FCA Youth Baseball

Developing Athletes, Coaches & Parents Into Leaders With Christ-like Character And A Passion For Excellence

The Fellowship of Christian Athletes (FCA) is a national youth organization (over 50 years in existence) that has recently started a baseball division which strives to present a unique athletic environment that: 1) produces role models with character; 2) positively impacts others; and 3) provides a tangible venue to develop and demonstrate the principles of leadership and service to the community.

FCA Baseball uses the universal language of sports and the learning opportunities that sporting events provide to not only develop players' physical skills, but also their value of self worth, leadership abilities, sense of community, moral character and trust in God.

FCA Baseball makes use of competition, training, team-building events and character & leadership development programs to accomplish its purposes. Following are a few of the main goals and objectives of FCA Youth Baseball:

- ◆ To provide quality baseball instruction in every aspect of the game.
- ◆ To train and compete with the proper attitudes, approaching the game with heart, desire, dedication, motivation, intensity and enjoyment.
- ◆ To facilitate an environment conducive to hard work and maximum effort, in the context of fun...seeking to develop good habits and a solid work ethic.
- ◆ To provide a positive “team” experience, emphasizing the importance of unity, encouragement and teamwork.
- ◆ To prepare players for high school and college baseball programs.
- ◆ To prepare the players & coaches for life, both on and off the field by:
 - Emphasizing character & leadership development.
 - Using game experiences to teach life principles.
 - Teaching athletes how to be positive role models.
 - Helping the athletes along their journey to adulthood.
