2015-16 MEN'S TENNIS NOTES

Georgia Tech's men's tennis team competed in an NCAA regional for the second straight year and for the 16th time in program history, defeating UC Santa Barbara in the round of 64 before falling to host Southern California in the round of 32.

Team Update

Georgia Tech (16-8, 8-4 ACC) finished the spring No. 37 in the Intercollegiate Tennis Association rankings, and posted its best Atlantic Coast Conference record since 2011. The Yellow Jackets made the NCAA Championship for the second straight year, finishing the regular season in fifth place in the Atlantic Coast Conference standings. The Yellow Jackets posted a 11-1 record at home, with the only loss to No. 1 Virginia, and went 1-1 in the ACC Championship.

Singles Update

The Yellow Jackets were led at the top of their lineup by 6-foot-7 sophomore Christopher Eubanks (Atlanta, Ga.), who finished the spring No. 8 in the ITA singles rankings with an 21-2 dual match record and an 11-1 ACC mark. Named the ACC Player of the Year and an All-American, Eubanks' only losses came to players ranked No. 20 and No. 11, both in road matches. He also received a bid to the NCAA Singles Championship for the second consecutive year.

Junior Carlos Benito (Madrid, Spain) won 10 of his last 17 matches playing at the No. 2 position, went 7-4 in ACC competition, and finished the spring ranked No. 115 nationally after entering the national singles late in the regular season. Head coach Kenny Thorne shuffled players at the other four positions during the spring, most recently elevating junior Cole Fiegel (Alachua, Fla.) to the No. 3 position and sophomore Daniel Yun (Marietta, Ga.) to No. 4. The Jackets were strong at the fifth and sixth positions, where senior Nathan Rakitt (Marietta, Ga.) won 12 of his last 16 decisions and went 8-2 in ACC matches, and senior Michael Kay (Alpharetta, Ga.) moved into the bottom spot for the ACC Championship.

Doubles Update

Tech has won the doubles point in 18 of 24 contests, including eight of the 12 ACC matches. The Yellow Jackets' No. 1 team for most of the spring was Casey and Michael Kay, who finished the spring ranked No. 45 nationally, knocking off a pair of top-15 teams from Florida State and Notre Dame, and went 8-10 in dual matches. The team of Benito and Eubanks began the spring No. 2 but moved up late in the year and went 16-3, with a season-high national ranking of No. 36 at the end, and the third team of Rakitt and freshman Andrew Li went 13-7.

Eubanks Named ACC Player of the Year

Christopher Eubanks was named the 2016 Atlantic Coast Conference Men's Tennis Player of the Year and headlined the 2016 All-ACC Team announced April 28. Tech junior Carlos Benito was chosen third-team All-ACC.

Eubanks was the first Yellow Jacket to be voted Player of the Year since Guillermo Gomez in 2011, and the fifth overall. He joins a list that also includes Bryan Shelton in 1985, Jens Skjoedt in 1990 and Benjamin Cassaigne in 1999.

A native of Atlanta, Georgia, the sophomore compiled a 34-7 record in singles, including an 11-1 mark in ACC play, from his No. 1 singles position. Eubanks spent the entire spring in the top 15 of the ITA Singles Rankings all season, finishing at No. 8. An All-ACC second team selection in 2015, and has defeated a dozen ranked opponents this year. In doubles, Eubanks paired with teammate Benito to compile a 16-3 record and rise to their current national ranking of No. 36.

Benito, a junior from Madrid, Spain, went 7-4 in ACC play with a pair of victories over ranked foes playing in the No. 2 position. After missing the entire fall due to back problems, he went 12-11 in dual matches this spring and won 10 of his last 17 matches heading into the post-season.

Tech's NCAA History

Georgia Tech has reached the NCAA Championship each of the last two years, falling in the opening round of the 2015 regional in Oxford, Miss., and reaching the round of 16 in Los Angeles in 2016.

Those were Tech's first bids since 2011, when the Yellow Jackets hosted a regional and advanced to the round of 16 by defeating Middle Tennessee State and Mississippi State. Tech then lost to No. 2 seed Southern California in Stanford, Calif. ... That is the only time Tech has made it out of a regional in the current format of the championship. ... Tech has made the NCAA Championship field 11 times under head coach Kenny Thorne and 15 times in program history. ... The Jackets' deepest run in the NCAAs came in 1994, when Tech won three matches before being eliminated. ... Tech is 10-16 all-time in NCAA Championship competition.

Eubanks in NCAA Singles Championship

Christopher Eubanks, named ACC Player of the Year, received an at-large bid to the NCAA Singles Championship for the second straight year, the first Georgia Tech player to do so since Juan Spir in 2012 and 2013.

Eubanks, No. 8 in the final Intercollegiate Tennis Association rankings, was seeded No. 7 but lost in the opening round to No. 52 Shane Vinsant of Texas A&M in three sets. He is 1-2 for his career in the NCAA Singles Championship.

Christopher Yun Signs NLI with Tech

Christopher Yun, rated a Blue Chip prospect and ranked 21st in the nation by TennisRecruiting.net, signed a national letter-of-intent to play for Georgia Tech's men's tennis team during the November signing period.

Yun, the younger brother of current Tech sophomore Daniel Yun, is from Marietta, Ga., and attends Lassiter High School. He has been ranked as high as No. 18 nationally in 2015, and is currently the No. 10-ranked player in the Southeast and No. 2 in Georgia.

Among his top tournament performances in 2015 have been a runner-up finish at the Sunchang Korea ITF Grade 5 event in April, and he reached the round of 16 in the National Clay Court Championships in July and the USTA National Winter Championships in January. He has a 31-16 overall record this year, including a 3-11 mark against other Blue Chip opponents and a 24-5 combined slate against 5-star and 4-star foes.

Eubanks Makes BB&T Atlanta Open

Georgia Tech's Christopher Eubanks received a wild card entry into the main doubles draw for the BB&T Atlanta Open, which runs July 30 through Aug. 7 at Atlantic Station.

It is the sixth straight year an active Yellow Jacket player has participated in the U.S. Open Series event. Eubanks received the wild card invitation along with Zackery Kennedy of Georgia State, a junior from Atlanta who attended Westlake High School with Eubanks. They will participate as doubles partners.

Eubanks hopes to replicate his success in last year's BB&T Atlanta Open, when he and partner Donald Young advanced to the semifinals of the main draw, where they lost to the world No. 1 team of Bob and Mike Bryan.

Tech's ACC Championship History

Georgia Tech has never won an Atlantic Coast Conference championship in men's tennis, though several Yellow Jackets have individual titles to their credit from an era when individual championships were crowned.

Tech has reached the finals four times, two of those under head coach Kenny Thorne in 1999 and 2002. The Jackets also reached the championship match in Thorne's senior year of 1988 and again in 1994.

KEN BYERS TENNIS COMPLEX

A lot of history was made in the Bill Moore Tennis Center. Some of the greatest players in Georgia Tech history took to those courts and improved their games to the point they could reach the pro tour.

Current Georgia Tech men's tennis head coach Kenny Thorne is one of those. He played AND coached there in his four decorated years on the Flats (1985-89).

In January of 2013, Thorne witnessed the opening of the Ken Byers Tennis Complex, as the women's tennis team opened the facility with a match against Syracuse and men's team opened a day later against Old Dominion. In a way, it was deja vu for Thorne, who was a freshman the year the Moore Center opened.

"It's just a very unique thing. It's an honor to be coaching here at this time, and it's an honor for all of our student-athletes to have opened a new facility," said the 1989 graduate and 1995 Georgia Tech Sports Hall of Fame inductee. "That doesn't happen too often in any sport. It's very exciting."

Women's head coach Rodney Harmon, whose team played the first matches on the brand new six-court facility, who was beginning his first season on the Flats, has been around the sport long enough to know something special when he sees it. He's seen it with the Byers Complex.

Ground was broken for the facility on June 15, 2012 and was made possible by a generous gift from alumnus Ken Byers (class of '66) and his wife, Trish.

"It's going to be beautiful and it's going to help both our men's and women's programs stay a factor with the other schools, in our very, very tough conference," said Harmon, who has been in tennis player development for more than 25 years and, as a pro, reached the quarterfinals at the 1982 U.S. Open. "It has a great feeling, which I think will help us set up a home-court advantage because a lot of our fans tend to be very vocal and really support our team."

As advantageous to the team is the amount of space. Off the court, Byers has bigger locker rooms, a lounge, a training facility and more office space for the coaching staffs. The number of available courts for play inside doubled from three to six.

"I think it's going to be big for us," Harmon said. "It allows us to compete year-round, and when the weather gets inclement, both teams have a place to play. We've always had to play outside, and it can get pretty cold sometimes. Now we're going to be able to play indoors and really get prepared for the indoor season, which starts in February."

The doubling of the court space was a key factor in building the new complex.

"You need space and you need quality space and if that means new or renovations then so be it," said former associate athletic director Paul Griffin. "Now, we have an efficient way of running our indoor matches, and because of the weather you wind up playing almost half of your matches indoors be it for wet or for cold."

Thorne and Harmon agree that the opening of the Byers Complex signals the start of big things ahead. Thorne compares the anticipation of the facility's opening to the buzz surrounding the opening of McCamish Pavilion and expects Tech tennis fans to be as energized as basketball fans.

"It's such a big change and ours is a total change," said Thorne. "It's a whole brand-new complex. There are some really exciting things happening. So hopefully it's going to draw a lot more people out. They come see the facility as well as some great tennis."

Harmon expects the facility to also draw some big-name recruits.

"It's going to give us an opportunity to recruit top-level athletes because now a lot of the top schools have new facilities around the country, whether it's Alabama or Florida State or South Carolina, Texas is getting a new facility built," he said. "So now we have a new facility. It's something that to our recruits that makes us a lot stronger."

The Byers Complex, built on the same footprint where the Moore Center stood, is light years ahead of its predecessor and was overdue as far as keeping Tech's programs current. The ingenuity in building a facility that could fit so much more into the same space as its predecessor made this project design uniquely Tech.

The former three-court indoor tennis facility was replaced with a state-of-the-art six-court indoor facility. The new steel indoor facility is located next to Tenth Street, just behind the magnolias. It features an entrance lobby, men's and women's coaches offices, men's and women's locker rooms and a team lounge. The indoor facility retains the Bill Moore name and provides seating a little more than 200 spectators.

The outdoor part of the complex consists of six competition courts on the south end of the site and four practice courts located between the indoor facility and the competition courts. A landscaped courtyard area was added between the practice courts and Fowler Street. Outdoor seating, situated between the Griffin Track and the completion courts, provides a view of both competition on the track and action on the tennis courts and includes plenty of space for wheelchair seating. Additionally, an East-West Connector provides a lighted walkway for pedestrians along the track-side of the site to facilitate movement between the North Campus Parking Deck and the McCamish Pavilion.

"Thirty years is a long time," said Griffin. "It's not a matter of different inclusions. It's a matter of improved space. It's a tight footprint. The real estate didn't change, so we had to make some compromises on that and one of the other things was to relocate the indoor facility to the 10th street side of the real estate because it will serve as a buffer from the noise and street from 10th street for the outdoor courts that wasn't there before. So there are a lot of those kinds of features that are now a benefit for the program."

"It has a bunch of other features that are assets to the Institute and to athletics in other ways than just tennis," he added. "There's a seating area for track, a pathway from the parking lot to McCamish Pavilion (Tech's basketball arena across Fowler Street), a parking lot on Atlantic to McCamish, improved sidewalks and streetscapes. So it's a very comprehensive project."

For the school, it's the latest improvement to the campus' Fowler Street entrance, which also includes Mewborn Softball Field and the Brock Indoor Football Facility.

That exciting plan will continue to evolve in years to come. The tennis teams are thrilled to be part of it and are eager to do their part to stir up excitement around campus as they begin spring play.

"It is a tremendous commitment," said Harmon. "That whole side of campus, with the new basketball arena, with the tennis facility, with the track and the indoor football complex and baseball and softball, it's now a great corner of campus."

HEAD COACH KENNY THORNE

KENNY THORNE

GEORGIA TECH, 1988
18 YEARS AT TECH
12 NCAA TOURNAMENTS
235-195 RECORD

Kenny Thorne recorded one of the most successful tennis careers by a player from the state of Georgia, winning seven pro titles and defeating four of the world's top-10 players in the 1990's. Some of Thorne's notable victories include wins over Richard Krajicek, Wayne Ferreira, Mark Philippoussis and Todd Martin. As a pro, he achieved his highest singles ranking of No. 121 and a doubles ranking of No. 67. Thorne brings his love of tennis and impressive professional playing experience to his alma mater, Georgia Tech.

Charged with building the Georgia Tech tennis program back to the level it was when he was a player, Thorne was named to the newly-created position of Director of Tennis on June 30, 1998, becoming the ninth head coach in Tech men's tennis history.

Thorne took over the reins of the Tech program after spending one season as the team's assistant coach and wasted little time in taking steps toward his ultimate goal of turning the Yellow Jackets into a contender.

The Yellow Jackets have reached the NCAA Championship 12 times in his 18 years at the helm, and six of those have advanced past the opening round. Tech made it back for the second straight year in 2016 with its best record since 2011 (17-9, 8-4 ACC). After a two-year absence, the 2010 and 2011 teams reached the second and third rounds of the tournament, respectively, finished fourth in the Atlantic Coast Conference each time (15-7 record), while posting a combined 39-14 dual match record.

Over the last eight years, Thorne has developed two of the best singles players in Tech history, Guillermo Gomez (2008-11) and current rising junior Christopher Eubanks, both of whom earned ACC Player of the Year honors. He has also developed two of the best doubles players in Tech history, Juan Spir, who advanced to the NCAA Doubles Championship semifinals in 2012 and quarterfinals in 2013 with different partners. Spir and Kevin King, Spir's doubles partner for 75 of his Tech-record 103 victories, played in the NCAA Singles Championship as well.

Under Thorne's guidance, Tech had at least one ITA All-American every year from 2009-13, and has had at least one All-Atlantic Coast Conference honoree each year since 2008.

Tech's 2011 team finished the year ranked 13th in the nation and reached the round of 16 at the NCAA Championship, both high-water marks for Tech tennis under Thorne. Tech's 21 wins in 2011 were the most for the Jackets under Thorne and the second most in the history of the program.

As a result, the Tech alum was named the ITA National Coach of the Year, becoming only the fourth Georgia Tech head coach ever to receive such an honor.

Thorne built those Tech squads around four-time All-ACC honoree Gomez, who was named the ACC Player of the Year in 2011 and earned ITA All-American honors three times, and broke Thorne's record for career singles victories. He also recruited another pair of ITA All-Americans in King and Spir, who formed one of the top 10 doubles teams nationally and developed into top-of-the-lineup players in singles, both earning NCAA bids in 2012.

Tech's last two teams in 2015 and 2016 have been built around Eubanks, a five-star junior player from Atlanta who has helped the Jackets earn NCAA Championship appearances each year and a 31-21 overall record, while Eubanks himself rose to No. 7 in the ITA singles rankings.

Thirteen of Thorne's Tech teams have finished the spring ranked among the top 50 in the ITA team rankings, and eight of them have finished in the top half of the perennially powerful Atlantic Coast Conference.

He has coached 10 different players to All-ACC honors 21 times, and three of his players have been named ACC Player of the Year. Nine different players have earned ITA All-America honors.

Also under Thorne's watch, 13 players have earned bids to the NCAA Singles Championship and eight have made the NCAA Doubles Championship field.

Other highlights include:

- During the 2003 campaign, Georgia Tech earned a spot in the NCAA Tournament and climbed into the 14th spot in the national rankings midway through the year. The Jackets also boasted their first All-America honorees since 1988, as the doubles team of Roger Anderson and Scott Schnugg earned the honor after finishing the year as the country's 10th-ranked tandem. The duo also earned All-ACC honors after winning the league's Flight One Doubles title. Tech finished with a 12-10 record and notched seven wins over ranked opponents, including a 4-2 victory over ninth-ranked Texas on February 16.

- In 2002, Tech defeated eight ranked teams and reached the finals of the ACC Championship, en route to a 15-11 dual-match record, while also reaching the NCAA Tournament for the third time in four years under Thorne. In the ACC Tournament, the Jackets upset top-seeded and 14th-ranked Duke in the semifinals by a 4-0 score and ended the Blue Devils four-year reign as ACC Champions. On an individual level, Roger Anderson earned All-ACC honors for the second time and earned his first berth in the NCAA Individual Championship, becoming the first Tech player to do so since 1999.

- During the 2000-01 season, Thorne made great strides toward achieving his goal. When the Yellow Jackets climbed to No. 20 in the national rankings on April 11, they claimed their highest ranking since 1988, when Thorne was an All-American and team captain.

- Thorne led the 2001 Yellow Jackets to the second round of the NCAA Tournament. Roger Anderson earned All-Atlantic Coast Conference honors and three Tech players earned ACC Flight championships in singles or doubles.

- Under Thorne's guidance in 2000, Anderson became the first Tech player to earn ACC Rookie of the Year honors after leading the Yellow Jackets with a 24-8 singles record, including a 15-5 mark in dual matches.

- In his first year as head coach in 1999, Thorne earned ACC Coach of the Year honors after guiding the Yellow Jackets to a second-place tie in the regular-season conference standings, a runner-up finish at the ACC Tournament, an NCAA Regional berth and a final national ranking of 32 by the Intercollegiate Tennis Association (ITA). Senior Benjamin Cassaigne was named the ACC Player of the Year, earned all-conference honors and captured the ACC Flight Championship at No. 1 singles.

- With Tech's 1999 NCAA Regional berth, Thorne became the first person in ACC history and just the second nationally, joining LSU's Jeff Brown, to lead the same school to post-season competition as a player, assistant coach and head coach since the current NCAA team dual-match format was instituted in 1977. (Prior to 1977, team finishes were determined by an accumulation of points based on individual play.) Thorne helped Tech to NCAA play as a senior in 1988, as an assistant coach in 1998 and as head coach in 1999.

Thorne earned an Industrial Engineering degree from Tech in 1989 and during his four seasons as a player from 1985-88, the Jackets posted a 70-38 dual-match record and a 20-7 ACC mark, including wins over nationally-ranked foes such as Georgia and Clemson in 1988, his final season. Tech climbed as high as 10th in the ITA national rankings during Thorne's senior season before the Jackets ended the year ranked 12th nationally.

He qualified for the NCAA singles tournament in 1986 and 1988 and advanced to the second round on both occasions. Thorne also competed in the 1988 NCAA doubles tourney with partner Bryan Shelton. After turning professional in 1989, Thorne spent eight years on the tour, achieving his highest singles ranking of 121 and doubles ranking of 67 in the world. He was also a six-time participant at Wimbledon, the U.S. Open, French Open and Australian Open.

Thorne's best career wins were over 1996 Wimbledon champion Richard Krajicek, ATP No. 11 Wayne Ferreira, Australia's Mark Philippoussis and Todd Martin of the United States. He posted two career ATP doubles titles, one career Challenger singles title and four career Challenger doubles titles.

An All-American in 1988, Thorne finished his Georgia Tech playing career as a four-time All-ACC honoree and the career leader in singles victories with 112. He was also a two-time captain and an Academic All-ACC honoree. Thorne was inducted into the Georgia Tech Athletic Hall of Fame in 1995.

Thorne married former Yellow Jacket cross country standout and Tech Hall of Fame inductee, Bridget Koster, in 1990. The couple has two daughters, Rachel and Kenedy, and two sons, Zachary and Daniel. Rachel is a distance runner on the Tech track team.

COACHING STAFF

DEREK SCHWANDT

ASSISTANT COACH
RICHMOND, 2005
4TH YEAR AT TECH

A former assistant coach for the men's tennis program at Fresno State and Virginia, Derek Schwandt joined the Georgia Tech men's tennis program in July of 2012.

In his first three years at Tech, he has helped the Yellow Jackets secure two recruiting classes ranked among the top 15 in the nation according to the Tennis Recruiting Network. Tech's 2013 class was ranked 11th, and the 2014 incoming class was ranked 14th. He also has helped guide the Yellow Jackets to two straight NCAA Team Championship berths following a three-year absence and produce a bona fide All-American in Christopher Eubanks, who is ranked No. 7 in the nation.

In addition, Schwandt has been recognized for his efforts at Tech by being named to the coaching staff for the USTA Collegiate National Team for the summer of 2014 and 2015. In his two years at Fresno State, Schwandt helped the Bulldogs win two straight Western Athletic Conference regular season and tournament championships and rise to No. 14 in the Intercollegiate Tennis Association rankings in 2012.

"It's an honor to have the opportunity to work with Kenny Thorne at one of the best institutions and athletic programs in the country," said Schwandt. "This is something that I've been working towards, and a lot of people have helped me get to this point in my coaching career. I'm very excited about our team's potential at Georgia Tech, and I'm looking forward to training hard and competing in the ACC and NCAA."

Schwandt was heavily involved in all aspects of the Fresno State program, from coaching to recruiting, travel, budgeting, conditioning and directing ITA events. The Bulldogs' team grade-point average exceeded 3.3 during each of his two years, and five members of the team made the All-WAC Academic team.

"Derek is one of the hardest workers I have been around, which fits in well with our expectations for staff and team," said Thorne. "He brings a great deal of knowledge and experience from his years coaching at UVA and at Fresno State. He has also worked at the Philadelphia USTA regional training center with some great coaches. He did a great job recruiting at Fresno State, so he will be instrumental in bringing in the best student-athletes that are champions on and off the court. Most importantly, Derek is a person with great integrity. Our program stands for and demands integrity on and off court. Derek represents Georgia Tech well in all areas."

In 2012, Fresno State defeated No. 9 Stanford for the first time in program history, catapulting the team to No. 14 in the country. After winning a second consecutive WAC Tournament title, the Bulldogs went to their second straight NCAA Tournament and fell to No. 27 San Diego in the first round.

Under Schwandt's leadership, Remi Boutillier and Francis Alcantara received bids to play in the NCAA Singles and Doubles Championships in 2012. There, No. 27 Boutillier advanced to the second round while No. 43 Alcantara fell in the first round. As a doubles team, they fell to Georgia Tech's Kevin King and Juan Spir in the first round.

In 2011, he helped lead the Bulldogs to their first WAC Tournament title since 1999 and a No. 37 national team ranking. In the 2011 NCAA Tournament, Fresno State defeated No. 19 Minnesota in the first round before falling 4-3 to No. 14 Cal.

KEVIN KING

VOLUNTEER COACH
1ST YEAR AT TECH

Former Georgia Tech All-American tennis player Kevin King joined the Yellow Jackets' men's tennis program as a volunteer assistant coach in January of 2015.

King, who starred for Tech from 2008-12 and graduated with honors in mechanical engineering in 2012, is taking time off from professional tennis to recover from injuries to both his hips and is replacing Brad Horton, who served as volunteer coach the last four years.

"When Kevin decided to play for Georgia Tech in 2008, I said he was the perfect Georgia Tech student-athlete fit," said Thorne. "Eight years later, I am still saying he is the perfect Georgia Tech fit. He excelled in the classroom and on the court. We are honored to have him on our coaching staff this year. He will bring the highest level of college experience as well as the highest level of current pro experience to our staff."

The highest-ranked American recruit ever to enroll in Tech's men's tennis program, King left as one of its best-ever doubles players, earning ITA All-American honors in 2011 and All-Atlantic Coast Conference honors in 2010, 2011 and 2012. He played near the top of Tech's singles lineup (ranked as high as No. 7 in the nation as a senior) and teamed with Juan Spir to form one of the nation's best doubles teams (ranked as high as No. 2 during the 2011-12 year), and the best ever to play at Tech. The Peachtree City, Ga., resident finished his career with 87 doubles wins (87-39 record), breaking the previous mark of 82 set by Sergio Aquirre. He teamed with Spir for 66 of those wins (66-22 career, in dual matches, 19-8 vs. ACC), and also compiled an 80-41 career singles record, 25-15 in ACC matches.

He has played professionally on the ITF Pro Circuit and ATP Tour since his graduation in 2012, and has earned berths in the Wimbledon championships and the BB&T Atlanta Open. He has won three ATP Challenger doubles titles playing with his former Tech teammate Spir, two of them on clay-court surfaces and one on hard-court. His high-water marks in the ATP rankings have been No. 287 in singles (Apr. 27, 2015) and No. 114 in doubles (July 28, 2014). He is currently ranked No. 294 in singles and No. 126 in doubles.

From 2008-2010, Schwandt was the volunteer assistant coach for top ranked Virginia. There, he received full-time experience in running practice sessions, coaching in dual-matches, recruiting, administration and directing ITA fall tournaments.

During Schwandt's time at UVA, the Cavaliers won the 2009 and 2010 ITA national team indoor championship, the 2009 and 2010 ACC championship and the 2009 and 2010 NCAA doubles title. They also reached the quarterfinals of the NCAA Championship in 2009, and the semi-finals in 2010. He coached under Brian Boland, the 2008 ITA National Coach of the Year, and Tony Bresky, the 2005 ITA National Assistant Coach of the Year.

From 2005 to 2008, Schwandt played ITF futures and ATP challengers all over the world, including tournaments in South America, Mexico, Canada, Central America and India. He earned an ATP world ranking in singles and doubles. His best win was over Marcus Fugate (500 ATP) 6-7, 7-6, 7-6 in the 2008 Binghamton challenger.

Schwandt completed his master's degree in sport psychology, with a 4.0 grade-point average, at Fresno State in May of 2012. His book review on John Wooden was published in the June 2012 issue of The Sport Psychologist.

Schwandt graduated from the University of Richmond in 2005 with a bachelor's degree in business administration, concentrating in economics. At Richmond, he was part of three Atlantic 10 conference championships (2002, 2004, 2005) and three NCAA team tournament appearances. He was named to the All-Atlantic 10 team in 2004 and 2005.
