ABOUT THE HOPKINS HUNDRED CLUB

As part of the tradition that is Hopkins Lacrosse, the Hopkins Hundred Club was founded in 2004 to support the Johns Hopkins University Men's Lacrosse Program. Members annually contribute $100 per victory earned during the season, which includes playoffs, or at a higher level. Membership in the club is managed on an annual basis.

The resources collected from the Hopkins Hundred Club allow the coaching staff the opportunity to enhance the experience for the lacrosse student-athletes. By supporting the Blue Jays, your generous donation will afford the Hopkins Lacrosse program the opportunity to continue to operate in a first-class manner, while setting new academic and athletic standards for a Division I program. Each gift is tax-deductible and is restricted for use by Men's Lacrosse.

HOW CAN YOU PARTICIPATE?

You may join the club at any point before or during the season, but the expectation would include fulfilling any wins that may have already been achieved. An initial first gift of $100 secures your spot within the group. The first gift is 'credit' toward the first win of the season. Commitments may be made via check, cash or credit card. Membership accounts may be balanced either following each game, or following the season. The Athletics Development office will keep you apprised of your balance and will process all gifts.

DOES ONE HAVE TO COMMIT $100 PER WIN IN ORDER TO BE PART OF THE HOPKINS HUNDRED CLUB?

Every gift of support is important to the lacrosse program, but in this situation, yes, members of the Hopkins Hundred Club must give at the $100 per win level or at a higher level. Gifts for lacrosse are accepted at lower levels, but members only receive full recognition and benefits with the complete commitment.
