Tigers to Wrap Two-Game Road Swing at East Carolina, Saturday

The University of Memphis women's basketball team (12-7, 5-1 C-USA) improved to 3-0 on the road and picked up the program's first-ever win over Marshall on Thursday night, but faces a stiff task when they wrap up a two-game C-USA road weekend at East Carolina, Saturday afternoon at 4:30 p.m. (ET). In ECU, Memphis faces a team that had its best non-conference start in school history and that was the last undefeated team in the league standings before falling on the road at Rice and SMU.

Even with the graduation of a pair of all-conference performing guards in LaCoya Terry and Jasmine Young, ECU has still gotten scoring production from its guard spot as youngsters Ashley Clarke and Allison Spivey were apparently just waiting their opportunity in the wings. Clarke leads ECU with 12.7 points per game, ranks second with 4.8 rebounds, and leads ECU with 110 assists and 50 steals. She shoots 47.6 percent from the floor and leads the Pirates in free-throw attempts with 94 on the season. She is one of three Pirates to average double digits in league play, with Spivey leading ECU against league foes with 12.9 points, while West Virginia transfer Kelly Smith adds 10.6 ppg against league foes.

Memphis has seemed to find a fondness for all things '10' -- Memphis snapped a 10-game losing streak at FedExForum with the win over Rice and snapped another 10-game losing streak to Marshall with Thursday night's victory. Well, there will be another 10 in the Tigers future, as ECU is undefeated at home so far this season -- 10-0.

Memphis' seven point win over Marshall was the Tigers' biggest conference victory of the season, and improved the team's mark to 8-3 in games decided by single digits.

It has been defense that has gotten Memphis to the top of the league standings early in the conference slate, as the Tigers rank second in C-USA in points allowed and first in field goal percentage defense.

Against Marshall, Memphis held the Thundering Herd's leading scorer, Chantelle Handy, to just seven points in 18 minutes of play as Handy picked up her third personal foul in the first half. But the Tigers had foul issues of their own, as leading scorer Brittany Carter picked up two first-half fouls and finished the game with four fouls.

But the Tiger bench came up big as both Alex Winchell and Nicole Dickson scored double-digits off the bench, giving the team a lift when Carter and Mumphy were in foul troubles. In all, nine of the 10 Tigers who played scored and rebounded to give the team some balance in the 57-50 victory.

The Series History

East Carolina leads the overall series with Memphis 7-6, including a 1-5 record in games played in Greenville. The Tigers have won 3 of the last 4 meetings, but lost the game in Greenville last season, 83-66.

In last year's meeting, Memphis shot 50 percent in the opening half, but still trailed big, 42-30, at the half, as ECU connected on 9-of-15 threes in the win. Luckily for Memphis, three of the four Pirates who knocked down threes in that game (Jasmine Young, LaCoya Terry and Gabriela Husarova) graduated, but Allison Spivey returns after hitting 3-for-4 from beyond the arc in that game and finishing with nine points and five assists.

Tigers Taking to Ten

Memphis seems to like ending things that come in 10s. The team picked up its first-ever win at FedExForum after 10 losses; won at Marshall Thursday night for the team's first-ever win over the Thundering Herd following 10 losses and now face an East Carolina team that is undefeated at home (10-0) so far this season.

Tiger Bench Comes Up Big at Marshall

Two of Memphis' double-digit scorers came off the bench on Thursday night. Junior guard Alex Winchell came in and knocked down four triples to finish with 12 points, adding two assists and a steal in 26 minutes of play. Freshman forward Nicole Dickson stepped up and had a rough shooting night, shooting 5-for-13, but finished with 10 points, eight rebounds, one assist and two steals in 30 minutes of play. Both saw significant minutes with Brittany Carter and Taylor Mumphrey in foul trouble.

Road Warriors

Memphis won half of its games last year on the road (6 of 12), including a 4-4 mark in C-USA play. The Tigers are off to an unblemished start in league road play following wins at East Division foes UCF, Southern Miss and Marshall, but will have their hands full Saturday. The Tigers are 1-4 in Greenville against East Carolina. The only Tiger on the roster who played in Memphis' last road win at ECU was junior guard Alex Winchell. Junior center Savannah Ellis was also on the roster for that last game, but did not play, missing her only game of her freshman campaign.

Free Basketball

Memphis trailed 47-42 with 44 seconds remaining in the game against Rice on Saturday and got a pair of baskets from Brittany Carter and one of two free-throws from LaToya Bullard to make it to an overtime session, where the Tigers built a six point lead, then held on for the 59-58 overtime win.

The overtime appearance was the first of the season for Memphis and the second of the program's history under McFerrin. Memphis won its last overtime game as well, 77-72, at Southern Miss in the regular season finale last year.

Keeping Fans on the Edges of Their Seats

The Tigers are a team that has a lot of experience in close games. Ten of Memphis' first 18 games were decided by single digits, with Memphis sporting a 7-3 record in games decided by single digits.

Memphis has lost just two games by double digits (69-59 to Murray State and 86-76 at Louisiana Tech).

Five Single Digit Losses

Memphis has suffered seven losses on the season, but they have all come by a combined 43 points. Five of those losses were single-digit losses (Indiana, Eastern Washington, FIU, Ole Miss, SMU), and the Murray State and Louisiana Tech losses were 10-point losses.

Getting Defensive

Looking at overall stats, Memphis ranks seventh in C-USA with 64.6 ppg given up in scoring defense. But since the calendar rolled to 2010 and Conference USA play, the Tigers have gotten downright stingy, holding opponents to just 59.6 ppg (2nd in the league) and ranking first in the league-only stats by holding opponents to just 32.3 percent from the floor.

C-USA Road Sweep On Last Trip

The Tigers picked up a pair of impressive road wins in their first road weekend, defeating each of the two teams from last year's C-USA Tournament Championship game on their respective home floors. The last time Memphis swept a C-USA road series was in 2003-04 when they won at Tulane and Southern Miss.

Keep it Down!

Memphis has gotten fired up to play some defense against some pretty dominant players in Conference USA. Against SMU, the Tigers held second team all-conference player Brittany Gilliam to just six points and two rebounds in 23 minutes, and then held the league's pre-season player of the year, UCF's Emma Cannon, to just eight points. Cannon did own Memphis on the glass though, posting 20 rebounds on the Tigers for the second time in her three-year-old C-USA career. In the win at Southern Miss on Sunday, the Golden Eagles were without their leading scorer Pauline Love, but Memphis held the team's second-leading scorer, Candace Rucker, to just nine points and four rebounds before she fouled out after 22 minutes of play.

from the top of the key to push the Tigers in front, and to the eventual win, at UCF. The game-winner was the second of the season for Carter with the clock winding down, as she hit a jumper with 13 seconds remaining in the win at Missouri with the Tigers trailing by one.

The Tigers have had nine double-doubles so far this season from four different players. Both Tiger starting posts, Taylor Mumphrey and Savannah Ellis, have three double-doubles so far this year.

Kelsey Crashing

Freshman guard Chatia Kelsey played some big minutes in the overtime win against Rice. With Lonlack in foul trouble, then fouling out of the game, it was the freshman from Harvest, Alabama, who drew a defensive assignment on D'Frantz Smart, one of the quickest players in the league. The freshman responded with a career-high seven rebounds, two steals and no turnovers in 19 minutes of play. She also corralled a loose ball as the clock ran down to secure the Memphis victory.

Speaking of Crashing

Against Rice, Memphis had almost as many rebounds as points, finishing with 57 rebounds and 59 points. The Tigers out-rebounded Rice 57-47, which was just the sixth time this season Memphis has out-rebounded its opponent and just the third time it has done so by double-digits (+11 vs. Sacramento State; +12 at South Alabama).

Lonlack Making Her Case

Melissa McFerrin's greatest frustration when the post-season awards were announced last season was that then-freshman guard Ramses Lonlack was not voted to the C-USA All-Defensive Team. As a true freshman, the Cameroon native played and started in all 30 games and her 998 minutes played ranked in Memphis' single season top 10. She ranked 7th in the league in steals per game and sixth in minutes per game and still didn't earn a spot on either the All-Freshman squad or the defensive squad.

As a sophomore, Lonlack is again making a case for a defensive honor. In league play, she leads Memphis with 21 steals in 5 games (4.2 steals/game) and ranks fourth in the league with 2.6 steals per game in all games.

Lonlack paid a price for all the minutes last season, suffering shin splints, then rolled her ankle in the pre-season, which had her walking in a boot until 3 weeks ago. Since getting healthy and getting in to league play, she has turned up the defense, include a game-saving steal of a cross-court pass at Southern Miss with the game clock winding down.

In 48 career games, Lonlack already has 111 steals (2.3/game).

The 400 Club?

With so many new faces on the Memphis roster (eight newcomers to the court this year), Memphis will not likely have a 1,000 career point celebration this year, but might be making some progress toward some future celebrations with four different players working toward their 400th career points.

LaToya Bullard is playing just her fourth semester of college basketball and is just 60 points shy of her 400th career point (340). Brittany Carter (327) is rolling toward her 400th career point, needing just 73 more points to hit the 400 mark, while junior Savannah Ellis is just 26 points shy of her 400th career point (374) heading in to the Marshall game. Sophomore Ramses Lonlack is the fourth member looking to join the 400 club, with 388 points, needing just 12 more for her 400th point.

Of all the players on the roster, junior guard Alex Winchell leads Memphis in career points with 551, but is coming off a scoreless outing against Rice, her first scoreless game of the season and just the third scoreless outing of her career. The last two times she has been held scoreless, she scored seven points in each of the next games.

Carter Moves In to One Top 10 Category

After scoring 22 points in 26 minutes of play in the win over Rice, sophomore guard Brittany Carter moved in to a single season top 10 category for Memphis in just her 18th career game as a Tiger. She now has 327 points on the season, which ranks as the 10th best single season total for any Tiger sophomore in school history. She needs 252 more points to have a shot at the Tiger single season top 10 for all players, regardless of class. The 10th place mark right now is a 579 point season from Tamika Whitmore in 1996-97 (Whitmore's sophomore year).

Winning Record Following Non-Conference Play for a Second Straight Season

In Melissa McFerrin's first year at Memphis last season, the Tigers capped non-conference play with a 7-6 mark, the team's first non-conference record better than .500 since the 2004-05 season. The Tigers matched that mark with a 59-55 win over Saint Louis, giving them winning non-conference seasons for the first time since 2003-04 and 2004-05.

Winchell Knocks Down 100th Career Triple; Pushes Her Past 500 Point Mark

With a pair of three-point field goals in the win over Jackson State, Alex Winchell knocked down Nos. 100 and 101 from three-point range, becoming just the seventh Tiger in Memphis history to hit 100 or more career threes.

Her seven points against Jackson State, she also went over the 500-point mark for her three-year old Memphis career.

Carter Sets A Conference USA and Memphis Single Game Record

Sophomore guard Brittany Carter scored 49 points and shot 16-for-28 from the field while setting a Conference USA and a University of Memphis single game record, finishing with 49 points. The scoring mark broke the Memphis scoring record of 45 points that was set by WNBA player Tamika Whitmore on Mar. 17, 1999 in a win over Arkansas State in the WNIT.

Carter also led the team with 11 rebounds for her second career double-double in the Sacramento State victory. Carter was 15-for-20 from the free-throw line. The 15 made free-throws was the second-best single game performance in school history and the 20 free-throw attempts was also the second-best mark in school history.

Tigers Ink Second Ranked Recruiting Class

After signing the No. 60 ranked recruiting class last season, Memphis has followed it up with the No. 47 ranked recruiting class this season. Mary Jackson and Jasmine Lee both count in next year's recruiting class because of transfer rules, but the Tigers added a left-handed post player from Mesquite, Texas, on the first day of the early signing period with the addition of Sha-ree "KK" Harvey. Freshman point guard Bilqis Abdul-Qadir is not included in that ranking from the Collegiate Girls Basketball Report yet.

Melissa McFerrin

2nd Season at Memphis

Career: 74-95 (.438)

Melissa McFerrin was named the University of Memphis women's basketball coach on April 19th, 2008, becoming the fourth coach in the program's modern history.

McFerrin, the 2008 Patriot League Coach of the Year, spent the past four seasons at American University in Washington D.C. Her 2007 American team advanced to the Patriot League championship game and her 2008 squad won the school's first-ever Patriot League regular season championship, finishing with an 18-14 overall record. That team won 11 of 12 games down the stretch, advancing to the post season for the first time since 1997-98 with a WNIT bid. In four seasons at American, McFerrin compiled a 50-70 record and guided five different players to all-conference honors, while two other players earned all-freshman honors.

Prior to her stint with American, McFerrin was an associate head coach at the University of Minnesota from 2002-2004. She helped Minnesota to a 50-15 record, including an NCAA Final Four appearance in 2004 and a Sweet Sixteen berth in 2003. She signed two recruiting classes ranked in the top 20 at Minnesota, and helped guide two Kodak All-Americans, including WNBA player Lindsey Whalen.

McFerrin's time at Minnesota came after a five-year association with the WNBA. She began her affiliation with the WNBA as an assistant coach with the New York Liberty from 1997-1999, assisting with coaching duties for the 1997 WNBA Championship runner-up Liberty squad. She moved to the Washington Mystics as an assistant coach in 1999-2000, taking over as the Mystics' General Manager in 2000. As the GM, she guided a team that made its first-ever WNBA play-off appearance in 2000, and handled all player trades and draft decisions before joining the coaching staff at Minnesota.

Her WNBA stint followed a 14-year coaching career that made three different stops. McFerrin began her coaching career as a graduate assistant at Wayland Baptist University in Texas from 1983-84. She was then hired as an assistant coach at Central Michigan University, where she helped the Chippewas to a 95-77 record in her six seasons, including a 1985 Mid-American Conference championship.

She left Central Michigan in 1990 to become an assistant coach and recruiting coordinator at The Ohio State University. At Ohio State, she helped the Buckeyes to a 118-90 record and a 1993 Big Ten championship and an NCAA National Championship runner-up. That 1993 squad benefited from a 1992 McFerrin recruiting class that was ranked No. 1 in the nation, one of seven Buckeye recruiting classes to be nationally-ranked under McFerrin's watch at OSU. In 1996, McFerrin helped guide the Buckeyes to the NCAA Second Round before leaving the following season for the WNBA.

A native of Cassville, Mo., McFerrin was a four-year letterwinner and starting point guard for the University of Missouri Tigers from 1979 to 1983. She helped Missouri to a 1983 Big Eight tournament championship and NCAA tournament berth and a 1982 NCAA Sweet Sixteen appearance, earning Big Eight honorable mention honors and Scholar-Athlete awards along the way. She graduated cum laude with a degree in secondary education from Missouri in 1983, and received her master's degree in physical education from Central Michigan in 1988.
