MIAMI UNIVERSITY, PLEASE

When referring to Miami, please use Miami University, Miami University (Ohio) or Miami (Ohio). Please do not use Miami of Ohio, University of Miami of Ohio, etc. The latter are not the proper names for our institution. Also, in 1997, the University began using its new nickname, the RedHawks. It is one word with a capital H.

STORYLINES

1. UP AHEAD: The non-conference portion of the season comes to an end as Miami hosts Kentucky out of the SEC on Saturday at 2 p.m. in Millett Hall.

2. BCS BUSTERS: Kentucky is in the SEC, one of six conferences that make up the Bowl Championship Series. Fairly or not, wins over schools from those conferences are looking upon strongly when it comes to end of season rankings. Miami last defeated a BCS team when they beat Michigan 84-74 on Dec. 6, 2006.

3. NON-CONFERENCE CONCLUSION: This game wrap-up the non-conference part of the regular season for the RedHawks. With an 8-4 record so far, it has been one of the more successful preseasons in Miami history. In comparison, last year's NCAA Tournament team was 8-6 in non-conference regular season action. By winning percentage, the greatest non-conference regular season in school history was in 1989-90 when the RedHawks were 7-3 (.700 winning percentage). It was a sign of things to come as Miami went 15-1 in MAC play and finished the season 23-5. With a win against the Wildcats Saturday, the RedHawks would finish non-conference play 9-4 for a .692 winning percentage. That would be the second best in school history.

LAST GAME: Miami University played a strong defensive game for the first 26 minutes of the championship game of the 2008 State Farm Classic against 20th ranked Florida Tuesday night, but eventually the Gators three-point shooting did in the RedHawks as they fell 75-56. Miami falls to 8-4 on the season, while Florida improves to 13-1.

Jenna Schone scored 11 points, two assists and two steals to earn a spot on the All-Tournament team.

The RedHawks played a strong zone defense during the first half, forcing the Gators into 10 turnovers. Trailing 11-7, Maggie Boyer hit a three-point basket to cut the deficit to one with 12:15 remaining. Miami went into a shooting slump after that, as it hit only two buckets in the next 10 minutes, and Florida went on a 17-4 run to take a 28-14 lead. A jumper on a fast break by Jenna Schone stopped the bleeding with 2:35 left, and the teams exchanged single free throws the remainder of the half to send the Gators into the locker room with a 29-17 halftime lead.

A 6-0 run to begin the second half, led by two Jaclyn Leininger jump shots quickly cut the Gator lead to six at 29-23. Courtney Reed, Ashleigh Brown and Maggie Boyer each hit jumpers as the RedHawks cut the deficit even further to 35-31 with 15:18 to go.

With 13:48 remaining in the second half, Briana Dunlap hit a three-pointer to pull Miami within three at 39-36, but that would be as close as the RedHawks would get. A 14-1 run over the next 3:31 gave Florida a 53-37 lead. Miami followed that with 6-0 run of its own keyed by a Boyer three-pointer cut it back down to 10 at 53-43. However, an 18-6 run by the Gators helped put the game away and give Florida the 75-56 win.

Reed led the RedHawks with 12 points. Boyer was also in double digits with 11. Miami forced 12 steals on the Gators and recorded fewer turnovers with 16, compared to Florida's 18.

ABOUT KENTUCKY: Kentucky improved to 9-5 on the season after a 72-63 win over North Carolina A&T on Jan. 2. Kentucky has won four straight since losing 75-59 to 13th-ranked Louisville. The Wildcats have very balanced scoring with three players, Victoria Dunlap (11.9), Eleia Roddy (11.6) and Amani Franklin (10.6) averaging in double figures. The team is very strong on the boards, averaging 45.0 caroms per game, while giving up only 36.8.

SERIES HISTORY: Kentucky has a 12-2 lead in the all-time series with Miami. The teams last met on Dec. 20, 2003, a 64-58 win for the Wildcats in Oxford. The previous year, the teams met in Lexington, Ky., for one of the RedHawks' most memorable games, as Miami fell 108-102 in overtime. Colleen Day led five RedHawks in double figures with 22 points. Miami last defeated Kentucky 73-64 on Dec. 5, 2001 in Oxford.

MIAMI VS. SEC: The RedHawks are 3-21 all-time against the SEC. The majority of those games have been against Kentucky, whom Miami is 2-12 against. The other RedHawk win came against Georgia (1-1 all-time series). Miami is 0-5 against Vanderbilt, and has single losses to Tennessee and Mississippi State and Florida.

The RedHawks have never faced Arkansas, Alabama, LSU, Mississippi, South Carolina or Auburn.

Head Coach Maria Fantanarosa: Her tenth season at the helm of her alma mater was one to remember as Miami head coach Maria Fantanarosa led the RedHawks to the program's first NCAA Tournament appearance in school history. Miami won 12 of its final 13 games, captured the MAC Tournament championship and earned the automatic berth in the NCAA Tournament.

Since returning to her alma mater as head coach prior to the 1998-99 season, Fantanarosa has guided a resurgent program to eight winning seasons in the past 10 years, including two Mid-American Conference East Division crowns, the 2003-04 MAC regular-season championship and the 2008 MAC Tournament championship.

Fantanarosa became Miami's all-time winningest coach in program history with her 132nd win, an 87-79 victory over IUPUI on Dec. 30, 2006, passing Pam Wettig, who previously held the mark with a career record of 131-103. Fantanarosa's all-time record at Miami now stands at 169-137.

Fantanarosa's RedHawks have been consistently recognized for their outstanding achievements and contributions on and off the court. As a result, Director of Athletics Brad Bates recently extended Fantanarosa's contract through the 2013-14 season, noting that the mentor of the Red and White continues to attract and produce high-quality student-athletes.

A native of Kulpmont, Pa., Fantanarosa earned her bachelor's degree in speech communication with a minor in coaching science from Miami in 1990. She received her master's degree in sports administration from Xavier in 1993. Fantanarosa and her husband, Tim Morrow, have two daughters, Lauren (five) and Allison (three).

UP NEXT FOR THE REDHAWKS: Mid-American Conference play begins next week for Miami. The RedHawks travel to Akron on Wednesday, Jan. 7 for a 7 p.m. game against the Zips. Miami returns home on Saturday, Jan. 10 to face Kent State at 2 p.m. That is part of a doubleheader that will also see the RedHawk men take on Akron at 4 p.m.

SWISH, SWISH, SWISH: Miami is among the national leaders in three-point percentage, ranking 22nd (as of Dec. 21) by connecting on 36.7 percent of its treys. The RedHawks connected on 54.9 percent of their shots against Texas-Pan American (Dec. 5), by far its best effort of the season. Miami's next best single-game effort was 45.9 percent against La Salle (Nov. 26). Against Dayton on Dec. 10, the RedHawks hit eight three-pointers, including four from freshman guard Maggie Boyer (Lebanon, Ind.), the most they had hit in a game this year. The previous high for three-pointers in a game was seven set against Eastern Illinois (Nov. 14) and the aforementioned Texas-Pan American game.

DOUBLE-DIGIT RUNS: Miami has used double-digit scoring runs to help break close games open this season. Most notably, the RedHawks coasted to victory over Texas-Pan American (Dec. 5) on the heels of a 19-0 run over a span of 6:48. The streak was the longest of the year so far. Miami has six runs of 10 or more straight points this season. The RedHawks tallied 16 in a row against IPFW, 15-0 and 10-0 runs against Air Force (Dec. 6) and had 11-0 runs against both Eastern Illinois (Nov. 14) and La Salle (Nov. 25).

WINNING STREAKS: A key to last year's NCAA Tournament run was a seven-game winning streak from January 29 through Feb. 20. After dropping a game to Bowling Green on Feb. 23, the RedHawks immediately went on another six-game winning streak from Feb. 27 through Mar. 15 that culminated in a MAC Tournament Championship. While Miami has had several long winning streaks in the past, including a recent 12-game winning streak in 2004, they usually occur during the conference season. The RedHawks' recent four-game non-conference winning streak that began with a win over Wright State (Dec. 2) and also included two wins at the Air Force Classic (Dec. 5-6) and an overtime win against Dayton (Dec. 10) was the longest since the RedHawks won four in a row during the 2001-02 non-conference season. The longest non-conference winning streak for the Miami since MAC play began (1980-81) is six games, set after the RedHawks won their last five non-conference games in the 1988-89 season and then opened the 1989-90 season with a win over Wichita State.

SCHONE RUNS THE SHOW: One of the major keys to success for the 2008-09 RedHawks so far has been the performance of senior point guard Jenna Schone (Pickerington, Ohio). A second-team All-MAC selection a year ago and preseason pick in October, she is the team's leading scorer at 15.6 points per game. She has led the team in scoring six times this season, including five of the last seven games. Schone has been on a torrid assist pace, averaging 4.4 assists per game, which ranks 65th in the country (as of Dec. 21). She leads the team with 53 assists.

Last season, Schone set Miami's single-season assist record with 175, as well as the single-season three-point field goal record with 84. She currently has 484 career assists, which is second all-time at Miami and 122 shy of Heather Cusick's record of 596. She also has 205 career three-point baskets, which is tied for third on the RedHawk career list, and 25 three-point field goals short of Cusick's career record of 230.

WELCOME BACK LEININGER: Senior forward Jaclyn Leininger (Winona Lake, Ind.) has shown no signs of the season-ending knee injury she suffered in a preseason scrimmage last year. She ranks third on the team in scoring this year at 9.8 points per game, topping double figures in four games. She also is the team's top rebounder at 7.3 per contest, grabbing at least seven on seven occasions (three in double figures). She had a season high 12 rebounds against Towson (Dec. 29). Leininger recently moved into the top 50 Miami career scoring list, currently ranking 47th with 628 points.

HAWK FACTOR: Ashley Hawkins (Henderson, Ky.) seems to have found her groove as the team's sixth man and first guard off the bench. She has spent time as both the shooting guard, as well as the backup point guard in the rare times Schone is off the floor. Hawkins has been a great distributor this season with 46 assists, an average of 4.2 per game. That ranks 68th in the nation as of Dec. 21st. She has at least three assists in all but one game that she has appeared in this season. She also does not turn the ball over, ranking 23rd in the nation in assist to turnover ratio at 2.16 (as of Dec. 21).

Hawkins has appeared in 102 career games, starting 43. She currently has 711 career points, which ranks 38th on the all-time Miami career scoring list. With 224 career assists, she has cracked the Miami career top 25 list, ranking 19th.

REED THIS YEAR'S BREAKOUT PLAYER?: Every season, one player typically makes a huge jump in her contribution from the previous year. One of the candidates for breakout player this season has to be junior guard Courtney Reed (Andrews, Ind.). She has started all 11 games and is second on the team in scoring, averaging 11.8 points. Compare that to her first two years, when she appeared in a combined 64 games, starting only 11 (all in 2007-08), and averaged 5.8 points per game.

Against Murray State (Dec. 21) she had a career high 19 points to go along with five assists. It wasn't the only big-time scoring game she has had this season. In the season opener at Eastern Illinois on Nov. 14, Reed scored 15 points, only one off what was then her career high. She followed that up with 13 against IPFW (Nov. 22), 15 against Wright State (Dec. 2), 13 against Dayton (Dec. 10) and 15 against Butler (Dec. 13). Against Air Force (Dec. 6), she showed her defensive abilities, coming up with a career-high five steals.

FORD TOUGH: Senior center Stephanie Ford (Indianapolis, Ind.) was named the team's most improved player last season, and the carryover appears to have continued this year. In the exhibition game against the Hoosier Lady Stars, Ford came off the bench to score a team-high 19 points, which would have been a career high in a regular game. She accomplished that on 8-of-10 shooting in only 16 minutes of action.

Ford has started six games this season and is averaging 4.3 points and 3.5 rebounds for the season. Her best performance came against Texas-Pan American (Dec. 5), where she played a season-high 28 minutes, grabbed six rebounds (equalling her best of the year) and registered her first multiple block game of the year. Ford currently has 72 career blocks, which ranks seventh on the RedHawks' all-time list.

BOYER'S IMPRESSIVE DEBUT: The jump from high school to college is difficult, and there is always a learning curve, but freshman guard Maggie Boyer (Lebanon, Ind.) showed she might not take that much time to adjust after scoring 17 points in her first career game against Eastern Illinois (Nov. 14). Boyer shot 6-for-12 and hit three three-point baskets.

Boyer had another impressive game in the RedHawks overtime win over Dayton (Dec. 10). She hit four three-point baskets and played strong defense on the Flyers' starting guards, helping to hold them to 10-for-27 shooting. She also topped double figures against Wright State (Dec. 2) with 10 points and against Butler (Dec. 13) with 13. She established career bests for rebounds (six) against Dayton and assists (three) against Texas-Pan American (Dec. 5). She set a new career high on Dec. 29 with 19 points against Towson, scoring 17 in the second half. Boyer is the leading scorer among freshmen, ranking fourth overall at 9.7 points per contest.

WISNER CLEANS UP BOARDS: Another freshman with a strong start to her college career is forward Erin Wisner (Solon, Ohio). She currently ranks third on the team in rebounding at 4.8 per contest and enjoyed a breakout game of 11 points and seven boards against Wake Forest (Nov. 29). She missed three games after injuring her shoulder against Air Force (Dec. 6), but returned to action against Towson (Dec. 29).

BROWN DOES THE LITTLE THINGS: Junior Ashleigh Brown (Delaware, Ohio) has been Miami's "energy" player this season, grabbing the key rebounds, diving for the loose balls or just motivating the team with her effort. However, she has shown signs of being the star player when she is needed. She scored a career high 21 points on 9-of-15 shooting against Murray State (Dec. 21), and also pulled down seven rebounds (five offensive), three steals and a block. She topped double figures in scoring for the second time against Texas-Pan American (Dec. 5) when she tallied 10 points on 5-of-7 shooting. Against La Salle (Nov. 25), she gained a then career-high 16 points on 8-for-10 shooting, and also recorded five rebounds, two assists, two blocks, and three steals. Against Dayton (Dec. 10) she matched a career high with nine rebounds and followed it up with eight points and seven rebounds in a career high 36 minutes against Butler (Dec. 13). So far this season she is fifth on the team in scoring with 6.8 points per game and second with 5.0 rebounds per game.

ONE GREAT HALF: Miami shot 70.9 percent after intermission against Texas-Pan American (Dec. 5). The effort marked the best 20-minute span of the season for the RedHawks, topping a 48.4 percent first-half against Wright State.

HANDING OUT THE HELPERS: Miami was credited with 20 assists against Texas-Pan American (Dec. 5) with six different players handing out at least one. The total was just one shy of the season high of 21, registered against Wright State in the previous outing. The RedHawks also topped 15 assists against Dayton (18), La Salle (17), Butler (17) and Air Force (16). With an average of 15.1 assists per game as of Dec. 21, the RedHawks ranks 60th in the nation as a team in that category as of Dec. 21.

THE NEWCOMERS: Six freshmen make up one of the strongest recruiting classes on paper in Miami history. The class includes Michelle Oswalt (Lafayette, Ind.), who was originally part of last year's class, but an injury caused her to miss the season, and she made her Miami debut against Eastern Illinois. She is currently sidelined after suffering an injury in that game. She is joined in the backcourt by Maggie Boyer and Ariel Thomas (Cincinnati, Ohio). In the front court are Erin Wisner, Rachael Hencke (Grafton, Wisc.) and Lillian Pitts (Shaker Heights, Ohio).

Wisner, Hencke and Pitts have played key roles in backing up the forward spots. Thomas has appeared in eight games so far this season at guard. She scored her first career points against #20 Florida (Dec. 30).

Eastern Illinois	82
Nov. 14, 2008 • Charleston, Ill.

CHARLESTON, Ill. – The Miami's women's basketball team twice cut a double-digit second half deficit to as close as one point, but was unable to overcome foul trouble as Eastern Illinois defeated the RedHawks 82-74 in the season opener for both teams.

The RedHawks were called for 35 personal fouls during the game that the Panthers converted for 31 of their 48 free throws. EIU also shot very well for the game at 53.5 percent, while Miami shot 40.9 percent.

Trailing 35-23 with five minutes remaining in the half, Reed caught fire to help keep Miami in the game. A free throw and two three-pointers by Reed cut the EIU lead to 40-30. The Panthers pushed the lead back to 47-34, but an Erin Wisner basket at the buzzer had the RedHawks trailing 47-36 at the half. Reed led Miami with 11 points at the half. Boyer had seven. Eastern Illinois shot 54.8 percent during the half compared to the RedHawks 43.3 percent, and outboarded Miami 20-15.

The RedHawks opened the second half on an 11-1 run to cut the Panther lead to one. Boyer hit a three-pointer and two free throws, followed by two Leininger buckets and a Reed layup during that stretch.

Several free throws by EIU pushed the lead back to 10 at 70-60, Miami had one last run as a Boyer three-pointer and a couple of jumpers by Leininger cut it down to four at 76-72. With under a minute to go, Jenna Schone stole the ball and hit a layup to make it 76-74, but fouled out on the ensuing possession. The Panthers hit their free throws in the last minute to seal the win.

IPFW	57
Miami	73
Nov. 22, 2008 • Oxford, Ohio

OXFORD, Ohio – Miami scored seven straight points late in the first half to take the lead for good, then ran off 16 in a row in the second to cruise to a 73-57 victory over IPFW Saturday afternoon at Millett Hall. Jenna Schone led all scorers with 21 points, while Courtney Reed added 13 points.

The Mastodons led 20-19 when Miami scored seven straight points. Jaclyn Leininger hit two free throws and Ashleigh Brown each made a layup before Schone capped the run with a three-pointer. The lead reached seven at 34-27 after two more Leininger free throws, but IPFW's Courtney Reed answered with a three to cut the margin back to four. The RedHawks held a 38-32 advantage at the break when Ashley Hawkins made a driving layup at the buzzer.

Miami led 44-38 with 15:09 to play when it broke the game open. Hawkins hit a conventional three-point play to start a 16-0 surge that pushed the margin to 22, 60-38, by the 11-minute mark. From there, IPFW scored eight straight points to trail by 14, but Miami answered with six in a row and was never threatened again.

Both teams started slowly with IPFW hitting just two of its first 11 shots, while Miami connected on their of its first eight. Miami finished the game better, finishing at 39.7 percent after a 43.8-percent effort in the opening stanza. Rebounding was a key as the RedHawks held a 58-25 advantage on the boards, including 10 from Leininger and eight each from Brown and Reed.

Miami committed 18 turnovers in the contest, while forcing the Mastodons into only 10.

GAME 3
La Salle	50
Miami	63
Nov. 25, 2008 • Oxford, Ohio

OXFORD, Ohio – A career high 16 points from junior Ashleigh Brown on 8-of-10 shooting led Miami University to a 63-50 win over La Salle Tuesday night.

Miami played strong defense throughout the game, holding La Salle to 34 percent shooting and forcing the Explorers into 20 turnovers.

The RedHawks started the first half slowly, shooting only 28.6 percent during the first 10 minutes. Trailing 10-4, Jenna Schone hit a key early three-pointer, which was followed on the next possession by a Courtney Reed backdoor layup that closed the gap to one at 10-9. With the score 12-11 in favor of La Salle, Schone hit another three-pointer to give Miami its first lead since the score was 2-0.

After the Explorers hit two free throws late in the first half to tie the score at 23, Ashley Hawkins hit a three-pointer to give the RedHawks the lead. On the next possession, Reed tipped the ball away from the La Salle guard and into the hands of Hawkins. Hawkins then found Reed for a buzzer-beating layup to give Miami a 28-23 lead at the half.

Miami started on a 6-0 run in the first minute of the second half to increase the advantage to 34-23 and force La Salle to use an early timeout. Layups by Reed, Hawkins and Brown, as well as steals from Hawkins and Reed sparked the run. The Explorers answered after the timeout with a 12-4 run of their own to close within three at 38-35 with 14:57 remaining in the game.

With the RedHawks leading 46-39, Schone hit a layup that was followed by a three-pointer that put the game out of reach for La Salle. In addition to Brown's 16 points, Schone finished with 15. Jaclyn Leininger had another strong game on the glass, finishing with 10 rebounds. The RedHawks shot 46 percent for the game.

Miami 59
Wake Forest 81
 Nov. 29, 2008 • Winston-Salem, N.C.

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. – Despite 20 points from senior point guard Jenna Schone, the Miami RedHawks fell to Wake Forest 81-59 Saturday.

Trailing only 50-48 with 12:24 remaining, the RedHawks went into a shooting slump that saw them score only two points over the next 8:29 as the Demon Deacons put the game out of reach with a 19-2 run.

Miami missed its first four shots to start the game as Wake Forest jumped to a 6-0 lead early. The RedHawks got on the board after a Schone steal led to a Courtney Reed layup and foul. She converted the free throw for the old fashioned three-point play.

Trailing 16-7 with 9:17 remaining in the half, Miami went on an 8-0 run led by two baskets from Jaclyn Leininger, as well as buckets from Reed and Ashley Hawkins. The teams traded points until Schone hit a three-point basket with 5:40 remaining that gave the RedHawks their first lead at 23-22. With the score 26-24 in favor of Miami, Wake Forest went on an 8-0 run to take a six point lead at 32-26. That run was stopped by two Maggie Boyer free throws with 36 seconds to go that sent the RedHawks into the locker room trailing 32-28.

After falling behind 36-30 in the second half, Schone hit a three-pointer that sparked an 8-0 run as the RedHawks went ahead 38-36 with 17:40 remaining. With the score 41-38 in favor of the Deacons, Schone hit another three-pointer that tied the game for the final time at 41.

Erin Wisner helped keep the RedHawks in the game with two put back layups that closed the gap to 50-48, but the shooting slump by Miami saw Wake Forest push the lead to 71-50. Stephanie Ford eventually hit a three-point basket to stop the bleeding, but it wasn't enough and the RedHawks fell.

In addition to Schone's 20 points, Leininger had 12 and Wisner scored 11. The RedHawks shot 35 percent to the game, compared to Wake Forest, which shot 44 percent. The Demon Deacons out-rebounded Miami 38-35.

GAME 5

Miami 77
Wright State 60
 Dec. 2, 2008 • Dayton, Ohio

DAYTON, Ohio – A 21-3 run over the final 10 minutes of the first half reversed a slow start and lifted Miami to a 77-60 victory over Wright State Tuesday night at the Nutter Center. Jenna Schone tallied 16 points and eight assists, while Courtney Reed added 15 points and six rebounds.

Freshmen Maggie Boyer and Rachael Hencke also reached double figures, scoring 13 and 10 points, respectively. Miami (3-2) fell behind 9-2 in the first three minutes, but Stephanie Ford scored five straight points to start a 9-1 run. Reed's fastbreak layup at 14:57 forced Wright State into a timeout and gave the RedHawks an 11-10 lead.

The Raiders (2-3) scored nine of the next 13 points to go up by four, 19-15, with 11:39 left in the period. Down 23-19 at the 10-minute mark, Miami scored eight straight points, including back-to-back Ashley Hawkins' layups after steals, to take the lead for good. The run finished at 21-3, pushing the score to 40-26 by halftime. Wright State was held scoreless for the final 4:45 as Miami closed with nine straight points.

Wright State hit eight of its first 10 shots, but made just one of next 13 to finish the frame at 39.1 percent. Meanwhile, Miami shot 48.4 percent, held an 18-15 rebounding advantage and forced 13 turnovers in the opening frame.

"I think we made some adjustments," said head coach Maria Fantanarosa. "They penetrated the middle and we either fouled or gave up easy shots. When we were able to make some changes, things started to turn our way."

The home team started the second half with the first five points to close the gap to nine, 40-31, but Schone answered with a three from the left corner. Later, with the score 45-38, Boyer canned a three from the right key at the 13:35 mark and the lead was never single digits again.

The lead reached its biggest point at 22 points twice during the second half -- 61-43 and 65-43 near the seven-minute mark.

GAME 6

Miami 66
UT-Pan American 44
 Dec. 5, 2008 • Colorado Springs, Colo.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. – Miami bolted to an 11-2 lead, then used a 19-0 run near the start of the second half to break open a close game in a 66-44 victory over Texas-Pan American Friday night in the opening round of the Air Force Classic.

Jenna Schone scored 16 of her game-high 18 points in the second half, including 10 during the first six minutes. She also added six rebounds and a season-high eight assists. Jaclyn Leininger added 14 points and seven boards, while Ashleigh Brown chipped in 10 points.

"You have to give UTPA some credit," Head Coach Maria Fantanarosa said. "They are a scrappy team and we didn't score easy at first. But in the second half, we were up tempo on offense, played scrappy defense and Jenna got hot."

After Miami's early lead, the Lady Broncs (4-3) closed to within five points on a couple of occasions, the last at 21-16 with just over two minutes to play. But Leininger hit a three-pointer to stretch the lead and lift the RedHawks to a 24-18 lead at the break.

UTPA tallied the first four points of the second half to trail by just two, 24-22, and were down 26-24 when Miami exploded. Schone scored eight of the next 10 points to start a 19-0 run that lasted 6:48. The burst ended when Leininger converted a layup that made the score 45-24 at the 11:32 mark.

The lead reached its biggest point -- 27 points -- when Courtney Reed hit one of two free throws with 5:07 to play.

Miami converted a season-best 54.9 percent from the field, while holding the Lady Broncs to just 37.3 percent, including 36.0 percent in the opening period. A 38-23 rebounding edge helped the RedHawks overcome 22 turnovers.

GAME 7

Miami 66
Air Force 56

Dec. 6, 2008 • Colorado Springs, Colo.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. – Miami used a 15-0 run midway through the second half to reverse a five-point deficit, then scored 10 straight points later in the period to earn a 66-56 victory over host Air Force in the championship game of the Air Force Classic Saturday afternoon. Jenna Schone was named tournament MVP after tallying 12 points and six assists in the final game.

Jaclyn Leininger scored 15 points and grabbed seven rebounds to earn all-tournament honors, while Ashley Hawkins added 10 points and six assists.

The RedHawks (5-2) trailed 36-31 with 13:48 remaining in the game when they executed their second-longest scoring streak of the season. They tallied 15 straight points from four different players to open their first double-digit advantage of the game, 46-36 at the 10:24 mark.

The Falcons, who have never won their own tournament in its 13-year existence, closed the gap to five, 49-44, with 6:43 left, but Maggie Boyer hit back-to-back threes to start a 10-0 run that pushed the lead back to 15, 59-44, by the 4:18 mark.

Both teams started slowly, each hitting one of its first seven attempts from the floor. Miami climbed ahead 10-6 after seven-and-a-half minutes and was ahead 12-9 when Air Force exploded. An 11-0 run put the Falcons ahead by eight, 20-12, by the 4:43 mark.

Miami responded toward the end of the half. Down 22-14 with 3:59 to play, the RedHawks ended the period on a 9-3 run that made the deficit only two, 25-23, at the break.

Miami finished the game with a shooting percentage of 43.1 percent. The RedHawks forced 24 turnovers, while committing only 13 of their own. The Falcons held a slim 33-31 advantage on the boards.

GAME 8

Miami 69
Dayton 66 (OT)

Dec. 10, 2008 • Dayton, Ohio

DAYTON, Ohio – Two free throws with 12.5 seconds remaining in overtime by senior point guard Jenna Schone sealed a 69-66 win for Miami University over Dayton Wednesday afternoon.

The first half started slowly for the RedHawks as they only managed six points in the first nine minutes and fell behind 14-6. Miami got back into it with the three-point shot, as back-to-back treys from Jenna Schone and Stephanie Ford, followed by two from Maggie Boyer sparked a 12-8 run that pulled the RedHawks to within four at 22-18 with 8:18 remaining in the half.

With the score 24-20 at the 6:01 mark, Courtney Reed picked off a pass and went coast-to-coast for a layup. After the teams traded free throws, Boyer hit her third three-pointer of the half to give Miami a 27-26 lead. With thirty seconds remaining in the half and the score tied at 29, Reed made a 15-footer to send the RedHawks into the locker room with a 31-29 lead.

Dayton opened the second half on a 13-9 run to regain the lead at 42-40. Another Boyer three gave the RedHawks the lead back at 43-42. The teams traded baskets back and forth until a Schone three-pointer gave Miami a 54-52 with 7:38 remaining.

With the score 58-56 in favor of the Flyers, Schone hit a driving layup in the lane with exactly 4:00 on the clock. Dayton scored with 3:45 remaining to go ahead 60-58, but the RedHawks held them from scoring for the remainder of regulation. Unfortunately, Miami could only manage two more free throws of its own, and the game went into overtime tied at 60.

Ashleigh Brown broke the tie with a put back off a Reed missed three-pointer to start overtime. After a Dayton free throw, the RedHawks went on a 5-0 run off a layup by Leininger and a three-pointer from Schone to go up 67-61 with 1:59 remaining. A 5-0 answer by the Flyers pulled them to within one at 67-66 with 34 seconds remaining, but Miami was able to drain 22 seconds off the clock on the next possession before Schone was fouled and hit the two free throws to seal the win.

Schone led the RedHawks with 19 points, while playing all 45 minutes. Reed scored 13, while Leininger and Boyer each contributed 12. Miami shot 34 percent for the game and was outrebounded 59-42.

GAME 9

Butler 86
Miami 81 (2OT)

Dec. 13, 2008 • Oxford, Ohio

OXFORD, Ohio - Miami overcame a 13-point deficit in the final two minutes of regulation, but Butler scored the last six points in the second overtime for a thrilling 86-81 Bulldog victory. Senior Jenna Schone led the RedHawks with season-high-tying 21 points, while Courtney Reed added 15 points and four rebounds.

Miami trailed 62-49 with 2:25 remaining before Schone keyed a 15-2 run that knotted the game at 64-all after regulation. The senior hit a three-pointer at the 2:03 mark, then added a pair of free throws 27 seconds later to cap the 5-0 run.

After each team went to the line twice -- Miami hitting a 2-1 advantage to trail 64-59 with 25 seconds left -- Reed hit a three-pointer from the right wing with 20 seconds left to pull the RedHawks to within two. After a steal by Reed on the inbound, Schone canned a jumper with 13 seconds left to end regulation tied at 64. The shot capped a frantic 15-2 run that was fueled by four turnovers and three missed free throws by Butler.

Miami opened a five-point lead, 72-67 with 2:45 left in the first overtime, only to see Butler send the game to a second. Brittany Bowen hit a three-pointer, then Melanie Thornton answered an Ashley Hawkins jumper with four straight points to tie the game at 74. Schone had a chance to win the game, but missed a pair of free throws with five seconds left.

Bowen started the second overtime with a three-pointer just nine seconds in, but the game was later at 79 with 3:34 left. Butler went up 80-79 after a free throw by Lade Akande, but Reed put Miami ahead for the final time, 81-80 with 2:13 to play, by hitting both of her attempts at the charity stripe. The Bulldogs then hit six straight free throws to pull away.

Butler finished the game with a 48.1-percent shooting effort, including 53.3 percent from outside the three-point arc. Miami countered by hitting just 40.9 percent of its attempts from the floor.

The RedHawks had two other players reach double figures -- Maggie Bower with 13 and Hawkins with 10.

GAME 10

Murray State 69
Miami 73

Dec. 21, 2008 • Oxford, Ohio

OXFORD, Ohio - A career high 21 points from junior forward Ashleigh Brown combined with a career high 19 points from junior guard Courtney Reed helped lead Miami to a 73-69 win over Murray State Sunday afternoon. The RedHawks improve to 7-3 on the season, while the Racers fall to 6-6.

Despite a tough shooting day, senior point guard Jenna Schone stepped to the line and hit four free throws over the course of the final 30 seconds of the game to seal the victory.

Reed was the early star of the game, scoring seven of the first nine points as Miami took a 9-8 lead. The score went back-and-forth until Reed hit a jumper and then followed it up with a free throw on the next possession to give the RedHawks an 18-16 lead. That was part of a 10-2 run that saw Miami open up its biggest advantage of the game at 26-18. A 13-3 run by Murray State over the next three minutes gave the Racers the lead back at 31-29, but Brown answered with a three-pointer to put the RedHawks ahead once again. Ashley Hayes hit a 10-foot jumper with 14 seconds remaining in the half to give the Racers the 33-32 halftime advantage.

The lead changed 10 times over the first 12 minutes of the second half, as neither team could open up more than a five-point advantage. Brown scored six points during that run to keep the RedHawks in the game. With less than seven minutes remaining and the score tied at 54, Hayes hit a three-pointer that gave the Racers a three-point advantage. Jaclyn Leininger answered with jumpers on the next two possessions to put Miami back ahead at 58-57.

Two baskets by Brown and a rebound putback layup from Stephanie Ford gave the RedHawks a 65-60 lead. After Murray State tied the score at 65 with 1:43 remaining, Reed scored two straight buckets to put Miami ahead for good.

The RedHawks struggled to find their shot during the game, shooting 38.2 percent. They outrebounded Murray State 40-39, and most importantly kept the Racers off the offensive glass, giving up only eight offensive boards.

GAME 11

Miami 69
Towson 68

Dec. 29, 2008 • Gainesville, Fla.

GAINESVILLE, Fla. - Two free throws with 2.9 seconds remaining on the clock by junior guard Courtney Reed led Miami to a come-from-behind 69-68 win over Towson in the semifinals of the State Farm Classic Monday. The RedHawks improve to 8-3 on the season, while the Tigers fall to 7-2.

Maggie Boyer led Miami with a career high 19 points, including 17 during the second half comeback.

Offensive rebounds became the story of the rest of the half, as Towson recorded 16 of them and used its second opportunities to build a 13-point lead at 34-21 with 5:54 remaining. A 6-2 run keyed by an Ashley Hawkins layup closed the deficit down to 36-27, however, the Tigers closed on a 6-2 run of their own to take a 42-29 lead into the break. Towson outrebounded Miami 29-11 during the first half and shot 43 percent, compared to the RedHawks' 39 percent.

A quick 7-2 run by the RedHawks to open the second half, pulled them within eight at 44-36. A steal by Reed, followed by an outlet pass to Boyer for the layup, and then four Miami free throws cut the deficit to 49-46 with 14:59 remaining. The teams traded baskets until it was 62-58 Towson with 7:50 remaining. Boyer scored nine of the RedHawks 12 points during that period on three three-pointers.

A three-pointer by Schone cut the lead to 62-61 with 7:04 left. That would be the last basket for Miami for the rest of the game, but a strong defensive effort and hitting its free throws tied the game at 67 with 44 seconds remaining.

After Shanae Baker-Brice split two free throws with 17 seconds remaining, Miami drew up one final play. The ball was knocked out of bounds by a Towson player with 2.9 seconds, and on the ensuing out of bounds play Reed was tripped by Halienna Snowden. She calmly hit both of her free throws and the RedHawks defended the final play to escape with the 69-68 win.

In addition to Boyer's 19, Schone finished with 14 and Reed 10. Schone moved into the top-10 of the Miami career scoring list, tying Julie Howell for ninth with 1,227 career points.

Miami 56
#20 Florida 75

Dec. 30, 2008 • Gainesville, Fla.

GAINESVILLE, Fla. - Miami University played a strong defensive game for the first 26 minutes of the championship game of the 2008 State Farm Classic against 20th ranked Florida Tuesday night, but eventually the Gators three-point shooting did in the RedHawks as they fell 75-56. Miami falls to 8-4 on the season, while Florida improves to 13-1. Jenna Schone scored 11 points, two assists and two steals to earn a spot on the All-Tournament team.

The RedHawks played a strong zone defense during the first half, forcing the Gators into 10 turnovers. Trailing 11-7, Maggie Boyer hit a three-point basket to cut the deficit to one with 12:15 remaining. Miami went into a shooting slump after that, as it hit only two buckets in the next 10 minutes, and Florida went on a 17-4 run to take a 28-14 lead. A jumper on a fast break by Jenna Schone stopped the bleeding with 2:35 left, and the teams exchanged single free throws the remainder of the half to send the Gators into the locker room with a 29-17 halftime lead.

A 6-0 run to begin the second half, led by two Jaclyn Leininger jump shots quickly cut the Gator lead to six at 29-23. Courtney Reed, Ashleigh Brown and Maggie Boyer each hit jumpers as the RedHawks cut the deficit even further to 35-31 with 15:18 to go.

With 13:48 remaining in the second half, Briana Dunlap hit a three-pointer to pull Miami within three at 39-36, but that would be as close as the RedHawks would get. A 14-1 run over the next 3:31 gave Florida a 53-37 lead. Miami followed that with 6-0 run of its own keyed by a Boyer three-pointer cut it back down to 10 at 53-43. However, an 18-6 run by the Gators helped put the game away and give Florida the 75-56 win.

Reed led the RedHawks with 12 points. Boyer was also in double digits with 11. Miami forced 12 steals on the Gators and recorded fewer turnovers with 16, compared to Florida's 18.
