Over the span of 59 years, the Mid-American Conference has progressively grown and developed into one of the most aggressive NCAA Division I conferences in the country. Under the guidance of Commissioner Rick Chryst, the seventh commissioner in the history of the league, the MAC has responded to the ever-changing landscape of membership issues and member standards in the fast-paced environment of collegiate athletics.

In women's soccer, the MAC has owned an automatic NCAA Tournament berth since 1999, with Bowling Green earning the bid in each of the past two seasons. Miami is the only other school to make multiple NCAA Tournament appearances, as it won three straight conference tournament titles from 2000-03, and it is one of two MAC schools to advance to the second round of the national tournament. Western Michigan, which advanced to the tournament in 2003, also made it past the tournament's opening round, while Eastern Michigan (1999) was the first school to earn the conference's automatic bid.

The Mid-American Conference was founded as a five-school league on February 24, 1946 in Columbus, Ohio with Ohio, Butler, Cincinnati, Wayne State and Western Reserve admitted as charter members.

The Mid-American Conference has 12 full-time schools and a 13th, Temple, for football only. Comprising the East Division are the University of Akron (joined in 1992), Bowling Green State University (1952), University at Buffalo (1998), Kent State University (1951), Miami University (1947) and Ohio University (1946). The West Division members are Ball State University (1973), Central Michigan University (1971), Eastern Michigan University (1971), Northern Illinois University (1975-86, 1997), University of Toledo (1950) and Western Michigan University (1947). Affiliate members include Indiana University-Purdue University Fort Wayne (IPFW) in men's tennis and Missouri State University (formerly known as SMS) in field hockey.

In 1946 men's basketball was the first competitive sport in the MAC, which now sponsors a total of 23 sports. Women's sports were brought into the conference's structure in 1980.

For men, championships (11) are sponsored in football, basketball, baseball, cross country, soccer, swimming and diving, indoor track and field, outdoor track and field, wrestling, golf and tennis.

For women, championships (12) are sponsored in basketball, softball, volleyball, cross country, field hockey, golf, soccer, swimming and diving, gymnastics, indoor track and field, outdoor track and tennis.
