#7 Johns Hopkins (4-5) at #10 Navy (9-3)

Saturday, April 19, 2008 • Noon
Marine Corps Stadium • Annapolis, MD

Setting the Scene: Johns Hopkins heads to Annapolis for its 81st all-time meeting with Navy. Faceoff at Navy's Marine Corps Stadium is set for noon.

Looking Back: The Blue Jays snapped a five-game losing streak with a 10-4 win over Maryland at Homewood Field last Saturday. The Blue Jays are now 4-5 on the year. Navy dropped to 9-3 this season with a 9-6 loss at Army.

These are the Facts: Johns Hopkins enters the game against Navy with an all-time record of 875-277-15 (.756). The Blue Jays own nine NCAA titles, 29 USILA titles and six ILA titles for a total of 44 championships.

125th Anniversary: The 2008 season marks the 125th anniversary of the Johns Hopkins men's lacrosse program. The Blue Jays are wearing commemorative patches on their uniforms for the 125th anniversary of the program (it is NOT the 125th season) and the logo is being used in a variety of printed pieces to promote the anniversary.

That's 598 Games Over .500: Including last week's win against Maryland, the Blue Jays' all-time record is now 875-277-15 ... that's 598 games over .500. To put this in perspective: JHU has played an average of just under 15 games per season under head coach Dave Pietramala. Using a 15-game season as a reference, if the Blue Jays posted a 5-10 record for 120 straight seasons, they would fall just two games below .500.

Poll Position: Johns Hopkins is ranked seventh in this week's USILA Coaches Poll and 10th in the Nike/Inside Lacrosse Media Poll. Navy is tied for 10th in the USILA Coaches Poll and ranks eighth in the Nike/Inside Lacrosse Media Poll this week. To clarify, the Johns Hopkins Sports Information Office uses the USILA Coaches Poll to reflect JHU's official ranking at the time of a game.

A Tough Stretch: This week's game against Navy is the sixth for Johns Hopkins in a brutal six-game stretch against teams that currently rank in the top 13 in the USILA Coaches Poll. Based on current rankings, JHU played top-ranked Syracuse on March 15 before taking on fourth-ranked Virginia a week later. Games over the last three weeks against North Carolina (ranked 13th), Duke (2nd) and Maryland (12th) are now followed by this week's game at Navy (10th). The combined record of those six teams is currently 55-15 (.786).

April Reign: Flipping the calendar to April has usually been a good sign for the Blue Jays, who won four-of-five games in April last season to jump-start their run to the national championship. Including last week's win over Maryland, the Blue Jays are 33-4 (.892) under head coach Dave Pietramala in games played in April. Amazingly, the loss at Duke (April 5) was JHU's first road loss in the month of April since a 10-9 setback at Maryland on April 14, 2001.

State Rivalries: Without question the Blue Jays play one of the most difficult schedules in the nation and a big part of that schedule are the in-state rivalries the Blue Jays have. This week's game against Navy will be the third of the year for Johns Hopkins against a team from the state of Maryland. JHU has won both of its games this season against in-state rivals (UMBC and Maryland) and the Blue Jays are 34-2 (.944) against teams from Maryland under head coach Dave Pietramala.

Blue Jays Snap Losing Streak: The Blue Jays snapped their five-game losing streak with 10-4 win against Maryland last Saturday. The five-game losing streak is just the second in school history (1955-56) and the first in one season. The losing streak is just the second for the Blue Jays under head coach Dave Pietramala. Hopkins dropped three straight last season before rebounding to win nine straight en route to the national championship.

Number One Perspective: Johns Hopkins has played 53 games as the top-ranked team in the nation since the beginning of the 2002 season. That's more than all of other Division I men's lacrosse teams in the nation have combined to play as the top-ranked team in the nation over the same period of time.

One-Goal Turnarounds: The three straight losses to Hofstra (8-7), Syracuse (14-13) and Virginia (13-12) are rare one-goal losses for the Blue Jays under head coach Dave Pietramala. Johns Hopkins is now 30-9 in one-goal games since Pietramala took over in 2001. Despite the losses, the Blue Jays have won 17 of their last 22 and 21 of their last 27 one-goal games. In the five seasons prior to Pietramala arriving (1996-2000) the Blue Jays were 5-8 in one-goal games.

More One-Goal Notes: The Blue Jays have come from behind to win 14 times during their last 17 one-goal wins. In 10 of those 14 come-from-behind one-goal wins the Blue Jays have come back from a deficit of two goals or more. The latest of these come-from-behind one-goal wins came against Notre Dame in the 2007 NCAA Tournament, when the Blue Jays erased a 4-1 second-quarter deficit.

In Case We Go Extra: The loss at Hofstra snapped a nine-game winning streak for the Blue Jays in overtime games. The Blue Jays had won nine straight overtime games dating back to a 10-9 win at Navy in 2004 before the loss to the Pride. Including the OT loss to Virginia, JHU is 13-5 all-time in overtime under Pietramala's guidance, including an impressive 6-3 in overtime games played on the road.

Players on the 2008 team who have scored game-winning goals in overtime during their career:

- Senior Kevin Huntley punched home the game-winner in the second OT against Duke in 2005.
- Junior Brian Christopher scored 1:22 into OT against Loyola on May 6, 2006.
- Senior Paul Rabil fired home the game-winner 56 seconds into the 2nd OT against Princeton on March 3, 2007 and tallied the game-winner 43 seconds into overtime at Maryland (4-14-07). He is the only player in school history who has scored two overtime game-winners in the same season.
- Sophomore Michael Kimmel became the first freshman in school history to score an overtime goal in an NCAA Tournament game when he netted the game-winner one-minute into overtime against Notre Dame last season.

More Overtime: The three consecutive overtime games for the Blue Jays against Hofstra, Syracuse and Virginia mark the first time Johns Hopkins has ever played three straight overtime games. Twice previously the Blue Jays had played two consecutive overtime games (1982 and 1988).

Comeback Kids: The Blue Jays trailed - albeit briefly - vs. Albany and as late as early in the third quarter against UMBC. Johns Hopkins came from behind to win eight times last season, including six times during the season-ending nine-game winning streak. JHU trailed in its first two NCAA Tournament games, but never trailed during the Final Four.

Streaking: Johns Hopkins is 69-16 in its last 85 regular season games dating back to the end of the 2001 season and is 81-20 overall since the start of the 2002 season

A Defensive Group: Johns Hopkins held all 17 of its opponents scoreless for a span of least 9:30 last season and held the opposition scoreless for a span of 10:45 or longer 23 times during the 2007 season. The Blue Jays have picked up right where they left off last season as they held Albany scoreless for a streak of 27:03 during the season-opening win, kept Princeton off the board for the first 23:04 and held Hofstra without a goal for 37:56 at one point. In last week's win against Maryland the Blue Jays kept the Terps off the scoreboard for the first 22:46 and later held them scoreless for a stretch of 15:19.

Hopkins has held an opponent scoreless for 25 minutes or longer eight times since the start of the 2007 season. Other scoreless streak notes of interest:

- The four goals the Blue Jays allowed against Maryland are the fewest Hopkins has allowed against a team ranked in the top 10 under head coach Dave Pietramala. The last time JHU held a top-10 op-

Scouting the Midshipmen

Navy Quickly: Navy enters this week's game against Johns Hopkins with a record of 9-3 and has already secured a spot in the upcoming Patriot League Tournament. The Midshipmen dropped a 9-6 decision at Army last week, their first loss against the Cadets since 1997.

Defense Fuels Success: While the Midshipmen feature an offense with five double-figure goal-scorers, it's head coach Richie Meade's defense that steals the headlines. The Mids rank first in the nation in scoring defense as they've allowed a paltry 5.25 goals per game and only one team, Georgetown, has scored more than nine goals against Navy this season (and the Hoyas needed overtime to get to 11).

Navy held four straight opponents to exactly three goals at one point this season, has held eight of its 12 opponents to five goals or less and the opposition is scoring on just 22.2% of its shots this season.

Spearheading the unit is one of the most experienced defensive units in the nation in seniors Jordan DiNola and Brendan Teague and junior Andy Tomey. All three are excellent with the ball on the ground as the trio has combined for 101 ground balls and they have helped hold the opposition to an average of just 24 shots per game.

A pair of goalies have split time in the cage with juniors Tommy Phelan and Matt Coughlin sharing the load. Phelan has emerged of late as he has started the last four games and fashions a 6.25 goals against average and a .597 save percentage. He posted a career-high 13 saves in his first career start against Colgate.

Mirabito Runs the Show: Offensively its do-it-all attackman Nick Mirabito that stirs the drink for Navy. The senior leads the team in goals (19), assists (21) and points (40) and ranks ninth in scoring history with 152 career points. He tallied three assists in last year's game against Johns Hopkins and his 21 assists this season are more than one-third of Navy's total assists.

Mirabito has an abundance of top-notch finishers to share the ball with as Tim Paul (19 goals), Patrick Moran (14), Gregory Clement (11) and Joe Lennon (10) all have 10 or more goals to their credit.

Dominating the "X": Senior Mikelis Visgauss is enjoying the finest season of his career as Navy's faceoff specialist as he ranks fifth in the nation in faceoff winning percentage (.628). Visgauss has won 98-of-156 (.628) faceoffs this season and counts a team-high 65 ground balls to his credit on the year.

ponent to four goals or less was on April 16, 1999, when JHU beat then seventh-ranked Maryland, 13-3. Making the effort even more impressive was the Blue Jays' recent showing on defense. Prior to the Maryland game the Blue Jays had allowed 13 or more goals in four straight games.

- JHU has held the opposition scoreless for a streak of 14 minutes or longer 27 times since the start of the 2007 season, including 10 times in nine games this season.

- The Blue Jays have held 11 of their last 15 opponents - including six of nine this season - scoreless for a stretch of at least 18 minutes.

More Defensive: Albany scored its first goal just 36 seconds into the game against JHU. The Great Danes scored exactly one more goal in the next 41:21.

Still More Defensive: Princeton scored exactly one goal in the first 35:18 against JHU.

A Final Defensive: Hofstra scored six goals in the first 13:02 against the Blue Jays. The Pride didn't score again until just 9:02 remained in the fourth quarter.

OK, One More Defense: Maryland scored exactly two goals in the first 40:24 against JHU.

Don't Forget the Offense: While the focus of any Dave Pietramala-coached team will always be defense, the Blue Jay offense has been effective as well this season. Consider:

- As a team the Blue Jays have scored on 29.6% of their shots through nine games (90-of-304). JHU connected on 28.8% of its shots en route to winning the national championship a year ago. The Blue Jays' highest shooting percentage in the Pietramala era came in 2003 when they connected on 31.7% (224-of-706) of their shots.
- Dating back to the end of last season, JHU has scored in double figures 11 times in its last 15 games and is averaging 10.8 goals per game during that time (162 goals in 15 games).

More Offense: Johns Hopkins has scored more than one goal in 26 of 36 full-length quarters thus far this season (overtime periods not included as it is impossible to score more than once in an overtime).

A Game of Runs: Johns Hopkins has had at least one significant scoring run in eight of its nine games this season. Below is a quick look at JHU's runs of note this season:

Albany	6-1	Turns 1-0 deficit into 6-2 lead ... Albany never closer than two again
Princeton	8-0	Game-opening run covers first 23:03 ... PU never closer than final five-goal margin
UMBC	5-1	Turns 6-5 third-quarter deficit into a 10-7 lead
Hofstra	4-1	Erases 6-3 deficit, but Hofstra wins in OT
Syracuse	4-0	Turns 2-2 tie into a 6-2 second-quarter lead, but SU wins in OT
Virginia	6-3	Turns 8-6 third-quarter deficit into a 12-11 lead, but UVA wins in OT
North Carolina	5-2	Game-ending run
Duke	None
Maryland	5-0	Third-quarter run extends 3-2 lead to 8-2 ... MD never closer than five again

Playing the Possession Game: JHU has won the ground ball war in seven of its nine games this season and has a 322-285 ground ball advantage on the year (+4.1 GBs per game). Hofstra (31-29) and Duke (40-38) are the only two teams to win the ground ball battle against JHU this season.

Kevin and Dave Huntley Make History: When Johns Hopkins slipped past Duke, 12-11, for the national championship last spring, there were plenty of members of the Huntley family in high spirits. After all, then junior attackman Kevin Huntley scored three times in the title game and punched home what proved to be the game-winning goal with 3:25 remaining in the fourth quarter. The national championship is the second for the Blue Jays since Huntley arrived in 2005.

A little research reveals that Huntley's game-winner also lifted he and his father, Dave, into the record books. Dave Huntley was a standout midfielder for Johns Hopkins from 1976-79 and was a member of the Blue Jays' 1978 and 1979 NCAA Championship teams.

It is believed that Dave and Kevin Huntley are the first father and son to win multiple NCAA Division I Men's Lacrosse Championships as players. There are sets of brothers who have won multiple titles and fathers who have coached their sons to championships, but Dave and Kevin Huntley are the only father and son in the history of the sport to each win more than one NCAA Division I title as players.
