HEAD COACH - ROBERT GRAY

19th year - Washington State, 1993

Robert Gray is in his 19th season at Gonzaga University, his 10th year as the men's only coach after serving in both capacities as the men's and women's coach for eight years.

In 2015-16, Gray directed Sean Walsh to the NCAA Championships. Walsh was selected co-Player of the Year by the West Coast Conference, and finished his GU career as the program's all-time season and career scoring average leader.

Gray guided James Fahy to the NCAA Championships in 2015, marking the program's first player to ever qualify for the event. Fahy finished his career with a 74.25 stroke average, which sits second in program history. The team finished with a 295.92 scoring average, the lowest in program history.

The Bulldogs posted back-to-back school-record finishes at the West Coast Conference Championships in both 2012 and 2013. The Zags finished a school-best fourth at the 2012 championships, and then made another huge step in the program, tying for third at the 2013 championships.

Gonzaga also earned its first tournament title since 2005, winning the Wyoming Cowboy Classic.

The 2013 season also saw two players earn All-WCC first team accolades. James Fahy - who put together the best finish in school history, placing second at the league championships, and Sean Walsh each earned conference honors. Walsh also became the second-ever Zag to be named WCC Freshman of the Year.

Besides placing fourth at the 2012 WCC Championships, the Bulldogs posted their lowest team total, shooting a 867. Peter Gullickson earned All-WCC first team honors after carding GU's lowest 54-hole league tournament score with a 212; tying him for sixth.

The Bulldogs had their inaugural All-West Coast Conference selections in 2009 in Derek Cheney and Kyle Huus. The Bulldog duo tied for fifth at 214, the then-lowest 54-hole WCC Tournament score in Bulldog history. Gonzaga's 54-hole score of 873 was also the team's then-best in WCC Tournament play.

In 2011 the Bulldogs Travis Johnsen matched Cheney and Huus' WCC exploits by shooting a 214 to finish fourth overall for the best individual finish in Gonzaga's history and earned All-WCC first-team honors. Gray also recruited the 2007 WCC Freshman of the Year in Brandon Crick, the first Bulldog to receive that honor.

And while the Bulldogs are getting it done on the course, they are also achieving in the classroom. Gonzaga has had five Golf Coaches Association of America All-American Scholars in Matt Monroe in 2005; Trevor Loe in 2007; Cheney in 2009 and 2010, and Huus in 2010. Gonzaga received an All-Academic Team award from the Golf Coaches Association of America for having a team GPA of 3.0 or higher for the 2008-09 academic year, the first year of the award. The Bulldogs were one of 10 NCAA Division I programs to receive President's Special Recognition status for a team GPA of 3.5 or better on the All-Academic Team awards for 2009-10 as announced by the Golf Coaches Association of America. Gonzaga was also one of 113 teams in Division I, II, III, NAIA and the junior college ranks to receive All-America Team honors for a team GPA of 3.0 or better.

The 2003 West Coast Conference Men's Golf Coach of the Year, Gray has been active on the local golf scene for more than 18 years, with 13 years of professional experience. A member of the Washington State University golf team for the 1992-93 season, Gray graduated from WSU in 1993 with a bachelor of science degree in landscape architecture. In November of 1993, Gray joined the professional golfing ranks and achieved membership in the PGA of America on Jan. 1, 1997.
