    Managing Director of Academic and Membership Affairs/Division I
    Governance Liaison.

SUBJECT: Information regarding the 2012 National Basketball Association (NBA) draft, agents and tryouts.

We understand that you may have remaining intercollegiate eligibility, but may also have a desire to "test the waters" as it relates to your pursuit of a potential professional basketball career. You will attempt to gauge your readiness for competition at the next level through a variety of methods, including tryouts with professional teams, and you will undoubtedly rely on a number of individuals to assist in the decision-making process.

At the end of this process, you may, in fact, reach the conclusion that it is not in the best interest to pursue a professional career at this time, but rather to continue athletics participation at the intercollegiate level while pursuing your academic degree.

Involvement in activities during this process can affect your intercollegiate eligibility. The following information is designed to help you protect your eligibility while you "test the waters."

Seven Points to Remember:

You will lose your eligibility IF:

1. You agree orally or in writing to be represented by an agent or any individual acting on behalf of the agent (e.g., runner).

2. You accept any benefits from an agent, a prospective agent or any individual acting on behalf of the agent (e.g., runner).

3. If you participate in a tryout with an NBA team that lasts longer than 48 hours, which you have not personally financed.

4. If you use an advisor throughout the process and do not pay the going rate for the advising services.
5. If you tryout with a professional team during the academic year and miss class.

6. If you enter the draft AND do not take the appropriate steps to withdraw and declare your intention to resume intercollegiate participation.

7. If you enter the draft AND are drafted by a professional team.

Key Dates:

Portsmouth Invitational Tournament (Portsmouth, Virginia): April 11-14, 2012 (seniors only).

NBA Teams Can Conduct or Attend Workouts with Early-Entry Players: May 3, 2012.

NCAA Withdrawal Date: April 10, 2012.

NBA Early-Entry Withdrawal Deadline: June 18, 2012.

Frequently Asked Questions:

1. Am I allowed to enter the NBA Draft early?

   Yes. You may enter a professional basketball league's draft one time during your collegiate career without jeopardizing your eligibility; provided you are not drafted by any team and you declare your intention to resume intercollegiate participation by April 10, 2012. This declaration must be in writing to your director of athletics.

2. If I remove my name from draft consideration by the April 10, 2012, NCAA deadline, am I allowed to participate in the NBA Draft Combine in late May?

   No. If you choose to withdraw from the 2012 NBA Draft by the April 10, 2012, deadline, you are not permitted to attend the combine. If you have any questions regarding the NBA Draft Combine, please contact Ned Cohen with the NBA at 212/407-8355.

3. Can my college coach assist with the logistical issues associated with an on- or off-campus workouts/tryouts (e.g., arranging and scheduling of a professional team workout/tryout) during the academic year?

Yes. It would be permissible for a student-athlete's institutional head coach to assist in the logistical arrangements for a student-athlete to engage in a professional tryout that occurs on or off campus; however, it would not be permissible for a coach to assist in conducting or be present at such workouts/tryouts.

4. Can NBA teams pay for my private workouts/tryouts?

Yes. You may tryout with an NBA team if you are enrolled full time as long as you do not miss class. You may receive actual and necessary expenses from the NBA team in conjunction with one 48-hour tryout per team. The 48-hour tryout period begins when you arrive at the tryout location. At the completion of the 48-hour period, you must depart the location of the tryout immediately in order to receive transportation expenses.

5. Can any other individual (e.g., agent, runner or "advisor") pay for my private workouts/tryouts with NBA teams?

No. Unless an NBA team pays for your expenses in conjunction with a private workout or tryout, you and your family are responsible for paying all expenses associated with any tryouts as they are incurred.

6. Can I pay for my own private workouts/tryouts with NBA teams?

Yes. A tryout may extend beyond 48 hours if the individual self-fines additional expenses, including return transportation. A self-financed tryout may be for any length of time, provided you don't miss class.

7. When is the deadline to withdraw from the draft?

In order to remain eligible to compete in intercollegiate basketball, you must withdraw your name from the draft by April 10, 2012. However, the NBA allows for you to wait until June 13, 2012, before you must withdraw your name from the draft.

8. How do I withdraw my name from the draft?

The NBA has requested that all underclassmen who submitted their early-entry declaration submit a written statement by 5 p.m. Eastern time, June 13, 2012, indicating the following:

"I, [Student-Athlete, of name of NCAA college/university], officially notify the NBA of my request to withdraw my name from consideration in the 2012 NBA Draft." In addition to the above information, please include contact information and date of submission.

[Note: You must withdraw by April 10, 2012, to remain eligible to compete in intercollegiate athletics.]

An agent is any individual who, directly or indirectly:

(a) Represents or attempts to represent an individual for the purpose of marketing his or her athletics ability or reputation for financial gain; or

10. Am I allowed to have any type of agreement with an agent?

No. You are not permitted to have a written or oral agreement with an agent, or anyone who is employed by or acting on behalf of an agent or sports agency (i.e., "runner").

11. What is an "oral agreement" with an agent?

An oral agreement occurs if you verbally agree to have an agent marketing your basketball skills on your behalf OR you have knowledge that an agent is performing such services.

No. You cannot have an agent arrange a private workout/tryout with an NBA team.

13. Can my family members or other individuals who are associated with me as a result of playing basketball (e.g., high school coach, summer basketball coach, etc.) have an agreement with an agent to perform services on my behalf?

No. Family members and other individuals are not permitted to enter into any agreements with an agent on your behalf.
14. _Am I allowed to have an agreement with an agent if it is for future representation?_

No. You are not permitted to agree to a future representation agreement with an agent.

15. _Is an agent allowed to provide me any benefits?_

No. You, your family, or your friends are not permitted to receive any benefits from an agent. 16. _Am I permitted to have an advisor during this process?_

Yes, provided the advisor does not market you to NBA teams. However, it is not permissible for the advisor to contact teams on your behalf to arrange private workouts or tryouts. [Note: If you receive assistance from an advisor, you must compensate the advisor in an amount equal to the value of the services he or she provides you; furthermore, you may not receive such services at a free or reduced rate without jeopardizing your eligibility, regardless of whether the advisor does not typically charge clients for such services.]

17. _May a sports agent or booster play a role in securing a loan to pay for disability insurance?_

No. Do not allow a third party (including a sports agent, your institution's athletics department staff members or boosters) to be involved in any arrangement for securing a loan to pay for disability insurance.

18. _Can an institution cancel my athletics scholarship if I have an agreement with an agent?_

Yes. An institution is permitted to rescind your athletics scholarship if you have an agreement with an agent.

Helpful Tips:

- You should keep your head coach and compliance coordinator informed of all activities during this process.

- Be careful who you associate with during this process. Do it all yourself or work through your head coach. You may receive the assistance of your family members, provided they are not working with any individual who is marketing your athletic ability (e.g., contacting NBA teams, setting up tryouts with NBA teams).

- If you do not have knowledge of who arranged your tryout, you have a responsibility to find out who did.
• The NBA has an Undergraduate Advisory Committee composed of NBA team executives who will provide a confidential projection of a potential draftee's likely draft position. The committee is overseen by Stu Jackson of the NBA. If you are interested in obtaining a draft projection from the committee, please contact Ned Cohen with the NBA at 212/407-8355.

• You should remain in school and complete your academic courses while you "test the waters."

• If you have questions regarding this information, please contact Angie Cretors at 317/917-6082 or acretors@ncaa.org.
