Big Respect in the BIG EAST

- BIG EAST coaches predicted Loyola to finish fourth in the conference in the annual preseason conference poll. The Greyhounds went 5-3 in BIG EAST play last year en route to a fourth-place finish. Georgetown took top honors, followed by Syracuse and Notre Dame.
- Grace Gavin, Cara Filippelli and Abby Rehfluss were named to the Preseason All-BIG EAST Team on January 25. Gavin was a unanimous selection, as well as taking BIG EAST Preseason Attack Player of the Year honors. The announcement marked Gavin's third straight year on the team, Filippelli's second and Rehfluss' first.

Old `Hounds, New Tricks

- Loyola returns 10 starters from the 2010 team that ended the year ranked No. 13, including 2010 BIG EAST Attack Player of the Year Grace Gavin. Gavin finished the year with 64 goals and 23 assists for 87 points, also earning IWLCA Second-Team All-American and WomensLax.com All-American honors. The returners for Loyola in 2011 combined for 198 goals and 81 assists last year.
- The team also sees three Second-Team All-BIG EAST selections from 2010 return for this season. Rehfluss and Filippelli earned the honor in addition to junior defender Ana Heneberry, who ranked second on the team with 35 caused turnovers and third with 39 ground balls.
- The Greyhounds lose only two starters from last year's squad that reached the BIG EAST Semifinals, but two players who served big roles for Loyola. Emily Gibson tallied 48 points for the Greyhounds (33 goals and 15 assists), second-most on the team, while Tara Gardner led the team from the defensive end, starting all 18 games.

Party at Our Place

- Loyola will host the 2013 BIG EAST Women's Lacrosse Championship at the Ridley Athletic Complex on May 2 and 4, 2013. The event will mark the first BIG EAST postseason event Loyola has hosted. In nine years, BIG EAST teams have made 23 appearances in the NCAA tournament and six teams have made it to the final four. Three teams (Syracuse, Notre Dame and Georgetown) have appeared in the tournament for three years straight.

Young Pups

- Loyola welcomes seven freshmen to the team in 2011. Top incoming players include Ali Carpenter (Baltimore Sun Player to Watch, hat trick in the IAAM-A Maryland State Championship Game), Taryn VanThof (Led high school team in goals, assists and ground balls for all four years and scored first goal against Towson) and Marlee Paton (Youngest player on the Australian Senior National Team that took the silver medal at the 2009 Women's Lacrosse World Cup, scored four goals in debut against Virginia).

Steering the Ship

- Head Coach Jen Adams returns to lead the Greyhounds for the third year, looking to build on a 22-13 record at Loyola. In 2010 under Adams, Loyola reached its first ever BIG EAST Semifinal and led the nation in caused turnovers (13.06/game) for the second consecutive season. The team also enjoyed its best-ever season in the BIG EAST (5-3) and ranked in the top 25 in five statistical categories.
- Assistant Coach Dana Dobbie also returns for her third season. A two-time All-American and Tewaaron Trophy finalist at Maryland, Dobbie has overseen a Loyola midfield unit that has produced four All-BIG EAST selections and led the in caused turnovers over the last two years.
- Loyola adds new assistant coach Katie Chrest to the coaching staff this year. Chrest, a three-time All-American at Duke, played on the championship-winning 2009 U.S. Women's World Cup Team after becoming the Blue Devils' all-time leading scorer and winning the 2005 Tewaaron Trophy.

Innovative. Difference-Maker. Creative. Stellar. Spectacular: All words used to describe Jen Adams throughout her illustrious playing career on the collegiate and international levels.

Those same adjectives hold true for her coaching and leadership styles as she enters her second season at the helm of the Loyola women's lacrosse program.

Over her first two seasons with the Greyhounds, Adams has directed a resurgence of the program back to national prominence. She has helped Loyola to a 22-13 record during that time and a berth in the 2010 BIG EAST Conference Championships.

In her second season at the helm, Adams built on the winning season from her first campaign, helping the Greyhounds to their best BIG EAST record in program history (5-3) and an 11-7 record. Loyola ended the year with a No. 13 ranking in the coaches' poll and a No. 15 ranking in the media poll. Adams continued her emphasis on defense, as Loyola led the country in caused turnovers per game (13.06) for the second straight year.

Additionally, the 2010 team finished 21st in scoring offense, 22nd in points (327 in 18 games), 24th in scoring defense, 24th in draw controls (13.22/game) and 24th in scoring margin.

The season featured a six-game winning streak that included a victory over No. 20 Rutgers, the first win at Ridley Athletic Complex by any Loyola program.

Adams' team in 2010 also produced the BIG EAST Attack Player of the Year and four players who were named to the All-BIG EAST Second Team.

In her first season as a head coach in 2009, Adams got the Greyhounds off to a great start, winning seven of their first eight games, and concluded the season at 11-6. The winning record was the first for the Loyola program since the 2004 season. The Greyhounds who finished the year ranked 18th in the final national poll, led the nation with 13.47 caused turnovers per game. Additionally, Loyola collected 22.82 ground balls per game, ranking sixth in the country.

Loyola, which has traditionally been a strong defensive team, continued that distinction in Adams' first season at the helm. Through Adams' guidance, the 'Hounds added another aspect to its repertoire, becoming one of the elite offensive teams in the nation, averaging 13.82 goals per game, ranking third in the highly-competitive BIG EAST Conference and 13th in the NCAA.

Considered by most to be the best women's lacrosse player of all time and the top young coach in America, Jen Adams became the seventh head coach of Loyola women's lacrosse in the 36-year history of the program on June 6, 2008.

Adams served as the associate head coach at the University of Maryland during the 2007 and 2008 seasons and was an assistant coach to current Maryland Head Coach Cathy Reese at the University of Denver from 2004-2006.

At Maryland, Adams rejuvenated the Terrapins offense to play in her up-tempo attacking style. In her first season as associate head coach, Maryland scored 287 goals, the most it had recorded in a season since 2001, Adams' senior year as a student-athlete.

In 2008, Adams helped Maryland ascend to a No. 2 rank nationally. The Terrapins, who finished with an 18-3 record, scored an average of 14.9 goals per game, sixth nationally, and were second in Division I with 477 total points. Two Maryland student-athletes finished in the top 50 nationally in goals per game, and three were in that same range for assists per game.

Adams put together arguably the best collegiate lacrosse career of any player in the collegiate ranks during her tenure at Maryland from 1998 -2001. She racked up honors like she scored goals and recorded assists and was named to the NCAA Division I Women's Lacrosse 25th Anniversary Team in April 2007.

The Brighton, South Australia native, was named the three-time national player of the year and was the first recipient of the Tewaaraton Trophy in 2001.

Adams set every scoring record for the Terrapins - season and career - helping them win national titles in each of the four seasons she spent in College Park. She finished her storied career with 267 goals, 178 assists and 445 total points. Her marks for total points stands today as an NCAA record, and her goals total is still a record at Maryland.

In addition to her career marks, Adams had single-season performances that also rank amongst the best in Maryland and NCAA history. During her Tewaaraton-winning senior season, Adams led the nation with 88 goals, 60 assists and 148 total points, setting school single-season marks in the process. Those season totals only added her name one rung higher, as she had set school records with 81 goals, 55 assists and 136 total points the previous season.

Adams' efforts were not limited just to the lacrosse field. In addition to her three All-America honors as a player, Adams earned the 2000 and 2001 Honda/Broderick Award for women's lacrosse excellence in the classroom and on the field. She also garnered CoSIDA Academic All-America First Team honors as a senior.

She was also named the National Attacker of the Year in 1999, 2000 and 2001 and earned Atlantic Coast Conference Female Athlete of the Year laurels in 2000 and 2001.

Adams' accomplishments did not end when she hung up her cleats for the Terrapins. She has been a member of the Australian National Team since her pre-Maryland days. In 2005, Adams led the Aussie National Team to a 14-7 defeat of the United States in the Women's Lacrosse World Cup. She scored four goals, and assisted on three others, in the gold medal game.

She earned All-World honors at the games, leading all players with 26 assists and 47 total points.

Adams was also a member of the Australian National Team that took home the silver medal the 2009 Women's World Cup in Prague, Czech Republic. Adams recorded a team-high 15 goals and led the tournament with 26 assists and 41 total points in the World Cup and recorded a goal and a pair of assists against the United States in the gold medal game.

In addition to her continued participation with the Australian National Team, Adams has been a highly-sought clinician around the world and is the primary spokeswoman for STX Women's Lacrosse.
