GEORGIA TECH (11-13, 4-7 ACC) vs. #9/8 DUKE (19-5, 7-4 ACC)
GAME 25 • February 11, 2018 • 6 p.m. • McCamish Pavilion • Atlanta, Ga.

Jackets Return Home to Face #9/8 Duke

Georgia Tech looks to shake off two straight road losses when it returns home for a nationally televised game against No. 9/8 Duke at 6 p.m. Sunday evening at McCamish Pavilion. It is the only scheduled meeting between the two teams during the regular season.

The Yellow Jackets (11-13, 4-7 ACC) have lost their last two games, 80-72 in overtime at Boston College last Sunday and 77-54 at Louisville Thursday night. Tech is 10-5 at home this season, including ACC wins over No. 15 Miami, No. 25 Notre Dame and Syracuse.

The Blue Devils (19-5, 7-4 ACC) have lost three of their last four games, including a pair of road losses in the last week to St. John’s (81-77) and North Carolina (82-78) following an 88-66 victory over Notre Dame at home.

Sunday’s game will be televised nationally on ESPN and streamed live on the ESPN app. Radio coverage is provided by the Georgia Tech IMG Sports Network and can be heard in Atlanta on flagship station 680 the Fan (680 AM/93.7 FM). The game can also be heard nationally on SiriusXM satellite radio (Sirius ch. 61, XM ch. 91, Internet ch. 81).

Team Notes

Josh Pastner’s Georgia Tech teams are 5-7 against top-25 teams (5-3 at home), including a 2-4 mark this season (2-2 at home).

In the last two seasons (since head coach Josh Pastner arrived), no team has more wins at home over AP Top 15 teams as an unranked opponent than Georgia Tech (Tech and Colorado with four each, Syracuse with three).

Georgia Tech has started the same lineup for the past 12 games, with Abdoulaye Gueye playing the "4" position. The Yellow Jackets have used six different starting lineups this season.

Josh Okogie has scored in double figures in his last six games and lost just six games in the ACC.

Player Notes

Josh Okogie has scored in double figures in his last six games (19.5 ppg after having a 25-game streak of double digit games snapped against Virginia (nine points). The sophomore has scored in double figures 47 times in 53 career games. He has scored 30 or more three times (two vs. ACC), 20 and more 16 times (nine times in an ACC game).

Okogie has averaged 18.4 points per game after missing the first eight games of the season, including 18.2 in ACC games so far (fourth-best in league ranking). The 6-4 sophomore has hit 41.4 percent of his shots from three-point range. Deng Adel (ankle injury), the Cardinals got contributions from everybody in breaking their slide. A 13-1 run over 3:50 in the first half provided a 24-8 lead and the advantage reached 24 with 4:40 remaining.

Lousiville (17-7, 7-5 Atlantic Coast Conference) finished 27 of 54 from the field and 12 of 20 from behind the arc. The Cardinals also forced 20 turnovers for 21 points.

Ray Spalding and Malik Williams each added 11 points as the Cardinals regularly provided balanced scoring and had 18 assists against just 10 turnovers.

Josh Okogie had 25 points and 10 rebounds for Georgia Tech (11-13, 4-7), which lost for sixth time in seven games.

GAME 14

Duke 110, Georgia Tech 57

Jan. 4, 2017 • Durham, N.C.

Grayson Allen had 15 points and seven assists in his return from a one-game ban for tripping an opponent, and No. 8 Duke routed Georgia Tech 110-57 in Krzyzewski’s final game before leaving the team to have back surgery.

Justin Moore was one of three players with 11 points for the Yellow Jackets (0-5, 1-1). Tadric Jackson and Josh Okogie also scored 11 points for Tech. Ben Lamammers led the team with eight points and three assists.

Jayson Tatum scored 19 points to lead the Blue Devils (13-2, 1-1 Atlantic Coast Conference), who had seven double-figure scorers in arguably their most complete performance of the season.

Kennard finished with 16 points, Frank Jackson added 15, and Harry Giles had 10 points and 12 rebounds for Duke.

Duke took control with an early 29-7 run, needed about 10 1/2 minutes to build a 20-point lead and scored a season-best 61 points in the first half - only two fewer than rival North Carolina scored on the Yellow Jackets in an entire game.

range and 80.6 percent from the free throw line this season. Okogie has at least one three in 13 of his 16 games this season, including his first seven straight.

• Okogie posted his second double-double of the season against Louisville (25 points, 10 rebounds) and the fifth of his career. He is averaging 7.3 rebounds per game in ACC play, third best among league guards, and 6.5 for the season. Okogie has snared 52 rebounds in his last six games (8.6).

• Okogie has 29 assists in his last nine games, a 3.2 average, and has matched his career high of five twice (second meeting vs. Notre Dame and at Florida State) in that stretch.

• Despite missing eight games, Okogie leads the Jackets in free throw attempts with 108, an average of 6.8 per game that leads the ACC. He averaged 6.5 as a freshman, which ranked third in the ACC.

• Ben Lammers surpassed 700 career rebounds against Syracuse and now has 722, moving into 13th place on Georgia Tech's all-time list with four boards at Louisville. He needs 18 to catch Jim Wood (740 from 1974-77) for 12th place.

• Lammers blocked no shots at Louisville, just the second time this season and the fifth time since the beginning of last season he did not block a shot. The 6-10 senior has 239 blocks, good for sole possession of fourth place in Tech history and needing four to catch John Sally (243 from 1982-86) for third place.

• Lammers also is averaging closer to 1,000 points for his career. With 952 career points, and needs five games at his current 11.3 per game rate to reach 1,000.

• Jose Alvarado Jr. has hit at least one three-point field goal in 10 consecutive games (22-60). He is hitting 40 percent of his three-point attempts in ACC games, 37.4 percent for the season.

• Alvarado scored 11 points at Louisville for his 16th double-digit game this season. He ranks fifth among ACC freshmen at 12.6 points per game.

• Abdoulaye Gueye has averaged 9.1 points (53.5 percent FG) and 6.4 rebounds in 12 games since sitting out the Coppin State game with an ankle injury. He has scored in double figures six times during that stretch, and also has blocked 19 shots. Gueye led Tech’s top five among ACC players ranked among the ACC’s top 12 in average minutes played and sixth-most in the ACC (37.8 mpg vs. the ACC), and ranks No. 7 among ACC guards in assists at 5.2.

A.D. is No Lie

Georgia Tech has recently given a big lift to an unlikely source, junior forward Abdoulaye Gueye (pronounced “AB-do- lie GAY”). Just in the last month, the Yellow Jackets have seen the 6-9 junior become a legitimate offensive force, and not just a defender on defense and on the boards.

Known as “A.D.” to his teammates and coaches, the likeable Gueye has taken advantage of a much-improved hook shot to average 9.1 points (35.3 percent from the floor) and 6.4 rebounds in 12 games since the beginning of conference play on Dec. 30.

He has scored in double figures in six of his last 10 games, something completely unforeseen during the non-conference season. In the first 39 games of his career, covering two-plus seasons through the holiday break this year, Gueye had scored a total of 70 points, only once scoring more than six points in a game (13 vs. UT-Rio Grande Valley in November).

“We couldn’t stop him at the beginning of the game. Probably were a little surprised at how good he was and how much they went to him, but he was very effective.” - Clemson coach Brad Brownwell after Gueye scored 14 points with eight boards against the Tigers.

Jose Learning on the Job

Freshman point guard Jose Alvarado, recruited to Georgia Tech primarily for his winning attitude, toughness and grit, has been given the latitude by head coach Josh Pastner to handle the position, pick or sink. or sink.

The Brooklyn native, the first Tech player from the New York area in nearly 20 years, has been up to the task, averaging 12.6 points per game to rank second on the team, 3.9 rebounds and 3.3 assists with an assist/turnover ratio of 77/56.

He has also shot the ball well, making 45 percent of his shots from the floor, 37.4 percent from three-point distance, and 80.2 percent from the foul line on 80 attempts, second most on the team behind Josh Okogie, who leads the ACC in that category.

Among ACC freshmen, he ranks fifth in scoring and fourth in assists, and is No. 3 overall in steals.

Alvarado has been steady with 16 double-figure scoring games, four times scoring 20 or more. And the 6-0 playmaker has averaged more than 39 minutes per ACC game to rank among the league’s top five, playing every minute eight times, including the Tech’s last four games.

He is not the first Tech point guard to earn the starting job as a freshman and handle it well. He follows such Tech greats at Mark Price, Kenny Anderson, Travis Best, Stephen Mariou, Tony Allen and Jarrett Jack, as well as others who started at the position as freshmen without reaching their lofty accomplishments.

“Was really impressed with Alvarado first time seeing him live. His speed and quickness was really good and I thought he...same ($9,168, 1989-91), John 721, 11.0

Notorious B.E.N.

Ben Lammers no longer has the element of surprise to his advantage this season, but the 6-10 center is no less the focal point of most things Georgia Tech does on both ends of the basketball court.

The senior from San Antonio, Texas, last year’s ACC Defensive Player of the Year and a preseason first-team all-ACC choice, remains among the conference leaders in rebounds, both overall (seventh at 8.8) and in conference games (sixth at 8.9). He also ranks third in blocked shots (26.6, No. 17 nationally) and sixth in minutes played (386.2, 32nd nationally).

“The Laminator” has nine double-doubles this season, five of them in ACC games, and 25 for his career.

He ranks third in career blocked shots at Georgia Tech (239) and 14th in career rebounds (722), and is within 48 points of 1,000 for his career.

Action Jackson

When Tadric Jackson is healthy and playing well, he makes a difference for the Georgia Tech with his ability to penetrate, handle the ball and score in traffic.

The Tifton, Ga., native, a former Georgia state prep school player of the year, has been very effective inside the three-point arc, hitting 52.6 percent of his field goal tries. He is No. 3 on Tech’s chart with a career-high 11.7 points per game.

The 6-2 senior became one of the top reserves in program history last season, averaging 12.1 points, and has continued that role with this year’s Tech team. Jackson has started six games, but typically is more effective bringing his scoring punch off the bench, where he has logged 35 double-digit scoring games off the bench as a Yellow Jacket. 26 of those since the beginning of last season. The senior guard has reached double figures 15 times in 20 games this season and 35 times since the beginning of last season.

His biggest improvement this season - rebounding - averaging a career-best 3.9 rebounds, nearly twice his career rate, including a pair of nine-rebound games in his last six.

Looking for 1,000

Senior guard Tadric Jackson became the 44th player in Georgia Tech history to score 1,000 points in his career against Syracuse, scoring 15 points to surpass the plateau on his final basket of the game. He has 1,015 career points.

Ben Lammers has 952 career points, and would need five games at his current 11.3 per game rate to reach 1,000. Josh Okogie is further away (891 points), but getting there faster at 18.4 points a game.
Pastner’s Key Metrics

- Assists to made field goals: Tech assisted on 10 of 20 made field goals (50 percent) against Louisville, far below its nightly goal of 60 percent. The Jackets have assisted on 54.0 percent of their made field goals for the season (52.3 percent vs. the ACC), after finishing last season at 62.7 percent (63.2 percent rate in ACC games).

- Free throws made to opponents’ attempts: Tech made 7-of-10 free throws to Louisville’s 11-for-19 (goal of making more than opponents tied not accomplished). For the season, Tech has converted 336 free throws, while opponents have attempted 393. Tech is 29-8 under Josh Pastner when attempting more free throws than the opponent.

- Turnovers: Tech has committed 13.0 turnovers per game this season, down slightly from last season (13.4), and 13.0 in ACC games, down from 13.3 last season.

- Guard rebounding: Tech’s guard’s combined for 14 of Tech’s 26 defensive rebounds against Louisville. Tadric Jackson, Jose Alvarado and Josh Okogie are all averaging 3.9 rebounds per game or higher this season.

Wire-to-Wire

Head coach Josh Pastner is not shy about his philosophy of playing a short bench, reminiscent of the way Bobby Cremins coached the Yellow Jackets over his 19 seasons.

Nationally, according to KenPom.com, Ben Lammers ranks 31st in percentage of possible minutes played (89.5%), while Jose Alvarado ranks 45th (89.3 pct.), Alvarado has played 422 out of a possible 445 minutes in ACC games (95.7 pct.), while Lammers has played 416 minutes (93.5 pct.) and Josh Okogie has played 400 (89.9 pct.).

Alvarado ranks fifth among freshman nationally in percentage of minutes played and minutes per game. Lammers ranks No. 1 among centers nationally.

They have 13 complete games this season combined (eight for for Alvarado). By playing the full 45 minutes in Tech’s overtime game at Boston College, they became the first Jackets to play every minute of an overtime game since Alvin Jones in November of 1998.

NOTE: Between the Cremins era and the arrival of Pastner, only one Georgia Tech player played every minute of a game, regulation or overtime, and that was Marcus Georges-Hunt on Feb. 20, 2016, in a win over Notre Dame at home. In the final 15 seasons of Cremins’ tenure (1985-86 through 1999-2000), a total of 196 players logged a 40-minute game.

StraitJackets

Due to its ability to play different defenses and keep opponents off balance, Georgia Tech continues to hold most of its opponents below, significantly below in several cases, their scoring averages.

The Yellow Jackets have held every opponent except Georgia, Wright State, Florida State and Boston College under its season scoring average this season, many of them significantly lower. At 65.8 points allowed per game, Tech ranks fourth in the ACC and No. 36 nationally in scoring defense.

- Most significant against the opponents Tech has held well below their averages are UCLA (82.6 ppg, 63 vs. Tech), Northwestern (74.0 ppg, 51 vs. Tech), Bethune-Cookman (78.9 ppg, 62 vs. Tech), North Texas (78.4 ppg, 49 vs. Tech), Wofford (77.0 pp, 63 vs. Tech), Notre Dame (79.8 ppg, 68 and 53 in two games vs. Tech), Miami (74.9 ppg, 54 vs. Tech), Yale (77.4 ppg, 60 vs. Tech) and Syracuse (70.0 ppg, 51 vs. Tech).

- In terms of adjusted offensive efficiency, Tech ranks No. 5 in the ACC in points per 100 possessions against the conference (101.2), No. 57 nationally in all games (98.8).

- Tech’s strengths lie in two-point field goal defense (16th at 44.5 pct.), block percentage (18th) and steal percentage (30th).

Last season, Tech ranked No. 6 nationally in adjusted defensive efficiency (91.0 points allowed per 100 possessives).
Tech ranked fourth in the conference in scoring defense (66.8 ppg) and No. 1 in FG percentage defense (39.8 pct.).

Lineup Shuffle

Georgia Tech has utilized six different starting lineups and a short bench this season, with injuries, youth and other absences factoring in.

Tech’s playing rotation this season has featured four freshmen and a first-year graduate transfer who have combined to start 54 games and log 44 percent of the Yellow Jackets’ total minutes. Eleven of the 16 players on Tech’s roster, and six of the 11 eligible scholarship players, are freshmen or sophomores.

Injuries or other absences have forced Tech players to miss 40 games cumulatively this season, and that number will continue to grow now that Curtiss Haywood II is sidelined the remainder of the season with a stress reaction in his right leg.

Jose Alvarado and Ben Lammers are the only Tech players to have started every game this season.

Assisted Living

Georgia Tech coach Josh Pastner preached and prided his Yellow Jackets on ball and player movement from the first time he got his team on the practice court. His primary measuring stick on how well the Jackets perform offensively is their ratio of assists to made field goals.

Last season, the Yellow Jackets ranked 13th nationally, according to KenPom.com, in highest percentage of assists to made field goals at 62.8 percent, the team’s highest rate since the 2000-01 season. Tech’s number was 63.2 percent in ACC games.

Tech has not done as well in that department this season, because of 54-0. It made 63.4 of its made field goals overall, 52.3 percent against ACC teams, and missing Pastner’s 60-percent bar 13 times. The national average for that statistic is 52.9 percent.

Tech’s top assists-to-made field goals ratios: 1987-88 - 68.3; 1988-89 - 65.9; 1989-90 - 65.8; 1992-93 - 65.0; 1985-86 - 64.8; 2000-01 - 62.9; 1999-00 - 62.9; 2016-17 - 62.8; 2017-18 - 54.0.

A Little Tighter Now

Fifteen of Georgia Tech’s 24 games this season have been decided by 10 points or fewer, including six ACC games, and not decided until the final few minutes. Tech has played nine games decided by five points or fewer in overtime, the most for any ACC team this season.

Factoring into keeping games close is the low number of possessions in most of the Jackets’ games - 65.4 according to KenPom.com, in highest percentage of assists to made baskets for any ACC team this season.

Last season, the Yellow Jackets ranked 13th nationally, according to KenPom.com, in highest percentage of assists to made baskets for any ACC team this season.

Some of Georgia Tech’s most successful teams in the Atlantic Coast Conference era have had tight benches and a trio of players who averaged more than 35 minutes per game in ACC play, beginning with the Yellow Jackets’ first ACC Championship team in 1985, dubbed the “Thin Gold Line.”

1985 ACC Champions, NCAA Elite Eight

- Mark Price - 37.2 mpg
- Bruce Dal次 mime - 35.6
- John Saxelby - 35.1

1990 ACC Champions, NCAA Final Four

- Denny Scott - 40.3 mpg
- Kenny Anderson - 39.4
- Brian Oliver - 38.4

1993 ACC Champions, NCAA

- Travis Best - 37.1
- James Forrest - 35.6
- Malcolm Mackey - 35.0

1996 ACC Regular-Season Champions, NCAA Elite Eight

- Stephen Murbury - 38.6 mpg
- Drew Barry - 38.6
- Matt Harpring - 36.8

Tech held off the Jackets from there by going 16-19 from the free throw line.

- Wofford - Tech led by 10 with 5:53 left, but scored just twice the rest of the way while the Terriers crept back to a 60-60 tie and won on Fletcher Magee’s three-point field goal with 1.7 seconds left.

- Wright State - Tech rallied from an 11-point deficit under the 10-minute mark to briefly take a 77-75 lead with 2:38 remaining. But the Raiders immediately took back the lead with a pair of threes. Jose Alvarado had a three-point look with the Jackets down 84-81 with 13 seconds left but missed.

- Miami/Notre Dame - Tech led No. 15 Miami by two with 3:46 left and No. 25 Notre Dame by three with 3:20 left. From that point on, Tech held them to 3-13 from the floor and four turnovers, outscoring them by 12 combined.

- Clemson - Tech rallied from an eight-point second-half deficit to tie the game at 70 inside the final minute. The Tigers scored with 25 seconds remaining, and the Jackets missed twice on attempts to tie or win after that.

- Syracuse - Tech led by as many as nine points in the second half, but the Orange rallied to within four points twice and three points once inside the final two minutes. Tech answered each advance with a basket.

- Boston College - In a second half with three distinct swings, Tech led by as many as 10 points early, the Eagles rallied back and led by as many as seven, then Stormed back to lead by four. BC recovered to tie the game in the final 30 seconds of regulation.

Third Time Not the Charm

Georgia Tech’s Diet 6 loss at Wofford ended a distinct season for head coach Josh Pastner that had been a personal point of pride, and a measure of consistent success. Until then, Pastner had never lost three straight games in eight seasons as a head coach, never in seven years at Memphis and not during his first season at Georgia Tech.

Only one other power conference head coach and program could make that claim over the last eight seasons, and that was John Calipari and Kentucky.

That Tech has been able to avoid a three-game skid last season was remarkable, the Yellow Jackets lost two in a row on six occasions, and lost two straight bridging the end of the season and this year’s season opener against UCLA.

The most improbable victories that stopped those streaks from continuing were a win Dec. 7 at VCU on Dec. 7, the Rams’ only home loss this season, Jan. 25 at home vs. No. 6-ranked Florida State, a No. 3 seed in the NCAA Tournament, and its first-round NIT win over Indiana, a No. 3 seed.

Jackets Sign 3 to Letters-of-Intent

Georgia Tech signed a trio of 4-star high school prospects – 6-3 guard Michael Devoe of Orlando, Fla., 6-7 forward Khalid Moore of New York, N.Y., and 6-9 forward Kristian Sjolund of Kaly, Texas – to national letters-of-intent during the November signing period.

All three prospects are highly regarded for their talent level, versatility and upside as head coach Josh Pastner continued to build the Yellow Jackets’ program.

Devoe has been ranked No. 62 in the Rivals 150, No. 56 in the ESPN 100, and No. 56 in the ESPN 100. He attended the same high school that sent All-American Kenny Anderson to Georgia Tech in 1989, and he was a teammate of current Tech freshman Jose Alvarado on the New York Rens AAU team.

Moore is a 3-star prospect in the composite 247Sports ranking (No. 51 small forward, No. 5 in New York), as well as a 4-star prospect by ESPN (No. 42 small forward, No. 3 in New York. He attended the same high school that sent All-American Kenny Anderson to Georgia Tech in 1989, and he was a teammate of current Tech freshman Jose Alvarado on the New York Rens AAU team.

Sjolund is a 3-star prospect in the composite 247Sports ranking (No. 56 small forward, No. 18 in Texas), as well as a 4-star by ESPN (No. 36 small forward, No. 17 in Texas). He was born in the state of Washington but grew up in Norway, and has lived in the United States since 2014. He played for the Shooting Stars Red AAU team. Sjolund played with Norway in the 2015 FIBA u16 European Championships, averaging 18.7 points and 5.9 rebounds a game. Then in 2017 he played in the U18 Nordic Championship and scored 7.2 points a game.

tech's "modern Miracle"

Georgia Tech played in its first National Invitation Tournament championship game in 46 years in 2017, capping an inaugural season under head coach Josh Pastner that defied all pre-season projections and expectations. Tech won 21 games and an 8-10 ACC record for the second straight year after being picked to finish 14th in the conference.

Along the way, the Yellow Jackets knocked off No. 9 North Carolina, the eventual national champion, No. 6 Florida State and No. 14 Notre Dame, as well as Boston College, Clemson, Pittsburgh and Syracuse in conference play.

Tech defeated Indiana and Belmont at home in the first two rounds of the NIT, completing a school-record 17-win home schedule, then went on the road to defeat Ole Miss to reach its first NIT final four since 1971. Once there, the Yellow Jackets won their semifinal game over CSU Bakersfield before losing in the championship game to TCU.

The Yellow Jackets return their top three scorers – sophomores guard Josh Okogie, senior center Ben Lammers and senior guard Trae Young – from that team. Lammers, who ranked No. 3 in the nation in blocked shots and No. 4 in the ACC in rebounding, earned second-team All-ACC honors and was named the ACC Defensive Player of the Year. Okogie, who accumulated the third-most points of any Tech freshman in program history, was named to the ACC All-Freshman team.

Year 2 of Rebuild for Tech Basketball

Georgia Tech is in its 103rd season of basketball in 2017-18 under second-year head coach Josh Pastner, the 14th head coach in program history.

Pastner, 40, compiled a 16-7-3 record over seven seasons as the head coach at Memphis, where the Tigers earned bids to the NCAA Tournament four times. He was named the 10th most wins for a head coach in his first seven seasons in Division I basketball history, and was the second winningest active coach under the age of 40 in NCAA Division I.

Despite his young age, Pastner has been involved in...

Basketball at the Division I level for 20 years, as a player and an assistant coach at Arizona, and as an assistant coach and the head coach at Memphis. He has been a part of teams that have won 490 games, played in 17 NCAA Tournaments and 18 total post-season events. Teams he has been involved with have won 12 conference tournament or regular-season championships, advanced to seven Sweet Sixteens, five Elite Eights, two Final Fours and two NCAA championship games.

Stories for 2017-18

- Sports Illustrated rated Georgia Tech's defense No. 6 in its pre-season projection of the top 50 defenses in Division I.
- Ben Lammers (first team) and Josh Okogie (second team) were named to the pre-season All-Atlantic Coast Conference team by the media at the conference's annual Operation Basketball media day.
- Lammers was on the pre-season watch list for the John R. Wooden Award (national player of the year) and the Lute Olson National Player of the Year Award.

It was the 25th postseason appearance overall in program history.

- Tech defeated four top-100 RPI teams in the NIT - Indiana (79), Belmont (60), Ole Miss (77) and CSU Bakersfield (76). TCU was No. 67, and Tech, at No. 106, was the lowest-ranked team in the NIT final four.
- Tech won 20 games for the second straight year and for the 16th time in program history. Only six of those have come in the last 20 years. Tech has not had back-to-back 20-win seasons since 2003-04 and 2004-05.
- Tech's 21 wins with head coach Josh Pastner represented the most for a first-year head coach in Tech history. The previous high was 17 under Paul Hewitt in 2000-01 and Roy Mundorf in 1926-27.
- Tech had the sixth most efficient defense in the country according to KenPom.com, giving up 91.0 points per 100 possessions.
- The Yellow Jackets' 31 regular-season games will be broadcast on linear broadcast television, a program including all 18 Atlantic Coast Conference games. Fifteen of those 26 televised games will air on one of the ESPN networks.

2016-17 Highlights

- Georgia Tech played in the NIT for the ninth time, and made it to the finals for the first time since 1971, when the Yellow Jackets lost to North Carolina in the championship game.
adjusted offensive efficiency, according to KenPom.com.
- Ben Lammers’ +10.6 per game scoring average increase over the 2015-16 season was the third-best in the ACC, behind John Collins of Wake Forest and Matt Farrell of Notre Dame. Tadric Jackson (+7.4), Quinton Stephens (+5.4) and Josh Heath (+2.6) more than doubled their scoring outputs over last season.
- Three keys for Tech to win - The Jackets were 21-3 when they shot a better percentage from the floor than their opponent, were 17-0 when scoring 70 points and 20-4 when attempting more free throws than the opponent.
- Georgia Tech was 4-4 against teams in the top 25 of CBSSports.com’s RPI rankings, and defeated 10 top-100 teams.
- The Yellow Jackets established a new program record for home wins in a season (17-4). The 2006-07 team went 16-1 at home.
- Georgia Tech defended three AP top-25 teams in Pastner’s first season (No. 9 North Carolina, No. 6 Florida State, No. 14 Notre Dame), the most in one season for the program since the Yellow Jackets went 4-3 vs. top-25 teams in 2003-04. Tech had beaten as many as three top-25 teams in one season six times prior to 2016-17.
- Tech beat two AP top-10 teams – No. 9 North Carolina and No. 6 Florida State – the first time the Yellow Jackets had defeated multiple top-10 teams in the same season since 2004-05 (No. 5 Wake Forest in the regular season and No. 2 North Carolina in the ACC Tournament). It was the first time since 2003-04 that the Yellow Jackets had defeated multiple top-10 teams in the regular season (No. 1 Connecticut, No. 10 Wake Forest, No. 3 Duke). It is the 18th time in program history that Tech has defeated multiple top-10 teams in the same season.
- Tech was one of two teams to finish the regular season with a winning record (3-2) against the top four seeds in the ACC Tournament (Virginia was the other).
- Georgia Tech’s national ranking in scoring defense (51st), blocks per game (4th) and fewest personal fouls per game (23rd) were the highest for any of the eight teams Josh Pastner has coached, and the Jackets’ No. 13 ranking in field goal percentage yield was the second highest.

Player Highlights

- Josh Okogie posted 32 double-digit scoring games last season, including Tech’s last 16 straight games, last failing to do so vs. Notre Dame on Jan. 29. He averaged a team-high 16.1 points per game, and was Tech’s highest scoring freshman since Dion Glover (18.4 ppg) in 2002-03. Only six times in Tech history has a freshman led the Jackets in scoring.
- Okogie was named to the NIT All-Tournament team after scoring 34 points in the two games in New York. In five NIT games, Okogie averaged a team-high 19.8 points, 46.5 percent from the floor and 75.7 percent from the foul line. He also averaged 7.4 rebounds and had 14 assists against six turnovers.
- Okogie finished the season with 596 points. The only other freshman in Tech history to score more points were Kenny Anderson (721 in 35 games) and Stephan Marbury (679 in 36 games).
- Ben Lammers scored in double digits in 31 of 37 games last season.
- Lammers finished the season with 125 blocks, the second-highest season total ever for a Tech player. Alvin Jones holds the Tech season record with 141 in 1997-98. Lammers averaged 3.36 blocks per game, which ranked No. 3 nationally and led the ACC. He also holds fifth place at Tech in career blocks with 170.
- Tadric Jackson finished the season as Tech’s third leading scorer (12.1 ppg), the fourth reserve in Tech history to average in double figures.
- Jackson was named to the All-NT team after scoring 31 points in the two games at Madison Square Garden (14.0 points in five NIT games).

Pastner, Lammers, Okogie Capture ACC Honors

Georgia Tech’s first-year head coach Josh Pastner was named Atlantic Coast Conference Coach of the Year, and the Yellow Jackets captured their biggest haul of ACC honors in recent memory as junior center Ben Lammers was named second-team All-ACC and conference Defensive Player of the Year, while first-year player Josh Okogie was named ACC’s All-Freshman Team.

It was the first time since 2013 that Tech has had honorees in multiple categories, and also the first time since 2013 that Tech has had more than one individual honored.

Pastner, in his first year on The Flats, earned 24 of the 53 votes cast, three times that of the second-place coach. He becomes the third different Tech head man to be named ACC Coach of the Year, joining Bobby Cremins (1983, 1985, 1996) and Paul Hewitt, who captured the honor in his first season of 2000-01.

Lammers, a 6-10 junior center, was the fourth Tech center to earn All-ACC honors in program history, joining John Salley (1986), Alvin Jones (2001) and Daniel Miller (2014) and gave Pastner Reaps More Honors

First-year Georgia Tech coach Josh Pastner picked up a couple more honors after being named ACC Coach of the Year.

He was named District 2 Coach of the Year by the National Association of Basketball Coaches (District 2 covers the ACC footprint and its member institutions), and also was named the John “Whack” Hyder Georgia College Coach of the Year by the Atlanta Tipoff Club. The Tipoff Club award is named for Whack Hyder, who led Tech’s program from 1952-73.

After the season, Sports Illustrated honored Pastner as “Best At Beating S1’s Projections, Major Conference,” saying, “Last fall, a certain member of the punditry made the now-infamous claim that Pastner was preceding over one of the worst major-conference roosters ever. S1’s projection wasn’t that harsh, but it didn’t love the Yellow Jackets, ranking them 204th in the preseason. Pastner proceeded to build the nation’s No. 6-ranked defense around rim-protector Ben Lammers. That helped Tech upset North Carolina, Notre Dame, Florida State and Syracuse in the regular season, finish as the NIT runner-up and rank 77th in efficiency.”

ACC Coaches on Tech

“I can’t say enough, I don’t have to say anything – Josh [Pastner] was coach of the year in the toughest conference in the country – but I can’t say enough really about the job he’s done with that team. Their defensive numbers are top 10 in the nation in terms of points per possession.” - Belmont coach Rick Byrd following Tech’s NIT win on March 19

“I don’t think you look great too often against Georgia Tech. They scam the game up. That’s the beauty in how they play.” - Pittsburgh coach Kevin Stallings on March 7

“I’ve done a great job. I think they play with purpose. They know exactly what they’re doing. They’re a very difficult team to play against. This team beat North Carolina, Florida State, Notre Dame. Those are three top-20 teams, really top-15 teams. And Josh has done a great job with that team.” - Syracuse coach Jim Boeheim on March 4

“It shows that, when you have guys working together, really good coaching, the improvement of players … Josh has done a great job with his staff, and it’s a great story. They’re five guys playing as one. They’re a solid unit that has good concepts offensively and defensively. And then the improvement of a player of Lammers from one year to the other, and Jackson, too. They’re great for our league. It shows how strong our league is.” - Duke coach Mike Krzyzewski on Feb. 20

“Georgia Tech has an outstanding brand that was established by my good friend Bobby Cremins, so it’s not a program that’s not won. It’s a program that won big but hasn’t won for a while and they’ve locked into that and have that spirit back.” - Krzyzewski again

“I think Josh has done a fabulous job. He’s done some really unique things on both ends of the floor. With what they’re doing with their triangle stuff offensively it is a difficult preparation. It’s very, very hard to guard. And then the changing zone defenses and then you’ve got the rim protector in Ben Lammers back there, they’re hard to score against. They’re just a really tough preparation and it certainly isn’t a fluke.” - Notre Dame’s Mike Brey on Feb. 20

“They were more aggressive, they got the ball where they wanted to get it more than we did. As the game went along, they got more confidence and more confidence. And we got tighter. I didn’t expect that and I didn’t see that coming. But again, their coach did a much better job of getting their guys ready to play than I did.” - North Carolina’s Roy Williams after Tech’s Dec. 31 victory

“I was really so frustrated about the way we played down there that day, I didn’t give them enough credit. They’ve had
Tech Notebook

A fantastic year. It's shown. I'm hoping they make the NCAA Tournament. *- North Carolina's Roy Williams on Feb. 20

"Josh has just taken a team that nobody expected to be even competitive, never mind get an NCAA berth, (to tournament consideration). It's great to see because Josh is a tremendous young man and he's doing an outstanding job." *- Louisville coach Rick Pitino

"I said after the first time we played them that they were better than people realized, and it's proven to be true. They're good. I said that this team was more talented than people realized. Ben Lammons is one of the best centers in our league. Defensively he's a problem around the rim, blocking shots, altering shots. Josh Ockogie is one of the best freshmen in our league, and he's continued to get better. Josh Heath just runs their team, doesn't make mistakes, doesn't turn the ball over. Quinton Stephens is a senior who's been through the wars of this league, and is quietly averaging 12 and 8. Tadric Jackson is one of those big, strong guards that's a problem. They don't have as much depth as some of the teams in our league, but they're starting five or six is very good. Josh and his staff have done a great job of creating a system that they can be successful in." *- Clemson's Brad Brownwell

"He's doing a phenomenal job. He hired a really good staff. Ben Lammons is going to be the most improved player in the league. [Josh Ockogoe] may be one of the freshmen of the year if you take out the one-and-dones. Josh has gone a tremendous job of getting them to play together. I don't think they were picked last because of their talent, but Josh and his staff have done a tremendous job of making out that talent. Georgia Tech is constantly changing defenses. They play every kind of zone there is, and they do a good job of keeping teams from getting into a flow." *- Virginia Tech's Buzz Williams

"Josh Pastner and his staff have done an amazing job. The players have really embraced the schemes, both offensively and defensively. Ben Lammons has got to be seriously considered for most improved player in the league. Josh Heath has done a tremendous job of orchestrating what they are doing at both ends of the floor. Josh Ockogie is really something, reminds me of Josh Hart from Villanova the way he plays." *- Miami head coach Jim Larrañaga

"You've got to go back and guard that action because they run it for 25 seconds and they're not shooting jump shots. They're coming at your throat with stuff. So it's physical, it's grinding, it's exhausting." - Notre Dame's Mike Brey on Tech's OFFENSE following Notre Dame win on Feb. 26

Pastner's Winning Staff

- Tech's coaching staff has participated in 32 NCAA Tournaments collectively - Reveno has been involved in eight NCAA Tournaments as a coach and one as a player, Hardy in three as a coach, LaBarrie in two as a coach and one as a player, and Pastner in 13 as a coach and four as a player.

- Pastner hired two former Georgia Tech players - assistant coach LaBarrie, who played three years under Bobby Cremins and Paul Hewitt (1998-2001) and was an assistant coach for two years under Hewitt (2009-11), and director of player personnel Mario West, a non-scholarship player under Hewitt (2003-07) who played two years in the NBA.

- Only two members of Pastner's staff at Memphis, director of recruiting and compliance Julian Segurt and director of scouting Tyler Benson, followed him to Georgia Tech. All three assistant coaches are new to Pastner's staff.

Five Tech Alumni on NBA Rosters

- Since 1982, Georgia Tech has produced 18 first-round NBA-draft picks and 45 draft picks overall. A total of 38 Georgia Tech alumni have played in the NBA.

- Five former Georgia Tech basketball stars were on NBA rosters when the 2017-18 season began.

- Marcus Georges-Hunt, a 2016 graduate, made the opening roster for the Minnesota Timberwolves after seeing limited action last late season with the Orlando Magic.

- Iman Shumpert, a six-year NBA veteran, is in his third full season in Cleveland after helping the Cavaliers win the NBA championship in 2016.

- Thaddeus Young, in his 11th season, is in his second season with the Indiana Pacers after two years in Brooklyn.

- Derrick Favors has emerged as a key figure in his seventh season in Utah.

- Jarrett Jack, a 13-year NBA veteran who suffered a knee injury two season ago while with Brooklyn, played only briefly with the New Orleans Pelicans last late season and is now with the New York Knicks.

Artists and Letters

Beginning with Moe Miller and Lance Stors in the summer of 2011, every four-year senior in the Georgia Tech program has graduated that spring. Derek Craig and Nick Foreman received their Tech degrees in 2012, as did the 2013 senior class of Mfon Udofia, who finished his business administration degree work in the summer, and Pierre Jordan, who completed his Masters degree requirements in building construction in the spring. Brandon Reed graduated in the summer with his management degree before transferring back to Arkansas State to play his final year of basketball.

All three of Tech's four-year seniors in 2013-14 - Kammyon Holsey, Daniel Miller and Jason Morris - graduated that spring. Robert Sampson, the Jackets' only undergraduate scholarship senior in 2014-15, graduated in the spring.

From the 2015-16 squad, Marcus Georges-Hunt walked the stage at commencement in May, accomplishing the rare feat of graduating in four years. Point guard Travis Jorgenson, who elected not to use his final year of eligibility, will receive his degree in December.

From the 2016-17 team, Josh Heath, Corey Heyward (fifth-year because of an injury redshirt in 2012-13) and Quinton Stephens all graduated in May of 2017, while Rand Rowland finished his requirements and received his degree in December of 2016. Both graduate transfers, Kellen McCormick (summer of 2017) and Justin Price (fall of 2017), received their Masters degrees.

Georges-Hunt and current senior Tadric Jackson have made the Academic All-ACC team twice, and the Yellow Jackets have had at least one player named to that team since it was instituted for the 2010-11 season.

Tech's men's basketball team has recorded the highest Academic Progress Report scores the last four years since the NCAA began tracking academic performance in 2004-05. The Jackets scored a perfect team single year APR score of 1000 three straight years from 2011-13.

Welcome to The Hank

Georgia Tech has played five seasons in McCamish Pavilion, which was for all intents and purposes, brand new when it opened for the 2012-13 season. The only physical elements of McCamish Pavilion that remain from the venerable Alexander Memorial Coliseum are the roof, which was re-covered, and the 32 steel ribs that support it.

The capacity of McCamish Pavilion is 8,600, including 1,665 seats in the new balcony level and 6,935 seats in the lower seating bowl. There are no suites, but there is a premium club area that seats 500.

The most impressive features of McCamish Pavilion are its grand entrance, which fronts 10th and Fowler Streets, the ability for patrons to view the court from the main concourse all the way around, and the theatrical lighting system, which concentrates light on the court while leaving the seating areas dark, modeled after the Staples Center in Los Angeles and Madison Square Garden in New York.

Tech played 55 seasons in Alexander Memorial Coliseum, compiling a record of 556-194 (.741). Miami was the last team to play Tech in Alexander Memorial Coliseum, a game Tech won, and was the first ACC team to play in McCamish Pavilion on Jan. 5, which Miami won. For the 2011-12 season, Tech played its home games at Philips Arena and the Arena at Gwinnett.

Coaches on McCamish Pavilion

"Tremendous atmosphere. Golly, we love the opportunity to play in the NET but, as a lot of you know, sometimes places don't get as excited about that as they ought to. This place was excited about an NET game and it was a great atmosphere." - Belmont coach Rick Byrd following Tech's NET win on March 19

"Well first of all, it was a great atmosphere and a fun place to play a game. It is my first time in this facility." - North Texas coach Grant McCasland on Nov. 24

"The student section was great; the crowd was great. It's been great that the crowd came out. And I tell you, even coach [Tom] Crean said this at shootaround today because he [was the analyst] for our game today (on ESPNU), he mentioned the crowd and the atmosphere. He said this is one of the best home-court advantages that we've got in the country that he's been around." - Tech coach Josh Pastner following Northwestern victory Nov. 28

Tech's NCAA Tournament History

Georgia Tech played in the NCAA Tournament five times in 11 seasons under head coach Paul Hewitt and has played in the event 16 times in its history. Fifteen of those appearances have occurred from 1986 to the present.

The 2004 and 2005 appearances were the Yellow Jackets' first back-to-back appearances since Bobby Cremins led the Institute to the Big Dance nine straight years from 1985-93.

Georgia Tech has won at least one game in 11 of its 16 NCAA Tournament appearances.

Tech's ACC Tournament History

Georgia Tech has played in 38 ACC Tournaments, and has a 26-55 all-time record in the event. The Yellow Jackets have won three championships, in 1985 (Atlanta), 1990 (Charlotte) and 1993 (Charlotte).

Tech has been a runner-up four times (1986, 1996, 2005, 2010). The 1986, 1996 and 2010 runs to the finals occurred in Greensboro. Tech also made the finals in 2005 at the Verizon Center in Washington, D.C.

Tech was 0-2 in the ACC Tournament under coach Dwane Morrison, 15-16 under Bobby Cremins (including all three titles), 9-11 under Paul Hewitt (runner-up in 2005 and 2010), 2-5 under Brian Gregory, and 0-1 under Josh Pastner.
BIO UPDATES

Head Coach Josh Pastner • 2nd season

Josh Pastner, who guided Memphis to five post-season berths in seven seasons as the Tigers’ head coach, was introduced as Georgia Tech’s 14th head basketball coach on April 8, 2016, and wasted no time in getting the Yellow Jackets back to the post-season.

In his first season at the helm, his Yellow Jacket team defied all pre-season expectations by winning 21 games, including four in the National Invitation Tournament. Tech posted an 8-10 ACC record, which included victories over No. 9 North Carolina, No. 6 Florida State and No. 14 Notre Dame, who all finished among the top four in the ACC regular season. He was named Coach of the Year in the ACC and in NABC District 2.

Pastner also was honored at the “Most Positive College Coach” in Georgia by Positive Athlete Georgia, an organization which promotes the benefits of positivity among young athletes.

Implementing a high-energy style of play and creative offensive and defensive schemes, Pastner and his staff guided the Yellow Jackets all the way to the finals of the NIT for the first time in 46 years. Two of his players earned All-Atlantic Coast Conference honors; junior center Ben Lammers was named second-team All-ACC and ACC Defensive Player of the Year, while freshman guard Josh Okogie was named to the ACC All-Freshman team.

At the same time, Pastner tirelessly promoted the program on campus and throughout the city of Atlanta in an effort to re-create the atmosphere that surrounded the Yellow Jackets throughout the 1980s, 1990s and into the middle of the 2000s. The result was a program record 17 home wins at McCamish Pavilion, which sold out three times in the regular season and became a big homecourt advantage for the Jackets during their NIT run.

Pastner, who turned 40 in late September, compiled a 167-73 record over seven seasons as the head coach at Memphis, where the Tigers earned bids to the NCAA Tournament four times. He led for the 10th most wins for a head coach in his first seven seasons in Division I basketball history, and is the second winningest active coach under the age of 40 in NCAA Division I. He is the 14th head coach in Tech’s program history.

Despite his young age, Pastner has been involved in basketball at the Division I level for 20 years, as a player and an assistant coach at Arizona, and as an assistant coach and the head coach at Memphis. He has been a part of teams that have won five NCAA titles, played in 17 NCAA Tournaments and 19 total post-season events. Teams he has been involved with have won 12 conference tournament or regular-season championships, advanced to seven Sweet Sixteens, five Elite Eights, two Final Fours and two NCAA championship games.

As an NCAA head coach or assistant coach and an A-10 head coach, he has coached nearly 25 NCAA draft selections.

Pastner’s Memphis teams averaged 23.9 wins per season and compiled a conference regular-season record of 82-36, including a conference winning streak of 28 games. The Tigers went 11-4 in Conference USA and American Athletic Conference tournaments, including three championships.

A native of Kingwood, Texas, Pastner was born in Glen Dale, W.Va. He earned his bachelor’s degree in family studies in December of 1998, in just two and a half years, from Arizona and his master’s degree in teaching and teacher education from Arizona in December 2000.

He married the former Kerri Lamas of Sierra Vista, Ariz., in 2009. He has a stepson Ethan and three daughters, Payten, Kamryn and Harper.

Pastner and his family moved to Atlanta in the fall of 2016 to begin his tenure as head coach of Georgia Tech.
