The Team: Johns Hopkins enjoyed the finest season in school history in 2009 as the Blue Jays posted a 10-3 record, won the Centennial Conference Championship and advanced to the NCAA Quarterfinals.

We Are the Champions: Johns Hopkins won its fifth overall Centennial Conference title in 2009, including its second outright title. JHU had never won a CC Championship prior to 2002, but has now grabbed at least a share of five of the last eight titles. The Blue Jays shared the title in 2002, 2003 and 2004 and took the outright title in 2005 and 2009.

In the Polls: Johns Hopkins closed the season ranked eighth in the final AFCA Division III Coaches Poll, 11th in the d3football.com Poll and second in the Lambert Cup Poll. All three rankings are the highest in school history - final or otherwise. The number eight ranking in the AFCA Poll is the highest final ranking for a Centennial Conference team in the history of that poll (poll debuted in 1999). The Lambert Trophy is presented annually to the top team in the East in each of the four divisions of the NCAA (FBS, FCS, Division II, Division III).

JHU Ties Victory Record: The 10 wins for the Blue Jays this season tied the school record for victories in a season. Previously, JHU had won 10 games in a season just once (2003). The 13 games played and eight road games were also school records.

Unchartered Waters: Johns Hopkins became the first Centennial Conference team to advance to the NCAA Quarterfinals since 1985 when it knocked off previously unbeaten Hampden-Sydney and Thomas More in the first two rounds of the NCAA Playoffs. In addition, the two road wins for the Blue Jays in the NCAA's this season matched the total number of road victories the Centennial Conference had accumulated from 1983-2007.

One of Two: Johns Hopkins was one of just two teams in the nation to win a pair of NCAA Playoff games on the road this season. The Blue Jays won at #14 Hampden-Sydney in the first round and at #10 Thomas More in the second round. Only Albright, which won in the first two rounds on the road as well, also won a pair of playoff games away from home this season.

The Coach: Johns Hopkins is coached by Jim Margraff '82, who is in his 20th season as the head coach at Homewood. Margraff is JHU's all-time leader in games won (129), and coached (207) and concluded the 2009 season with a career record of 129-74-3 (.633). He has more than twice as many wins as any other coach in school history (Ray Van Orman is second with 60 wins) and stands alone with Morgan State’s Eddie Hurt as the only college football coaches in Maryland state history to win 125 or more games. Hurt won 174 games from 1929-59.

For his efforts this season, Margraff was named the d3football.com South Region Coach of the Year.

Winnest FB Coaches - State of Maryland (College Coaches)

1. Eddie Hurt (Morgan St.) 174-51-17 1929-59
2. Jim Margraff (Johns Hopkins) 129-75-3 1990-Present
3. H.C. “Curley” Bird (Maryland) 119-82-15 1911-34
4. Phil Albert (Towson) 117-91-3 1972-91
5. Tim Keating (McDaniel) 103-70-3 1993-Present

Captain, My Captain: In a vote of the returning players on the 2009 team, seniors Andrew Kase, Tim Miller, Glenn Rocca and Colin Wixted were selected as captains for the season. Kase was in his second season as a captain, while this was the first year as a captain for Miller, Rocca and Wixted.

Post-Season History: Johns Hopkins made its sixth post-season appearance since 2002 and second trip to the NCAA Playoffs this season. Including the three playoff games this season, the Blue Jays are 5-3 all-time in the post-season, including 3-1 in ECAC Bowl Games and 2-2 in the NCAAs. The eight post-season games since 2002 represent all eight post-season games in school history.

Below is a look at JHU’s all-time post-season results:
Head Coach Jim Margraff

Jim Margraff (JHU ’82) recently concluded his 20th season as the head coach at Homewood and ranks as the all-time winningest coach in school history with an overall record of 129-75-3 (.630). He picked up career win number 125 with a 58-7 victory over Juniata (10-31-09). The previous record for wins by a JHU football coach was 60.

The 2009 season was the most successful in school history and among the most successful in Centennial Conference history. The Blue Jays grabbed their fifth Centennial title since 2002 and advanced to the NCAA Quarterfinals. JHU finished 8th in the final AFCA Division III Poll, 11th in the final d3football.com Poll and 2nd in the Lambert Cup Poll.

Margraff guided the Blue Jays to a then school-record-tying seven wins in 1996, 1997 and 1998 before leading the Blue Jays to their first-ever post-season appearance (and victory), first-ever Centennial Conference title and a then school-record nine wins in 2002. He topped that in 2003 as JHU posted a 10-1 record with Centennial and ECAC South Atlantic Championships before leading JHU to a 9-2 record and Centennial and ECAC Southeast titles in 2004. JHU made its first appearance in the NCAA Playoffs in 2005, when the Blue Jays also grabbed their first-ever outright CC title. Margraff’s .630 winning percentage is second among JHU coaches who have coached 30 or more games and the Blue Jays are 105-51-1 (.672) since 1995.

Margraff’s Resurrection: Since taking over as the head coach prior to the 1990 season, Jim Margraff has guided JHU to 13 winning seasons and 129 wins. The 120 wins are 21 more than Hopkins accumulated in the 30 previous years combined (1960-89).

Blue Jays Break Scoring Record: Johns Hopkins scored a school-record 388 points on the year. The previous record of 315 was set in 2003 and this is just the third time Johns Hopkins has ever scored 300 or more points in a season.

In addition, JHU’s scoring average of 29.8 points per game ranks as the third-highest single-season average in school history. Only twice (1967, 1968) has Johns Hopkins averaged 30 or more points in a season.

Odds are 50-50: The 58 points Johns Hopkins scored against Juniata on October 31 marked the first time since September 29, 2000 that JHU has scored 50 or more points. JHU totaled 54 that in a 54-13 win against Gettysburg.

The 58 are the most by the Blue Jays since September 19, 1997, when they beat Swarthmore, 73-0.

JHU followed the 58-point effort vs. Juniata with a 51-point outburst against F&M. This marked the first time since 1967 and just the second time in school history that Hopkins has scored 50 or more points in back-to-back games.

In addition, the 109 points Johns Hopkins scored in those two games are the second-most ever in a two-game span in school history.

More Rank: The number three ranking Wesley carried into the NCAA Quarterfinals matched the highest ever for a Johns Hopkins opponent. The Blue Jays previously dropped a 50-27 decision against third-ranked and eventual national finalist Bridgewater early in the 2001 season. The Blue Jays trailed just 27-20 at the half before the Eagles pulled away in the second half.

Win Number 125: The win against Juniata on October 31 was the 125th victory for Jim Margraff as the head coach at Johns Hopkins. In just 20 seasons, Margraff has accounted for more than 27% of the all-time victories in school history (129 of 463-279).

Road Warriors: The Blue Jays posted a 6-2 record on the road this season after punching up a 4-1 record on the road in 2008. JHU is 14-4 since the start of the 2007 season on the road and 36-13 on the road since the start of the 2001 season.

November Reign: Johns Hopkins finished 4-0 this season in games played in the month of November and is 23-4 in the month of November since 2001. Taking it back farther, the Blue Jays are 35-16-1 under head coach Jim Margraff in the month of November.

Taking Flight: Johns Hopkins flew by charter plane (courtesy of the NCAA) to its second round NCAA Playoff game at Thomas More on November 28. This was the first time in program history that the Blue Jays have flown to a game.

Below is a list of the top two-game scoring totals in school history

113 Loyola (87) & St. John’s (MD) (26) ______ 1924
109 Juniata (58) & F&M (51) ______ 2009
107 W&L (34) & Swarthmore (73) ______ 1997
105 Swarthmore (53) & Dickinson (52) ______ 1967

200 and 200: Johns Hopkins totaled 216 rushing yards and 243 passing yards in a 41-23 win over Gettysburg on September 18 and 287 yards rushing and 220 yards passing against Franklin & Marshall. JHU has now totaled 200 or more yards rushing and passing in the same game 25 times since 1955. 13 of those 25 have come over as Jim Margraff took over as the Blue Jays’ coach in 1990. JHU is 11-2 when rushing and passing for 200 or more yards under Margraff and 23-2 overall in such games.

Rare Air: Johns Hopkins totaled 301 passing yards in the regular-season-ending win at McDaniel and followed that with 303 passing yards in the win at #14th-ranked Hampden-Sydney in the first round of the NCAA Playoffs. Amazingly, this marked the first time in school history JHU has thrown for 300 or more yards in back-to-back games. In fact, this marks just the second time in school history that Johns Hopkins has totaled two, 300-yard passing games in one season (1991).

More Rare: Johns Hopkins rang up 414 yards of total offense in second round of the NCAA Playoffs at Thomas More. That marked the fifth straight game JHU has totaled 400 or more yards of total offense. This is the first time in school history Johns Hopkins has ever had 400 or more yards of total offense in five straight games.

Blue Jays Rush for School-Record 28 Touchdowns: Paced by senior All-American Andrew Kase’s school-record 22 rushing touchdowns, Johns Hopkins set a team record with 28 rushing touchdowns on the year. JHU rushed for at least one touchdown in 11 of its 13 games on the year and two or more in eight of those 11. JHU totaled a season-high six rushing touchdowns at Juniata and followed that with five rushing touchdowns against Franklin & Marshall.

Other Rushing Notes of Interest:
- Johns Hopkins rushed for 146 yards at Thomas More in the second round of the NCAA Playoffs. The Blue Jays became the first team this season to rush for more than 97 yards against the Saints, who entered the game as the nation’s second-ranked rushing defense (51.8).

- JHU’s top five rushers (Andrew Kase, Jonathan Rigaud, Tyler Porco, Lyndon O’Connor and Nick Fazio) all averaged at least 4.5 yards per carry.

It’s All Academic

Part I: Johns Hopkins placed two players on the 2009 ESPN The Magazine Academic All-America College Division Football Team it was announced on Tuesday, November 24. Senior offensive lineman Mike Stoffel and senior defensive lineman Steve Levinson both garnered second team honors. This marks the fourth time in school history that JHU has had two players named to the team (1977, 1993, 1998) and JHU’s two selections represent two of the three for the Centennial Conference.

Johns Hopkins was one of seven schools with multiple players named to the team (Minnesota Duluth, MIT, Carnegie Mellon, NW Missouri State and Case Western) and the selection of Stoffel and Levinson marks the fourth time in school history that JHU has had two players named to the team (1977, 1993, 1998) and JHU’s two selections represent two of the three for the Centennial Conference.

Johns Hopkins placed a district-high seven players on the 2009 ESPN The Magazine Academic All-District II Team. Seniors Steve Levinson (DL), Mike Stoffel (OL), Anthony Catanzano (OL) and Glenn Rocca (DL) and sophomore Sam Wernick made the first team, while junior Max Islinger (P) and sophomore Ryan Pietak (LB) earned second team honors.

Johns Hopkins has earned 36 CoSIDA Academic All-District selections since 2003. JHU’s 36 selections in that time are three more the other CC football-playing schools have combined for (33). Taking it back even farther, Johns Hopkins has earned 62 CoSIDA Academic All-District selections since 1991. During that time the other CC football-playing schools have combined for 63 selections. Johns Hopkins has had at least three players earn CoSIDA Academic All-District honors every year since 2001.

Johns Hopkins has had at least three players earn CoSIDA Academic All-District honors every year since 2001.

Part III: Johns Hopkins placed nine players on the 2009 Centennial Conference Football Academic Honor Roll. The nine selections were tied for the most in the league. Individuals named to the team must meet the following criteria: be a sophomore or above in academic standing, maintain a cumulative grade point average of 3.4 or higher and be a starter for significant reserve. The players selected include: Anthony Catanzano (OL), John Fox (OL), Max Islinger (P), Steve Levinson (DL), Dylan Meola (LB), Ryan Pietak (LB), Glenn Rocca (DL), Mike Stoffel (OL), Sam Wernick (WR).
Passing Records Fall: Paced by sophomore Hewitt Tomlin’s record-breaking season, Johns Hopkins set school team records for completions (246), attempts (408) and passing yards (2,809).

Streaking: Since the start of the 2002 season the Blue Jays sport a 63-25 (.716) record. Taking it back farther the Blue Jays are 69-28 (.711) since the start of the 2001 season and 74-33 (.692) since the beginning of the 2000 season. The 74 wins the Blue Jays amassed this decade are the most wins in a decade in school history. The previous record of 55 wins came in the 1990s. To put this in perspective, Johns Hopkins had never won more than seven games in a season prior to this decade. In this decade, the Blue Jays averaged more than seven wins per season (7.4).

Kase Named Third Team All-America, CC Offensive Player of the Year: Senior Andrew Kase garnered Third Team d3football.com All-America honors and was named the Centennial Conference Offensive Player of the Year when the All-Centennial Team was announced on November 16. Kase is the third Johns Hopkins player to earn Offensive Player of the Year honors and he also garnered First Team All-Centennial honors for the second straight year.

Kase led the Centennial and ranked 15th nationally in rushing (118.5 ypg), led the CC and ranked seventh nationally in scoring (11.2 ppg) and finished third in the CC and 46th nationally in all-purpose yards (137.8 ypg.).

Kase, who holds virtually every Johns Hopkins rushing and scoring record, set the Centennial record for single-season touchdowns both rushing and overall. He has three of the five all-time 1,000-yard rushing seasons in school history and he is just the seventh player in Centennial Conference history to reach 4,000 career rushing yards (4,494).

Putting it in Perspective: When reviewing the Johns Hopkins record book, Andrew Kase’s career numbers stand out in nearly every category. Here is a closer look at some of Kase’s numbers:

Andrew Kase’s ...
- 44 rushing touchdowns in the last two years alone are 19 more than any other player in school history.
- 3,175 rushing yards in the last two years alone are more than any other player in school history.
- 25 career 100-yard games are more than the next two players in school history have combined.
- Three 1,000-yard seasons are one more than every other running back in school history has combined.

Select Company: In addition to his exploits on the JHU and Centennial Conference record books, senior Andrew Kase also became just the fourth collegiate running back in Maryland state history to top 4,000 career rushing yards and he finishes his career ranked second on the state’s career rushing list. Below is a look at the top rushers in state history:

Tomlin Rolls: Sophomore quarterback Hewitt Tomlin put together one of the best seasons in school history by a quarterback and will return - along with JHU’s top three receivers - next season with a chance to break virtually every passing record in school history.

Tomlin set school records with 238 completions, 390 attempts, 2,642 passing yards, nine 200-yard passing games and 2,685 yards of total offense and also set a school mark for completion percentage (.610). In addition, his 17 TD passes were just one shy of the JHU single-season record.

In just two seasons Tomlin ranks fifth in school history in career completions (392), attempts (665) and passing yards (4,489) and tied for ninth in touchdown passes (26). He is also second with 14, 200-yard passing games to his credit and has a 17-5 record in his 22 career starts.

Choose Your Poison: A big part of the Johns Hopkins offense this season was a deep and talented receiving corps that counted three players with 50 or more receptions and seven different players with 11 catches or more. Most impressively, the top three pass-catchers and six of the top seven are all due to return next season.

Junior Dan Crowley turned in one of the great all-time receiving performances in school history in the win at Hampden-Sydney in the first round of the NCAA Playoffs as he totaled career highs of 13 receptions for 178 yards. His 13 receptions are tied for the second-highest single-game total in school history, while his 178 receiving yards are the 12th-highest single-game total. He added seven receptions for 116 yards, including a 63-yard touchdown catch to open the game, in second round win at Thomas More.

Crowley posted a team-high 69 receptions for 975 yards with five touchdowns to his credit. His reception and receiving yards totals are the third-highest single-season totals in school history. Crowley also crackers the 1,000 career receiving yards mark at Hampden-Sydney and now has 1,167 yards to his credit.

Junior Tucker Michels and sophomore Sam Wernick provided the perfect complement to Crowley as both totaled 51 receptions on the year. Michels’ 51 receptions went for 701 yards and four touchdowns, while Wernick’s 51 catches were good for 451 yards and one score.

Michels (141 career receptions for 1,662 yards), Wernick (88-1,114) and Crowley (80-1,167) are the first trio of receivers to be on the team at the same time with more than 1,000 career receiving yards. They are also the first trio of receivers in school history to be on the team at the same time with more than 80 receptions each.

Lachman Shatters School Records: When All-American Ben Scott graduated after the 2006 season, he took with him most of JHU’s place-kicking records - marks that most assumed would last a long time. As it turned out, a long time ended up being just three years as junior place-kicker Alex Lachman has dropped Scott to number two on most of those kicking lists.

Lachman lived the dream of every kicker at Thomas More in the second round of the NCAA Playoffs when he lifted the Blue Jays past the Saints with a 43-yard field goal as time expired. It was his seventh career field goal of 40 yards or longer and the second he has kicked to win a game on the final play (he beat Dickinson with a 40-yarder on the final play in 2007).

Lachman set JHU single-season records for extra points made (45) and attempted (48), field goals made (16) and attempted (21) and points scored by a kicker (93). Lachman’s 16 field goals tied the Centennial Conference single-season record as well.

Lachman’s 93 points this season improved his career total to 200, which is one point more than Scott’s previous school record. In addition, he is now 98-of-105 on extra points and 34-of-44 on field goals in his career. He holds the JHU career records for extra points made and attempted, ranks second in field goals made and third in field goals attempted.

Leading the Way: Johns Hopkins enjoyed one of the finest offensive seasons in school history as the Blue Jays ranked among the Centennial Conference leaders in scoring offense (29.8), rushing average (216.1) and total offense (379.0). While the players who carry, throw and catch the ball get most of the attention, the Blue Jay offense was led in large part by a seasoned offensive line.

Seniors Mike Stoffel, Tim Miller and Anthony Catanzano, junior Ryan Lino and sophomore Ed Rodger were the primary starters on the line, with senior John Fox and sophomore Doug Drummond also seeing regular action. The unit allowed just seven sacks on 415 pass attempts this season. The seven sacks JHU allowed ranked as the fifth-fewest in the nation.

How good was the JHU offensive line? All five of JHU’s starters earned All-Centennial honors as Stoffel and Miller garnered first team honors, Rodger and Catanzano earned second team status and Lino grabbed honorable mention kudos. This is the first time in Centennial Conference history that a team has had all five of its starting offensive linemen earn All-CC honors.

Defense Among Nation’s Best: The Johns Hopkins defense ranked first in rushing defense (84.6), second in scoring defense (16.5) and total defense (269.6) and fifth in passing defense. JHU also led the Centennial Conference with 30 interceptions, 38 sacks and 41 forced turnovers. The Blue Jays tied for the national lead with their school-record 30 INTs and finished in the top 30 in the nation in turnover margin (8th), rushing defense (20th), total defense (23rd) and scoring defense (29th).

Other Defensive Notes of Interest:
- JHU allowed a total of just 110 points in the last eight games of the season (13.8 ppg).
- The Blue Jays’ last seven opponents combined for a total of 412 rushing yards against the Blue Jays (58.9). F&M was held to -20 rushing yards, while Juniata was held to 0. Hampden-Sydney managed just 29 yards on 13 carries in the playoff opener.
- Johns Hopkins forced two or more turnovers in all 13 games this season and has forced two or more in each of the last 14 games dating back to last season.
- The Blue Jay defense forced at least three turnovers in each of its three NCAA Playoff games (11 total) and posted 19 tackles for losses in those three games.

Sophomore Sensations: A quick glance at the JHU tackle charts reveals that three of the top four tacklers and five of the top eight are sophomores. Sophomore Mike Milano led the Blue Jays in tackles with 84 and was followed closely by classmate Ryan Platek (2nd / 78 tackles).

Schwyer Makes His Mark: Freshman Adam Schwyer developed into the Blue Jays’ special teams ace as he led the team with 16 special teams tackles on the year. Schwyer enjoyed a solid game at Juniata as he blocked a punt that he scooped up and returned 13 yards for a touchdown, intercepted a pass that he returned 46 yards to set up a fourth quarter touchdown and posted three tackles on special teams. His 46-yard interception return was the longest by a Johns Hopkins player since September 3, 2005, when Dan Requena took one back 53 yards against Rochester.

In the Zone: Johns Hopkins scored on 50-of-56 (.893) trips to the red zone this season with 36 of those 50 scores being touchdowns. The Blue Jays ranked ninth in the nation in red zone offense.

Holding Them Down:

- The Johns Hopkins defense held Hampden-Sydney and Wesley more than 20 points and 80 yards below their season averages in the NCAA Playoffs - accomplishments that were the norm, not the exception.
- The Blue Jays held an opponent 10 or more points under their season scoring average (season-ending average) seven times on the year. In addition, JHU held the opposition more than 100 yards below its season yardage average five times.

Below is a look at JHU’s defensive efforts in these categories this season.

Jay Adams (Sr./FB)
- Starting fullback - primary lead blocker for Andrew Kase.
- Three carries for eight yards with one TD and two receptions for 12 yards on the year.
- Scored his first touchdown of the year on a two-yard run against McDaniel.

Tyler Brown (So./LB)
- Second Team All-Centennial selection.
- Finished fourth on the team with 74 tackles in 13 games.
- He also has 5.5 tackles for losses, 3.5 sacks, two forced fumbles, two fumble recoveries, one interception and three PBUs.
- Posted eight tackles and had one PBU in the season-opener at Delaware Valley.
- Tied career high with nine tackles against Randolph-Macon and matched that total again in the win over Gettysburg.

Dan Crowley (Jr./WR)
- Honorable Mention All-Centennial selection.
- Led the team in receiving with 69 catches for a team-high 975 yards and five touchdowns.
- Just the fifth player in school history with 60 or more receptions in one season (done 7 total times).
- Posted then-career-highs of six receptions for 93 yards against Delaware Valley. Included was a then career-long 47-yard reception that led to JHU’s only touchdown.
- Totaled three receptions for 81 yards and one touchdown against Gettysburg. 54-yard TD reception was the longest reception of his career and his first TD.
- Added six receptions for a career-high 124 yards and two touchdowns in the win over Moravian and added five receptions for 83 yards in the win at Muhlenberg.
- Totaled six receptions for 91 yards in the win against F&M and closed regular season with a career-high nine receptions for 88 yards at McDaniel.
- Difference-maker in JHU’s 23-7 win at Hampden-Sydney in the first round of the NCAA Playoffs as he totaled career-highs of 13 receptions for 178 yards. For good measure, he was also 1-for-1 passing for 38 yards as he connected with Sam Wernick on a double-reverse pass.
- 13 receptions are tied for second-highest single-game total in school history ...
- Followed effort at HSC with a seven-reception, 116-yard game against Thomas More that included a career-best 63-yard touchdown reception.
- Has career totals of 80 receptions for 1,167 yards and five touchdowns (14.6 ypr).

Doug Drummmond (So./OL-C)
- Had started 13 straight games at center and played in all 14 games in his career before missing four games. Returned to action at Juniata and saw time at center and guard after returning. Started at guard in the NCAA playoff game at Thomas More.
- Part of an offensive line that paved the way for a unit that averaged 29.8 points and 379.0 yards of total offense. JHU also allowed just seven sacks in 415 pass attempts this season. The seven sacks JHU allowed ranked as the fifth-fewest in the nation.

Devin Collins (Jr./DL)
- Had 28 tackles, including 6.0 for losses and 3.0 sacks.
- Totaled four tackles and blocked a field goal in the regular-season finale at McDaniel and came back with four tackles in the win at Hampden-Sydney in the first round of the NCAA Playoffs.
- Matched career high with seven tackles and had personal-bests of 1.5 sacks and 3.0 TFLs in the win at Thomas More in the second round of the NCAAAs and added six tackles, including one for a loss, at Wesley in the NCAA Quarters.

Sam Eagleson (So./DB)
- Second Team All-Centennial selection.
- Finished sixth on the team with 53 tackles and also had team-highs of six interceptions and nine pass breakups on the year.
- Posted six tackles in the season-openner at Delaware Valley.
- Registered seven tackles against Randolph-Macon and added his second career interception in the final minute of the game to seal the win.
- Totaled five tackles and one interception, which he returned 43 yards, against Gettysburg. Interception led to a JHU touchdown and fueled a 17-0 game-opening run for JHU.
- Posted three tackles and a career-high three pass breakups in the win at 25th-ranked Dickinson.
- Posted seven tackles and added one interception and one pass breakup against Ursinus and added four tackles and one interception at Juniata.
- Finished with four tackles and one PBU against F&M and duplicated those totals in the win at McDaniel.
- Totaled four tackles and one interception in the win at Thomas More. INT came in the end zone and killed a TMC scoring threat. Added four more tackles and an INT at Wesley in the NCAA Quarterfinals.
- Has career totals of 97 tackles, 15 pass breakups and seven interceptions.

Nick Fazio (So./RB)
- Played in six games and had 13 carries for 58 yards and two touchdowns.
