Welcome to Huntington

Huntington sits on the mid-section of the scenic and historic Ohio River at the point where West Virginia, Ohio and Kentucky meet. Our city is home to approximately 49,138 citizens and serves a Tri-State population of 250,792.

Huntington is the turn-of-the-century railroad kingdom named for its founder, Collis P. Huntington. He was the builder, owner and operator of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway, beginning in the 1860's. In 1884, he became the first man in the United States to ride his own railroad car from the Atlantic Ocean to the Pacific over tracks he either owned or controlled.

Our picturesque city is a year-round destination for beautiful scenery. Those who come in the Spring can enjoy the abundance of colorful blooming dogwood trees that are trademarks of the residential areas. By mid-summer the Rose Garden of Ritter Park is in full bloom and ready for weddings and garden parties. Winter in Huntington provides a beautiful blanket of white snow, and outdoor fun for children and adults! Fall foliage in Huntington presents a gorgeous hillside of orange and yellow trees and a brisk mountain air that will inspire your senses.

The downtown area provides more for your pleasure in the way of shopping and entertainment, including a town square to stroll through that offers a nostalgic nod to Huntington's railroad beginnings. Year-round, a variety of festivals and special events to enjoy take place around the downtown area, Pullman Square, Big Sandy Superstore Arena and historic Keith-Albee Theater.

Welcome to Barboursville

Located near the junction of the Mud and Guyandotte Rivers, the Barboursville area was a crossroads for Shawnee Indians. Hunting plentiful game and mining the salt near Salt Rock, West Virginia, they along with the buffalo established early, well-used trails.

In 1930, Route 60 bypassed the village and with river and rail business disappearing, Barboursville became a quiet, residential setting of historic homes.

You can travel back in time with a historic walking tour of Barboursville that features 36 points of interest including homes, banks, businesses and other historic sites.

Today Barboursville offers a modern mall complex as well as a historic main street area with shopping and restaurants, as well as its own share of festivals and special events throughout the year.

Welcome to Milton

On September 16, 1876, the Town of Milton was incorporated. In January of the same year a covered bridge was opened to provide access from James River Turnpike to the newly established town. Nearby is the historic Union Baptist Church, organized in 1810, which was used during the Civil War by Union troops who occupied the building as a military post.

In 1921 Blenko Glass Company was founded and is still in operation today creating hand blown glass pieces that are favorites in retail shops and prized by collectors throughout the nation.

Today Milton is a thriving community that is home to the West Virginia Pumpkin Festival, the Cabell County Fair, seasonal corn maze, giant flea market, and arts and crafts stores. All are easily accessible from U.S. Route 60 and Interstate 64.

Rocco's Ristorante

Since 1977, Rocco Muriale and "Rocco's" has been on a first-name basis with connoisseurs of authentic Italian cuisine. Based out of an intimate restaurant at 252 West Main St., in Ceredo, Muriale, also an accomplished saxophone player, has been making sweet music in the kitchen with an extensive pasta-based menu and wine list served in a romantic setting that has drawn the attention of everyone from The Food Network to regulars who drive from all over the Tri-State region. Rocco's, whose theme is "where dining is an event, not just a meal," is best known for his lasagna. Although boasting a deep pasta menu including spinach ravioli, rigatoni and capelli marinara, they also have such specialties as chicken parmigiano, lobster langostino, sea scallops marinara, as well as appetizers, salads and desserts. Roccos is open for dinner Sundays and Tuesday through Thursday. On Friday and Saturdays hours are expanded. No reservations accepted. Cash and credit cards are accepted.

For takeout or catering call 304.453.3000. For a lunch-time taste of Rocco's in downtown, stop by Rocco's Little Italy, 345 4th Ave., Huntington, Monday through Saturday. Call 304.529.2400. www.roccosristorante.com

Central City Cafe

Nestled in one of West Virginia's largest antique districts, the Central City Cafe, at 529 West 14th St., is one of the west end's most popular eateries.

The Café was opened in 1993 by David Luther, and expanded in 1996 when up to 20 people would be waiting outside. In April 2009 the Café received national attention when "Diners, Drive-Ins and Dives" featured the restaurant, which specializes in homemade soups, sandwiches, and desserts. The Cafe is open for lunch and dinner Monday through Saturday and also does catering. Cash, check and all major credit cards are accepted. Call 304.522.6142. Be sure and check out the antique shops along 14th Street West, and if you're up to it, you can see where your bread was made since the Cafe's neighbor is Heiner's Bakery, one of the region's largest commercial bread makers. Heiner's offers free tours Wednesdays at 8:30 by advance appointment. Go online at www.heinersbakery.com.

Frostop Drive-In

Once a national chain, only a handful of classic Frostop Drive-Ins remain. Located at 1449 Hal Greer Blvd., across from Cabell-Huntington Hospital, Frostop, with its trademark swirling root beer mug on the roof, is straight out of the 1950s.

Car hops bring frosty mugs of root beer to wash down a variety of sandwiches including hamburgers, grilled chicken, bar-b-que, and many other items. Frostop also serves old-fashioned chocolate malts as well as root beer floats and other ice cream treats. Rupert McGinnis and his uncle William Warnock opened the drive-in on May 29, 1959, and McGinnis' daughters, Marilyn Murdock and Bing Murphey, still own it. Frostop is open daily for lunch and dinner. Hey y'all! Ready for some good eatin' hillbilly style? This locally owned little "weenie stand" is sure to fill yer belly with some lip smackin grub! Just throw the youngins in the car and head on over to dine in one of our "vintage" school buses, bathtubs or outhouses. We are home to the Homewrecker, (a 15" hotdog) and the Doublewide, (a 15 lb. burger) as well as over 20 other dawgs, burgers, chicken, fried fixins, subs and deezerts. Hillbilly Hotdogs was named #15 in The Travel Channel's 101 Tastiest Places to Chow Down in 2010. Guy Fieri of The Food Network taped his "Diners, Drive-Ins and Dives" show here in 2008, and then went on to eat their 5-pound "Singlewide" burger on The Late Show with David Letterman in 2009. Youth and sporting teams are welcome. Cash and credit cards are accepted. Go online at www.hillbillyhotdogs.com to see all our fixins. Y'all come on over, ya hear!

Huntington Prime

Marshall University graduate Michael Bowe opened Huntington Prime, 910 Fourth Ave., in the West Virginia Building in early 2010. Bowe, who was the head chef at the Tri-State Racetrack & Gaming Center and who is certified by the American Culinary Federation, brings a fresh flair to Fourth Avenue. Prime serves dishes with a local flare such as the Wilson Mills Rainbow Trout (from Bluefield, W.Va.) and Gardner's Farm Lamb Shank from Waverly, W.Va. They also offer artisan bread, soup and salad bar, an extensive wine menu, a delicious Sunday brunch and a different locally-made cake or pie daily. Huntington Prime is open for dinner Tuesday through Saturday, with later hours on the weekends, and Sunday brunch from 11am-2pm. Cash and credit cards accepted. They offer catering as well. Call 304.697.1113.

Jim's Steak and Spaghetti House

In 1938, Jimmie Carder's father, Jim Tweel, opened what has become one of the most famous restaurants in the region, Jim's Steak and Spaghetti House at 920 Fifth Ave. in Huntington. Jim's has served celebrities such as Muhammad Ali, Evel Knievel, and Dustin Hoffman. A variety of presidents have eaten at Jim's, including George H.W. Bush, Bill Clinton and JFK, who ate at Jim's during his successful 1960s Presidential campaign. While it's not easy to score the "Kennedy Booth," where JFK dined, you'll get Kennedy-level service anywhere in Jim's. Smiling waitresses in white-starched uniforms fly by you with fast and friendly service straight out of the '60s bringing reasonably-priced diner dishes that range from burgers and fried Haddock to their famous dinners of spaghetti and rib eye steak. Jim's is open Tuesday through Saturday. Note that Jim's accepts cash and checks only - they do not accept credit cards. You can buy pint and quart-sized containers of Jim's famous sauce to go. Call 304.696.9788.

21 At The Frederick

Built in 1906, the Edwardian Renaissance-style Frederick Hotel, at the corner of Fourth Avenue and 10th Street, has always been a hot-spot for fine dining. Tucked inside the historic Frederick Building, 21 At The Frederick offers a fresh, diverse variety of Asian, Italian, Greek and American dishes with the option of three-course meals and a full wine list.

Be sure to save room for their almost famous souffles, raspberry or chocolate and take a minute and browse the lobby of the Frederick where Warner Brothers' taped part of the "We Are Marshall" movie. 21 at the Frederick, 940 4th Ave., is open for dinner Wednesdays - Saturdays and sometimes until midnight on Friday and Saturdays. Cash and all major credit/debit cards are accepted. Walk-in and reservations are accepted. The restaurant also caters on and off premise. Call 304.529.0222.

Chili Willi's Mexican Cantina

Located at 1315 4th Ave., Chili Willi's and owner Ron Smith have been serving up fresh Tex-Mex with a lively twist in downtown for nearly 30 years. Started as a 32-seat diner, Chili Willi's has grown into a spacious and colorful location near Marshall's campus known for its wood-fired grill menu, and award-winning salsas and chili's. Smith is a three-time cook and frequent finals judge at the International Chili Society's World Chili Championships. Complete with a full bar and covered patio dining, Chili Willi's is also a vegetarian-friendly restaurant open daily for dine-in, take-out and catering. Don't leave without a jar of Smith's famous salsa found in regional grocery stores such as FoodFair. Join about 25,000 of your closest chili-loving friends on the third Saturday in September for Chili Willi's festival, Chili Fest, the West Virginia Chili Championship, which raises money for the Ronald McDonald House. Call 304.529.4857. Go online at www.chiliwilli.com for more info.

Savannah's

As sweet and refreshing as magnolia blossoms, Savannah's, located at 1208 6th Ave., Huntington, has been one of the state's most elegant eating establishments this side of the Greenbrier since 1997. Inspired by the homey yet fine dining of the South, Ava and John Bicknell transformed a historic 1903 home into Savannah's which is open Tuesday through Saturday for dinner. In 2003, they bought the house next door and added a hip little Bistro as well as the Magnolia Room for private parties and large groups. The Bistro opens at 5 p.m. with a full bar and lower-priced menu than the restaurant.

Since 1999, the restaurant has been given the prestigious "Award of Excellence" from Wine Spectator Magazine.

Given the Five Diamond Award of Excellence by the North American Restaurant Association, Savannah's menu is seasonal and features weekend specials that range from seafood and rack of lamb to vegetarian options. Reservations are encouraged for restaurant and the Magnolia Room. Cash and credit cards accepted. Call 304.529.0919 or go online at www.savannahsmenu.com.

Fat Patty's

Opened in August 2007, Clint Artrip has built a loyal following to his restaurant and sports bar. Fat Patty's is armed with a bevy of burgers any way you can imagine. There is the Vampire Killer (loaded with garlic, of course), the Lava Patty, topped with grilled jalapenos, hot cayenne cheese and plenty of spice, and tons of others. There's also a Not-So-Cow veggie burger, an Asian teriyaki chicken salad and several healthy wrap options. In 2010, USA Today named Fat Patty's one of the "51 Great Burger Joints" in the country. Fat Patty's is located near Marshall University's campus at 1935 Third Ave., Huntington. Fat Patty's is open daily lunch to late (1 a.m.). Cash and credit cards are accepted. They also cater. Call 304.781.2555.

Huntington Museum of Art

Nestled on 52 acres, the Huntington Museum of Art is a fine arts museum with something for everyone, including a tropical plant conservatory and nature trails. For more than five decades, the Huntington Museum of Art has been defined by a vision of bringing the world of art to the people of West Virginia and the Tri-State region. It boasts an exceptional collection, innovative exhibitions and educational programs, a landmark facility, and an extraordinary 52-acre site where art and nature blend in harmony.

Today, visitors enjoy the beauty of glass, particularly that from the Ohio Valley; the wisdom and whimsy of Appalachian folk art; the functional artistry of American furniture and firearms; the serenity of 19th and 20th century American and European paintings; and the intricacy of Islamic prayer rugs.

The Huntington Museum of Art is open from 10 am to 9 pm Tuesday, 10 am to 5 pm Wednesday through Saturday and noon to 5 pm Sunday. The museum is closed to the public Monday. Call 304.529.2701 for more information.

Huntington's East End Bridge

Opened to traffic in August of 1985 after more than 20 years of planning and designing and nearly 10 years of construction efforts. It was built utilizing a distinctive asymmetrical cable-stayed girder design. The bridge spans the Ohio River. It is only the third of its kind in the United States. The bridge's segments were placed together piece by piece. The segments, which weighed roughly 200 tons, were hoisted by a crane and joined to a 360 foot A shaped concrete tower already in the river.

Jenkins Plantation

Historic home of Brigadier General Albert Gallatin Jenkins, C.S.A. Built ca. 1835 and listed on the National Register of Historic Places, this plantation was home to a large number of African-Americans prior to the Civil War. TRAGEDY TO TRIUMPH

The story of a town and a university that lost so much is the subject of a Warner Brothers motion picture starring Matthew McConaughey, Matthew Fox, Anthony Mackie, Ian McShane, Arlen Escarpeta and Kate Mara. "We Are Marshall" was released in 2006, and tells the rebuilding story of the Marshall University football program, as well as the entire community.

On Saturday, November 14, 1970, a Southern Airways DC-9 carrying the Marshall University football team and supporters home from a game against East Carolina University in Greenville, N.C., crashed into a hillside just short of the Tri-State Airport in Huntington, WV killing all 75 people aboard. The crash remains the worst sports disaster in the history of the United States.

The victims included 37 football players on the Marshall University Thundering Herd football team as well as five coaches, two trainers, the athletic director, 25 boosters and a crew of five. The trip to Greenville was Marshall's only air trip of the year, and came in its ninth of a 10-game season.

Despite the disaster, Marshall was able to field a team in 1971 under the new coach Jack Lengyel. The Young Thundering Herd, as the team was known then, miraculously won two games in its first year after the crash, shocking Xavier, 15-13, and Bowling Green, 12-10.

Marshall Sports

From a nationally recognized football team to swimming and women's golf teams, the Marshall Thundering Herd has 14 varsity sports that are supported by the community, alumni and students.

The Buck Harless Student-Athlete Program helps student-athletes become successful in the classroom as well as the playing field.

MARSHALL UNIVERSITY SPORTS TEAMS INCLUDE:

- Cross Country
 - Baseball
- Men's Basketball
- Women's Basketball
 - Football
 - Men's Golf
 - Women's Golf
 - Men's Soccer
 - Women's Soccer
 - Softball
- Women's Swim & Dive
