2011 Special Guest Lecture

Coach Lawrence Frank

Lawrence Frank was named the 28th coach in Detroit Pistons history on August 3, 2011. He joins the Pistons after spending last season as the lead assistant coach with the Boston Celtics. Under his defensive guidance, the Celtics led the NBA in fewest points allowed and ranked third in opponent field goal percentage. Offensively, the 2010-11 Celtics led the league in field goal percentage and finished tied for fourth in the NBA in assists per game.

Prior to his time in Boston, Frank served the better part of seven seasons as head coach of the New Jersey Nets. He led the Nets to four consecutive postseason appearances (2004-07) and holds an 18-20 (.474) record in the playoffs. Frank departed New Jersey as the franchise's all-time leader in NBA coaching victories.

He began his NBA head coaching career in record-setting style by going 13-0, setting the NBA mark for the most consecutive wins by a head coach to begin a career. At that time, the 13-game winning streak set the longest run of any coach in any of the four major professional sports to begin a career. During this streak, the Nets captured six consecutive road games to give Frank the mark for most wins by a head coach on the road at the outset of a coaching career.

Prior to joining New Jersey, Frank spent three seasons as an assistant coach for the Vancouver Grizzlies under current Pistons assistant coach Brian Hill. Before moving into the NBA, Frank served as an assistant coach at the University of Tennessee for three seasons under Kevin O'Neill, a former Pistons assistant. Frank first worked with O'Neill as a staff assistant at Marquette University in 1992, helping lead the Warriors to two NCAA Tournament berths and a Sweet 16 appearance in 1994.

Frank earned his bachelor's degree in education from Indiana University in 1992, and holds a master's degree in education administration from Marquette University. Born in New York, New York and raised in Teaneck, New Jersey, Frank and his wife, Susan, have two daughters, Dillon and Caitlin.

In the event that Coach Frank's schedule will not permit him to attend the Clinic, John Beilein will lecture on the same topics.

Per NCAA Rules, all Clinic attendees must be 18 years or older, and not currently attending High School.

A Message from Michigan Head Coach, John Beilein

We are pleased to present our fifth annual Michigan Basketball Coaches Clinic. This year's clinic will feature new Head Coach of the Detroit Pistons, Lawrence Frank, along with lectures from two of my assistant coaches, LaVall Jordan and Jeff Meyer.

We are thankful to have Lawrence Frank speak at our clinic. As a successful basketball coach with a tremendous basketball mind, he will certainly provide great insight to the game of basketball and the art of coaching.

LaVall Jordan and Jeff Meyer are sharp, knowledgeable, and possess the ability to teach the game at an extremely high level. Both Vall and Jeff will share their expertise on how we help shape and develop student-athletes.

After lunch I will conduct a 90-minute practice session with our very own Wolverines. Clinic attendees will get to see first-hand how we run a practice in Crisler Arena, and will be given the opportunity to ask questions during the Q&A portion of the day at the conclusion of the Clinic.

We believe this clinic will provide a great opportunity for coaches of all ages and experience levels to become better teachers through the information they receive from our guest speakers. Our players are going to work hard on the court to demonstrate for you the skill and focus necessary to be a successful team on and off the court.

I hope that you will join us on Saturday, October 22nd for what we believe will be a great day to help you prepare for your 2011-12 season.

If you have any questions about the clinic, please contact us at 734.763.5504 or via email at michiganhoops@umich.edu.
