SWINGING AWAY

EXPERIENCED LINEUP LOOKS TO MAKE MARK IN 2008

With the majority of the team returning, the 2007-2008 University of Memphis men's golf team will look to improve on its seventh place finish in the 2007 Conference USA tournament.

The 2006-2007 Tigers were consistent, finishing in the top-10 in nine of 12 tournaments played. In the 2006 fall season, Memphis finished in the top-10 in each of its five events, including three top-five finishes.

This year's Tigers will indeed be tournament-tested, with nine players returning off last year's roster.

Seniors

Cordova, Tenn., native Ian Rochester had six top-20 finishes in 2006-2007, including three in the top-10. He finished second at the USA Spring Golf Classic and the Linger Longer Invitational. He also tied for sixth at the Conference USA Championships. In the fall of 2007, Rochester earned two top-ten finishes in four events, including a second place finish at the St. Mary's Invitational.

Robbie Greenwell, a native of Georgetown, Ontario, is one of three seniors that will lead the squad. Greenwell had one top-20 finish in 2006-2007, finishing 15th at the University of South Alabama's Spring Invitational. In the fall of 2007, he posted two top-10 finishes in four events.

Kyle Ritchie, a native of Corning, Iowa, had two top-20 finishes in his initial campaign with the Tigers. He finished tied for 15th at the Landfall Tradition and led the Tigers with an eleventh place finish at the Louisiana Classics.

Juniors

Brad Benjamin, who hails from Rockford, Ill., has been solid on the course and outstanding in the classroom. He recorded two top-10 finishes in 2006-2007. He placed eighth at the Linger Longer Invitational and took home medalist honors, capturing first place at the Palisades Collegiate Classic. He earned Conference USA Player of the Week honors for his efforts. Benjamin was also named to the Conference USA All-Academic Team.

Junior Brad Benjamin earned medalist honors at the Palisades Collegiate Classic in the 2007 spring.

Jordan Payne, in his second year with the Tigers, participated in two events in the fall of 2006, finishing 33rd at the Scenic City Invitational. In the fall of 2007 he finished tied for 12th at the St. Mary's Invitational.

Sophomores

Brandon Bunn, a native of Knoxville, Tenn., led the Tigers with a 31st place finish at the 2006 Memphis Intercollegiate. He also finished 21st at the Louisiana Classics. In the fall of 2007, Bunn had two top-20 finishes in three events. He tied for 15th at the Bridgestone Collegiate Championship and tied for fifth at the Memphis Intercollegiate.

Franklin, Tenn., native Jeff Hall competed in four events during his freshman campaign, including a 34th-place finish at the USA Spring Golf Classic. He also finished 34th at the 2007 Memphis Intercollegiate.

Mark Trow, a native of Oswestry, Wales, competed in six events during the 2006-2007 season, finishing tied for 31st at the Mason Rudolph Invitational and tied for 37th at the Linger Longer Invitational.

Freshmen

Philip Breeding redshirted during the 2006-2007 season as he continued to refine his game. The Morristown, Tenn., native made his collegiate debut at the 2007 Memphis Intercollegiate where he shot a 157.

True freshman Stefan Erdedi, native of Helsingborg, Sweden, made his collegiate debut at the Memphis Intercollegiate where he shot a 154.

Senior Robbie Greenwell finished second on the team in the fall with a 75.1 stroke average and had two top 10 finishes.

The Schedule

The Tigers have a busy spring ahead of them, featuring eight tournaments. The season begins at the Rice Intercollegiate in Houston, Texas, Feb. 18-19.

Next on the schedule is the Rio Pinar Invitational in Orlando, Fla., Feb 25-26. The Tigers will try to improve on their tie for 15th place finish in 2007.

The Charleston Southern Spring Classic is next on the schedule, March 3-4 in Charleston, South Carolina

The Tigers will then embark for Greensboro, Ga., for the Linger Longer Invitational, March 14-16, where they finished 10th last year.

The University of South Alabama will host the annual USA Spring Classic, March 24-25, which the Tigers finished sixth last season.

Memphis will then travel to Madison, Miss., for the Ole Miss Intercollegiate Collegiate Classic April 7-8. This will be the first time Memphis has competed in an event hosted by Ole Miss.

The Tigers then head to Raleigh, N.C., to compete in the N.C. State Intercollegiate as its final tune-up prior to the Conference USA Tournament, April 20-22.

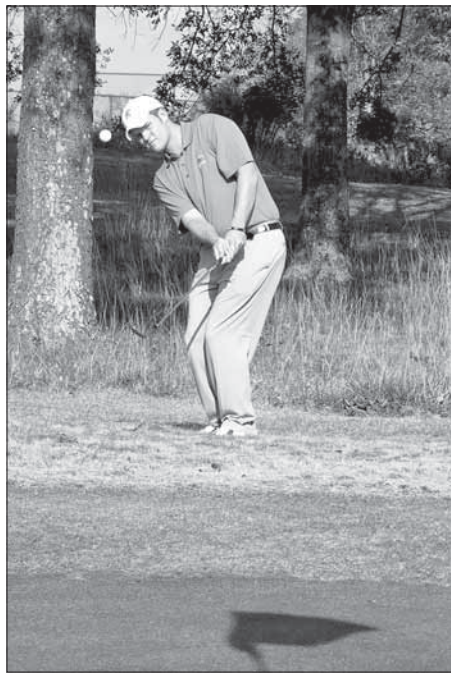

The conference tournament will be held in Texarkana, Ark. The Tigers will attempt to build on the seventh place finish they posted a year ago.

Memphis competed in four fall events and finished in the top-10 in each of them. The Tigers earned a sixth-place finish at the St. Mary's Invitational to open the season. A third-place finish at the Memphis Intercollegiate was the best finish of the fall and a tie for ninth at the Club Grove Intercollegiate and a 10th place finish at the Bridgestone Intercollegiate rounded out the fall schedule. The Tigers hope to carry the momentum of their strong fall into the spring.

Senior Ian Rochester has finished in the top 10 seven times and four times in the top 2.

Senior Kyle Ritche has posted two top 20 finishes since joining the Tigers in 2006.

Grant ROBBINS

Head Coach

Year at Memphis: 5th

Alma Mater: Memphis (1994)

Now in his fifth season as head coach of the University of Memphis men's golf team, Grant Robbins continues to build Tiger golf into a nationally-recognized program. Prior to being named head coach of the Tigers, Robbins proved his expertise at the University of North Carolina-Wilmington where he built the Seahawk golf program into a national powerhouse.

Robbins, a 1994 graduate of Memphis where he was a three-time all-conference selection, returned to his alma mater as head coach in January of 2003. Robbins replaced his former coach Jim Cook, who unexpectedly passed away in November of 2002.

Last season, Robbins coached the Tigers to seven top-ten finishes, three of which were top-five finishes. Memphis finished in a tie for seventh with UTEP in the Conference USA championships and Brad Benjamin and Kyle Peterman were awarded medals for first place finishes.

In the 2005-2006 season, Robbins and the Tigers turned in five top-five finishes, including three top-three finishes and a first-place title at the 2005 Memphis Intercollegiate. Memphis cracked the top 10 in 12 events, and former Tiger Keven Fortin-Simard earned medalist honors three times. Robbins also led the U of M to fourth place at the Conference USA Tournament, where Brad Benjamin finished third to help Memphis to the school's best conference finish since 1999.

During the 2004-05 campaign, Robbins led the Tigers to three tournament victories, which is the most first-place finishes in a single year in school history. Under Robbins, four Memphis golfers earned medalist honors, the team finished in the top two in five of the 10 events and Fortin-Simard was named All-Conference USA.

In the 2003-04 season, Robbins led Memphis to four top five finishes in its 10 tournaments, including a first-place finish (out of 15 teams) at the Matlock Collegiate Classic in Lakeland, Fla. He also led Memphis to third, fourth and fifth place finishes in three separate tournaments, and the Tigers won a dual match against Mississippi State on the Bulldogs' home course. Memphis individuals had seven top five finishes in 11 tournaments, and both David Jeans and Alan Weant were named All-Conference USA.

Robbins spent four seasons at the helm of the UNC-Wilmington program before coming to Memphis. His teams won 11 tournament titles in his time on the Atlantic coast, including four events during the 2002-03 season, his final campaign with the Seahawks. The Seahawks placed in the top three in 28 events under Robbins as he led UNCW to its first-ever NCAA Tournament bid in 2003.

Robbins was named the 2001 Colonial Athletic Association Coach of the Year in just his second year at UNCW. During his time in Wilmington, he coached one CAA Player of the Year, two CAA Rookies of the Year and 13 All-CAA players. Seven different golfers were individual medalists in 10 tournaments during Robbins' four-year tenure.

Before taking the post at UNCW, Robbins coached for two years as an assistant at Penn State University. While there, he helped the Nittany Lions advance to a pair of NCAA East Regionals in 1998 and 1999. Robbins assisted in all facets of the Penn State program and served as the recruiting coordinator. He was also the tournament director of the Rutherford Intercollegiate and was an instructor for the Penn State Golf Camps.

Robbins gained valuable experience playing on three different professional golf tours following his graduation from Memphis. Robbins put in time on the North Florida PGA Winter Tour (1994-95), the Tommy Armour Professional Golf Tour (1994-95) and the Tour America Mid-South Professional Golf Tour (1995).

A Memphis native, Robbins was a four-year letterman on the Tiger golf team from 1990-94, and also served as a team captain his junior and senior seasons. He was an All-Great Midwest Conference team selection three times and was also a recipient of the Jake Fondern Golf Scholarship. During his senior season at the 1994 Vanderbilt/Music City Intercollegiate, Robbins tied for what was then the second-lowest single round in school history when he shot a 6-under-par 66, two strokes shy of the school record.

Robbins earned his bachelor's degree in marketing in 1994 from the University of Memphis and returned to the U of M after his playing career where he earned his master's degree in sports management in 1997. Robbins is currently an instructor at the Jerry Haas Golf Camp at Wake Forest University, and has also served as an instructor at the Duke University Golf School, the Pine Needles Youth Golfari in Southern Pines, North Carolina, the Penn State Nittany Lion Golf Camp and the Fighting Scot Golf Camp in Wooster, Ohio.

Robbins is married to the former Andria Kevan of Pittsburgh, Pa.

HISTORY

1948-50

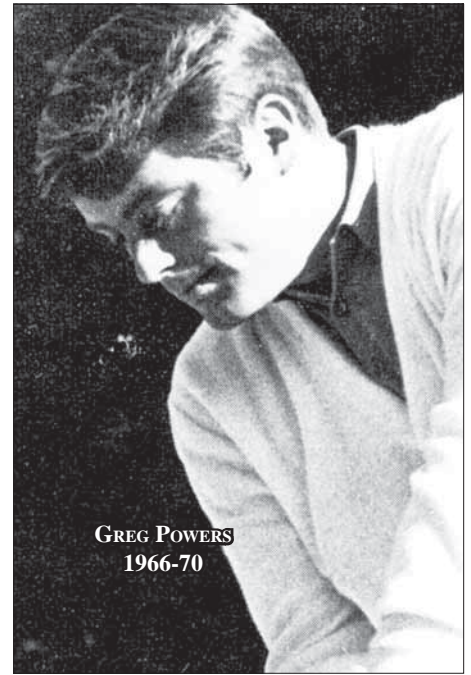

- The University of Memphis golf program began in 1948 under head coach Enoch Mitchell. Members of the first Tiger golf team included football star Jack Scott, Bill Permenter, Charles Stewart, William Giehler, Gordon Gilbert, Don Cheek and Jack Russell. The team captured the Tennessee state championship in 1948.
- In 1949-50 the golf team completed the regular season with a 7-1 record in match play. They defended such teams as Ole Miss and Tulane en route to their outstanding season. Bob Crenshaw and Dick Holley were added to the team and Bill Permenter won the Tennessee state individual title, and Bill Cheek captured the Memphis city championship.

1951-60

- Larry Smith became the head golf coach at the University of Memphis in 1950-51 and immediately added Hillman Robbins, the state of Tennessee junior championship, to the Tiger roster. Robbins earned the No. 1 spot on the team as a freshman and went on to win the Tennessee Intercollegiate Athletic Conference crown and the Southern Intercollegiate.
- Ron Wenzler was signed for 1951-52 and joined Wray Williams, Jimmy Wade, Mike Flanagan, Bobby Mitchel, Rodney Scarbrough and Robbins to give the Tigers another championship team. Robbins, playing in the No. 1 position, won the Colonial Invitational, the Memphis City championship and the Southern Intercollegiate. The team finished with an 8-1-1 record under the direction of Coach Smith.

- In 1953-54, the Tigers continued to pile up victories in match play. Hillman Robbins won the Colonial Invitational for the third consecutive year. He also laid claim to the Tennessee state championship, the Southeastern PGA, and the Tennessee Intercollegiate Athletic Conference title. Joining Robbins on this outstanding squad was a freshman named Mason Rudolph.
- The 1954-55 team ranks near the top as one of the finest in Tiger history. Robbins and Rudolph powered the team to numerous match wins along with teammates Bill Garner, Ed Crenshaw and Phil and Sam Zerilla. Robbins won the Houston Open, the Southern Intercollegiate, the Tennessee Open, the Colonial Invitational for the fourth time and finished the season winning the NCAA Golf Championship. He became the Tigers' first national champion. In addition, Robbins was named as an alternate for the Walker Cup Team in 1954. He would later win the U.S. National Amateur championship. The team finished the year with a 9-2 record.
- Gene Dixon, the state amateur champion, was signed in 1955-56 along with the Nashville junior champion, Lou Graham. Graham and Mason Rudolph would go on to have successful careers on the PGA Tour.
- Roy Moore, Sr. and Dub Fondren took over as coaches for the Tiger golf team in 1956-57. With Graham, Arthur Leon, Phil Zerilla, Ed Crenshaw and Ed Brantley, the linksters posted a 5-1 record

- The 1963-64 team featured freshman Mike Malarkey, who went on to become the head golf coach for the University of Tennessee Volunteers.
- Ted Butler and Greg Powers joined the Tiger golf team in 1965-66 and led the team to some of its finest moments. Playing with Malarkey, Mike Nixon and Russ Glover, the team would win numerous tournament titles and gain the squad's first NCAA team bid. Bill Brogden became the head coach in 1967. Brogden was a strong recruiter and would continue to bring talented players to Memphis. Mike Nixon, Billy Buchanan and Steve Busch were but a few of the outstanding Tiger players in the late 1960's.

1971-80

- Jim Cook was named head coach in 1971 and set about keeping the tradition alive. His 1973 team captured the title of the Mid-America Intercollegiate in St. Louis, Missouri, Cook's first collegiate victory.

- The 1998 Tiger golf team had six top 10 tournament finishes, including a tie for fifth in the Persimmon Ridge Intercollegiate in Louisville, Kentucky. Blair Scurlock was named to the All-C-USA team.
- The 1999 Tiger golf team placed two individuals on the honors team. Blair Scurlock was named to the All-C-USA Tournament team and junior Colin Wright received All-Conference honors.

2001-Present

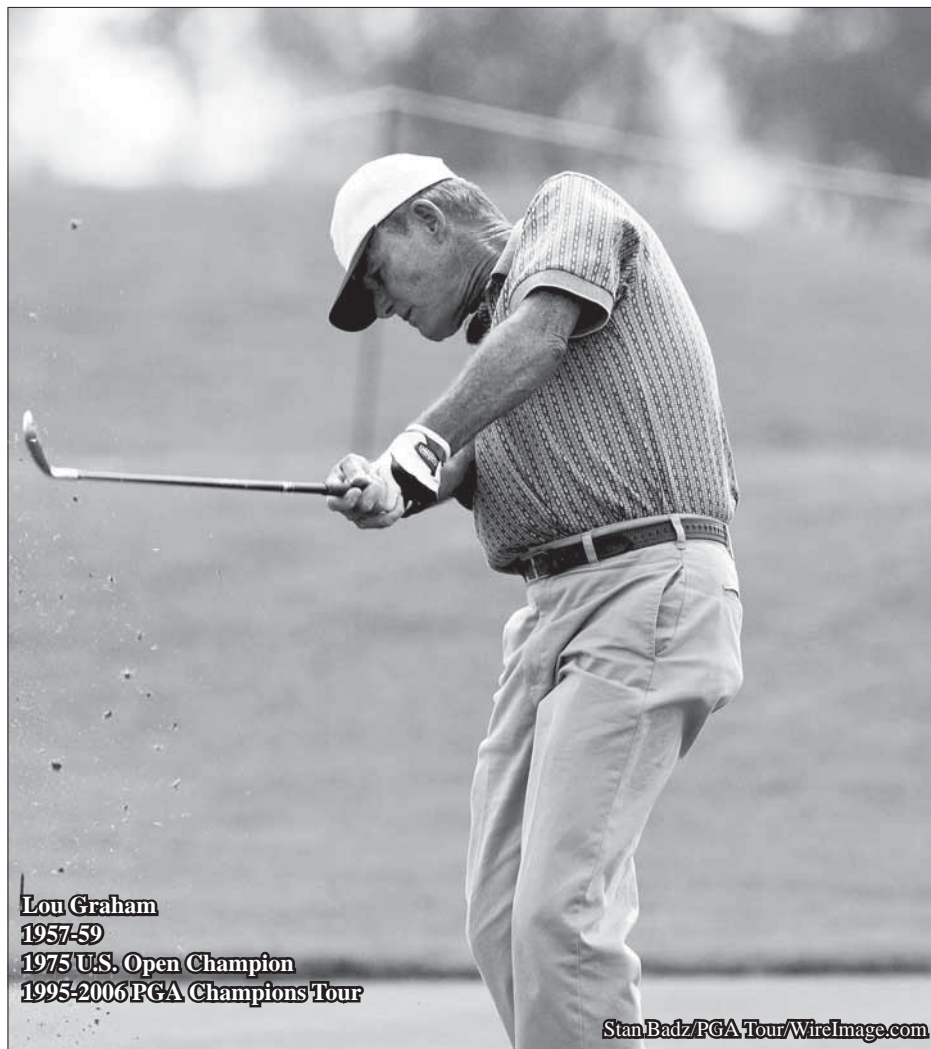

- The 2000 Tiger golf team tied for sixth in the Conference USA Championship and Tiger freshman David Jeans tied for 13th with a score of 223. Michael Prieur tied for 14th in the Southern Hills Invitational in Tulsa.
- The 2002 fall golf season was perhaps the U of M's best in many years, but tragedy struck late in the fall. After winning the DePaul Blue Demon Invitational and placing fourth in two events and fifth in two others, Tiger golf coach Jim Cook died of a heart attack just 36 hours after returning from the South Alabama Fall Beach Classic. Cook had coached the Tiger golf team for 31 and a half years. He was replaced by Bob Winn for the spring of 2003.
- Former Tiger golfer Grant Robbins was hired as the new head golf coach and began his duties in the fall of 2003. Robbins, a three-time All-Great Midwest conference selection at Memphis, had served as the head golf coach at UNC-Wilmington for four years and had built the Seahawk program into a national contender.
- In the beginning of just his second year as head coach, Robbins led the Tigers to three tournament wins during the fall of 2004, as Memphis rallied from behind in all three wins. It is the first time in school history that the Tigers won as many as three tournaments in a season. In all three wins, Memphis also had the individual medalist, as three different Tigers won individual titles in the three wins.

- Keven Fortin-Simard won his second individual title in 2005, medalling at the Memphis Intercollegiate. The Tigers won the event for the second-straight year and earned championship honors for the fourth time in two years. Fortin-Simard went on to have a successful campaign in the spring of 2006, picking up two more wins and three more top-10 finishes. Brad Benjamin finished third at the Conference USA Tournament and helped Memphis to a fourth place finish, the best conference finish by a Tiger golf squad since 1999.
- The Tigers welcomed five freshmen and two transfers to campus in 2006-07 and 10 golfers saw action in the Memphis lineup. Ian Rochester started off his junior campaign right with three top-20 finishes in the fall season. Brad Benjamin and Lewis Clarke made one top-10 appearance each and Kyle Peterman picked up co-medalist honors at the Mason Rudolph Intercollegiate, his first collegiate tournament. In the spring Ian Rochester recorded two second-place finishes and a sixth-place finish at the conference tournament. Brad Benjamin earned medalist honors at the Palisades Collegiate Classic.
- The Tigers got off to a hot start in 2007-2008 finishing in the Top-10 in each of their four fall events. Seniors Ian Rochester and Robbie Greenwell picked up two top-10 finishes a piece and sophomore Brandon Bunn tied for fifth at the Memphis Intercollegiate.
