ALL-TIME MICHIGAN HEAD COACHES

G.D. Corneal

G.D. CORNEAL
 • 1908-09 (ONE SEASON)
 • 1-4 OVERALL

The history of Michigan basketball began in this inaugural season as the university succumbed to overwhelming public and alumni demand. This first season of Michigan basketball was quite successful considering the constraints G.D. Corneal was left to work under. At the time Corneal was appointed head coach, he undertook the unenviable task of recruiting players from the student body. The Wolverines lone victory came in a 27-25 hard-fought victory over Oberlin College. Following the 1908-09 season, Michigan basketball was discontinued for eight years until it was re-instituted in 1917 under Elmer Mitchell. The deciding factor in terminating the basketball program was low attendance figures at home games. After clamoring for a varsity basketball team for nearly three years, the students failed to accord the basketball team with the support that administration expected.

Elmer Mitchell

ELMER MITCHELL
 • 1917 to 1919 (TWO SEASONS)
 • 22-20 OVERALL; 5-15 BIG TEN

Elmer Mitchell holds the distinguished honor of coaching Michigan's first varsity basketball team. In his first season, the Wolverines finished with a 0-10 Big Ten record, the only winless conference season in school history. Mitchell's cerebral approach to the game lifted Michigan to a 16-8 record, and a remarkable 12 game turnaround (6 wins to 16 wins). A 1912 Michigan graduate, Mitchell was considered a foremost authority in physical education and recreational programming. Upon graduation, he was named athletic director at Grand Rapids Union High School, a position he held for three years. Mitchell went on to hold a similar post at Michigan State Normal College (presently Eastern Michigan) between 1915-17. After returning to Michigan in 1917, Mitchell held various positions within the athletic and physical education departments. Perhaps, Mitchell's most lasting contribution to the university was the establishment of the men's intramural sports programs. The programs that Mitchell implemented in 1919 continue to serve Michigan's student body. Considered an expert consultant on recreational programs, Mitchell was selected to assist the United States Armed Forces in the conceptualization of training programs. For his valuable contributions to the U.S. Navy, Mitchell was appointed a Lieutenant commander.

E.J. Mather

EDWARD "E.J." MATHER
 • 1919 TO 1928 (NINE SEASONS)
 • 108-53 OVERALL; 64-43 BIG TEN

Edward "E.J." Mather left his mark in the Michigan record books by finishing with the fifth most victories and the third highest winning percentage in school history. He led his teams to three Big Ten titles in nine seasons, including consecutive championships in 1925-26 and 1926-27. The greatest reflection of Mather's astute coaching came between his first and second years on the job. Mather inherited the team from Elmer Mitchell in 1919 and directed them to a seventh place finish in the Big Ten. The following year, after he was able to implement his system, the Wolverines captured the conference title with an amazing 18-4 record. Mather joined the Michigan staff after a brilliant athletic career at Kalamazoo College. Selected captain for the Kalamazoo baseball, football, and basketball squads, Mather led the Hornet hoops team to four straight Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association titles. Mather tirelessly dedicated himself as "M" coach up until his sudden death in 1928.

George Veenker

GEORGE VEENKER
 • 1928 to 1931 (THREE SEASONS)
 • 35-12 OVERALL; 24-10 BIG TEN

George Veenker took over for the highly respected E.J. Mather and successfully continued Michigan's winning tradition. In Veenker's three seasons as head coach, Michigan finished no worse than third place in the Big Ten Conference. In 1928-29, Michigan earned the Big Ten championship compiling a 10-2 conference and 13-3 overall record. Over his three seasons as coach, Veenker amassed the highest overall and Big Ten winning percentages in Michigan history (.745 overall, .706 conference). Although he regretted leaving his post at Michigan, Veenker left the university in 1931 to fill the head coaching position for Iowa State's football team.

Frank Cappon

FRANKLIN "CAPPY" CAPPON
 • 1931 to 1938 (SEVEN SEASONS)
 • 78-57 OVERALL; 44-40 BIG TEN

Frank "Cappy" Cappon was associated intermittently with Michigan athletics since 1919, when he enrolled as a student-athlete. During his undergraduate years, Cappon won four varsity letters, three in football, as an end, a tackle and a fullback, and one in basketball. Upon graduation in 1923, Cappon became head football and basketball coach at Luther College in Decorah, Iowa. Two years later he returned to Michigan as an assistant coach, but a year later, in 1926, he went to the University of Kansas to fill their head coaching vacancy. Cappon returned to Michigan in 1928 as an assistant coach in football and basketball. The following year he was made assistant to the director of athletics Fielding H. Yost. Ranking at the top of Cappon's accomplishments as head basketball coach was the 1936-37 season, in which the Wolverines finished with a 16-4 overall record and a third place finish in the Big Ten conference standings. Cappon resigned as Michigan coach in 1938 to take a similar position at Princeton University.

Bennie Oosterbaan

BENNIE OOSTERBAAN
 • 1938 to 1946 (EIGHT SEASONS)
 • 81-72 OVERALL; 40-59 BIG TEN

One of the greatest athletes ever to wear a Michigan uniform, Bennie Oosterbaan earned All-American honors in both football and basketball. Upon graduating, Oosterbaan went on to hold assistant coaching positions with the football and basketball teams and the head job for the freshman baseball squad. Oosterbaan was named basketball coach following the resignation of Frank Cappon in 1938. Upon his appointment, Oosterbaan implemented an up-tempo style of play to the historically slow paced Wolverine attack. Oosterbaan's 81 career victories place him sixth in the Michigan record books. The Wolverine's most successful season under the direction of Oosterbaan came during the 1939-40 season, when they posted a 13-7 mark. Oosterbaan stepped down as head coach in 1946 to dedicate a greater amount of energy toward his coaching position with the football team.

Ozzie Cowles

OSBORNE "OZZIE" COWLES
 • 1946 to 1948 (TWO SEASONS)
 • 28-14 OVERALL; 16-8 BIG TEN

Although his coaching stint at the University was limited, Osborne "Ozzie" Cowles left his mark in the record books. Known for his extreme dedication and studious approach to the game, Cowles posted the third best winning percentage in Michigan history (.667, tie with E.J. Mather). His 1947-48 team cruised through the Big Ten schedule posting an incredible 10-2 record on their way to the conference title. Cowles, a graduate of Carleton College, came to Michigan after establishing Dartmouth College as a national basketball power. During his eight year tenure, the Big Green won seven Ivy League titles and were the only college to be invited three times to participate in the NCAA basketball championships. Before going to Dartmouth in 1937, Cowles started his coaching career at Rochester (Minn.) High School where his football team won the state title and his first basketball team reached the state tournament semi-finals. After a brief stay at Iowa State Teachers College, Cowles returned to his alma mater, where in six years he turned out three Midwest Conference championship basketball squads. His Carleton College team 52 games and lost only 4 during that stretch.

Ernie McCoy

ERNIE MCCOY
 • 1948 to 1952 (FOUR SEASONS)
 • 40-47 OVERALL; 18-34 BIG TEN

A graduate of the University in 1929, earning five athletic letters (three in basketball, two in football) along the way, Ernie McCoy got his Master's Degree in Physical Education from Columbia University and went directly into the coaching business. McCoy held athletic director and coaching positions at Montclair High School (N.J.) for eight seasons. He was later appointed director of athletics and head football coach at Montclair State Teacher's College, a position he held for three years. McCoy, whom Fritz Crisler labeled "a Michigan man," returned to his alma mater in 1940 as an assistant football coach and freshman baseball coach. In 1946, Ernie was named assistant to athletic director Crisler and later took the post of men's basketball coach prior to the 1948-49 season. The '48-49 campaign was McCoy's most successful season, as his team posted a 15-6 record and finished third in the Big Ten. In that same season, Michigan backcourt mates Pete Elliot and Bob Harrison were each selected All-Big Ten. In addition to the excellent leadership he provided the basketball program, McCoy was especially valued at Michigan as a top-flight football scout.

BILL PERIGO

- 1952 to 1960 (EIGHT SEASONS)
- 78-100 OVERALL; 38-78 BIG TEN

Bill Perigo came to Michigan after serving as head coach of Western Michigan for three seasons. Following a few uncharacteristic mediocre seasons, Perigo's team rebounded to mark an impressive 15-7 record and second-place Big Ten finish in the 1958-59 season. All-Big Ten player and Wolverine great M.C. Burton developed his dominant skills under the watchful eye of coach Perigo. Before becoming the ninth coach in Michigan history, Perigo led Western Michigan to a 42-29 record and a Mid-American Conference title. Perigo began his coaching career in the Indiana high school ranks and later went on to take the helm at Benton Harbor High School. During his 13-year stint at Benton Harbor, Perigo's clubs won seven conference titles, qualified for the state finals three times and won the Michigan Class A championship once.

DAVE STRACK

- 1960 to 1968 (EIGHT SEASONS)
- 113-89 OVERALL; 58-54 BIG TEN

Under Dave Strack's leadership, the U-M basketball program reached new heights in the 1960's. The pinnacle of Strack's tenure was winning three straight Big Ten titles (1963-66) and finished third in the 1963-64 NCAA Tournament. Following the 1964-65 season, the Wolverines finished 24-4 and Strack was named UPI National Coach-of-the-Year and the team was voted Number One in both the AP and UPI polls. Strack's 113 career wins place him fourth, behind only Orr, Frieder, and Fisher, on Michigan's all-time list. Upon returning to his alma mater, Strack's recruiting prowess landed U-M such future greats as Cazzie Russell and Bill Buntin. After starring at Shortridge High (Ind.), Strack became a three-time letterwinner at Michigan and captained the Wolverine 1945-46 squad. He joined the Michigan coaching staff in 1948, as the freshman coach, and was later promoted to varsity assistant under Bill Perigo. Strack returned to Michigan in 1960 after a one year coaching stint at the University of Idaho, where his team posted a 11-15 record.

JOHNNY ORR

- 1968 to 1980 (12 SEASONS)
- 209-113 OVERALL; 120-72 BIG TEN

In 1967, Johnny Orr inherited a Michigan club that finished last in the Big Ten, and within three years had the Wolverines in the NCAA tournament. Orr led Michigan to Big Ten titles in 1974 and 1977, both seasons earning conference Coach-of-the-Year honors. For four straight seasons (1974-77), Orr led Michigan teams to the NCAA Tournament with his 1976 team losing in the finals to Indiana. Under Orr's tutelage, the 1977 club finished the season ranked first nationally by the AP and UPI polls. In 1976, the National Association of Basketball Coaches selected him coach of the year and in 1977, the Basketball Weekly also voted Orr Coach-of-the-Year. During his tenure at Michigan, Orr helped develop the skills of Wolverine all-time greats Rudy Tomjanovich, Campy Russell, Rickey Green, Phil Hubbard, and Mike McGee. Orr left Michigan following the '79-80 as the all-time winningest coach in school history. As a prep star, Orr led the state of Illinois in scoring and his team to a state title. Orr went on to play basketball and football for the University of Illinois for one year. After a brief stint in the Navy, Orr attended Beloit College where he was twice named an All-American. Orr began his coaching career in the high school ranks, but was quickly promoted to an assistant position with the University of Wisconsin. Orr's first head coaching position was with the University of Massachusetts where he compiled a 39-33 record during his three years.

BILL FRIEDER

- 1980 to 1989 (NINE SEASONS)
- 191-87 OVERALL; 98-64 BIG TEN

After serving as an assistant for seven years under Johnny Orr, Bill Frieder was named head coach prior to the 1980-81 campaign. Frieder's list of accomplishments is exhaustive. In 1984, U-M notched their first-ever post-season championship by defeating Notre Dame in the National Invitation Tournament. Michigan earned back-to-back Big Ten titles in 1984-85 and 1985-86, winning a school-record 33 consecutive regular season games during that stretch. Following an incredible 26-4 campaign in 1985, Frieder was selected Big Ten Coach-of-the-Year and Associated Press National Coach-of-the-Year. Frieder stepped down as coach of the Wolverines before the 1989 NCAA Tournament and presently stands as the second winningest coach in Michigan history. Prior to joining the Wolverines, Frieder served as Alpena High's Junior Varsity coach for two seasons. After leaving Alpena, Frieder's career path led him to Flint Northern High School. During the 1971-72 season, his Flint Northern team went 25-0 and won the Class 'A' State Championship. For his efforts, Frieder was named the state's Coach-of-the-Year and the Flint Educator-of-the-Year. Frieder earned his BBA ('64) and MBA ('65) degrees from Michigan and is currently serving as color commentator at Arizona State University.

STEVE FISHER

- 1989 to 1997 (EIGHT SEASONS)
- 184-82 OVERALL; 88-56 BIG TEN
- NCAA Sanction Adjusted: 108-53 OVERALL; 54-36 BIG TEN

No head-coaching career started quicker than that of Steve Fisher. After taking over for Bill Frieder at the end of the 1989 regular season, he was handed Michigan's head coaching reigns two days prior to the 1989 NCAA Tournament and proceeded to guide the Wolverines to six straight wins and the NCAA Championship in Seattle's Kingdome. In Fisher's eight-plus seasons, he compiled a 108-53* overall record and 54-36* Big Ten record while with the Wolverines. Add to the accolades the fact that Fisher coached perhaps the most famous group of players in modern NCAA history. In 1991, inked a recruiting class that would later be known as the "Fab Five." During his stay in Michigan, Fisher coached four players that would be taken in the first round of the NBA draft, including the two members of the Fab Five.

BRIAN ELLERBE

- 1997 to 2001 (FOUR SEASONS)
- 62-60 OVERALL; 26-38 BIG TEN
- NCAA Sanction Adjusted 25-32 OVERALL; 10-22 BIG TEN

Less than five months after taking an assistant coaching job at Michigan, Brian Ellerbe was given the reigns to the team as interim head coach for the 1997-98 season, a position that was made permanent the following year. In his four years, Ellerbe compiled a 28-32* record with a 10-22* mark in the Big Ten. Following two years of rebuilding, Ellerbe began building his team and found himself again with a very young team for the 1999-2000 season. The Wolverines got off to a 9-2 start to the season, but went on to a 15-14 overall mark after a 6-10 conference season, which gave them the No. 8 seed in the Big Ten Tournament and a berth in the NIT. Ellerbe also coached Jamal Crawford, who left early and became the No. 8 overall pick in the NBA Draft to the Chicago Bulls. Continuing with a young team, the 2000-01 season saw the Wolverines finish with a 10-18 overall mark and a 4-12 finish in the Big Ten. The Wolverines earned the No. 10 seed in the Big Ten Tournament.

TOMMY AMAKER

- 2001 to 2007 (SIX SEASONS)
- 109-83 OVERALL; 43-53 BIG TEN

Inheriting a program that was reeling from institutional and NCAA sanctions, Tommy Amaker led the Wolverines to the postseason three times during his six year tenure, winning the 2004 NIT title and reaching the championship game of the 2006 NIT. He also advanced to the second round of the 2007 NIT in his final season. Amaker's Wolverine squads posted three 20-plus winning seasons during his six season, including three in the last four years. U-M was ranked as high as No. 20 in the nation during the 2005-06 season, cracking the national polls for the first time in eight years. During his first season, U-M established the school record for free throw percentage in a season (75.4). Amaker closed his career posting a 109-83 overall record with a 43-53 Big Ten mark.

JOHN BEILEIN

- 2007 to PRESENT
- 66-66 OVERALL; 30-42 BIG TEN

Hired April 3, 2007, John Beilein became U-M's 16th head coach in the Wolverine history.

* Due to NCAA sanctions, the University of Michigan has vacated the records from the 1992-93, '95-96, '96-97, '97-98 and '98-99 seasons. Games affected were: 170 total games, 113-57 overall record, 50-36 Big Ten, 7-4 NCAA, 5-0 NIT and 4-1 Big Ten Tournament. It also reflects vacating the 1992 Final Four appearance; the 1997 NIT championship; 1993, 1996 and 1998 NCAA Tournament appearances; and the 1998 Big Ten Tournament championship. The asterisk and italics also denotes individual player records, awards and other honors that have been vacated due to NCAA and U-M sanctions.

ALL-TIME YEAR-BY-YEAR RESULTS

After fielding its first men's basketball team in 1909, Michigan did not sponsor the sport again until the winter of 1917. Though basketball was the most popular intramural sport at U-M, the poor conditions of Waterman Gym combined with lagging gate receipts caused Michigan officials to drop the sport for nearly eight years. During this time period, U-M was not a member of the Big Ten Conference, having withdrawn due to a dispute over football rule changes. Big Ten teams were not allowed to play the Wolverines which created a lack of local competition for Michigan to schedule. U-M rejoined the Big Ten in Nov. of 1917 and in Dec. found itself again sponsoring intercollegiate basketball to mark the start of the continuous run.
