SEASON NOTABLES

Season Ends With 3-1 Setback to #4 Creighton in MVC Quarterfinals

For the third time this season, Illinois State's volleyball team dropped a four-game decision to Creighton, as the No. 4 Bluejays ended the fifth-seeded Redbirds' season (30-15, 30-23, 33-35, 30-21) in the quarterfinal round of the 2006 State Farm Missouri Valley Conference Tournament at Redbird Arena. Creighton junior Kelly Goc collected a match-high 22 kills with a .379 hitting percentage, and Jessica Houts added 15 kills. The Redbirds were led by M.C. Richmond's 16 kills. Senior outside hitter Lindley McDavid contributed 12 kills in her final match at Redbird Arena.

Five Redbirds Collect All-Valley Honors

For just the fourth time in program history, Illinois State had five players elected to the three All-Missouri Valley Conference teams. ISU's sophomore duo of setter Erin Lindsey and middle blocker M.C. Richmond was named to the all-Valley first-team; junior middle blocker Kari Staehlin was a second-team honoree, and freshmen Kasey Mollerus and Katie Seyller garnered MVC all-Newcomer team recognition. Last season, Illinois State had a program record six players elected to the all-Valley teams. Lindsey and Staehlin collected second-team plaudits, and Lindsey was tabbed the MVC Freshman of the Year.

Four Redbirds Named to MVC Scholar-Athlete Team

After leading the Redbirds to the 2006 State Farm Missouri Valley Conference tournament, senior outside hitter Lindley McDavid, junior middle blocker Kari Staehlin, and sophomores Erin Lindsey and M.C. Richmond were all selected as Missouri Valley Conference scholar athletes. Lindsey and Staehlin were both placed on the MVC All-Academic first-team, while McDavid and Richmond were honorable mention selections. McDavid and Staehlin are both repeat selections to the team, as each was named to the honorable mention squad last season.

Diggin' Into the Record Book

Illinois State's 2,199 team digs in 2006 set a single-season record. The Redbirds' previous single-season best was 2,158 digs in the 1984 campaign.

A Memorable End to the Regular Season

The Redbirds won eight of their final ten Missouri Valley Conference matches, including four of their last five. ISU ended the season with back-to-back road wins over Wichita State (Nov. 17) and Missouri State (Nov. 18), the first time the `Birds have accomplished that feat since the 1999 season.

Finishing Off the Regular Season in Style

Fifth-year senior outside hitter Lindley McDavid had a fitting end to her final regular season match as a Redbird. She recorded a career-high 20 kills in leading Illinois State to a thrilling five-game win over host Missouri State. McDavid averaged 3.69 kills-per-game in ISU's back-to-back wins over Wichita State and the Bears.

Mollerus Completes Record-Setting Freshman Season

Freshman libero Kasey Mollerus averaged 6.67 digs-per-game in helping the Redbirds defeat the respective second and third-place teams in the Valley last weekend. In the four-game win over Wichita State (Nov. 17), Mollerus had a season-high 33 digs (8.25 dpg) to spearhead a 130-dig team effort, the best four-game total in ISU history. It was Mollerus' third 30-plus dig effort of the season, officially clinching just the second time an ISU freshman has accomplished that feat.

The MVC Tournament at Redbird Arena

There's no place like home, and there's no place for the State Farm MVC Volleyball Tournament than Redbird Arena. The 2006 tournament was held at the facility for the fifth time in Valley history, and in Normal, Ill., for a conference record eighth time.

Illinois State All-Time in the MVC Tournament

Dating back to the 1982 season, Illinois State is a combined 27-17 in the Gateway and Missouri Valley Conference Tournaments. The Redbirds captured tournament titles in the 1983, 1984, 1985, 1988, 1989, 1992, 1996 and 1997 seasons. The eight tournament titles are second to just Northern Iowa (11) in the all-time MVC annals.

A Familiar Thanksgiving Setting

One sacrifice that a Redbird volleyball player has been accustomed to making in the 25-year history of the Valley is to be spending each Thanksgiving with their teammates preparing for the postseason conference tournament. Illinois State is the only volleyball program to qualify for and participate in all 25 Gateway/Missouri Valley Conference tournaments.

Dingman-Led MVC Tournament Teams

Sharon Dingman coached Redbird volleyball teams have a combined 5-7 record in the State Farm MVC Tournament. In just her first season (2000), Dingman led her team to the championship match of the tournament at Terre Haute, Ind. The Redbirds have advanced to at least the semifinal round of the tournament in five of her six seasons at Illinois State.

Right Where They Were Picked

Illinois State was picked fifth in the preseason head coaches' poll last August, and at the end of the season, that is exactly where they finished. In fact, four of the top six preseason selections finished in the exact order of the Valley preseason poll, and the second and third-place teams reversed positions. Northern Iowa, picked first in the preseason, was the regular season champion and went on to win the tournament title; Missouri State, tabbed second in the preseason, finished third in the regular season, but advanced to the championship match of the MVC Tournament; Wichita State was picked third, but finished second in the Valley with a 15-3 slate; Creighton's preseason prognostications held up as they finished fourth overall, and Southern Illinois finished in their preseason position of sixth overall.

Janik Earns Athletic Department's Top Honor

Senior outside hitter Jessie Janik was named the second recipient of the Linda Herman Female Scholar-Athlete of the Year award. Herman was present at the 2006 State Farm Student-Athlete Academic Excellence Banquet to award the accolade named in her honor to Janik. She tallied career-highs in kills, total attacks, hitting percentage and points scored in 2006. Starting the season as a reserve defensive specialist, Janik saw her first action as an outside hitter on October 17 in a win at Valparaiso, where she recorded her first career double-double with a career-best 11 kills to go along with 10 digs. The Lemont, Ill., native was the inaugural recipient of the Dr. Linda Herman Endowment (2006), and received the 2003 Kelly Meisner Courage Award. An AFNI Athletics Honor roll member in seven consecutive semesters, Janik was also the leader of the 2006 ISU Preview Guides, welcoming incoming freshmen to campus each fall. Janik will complete her undergraduate education at Illinois State in May, 2007, with a double major in food, nutrition and dietetics and public relations.

Lindsey Named CoSIDA Academic All-District

Last season, Illinois State setter Erin Lindsey's list of individual accolades included being named one of Collegiate Volleyball Update's 14 "National Rising Stars," the Missouri Valley Conference Freshman of the Year, and collecting honorable mention all-MVC honors. In 2006, her role increased, and on Nov. 9, she received the first of what may be another long list of individual achievements. Lindsey was named CoSIDA third-team Academic All-District. Lindsey carries a 3.73 grade-point-average in the Illinois State physics curriculum. She was named to the Valley honor roll last spring, and was an AFNI Athletics Honor Roll recipient in the 2005 fall semester.

Six Former Redbirds Named to MVC All-Centennial Team

Six former Illinois State volleyball players were named to the Missouri Valley Conference All-Centennial Team, which was released by the league office on Nov. 16. Former Redbirds garnering recognition on the team included Stacey Anderson (1986-90), Kendra Haselhorst (1997-01), Jolene Jordan (1982-86), Julie Mueller (1982-85), Kim Nelson (1990-94) and Chris Rehor (1985-89). The six selections to the team was the second-highest Valley total, behind Northern Iowa (7).

Dingman Inks Three Recruits in Early Signing Period

Illinois State volleyball head coach Sharon Dingman reiterated numerous times this season that the Redbirds' team athleticism would be an element that would help them win their fair share of Missouri Valley Conference matches. After Dingman released the details of her 2007 recruiting class, it is apparent that she is focused on bolstering the team's size and depth up front for next season when she announced the signings of Katie Culbertson, Hailey Kelley and Mallory Leggett. Culbertson is a 6-foot-3, right side hitter that led Hononegah High School to the super sectional title. Kelley is a Chicago Heights native, and attended Bloom High School. The 6-foot-2 middle blocker has only been playing organized volleyball since 9th grade, but has "loads of potential" according to Dingman. Leggett, a 6-foot outside hitter, attends Maroa-Forsyth High School, and plays for the Illini Elite, where she played club volleyball with current freshman middle blocker Katie Seyller.
