River Hawks No. 3; Look for High Note in Regular Season Finale

After consecutive hiccups, UMass Lowell looks to end the regular season on a positive in today's clash with Le Moyne. The River Hawks suffered a 2-1 loss at Assumption Wednesday and a 2-0 loss at Pace last Saturday, which ended a school-record eight-match winning streak.

Regardless of the outcome of today's match, UMass Lowell will be the No. 3 seed for the Northeast-10 Conference Tournament and will host the No. 6 seed – which could be one of five teams – on Tuesday. Saint Rose and Merrimack are locked in as the Nos. 1 and 2 seeds.

A victory this afternoon will virtually seal UMass Lowell's place in the NCAA Tournament, which begins Friday, Nov. 11. The latest NCAA East Region poll has the River Hawks at No. 3 behind No. 2 Saint Rose and No. 1 Bridgeport. Merrimack came in at No. 4 and was followed by No. 5 Southern New Hampshire, No. 6 Stonehill, No. 7 Southern Connecticut and No. 8 Adelphi.

The River Hawks are 4-2-2 against teams ranked in the latest NCAA East Region poll.

UMass Lowell leads the all-time series with Le Moyne 8-3-1 and has won three straight and seven of the last eight meetings, including last year's clash in Syracuse (4-2) and the 2009 match in Lowell (1-0).

The last time Le Moyne scored a victory in Lowell was in the first meeting in 1995 (8-1). The two rivals drew 1-1 in Lowell in 2002.

GOOD LUCK SENIORS

MADDY BISSAILLON

A four-year starter, Maddy Bissailon is one of the most unsung players in the Northeast-10 Conference. This season she has been one of the catalysts of the offense with two goals and six assists, the latter ranking tied for fourth in the Northeast-10 Conference.

A two-time NE-10 all-star, Bissailon is also a discus thrower on UMass Lowell's track and field team, and has maintained a cumulative grade point average of 3.56 in exercise physiology.

A native of Merrimac, Mass., Bissailon is the daughter of Ernie and Ellen Bissailon.

ERIN FLEURY

A three-year starting defensive midfielder, Erin Fleury was relegated to the sidelines this season after an injury in the spring. Her absence this season cannot deduct from her three stellar years as a gritty defensive midfielder, often blanketing top opposing midfielders and scorers.

A criminal justice/psychology major, Fleury has been an exemplary student with a 3.54 average and has been the recipient of many academic honors, including the Northeast-10 Commissioner's Honor Roll five times.

A native of Princeton, Mass., Fleury is the daughter of Tim and Karen Fleury.

KAITLYN HURD

A native of North Attleboro, Mass., Kaitlyn Hurd has spent the last three years as a key reserve in the midfield after transferring from Assumption. She has appeared in 10 matches this season and 22 for her career.

A psychology major, she has been model student with a 3.03 grade point average and has been named to the Northeast-10 Conference Commissioner's Honor Roll twice.

Hurd is the daughter of Adam Hurd of North Attleboro and Kathryn Sirr of Exeter, R.I.

HANNAH MERULLO

UMass Lowell has traditionally been one of the best defensive teams in the country in large part of the play of Hannah Merullo.

A 2010 Northeast-10 all-star, Merullo has anchored a back line which currently ranks ninth among Division II colleges in goals against average (0.58) and has compiled eight shutouts.

Merullo is also a stellar student with a 3.92 grade point average in criminal justice.

The fourth in her family to play a sport at UMass Lowell, Merullo is the daughter of Bill and Margie Merullo of Wakefield, Mass.

JACKIE ZANI

Jackie Zani has been an unsung presence both in the midfield and as a defender over her four seasons, earning a share of starts from her sophomore year on.

A dual major in English and philosophy communications, Zani has maintained a 2.9 grade point average and twice has been cited to the Northeast-10 Conference Commissioner's Honor Roll.

A native of Salem, N.H., Zani is the daughter of Mark and Kathy Zani.
