Miss 65

Ashley Bauer crushed the U-M record for a single-round total with a seven-under 65 in the second round of the Big Ten Championships (April 23, 2010). She became the first Wolverine to shoot below 68. Bauer's 65 set a Big Ten record and tied Wisconsin's University Ridge 18-hole record. Bauer posted seven birdies and 11 pars en route to the record round. Bauer's 18-hole total broke the Big Ten record of 66 set by Maria Hernandez of Purdue in the third round in 2008 Big Ten Championships. The University Ridge record was shared by two individuals, with Grace Park of Arizona State shooting 65 twice during the 1998 NCAA Championships, while Duke's Jenny Chuasiriporn also had a 65 in that event.

Round Description: Ashley Bauer got red hot on her second time around the course on the first day of Big Ten play, birdieing five of her first six holes on the back side and making the turn of her record-breaking round at five under. After paring the first five holes on the front, she posted back-to-back birdies on Nos. 6 and 7 to push her round to a seven-under 65, breaking the U-M and Big Ten record and tying the University Ridge course record.
