 and 7-4, to enter this weekend with a four-game winning streak over the 'Canes.

The Jackets and Hurricanes have played to a combined 15-15 record on Tech's home field and in neutral sites, but Miami holds the edge in Coral Gables, 23-6-2.

Georgia Tech is 11-15 against the Hurricanes under head coach Danny Hall, and 3-9 vs. Miami in Coral Gables since Hall replaced current Miami head coach Jim Morris as the Yellow Jacket skipper. Two of those three wins came in Tech's last trip to the University of Miami, as the Jackets lost the first game, 20-1, but responded with a 17-7 victory in game number two before squeaking out an 11-10 victory in the finale.

In that final game, Matt Wieters hit a go-ahead two-run home run in the top of the ninth and then took the mound to record the save while helping the Jackets win their 11th-consecutive ACC series. Ironically, that victory was the Yellow Jackets' 505th under head coach Danny Hall, which passed previous head coach Jim Morris' record of 504 wins for the most victories by a Georgia Tech head baseball coach.

Tech Tidbits on Veteran Players

No Payne, No Gain: When Danny Payne's sophomore season came to an abrupt end due to injury, he was leading the team in six offensive categories, and many questioned whether he would return to that same form in 2007. The junior center fielder has quieted those critics, as he leads the team in 10 offensive categories in 2007, including hitting a team-best .409 on the year. Most impressive perhaps is Payne's improved eye at the plate, as the junior has collected an ACC-best 39 walks with 2 HBP's and tallied 47 hits while striking out just 18 times in 115 AB's. Payne is pacing Tech in average, on base percentage (.561), slugging percentage (.626), runs (40), hits, doubles (13), triples (3), total bases (72), walks and stolen bases (13).

Wieters' Jackets' Steady Leader: Junior catcher Matt Wieters continues to be the Jackets' steady leader on and off the field, appearing in the top three in nine offensive categories in 2007, including leading the team with six home runs and 33 RBI. Wieters is hitting .325 on the season and has missed just four games in his career on the Flats, with all four coming in his rookie season. He also appears in the top three in slugging percentage (.558), on base percentage (.453), hits (39), runs (26), doubles (8), total bases (67) and walks (27).

Fisher's Stock on the Rise: Playing on the same team as preseason All-Americans Matt Wieters and Danny Payne can sometimes overshadow the work that junior shortstop Michael Fisher has done on the field, but don't tell him that: He began the 2007 season with a bang and hasn't let up, hitting 80 points higher than his career average and already breaking his previous season high in home runs (set his freshman year). The Nashville native ranks in the top three in average (.359), slugging percentage (.539), hits (46), RBI (27), doubles (12), total bases (69) and stolen bases (6). At times more impressive than his offensive numbers has been his defensive play, as he has made the majority of the routine plays with ease as well as several eye-opening ones that have proven he's on the rise.

Duncan Filling Big Shoes With Ease in 2007: Draft-eligible sophomore David Duncan entered the 2007 season with big shoes to fill--not only becoming a regular in the weekend rotation, but also filling the role of two-time 10-game winner and third-round draft pick, the 2006 Friday starter, Blake Wood. Despite a tough first weekend, the New Richmond, Ohio native hasn't let the squad down, going 4-2 with a 3.54 ERA and 47 K's in 53.1 innings of work in 2007. His best outing came three weeks ago, when he tossed the first complete game shutout in over three years for the Yellow Jackets, giving up just four hits while striking out 10 against Boston College. In his last three games, Duncan is 1-0 with a 1.85 ERA and 24 strikeouts in 24.1 innings of work.

"Turn"ing the Corner in '07: Over the last three years, senior lefty Ryan Turner has begun the season as a starter, been moved to the bullpen, and then rotated back to starting roles. This year, the Dahlonega, Ga. native intends to remain in the weekend starting rotation the entire season, and has made a case for such in his first four appearances of the season. The senior has been a tough-luck loser despite some quality starts, going 3-3 on the season with a 3.57 ERA and 28 K's in 45.1 innings this year. In games that Turner has started, the Jackets have hit just .250 while averaging 5.0 runs per game. In the games that Turner isn't pitching, the Georgia Tech offense has hit .299 while averaging 8.27 runs per game.

Goody, He's Back!: Redshirt junior John Goodman, the younger brother of former Tech standout Chris Goodman, made his much-anticipated return to the mound in an exhibition game against the Atlanta Braves in Orlando after spending much of the last two years recovering from surgeries. Against the Braves, he walked Kelly Johnson, struck out Edgar Renteria, got Chipper Jones to groundout and forced an infield popup by Andrew Jones. He made a relief appearance against Rutgers, for his first "official" game appearance in 2007, and has been the Saturday starter in all four ACC series.

Head Coach Danny Hall Passes Career Win No. 800, Is One Victory Shy of 600 at Georgia Tech

Georgia Tech head coach Danny Hall became the fifth active Atlantic Coast Conference head coach to reach 800 career victories when he did so in the opening game of the Duke series last weekend. He holds an 807-376 (.682) record in his 20-year coaching career.

Hall became the winningest head coach in Tech history in the series finale at Miami two years ago, with the victory ironically coming against the person he passed for the record, Hurricane head coach Jim Morris, who finished with 504 victories at Georgia Tech.

Hall is now just two wins shy of recording his 600th victory on the Flats, as the skipper is 599-259 (.698) in his 14 years at Georgia Tech.

The "Rusty C"

Affectionately known as the "Rusty C," a new era in Russ Chandler Stadium began in 2002 with a $9.7 million reconstruction of the facility. The new facility seats 4,157, with room for future expansion.

The stadium was originally built in 1985, in time for Tech to host the ACC Tournament. It has been the site of eight NCAA Regional tournaments (1987, 1993, 2000, 2002, 2003, 2004, 2005 and 2006), and an exhibition game between the Yellow Jackets and the first team from the Soviet Union to tour the United States (1989).

In the summer of 1996, Russ Chandler Stadium served as an official training site for the Centennial Olympic Games.

Rose Bowl Field, the tract of land on which the stadium sits, which includes the adjacent football practice field, has been the site of Tech baseball since 1930, when the field was built with funds from Tech's 1929 Rose Bowl appearance.

Tech was 486-125 in the old Russ Chandler Stadium, a winning percentage of .798.

Pitching Shines Over Last 13 Games

Despite a rough start to the season, the Yellow Jacket pitching staff has been the key component in the Yellow Jackets' success of late, posting a 2.72 ERA while holding opponents to a .246 average through the last 13 games.

Tech's Top Performances Over the Last 13 Games:

Opponent	R	ER	ERA	opp avg
Boston College, Mar. 16	0	0	0.00	.129
Boston College, Mar. 17	2	2	2.00	.265
at Georgia State, Mar. 21	0	0	0.00	.172
at Duke, Mar. 23	2	1	1.00	.235
at Duke, Mar. 25	1	1	1.00	.212
Georgia Southern, Mar. 27	2	1	1.00	.200
Georgia Southern, Mar. 28	2	2	2.00	.207
Maryland, Apr. 1	2	1	1.00	.226

During the span, Tech is 8-0 when Yellow Jacket pitchers have held its opponent to less than three runs, but 3-2 in the two games when they've scored three or more.

Bats Warm With the Weather

After hitting just .281 through the first 25 games of the season (through March 25), the Yellow Jacket offense has exploded for a .346 average in the last six games.

Starting Pitching Bounces Back from Tough Start

With opponents hitting a solid .328 against Georgia Tech's starting pitching in the month of February, Georgia Tech went 6-5 while the Yellow Jacket starters averaged a 6.08 ERA. To say there was an improvement in March would be an understatement, as the starting pitchers posted a 3.48 ERA while holding opponents to a .283 average.

Tech Starters Month-by-Month:

Month	IP (Games)	H	R	ER	ERA	K	opp avg
February	47.1 (11)	63	40	32	6.08	30	.328
March	106.0 (18)	117	48	41	3.48	80	.283
April	9.0 (2)	9	4	3	3.00	8	.273

Perhaps most notable, however, is the starting pitching through the last 13 games, as the four Yellow Jacket starters (David Duncan, John Goodman, Ryan Turner, Eddie Burns) plus Jared Hyatt have combined for a 2.07 ERA while holding opponents to a .249 average during that span.

Tech Starters Over the Last 13 Games:

Jackets' Offense Was Key to Early Successes

Despite losing players that made up over 50 percent of Tech's hits, runs, home runs and RBI's from a year ago, Tech was forced to rely on the strength of their offense early in 2007 as the Yellow Jacket pitchers struggled in the first month of the season.

Tech received clutch hitting at key moments in 2007, but when the Jackets aren't hitting the team tends to struggle. If the Jackets hit .300 or above in a game, they are 13-1 on the season, but when hitting below .300, Tech is 7-10.

The Yellow Jackets led the ACC with a .319 batting average during the 2004 season and a .333 team average in 2005. In 2006, Georgia Tech finished fourth in the league, hitting .318.

Overall, Tech has hit over .300 as a team in 22 of the last 24 years, and has averaged at least seven runs per game every year since 1981. Tech has led the ACC in batting in six years (1994, 1995, 2000, 2001, 2004, 2005) under Danny Hall.

Relying on a Veteran Bullpen

Georgia Tech's pitching staff was bolstered by strong efforts from the bullpen in 2006, and that group returned essentially in tact in 2007. In 2006, the relievers pitched 258 innings in 68 games, posting a 3.56 ERA and a 21-7 record with 18 saves. In the five NCAA Regional & Super Regional games, Tech's bullpen posted a 0.00 ERA in 8.1 innings while recording two saves.

Starting Lineup is Anyone's Guess

Through the first 31 games of the 2007 season, Georgia Tech head coach Danny Hall has used 28 different lineup cards, with the only repeat coming against Rutgers in early March, vs. Kennesaw State in the middle of March, and against Maryland last weekend.

The only constant in every lineup has been that of preseason All-American Danny Payne, who has been Tech's leadoff hitter and starting center fielder in every contest.

Avoiding the Big Inning

Three of Georgia Tech's 11 losses have one common theme, a big inning early for the opponents which forced the Yellow Jackets to play catch-up the entire game.

Early Big Innings in Georgia Tech's Losses

Date	Opponent	Score	Big Inning	Score after 3rd Inn.

Feb. 21	Georgia State	L, 5-9	5 (2nd)	4-6
Feb. 27	Western Carolina	L, 7-10	4 (2nd)	0-6

Three of Tech's other eight losses were as a result of late-inning comebacks by the Jackets' opponents, including a two-out nine-run uprising by Illinois-Chicago.

Late Inning Comebacks in Georgia Tech's Losses

Date	Opponent	Score	Big Inning
Feb. 17	Illinois-Chicago	L, 4-11	9 (9th)
Mar. 4	Rutgers	L, 5-9	3 (7th & 9th)

Tech led the entire game against Illinois-Chicago, but the Flames scored nine unearned runs, all with two outs in the ninth inning, to defeat Georgia Tech, 11-4, in the second game of a three-game series in February.

Tech Versus the State of Georgia

Georgia Tech went 9-3 against teams from the state of Georgia in 2006, but this season the Jackets have struggled against in-state foes, going 4-4 vs. the state with their wins coming against Kennesaw State in the first home game of 2007, vs. Georgia State and in a sweep against Georgia Southern in late March. The Jackets still have three games against Georgia remaining on the schedule for 2007.

Since 1999, the Yellow Jackets own a 75-24 (.757) mark against in-state foes. In 13 years under head coach Danny Hall, Tech is 118-41 (.742) against teams from Georgia.

"5" - The Magic Number

Since the arrival of pitching coach Bobby Moranda prior to the 2002 season, the Yellow Jackets are 185-22 (.894) when allowing five runs or less. The Yellow Jackets were 36-5 when allowing five runs or less in 2006, and are 13-3 in those games in 2007.

Tech went 38-2 in 2002, 34-2 in 2003, 33-3 in 2004 and 31-7 in 2005 when allowing five runs or less. When allowing six or more runs, the Yellow Jackets are 67-80 since 2002.

Upperclassmen Climbing Tech Career Records

A trio of Yellow Jacket juniors - Matt Wieters, Danny Payne and Brad Rulon - as well as fifth-year senior Jared Hyatt appear in the Georgia Tech career records and are steadily climbing the charts. The following is a list of where they stand:

Jared Hyatt: Games Pitched - 16th - 68

Danny Payne: Stolen Bases - 9th - 57

Brad Rulon: Games Pitched - 15th - 69

Matt Wieters: Saves - 7th - 16; Doubles - T-19th - 45 RBI - T-13th - 172

Tech Picked Fourth in ACC Coastal Division

Despite boasting two of the best players in the country and one of the top bullpens in the league as well as a top-10 preseason national ranking, the Atlantic Coast Conference's 12 head coaches selected Georgia Tech to finish fourth in the Coastal Division in the league's annual preseason poll.

The Yellow Jackets were picked to finish behind 2006 College World Series runner-up North Carolina, who earned four first place votes and a total of 60 points. Miami, with two first-place votes and a total of 58 points and Virginia, with four first-place votes and a total of 54 points.

Clemson, who claimed the 2006 ACC Championship, was tabbed the preseason favorite, accumulating 11 first-place votes and a total of 71 points while Florida State was selected second in the Atlantic Division with one first-place vote and 55 total points.

Georgia Tech received two first place votes and a total of 44 points.

Payne & Wieters Named to Preseason All-America Teams, Brooks Wallace Watch List

Junior catcher/pitcher Matt Wieters and junior center fielder/pitcher Danny Payne earned multiple preseason honors in 2007, including being named to the Brooks Wallace Watch List, which honors the College Baseball Player of the Year by the College Baseball Foundation. The Yellow Jacket duo joined 10 other Atlantic Coast Conference players to earn the preseason honor.

Wieters was also named a first-team preseason All-America selection by Rivals.com, Baseball America and Collegiate Baseball and was tabbed a second-team preseason All-America by the NCBWA. According to John Manuel in the Baseball America College Preview, Wieters will be the 2007 National Player of the Year.

Payne earned second-team preseason All-America honors from the NCBWA, Rivals.com and Collegiate Baseball and was named a third-team preseason All-America by Baseball America.

Dupart Ranks Among Top 50 Incoming Freshmen

Baseball America ranked the top 50 freshmen for the 2007 season, and Georgia Tech outfielder Curtis Dupart cracked the list at No. 16. The rookie from Woodinville, Wash., is vying for the starting role in left field, which was vacated by Steven Blackwood, an Academic All-American and all-conference honoree who will graduate this semester.

All in the Family

Two players, junior John Goodman and sophomore Luke Murton, both of whom were on the 2006 College World Series team, have brothers that starred on the Yellow Jackets' 2002 College World Series team.

Goodman is the brother of pitcher Chris Goodman (2002-03), who went 17-5 in two years on the Tech staff and holds the school record for fewest walks per nine innings.

Murton is the brother of outfielder Matt Murton (2001-03), a two-time all-ACC performer who now plays for the Chicago Cubs.

Jackets Raise over $8,500 for Charity

The 2007 Georgia Tech baseball team joined forces with the St. Baldrick's Foundation to raise money to fund cancer research for kids earlier this season, setting the goal of raising at least $5,000 by St. Patrick's Day, or St. Baldrick's Day, as coined by the organization. For every $250 donated, the squad agreed that one team member would shave his head. After bypassing the original goal in early March, the Jackets challenged their fans to make the whole team bald -- and the fans again answered the challenge.

On March 17, following the Jackets' 5-2 win over Boston College, all 32 team members, plus two managers, as well as head coach Danny Hall and assistant coach Josh Holliday, had their heads shaved after a late flurry of activity netted over $8,500 in donations.

Georgia Tech Baseball at No. 1

Georgia Tech has been ranked as the top team in the country 11 times in its history for a total of 30 weeks. Each of the first three times, the Jackets lost their next two games and fell out of the top spot the following week.

In 1993, the Yellow Jackets were ranked No. 1 for four straight weeks by Baseball America and returned to the top spot in all three polls on May 17, Tech's first unanimous choice ever. The Jackets opened the 1994 season ranked No. 1 in the country, and proceeded to advance to the College World Series where they finished as the national runner-up.

Tech returned to the top spot in the polls after winning the 2000 ACC Tournament, and the Jackets opened 2001 as the nation's unanimous pre-season No. 1 team and spent six weeks at the top of the poll, their longest stay ever. Georgia Tech opened the 2003 season as the nation's No. 1 team, the third No. 1 ranking in school history, and returned to the top spot in the polls on Mar. 28, 2005 after opening the season 21-5, 11-1 in the ACC.

Draft Dodgers

Five Georgia Tech players have previously been drafted by major league teams prior to the 2007 season. The highest concentration of drafted players ever on one Yellow Jacket team occurred in 2000 and 2003. Those teams featured 11 players previously drafted.

The current list includes David Duncan (14th, Minnesota Twins, 2005), Curtis Dupart (31st, Colorado Rockies, 2006), John Goodman (45th, St. Louis Cardinals, 2006), Chris Hicks (35th, Texas Rangers, 2006) and Zach Von Tersch (38th, Washington Nationals, 2006).

Alumni Star in the Big Leagues

First baseman Mark Teixeira of the Texas Rangers earned the Gold Glove Award for Major League Baseball for the second consecutive season, recognizing him as the top defensive player at his position in the American League in both 2005 and 2006.

First baseman Nomar Garciaparra of the Los Angeles Dodgers was named the Comeback Player of the Year by the Major League Baseball Writers and tabbed to his sixth MLB All-Star game in 2006.

Tech Makes

21st NCAA Appearance in Last 22 Years

Georgia Tech made its 21st NCAA Regional appearance in the last 22 years in 2006. The Yellow Jackets have played in the NCAA tournament every year since 1985 with the exception of 1999, and Tech is making its 22nd overall NCAA appearance. Georgia Tech is the only school in the nation to earn a National Top 8 seed in each of the last four years (2003, 2004, 2005, 2006).

Prior to the current streak, Tech had participated in the NCAA play-offs twice, in 1959 and 1971, with an additional play-in tournament appearance in 1948. Georgia Tech made its first trip to the College World Series in 1994, advancing to the championship game before losing to Oklahoma, 13-5. Tech returned to the College World Series in 2002 and 2006.

Tech Hosts NCAA Regional for Sixth Time in Seven Years

Georgia Tech was a host site in the NCAA Championship for the fifth straight year and the sixth time in the last seven years in 2006. Prior to this most recent streak, the Yellow Jackets hosted a regional just twice in its first 16 NCAA Regional appearances.

The Yellow Jackets have hosted an NCAA Regional on eight occasions - 1987, 1993, 2000, 2002, 2003, 2004, 2005 and 2006.

Streaking in the ACC

Georgia Tech has enjoyed unprecedented success within the Atlantic Coast Conference since 2004, winning the ACC regular season title in 2004 with an 18-5 league record, and again in 2005 with a 22-8 mark. Tech had a conference-record 25-game ACC win streak in 2004-05.

The Yellow Jackets are 57-19 (.750) in their last 76 ACC regular season games.

The Yellow Jackets had a streak of 13 straight ACC series wins in 2004-05, and Tech has won 22 of its last 28 ACC weekend series. Tech has won 33 of its last 38 ACC home games and 29 of its last 44 ACC road games.

Yellow Jackets in the Bigs

Georgia Tech set an all-time high in 2003 when eleven of its alumni baseball players were on major league rosters during the season. Seven former Yellow Jackets are on Major League opening day rosters in 2007.

All-America shortstop Nomar Garciaparra won two American League batting titles with the Boston Red Sox and was the National League's Comeback Player of the Year in 2006 as an MLB All-Star with the Los Angeles Dodgers. Former all-America catcher Jason Varitek is the captain of the Boston Red Sox, and the catcher won the Silver Slugger and Gold Glove awards in 2005.

Outfielder Jay Payton is active with the Baltimore Orioles. Mark Teixeira (Texas Rangers) won the Silver Slugger award as the top offensive first baseman in the American League in 2004 and 2005 and was the AL Gold Glove winner in 2005 and 2006. Outfielder Marlon Byrd is also active with the Texas Rangers, while David Newhan is with the New York Mets. Outfielder Matt Murton made his big league debut with the Cubs in 2005 and was a regular in the 2006 starting lineup in left field, while pitcher Kevin Cameron is on the 40-man roster with the San Diego Padres.

Ryan Turner #36

Scouting Report: Southpaw who has a good, live fastball and an outstanding curveball ... Has been used as a starter as well as a long reliever during his career ... Served as Tech's No. 3 starter for the second half of the 2005 season and repeated that role in the 2006 postseason ... Is a regular weekend starter for the Jackets again in 2007.

Current Update: Has made eight starts this season, posting a 3-3 record with a 3.57 ERA ... Recorded 28 strikeouts in 45.1 IP ... Has been a tough-luck loser so to speak, as Tech has averaged five runs in games in which he's started and 8.25 runs in the other 23 contests ... Has a 1.50 ERA in his last two starts, and a 2.04 ERA through his last three games.

2007 Highlights: Pitched six strong innings against Illinois-Chicago (2/17), allowing just two runs while striking out five, but did not figure into the decision after Tech gave up nine runs in the ninth ... Earned his first win of the season against Duquesne (2/24), tossing 5.1 innings ... Picked up win No. 2 against Duke (3/25), giving up just one run on seven hits while striking out four in six innings of work ... Earned his third win of the season by holding Maryland (4/1) to just two runs, only one of which was earned, on six hits while striking out three in 6.0 innings of work ... Faced the minimum through five innings against the Terps.

Career Notes: Named to the 2005 and 2006 ACC Honor Roll ... Also named Academic All-ACC in 2006 ... Selected to the NCAA Atlanta Regional All-Tournament team in 2006.

Zach Von Tersch #30

P • R/R • 6-5 • 216 • Fr. • Cedar Falls, Iowa

Scouting Report: Talented pitcher with unlimited potential ... Has three pitches that he throws very well ... Can be one of the major contributors out of the bullpen this season and could also see time as a midweek starter.

Current Update: Has appeared in seven games this season, including making a start in the first appearance of his collegiate career ... After a rough start, the rookie has been stellar in his last two appearances, giving up just two hits and no runs while striking out three in 2.0 innings.

2007 Highlights: Pitched a scoreless inning in relief against Duquesne (2/25), allowing no runs or hits while striking out one ... Went two innings vs. Western Carolina (2/27), giving up no runs on just one hit while striking out two ... Tossed a perfect ninth inning in Tech's 6-2 win over Georgia Southern (3/28)

Career Notes: Drafted in the 38th round of the 2006 MLB Draft by the Washington Nationals.
