THE STARTING FIVE

1. Success At Breslin

Michigan State is 306-44 (.874) all-time since Breslin Center opened in 1989, including 158-33 (.827) in Big Ten play. Under Tom Izzo, the Spartans are 232-29 (.889) at Breslin, including a 117-20 (.854) conference record. MSU is 12-0 at Breslin Center this season and has won 13 straight home games.

2. Green Attacks The Glass

Draymond Green leads the Big Ten at 10.2 rebounds per game, including a conference-best 10.9 rebounds per game in league contests. His 10.2 average is the best for a Spartan since Antonio Smith averaged 10.6 rpg as a sophomore in 1996-97. Goran Suton led the Big Ten in rebounding in 2009, and prior to that the last Spartan to pace the conference was Smith in 1997. Green has grabbed double-figure rebounds in 13 games, including five straight and seven of the last nine. He has led MSU in rebounding in 16 of 20 games this season.

3. The Quest For 400 Wins

With his next victory, Michigan State coach Tom Izzo will record his 400th win at MSU. Already the school's all-time winningest coach, he will become just the fourth coach to win 400 games at a Big Ten institution, joining Bob Knight (661 wins), Gene Keady (512) and Lou Henson (423).

4. Strong Spartan Defense

Michigan State's defensive effort has been impressive this season. The Spartans are allowing just 60.6 points (ranking 37th in the nation through Jan. 22) on .380 shooting (13th in nation), including .294 from 3-point range (23rd in nation). MSU also ranks 52nd in the nation in steals (8.1 spg). The Spartans rank third in the Big Ten in scoring defense, second in field-goal percentage defense and second in 3-point field-goal percentage defense. In the last game, MSU held Purdue to .290 shooting, including .150 from 3-point range. In the previous two games, however, MSU allowed opponents to shoot .505 as Northwestern (.500) and Michigan (.511) are the only teams to reach .500 this season versus MSU.

5. Finding The Long Distance Connection

Through the first six games of the season, MSU was shooting just .269 from 3-point range (32-119). In the last 14 games, however, the Spartans have been on target, connecting on .448 of their shots (90-201) from behind the arc. In the last four games, MSU has shot .516 from 3-point range (33-64). In league games, MSU leads the conference at .448.

Tom Izzo is 23-8 in his career vs. Minnesota.

Big Ten Success

Michigan State has won 12 Big Ten Championships, including two of the last three, since joining the league prior to the 1950-51 season. The Spartans' first ever league game was at Northwestern, where MSU claimed a 67-62 victory on Jan. 6, 1951. All-time, MSU is 546-446 (.550) in league play, including 188-87 (.684) under Tom Izzo, who ranks sixth in league history with 188 conference wins. Izzo has guided MSU to six of its 12 league crowns. Since Izzo's first season (1995-96), MSU has a Big Ten-best record of 188-87, 15.5 games better than second place Wisconsin (173-103).

SIX FINAL FOURS IN LAST 13 YEARS

* Michigan State is the only team to have appeared in six of the last 13 Final Fours and just the fourth school in NCAA history to appear in six Final Fours in any 12-year period. The other schools are Duke, North Carolina, and UCLA.

* Every four-year player recruited by Tom Izzo has appeared in at least one Final Four before leaving Michigan State.

In conference games, MSU leads the Big Ten in FG percentage (.509)

MSU's Mr. Everything

Coach Izzo has explained that he hasn't had a player asked to do as much for a team as Draymond Green, and the numbers prove it. In addition to being the unquestioned leader of the squad, Green leads the team in scoring (15.0 ppg), rebounding (10.2 rpg), minutes (33.0 mpg), steals (32) and blocks (23), while ranking second in assists (3.6 apg). He leads the Big Ten in rebounding and defensive rebounds (7.6 drpg), while ranking third in offensive rebounds (2.4 orpg), tied for seventh in steals, tied for ninth in scoring, ninth in blocks, 10th in assists, 13th in assist/turnover ratio and 15th in 3-point field-goal percentage (.391).

Mr. Spartan

While Draymond Green's statistical contributions are significant and impressive, his best quality is his leadership. Green is in his third year as a captain, becoming just the fifth three-time captain in school history. Coach Tom Izzo recently called Green "the perfect Spartan," saying that he's becoming "the face of Michigan State athletics" like Mateen Cleaves or Kirk Cousins. Said Izzo, "I have something that you don't get very often ... I've got a guy who is my voice. And he's kind of my personality, which makes it even better for me."

Appling Locks Them Up

Besides everything Keith Appling provides on the offensive end of the floor, leading the team in assists and ranking second in scoring, he is perhaps even more impressive on the defensive end where he is emerging as one of the premier defenders in the league. Named MSU's Best Defensive Player as a freshman, Appling is terrific at running through screens and not allowing his man an open look. Consider two of his more recent efforts. UMKC's Reggie Chamberlain entered the game averaging 19.0 points, but was limited to 2 points on 1-of-8 shooting. IU's Jordan Hulls was held to 4 points on 2-of-10 shooting, after entering the contest averaging 12.1 points.

Spartans Shooting Better

Michigan State got off to a slow start in terms of field-goal percentage this season, shooting .306 from the field against North Carolina outdoors on the flight deck of an aircraft carrier. Over the first six games of the season, MSU shot .423 from the field and .238 from 3-point range. In the last 14 games, however, MSU has shown dramatic improvement, hitting .511 from the field and .448 from 3-point range. The Spartans have shot over 50 percent in seven of the last 13 games, including four contests at 60 percent or better. In Big Ten games, MSU leads the conference at .509.

Defending The Three

Last season, Michigan State ranked eighth in the Big Ten, allowing teams to shoot .364 from 3-point range. This year, the Spartans rank second in the conference, allowing opponents to shoot just .294 from behind the arc. MSU has held seven opponents to a .250 or lower shooting percentage from behind the arc. That happened just four times all of last season. Eleven opponents have shot under .300, including five of the last six.

Spartan Double-Doubles

Four different Spartans have recorded a double-double this season. Draymond Green leads the way with 10 double-doubles in the season's first 20 games, pacing the Big Ten and ranking 12th in the nation. Green has posted a double-double in six of the last 10 games. Adreian Payne, Brandon Wood and Branden Dawson have each recorded one double-double.

GREEN MOVES UP THE CHARTS

Senior Draymond Green will leave Michigan State as one of the more versatile players in school history. He ranks third in school history with 104 blocks, tied for fifth in career rebounds (906), and seventh in career steals (158).

* Big Ten stats through games of Jan. 22. NCAA stats through games of Jan. 22.

It's All About Boardwork

After leading the nation in rebounding margin in both 2009 (+9.3) and 2010 (+8.6), Michigan State ranked 48th in the nation last season at +4.0. The Spartans have shown a better effort in 2011-12, out-rebounding 18 of 20 opponents by a +9.7 margin, including five by 15 or more, leading the Big Ten and ranking fifth in the nation (through Jan. 22). The Spartans have led the nation in rebounding margin in four of the last 12 seasons, ranking in the top 10 seven times and the top 25 on 10 occasions. MSU has led the Big Ten in rebounding margin in 11 of the last 14 years. In the Tom Izzo era, MSU has out-rebounded 434 of 564 opponents (.770), posting a 342-92 (.788) mark in those games.

Consistent Starting Lineup

Michigan State has used the same starting lineup (Keith Appling, Branden Dawson, Draymond Green, Adreian Payne, Brandon Wood) for 18 of its 20 games. The only changes came against Eastern Michigan when Derrick Nix started in place of Payne, and vs. Lehigh when Austin Thornton started in place of Green.

Becoming A Point Guard

Keith Appling has been asked to make the transition from the wing to point guard for Michigan State this season. As the season progresses, Appling seems more at home in his new position. While he did not have an assist in the first two games of the season, he's averaging 4.4 assists in his last 18 games with a 2.1-to-1 assist-to-turnover ratio. He was named Co-Big Ten Player of the Week on Dec. 5 and then again on Jan. 2. He's averaging 5.0 assists in the last 13 games, including a career-best 9 vs. Iowa, and has seven or more assists in five of the last 13 games. He owns a 2.5-to-1 assist-to-turnover ratio in the last 13 contests. In conference games, he ranks second in the Big Ten with 5.0 assists per game and second in assist-to-turnover ratio (2.2).

Three-Headed Scoring Attack

Three Spartans have emerged as Michigan State's leading scorers, as Draymond Green (15.0 ppg), Keith Appling (12.6 ppg) and Brandon Wood (9.7 ppg) are all averaging at least 9.7 ppg. It's been more pronounced over the last 14 games as the trio is averaging a combined 39.5 points (Green-16.0, Appling-13.4, Wood-10.1). As a group, they outscored Florida State, 56-49.

Second-Chance Points

Michigan State is outscoring opponents, 277-195, in second chance points for the season. That's an average of +4.0 points per game (13.8-9.8). The Spartans are averaging 12.8 offensive boards per game, ranking second in the Big Ten. MSU has 255 offensive rebounds on the year compared to 397 defensive rebounds for its opponents, good for an offensive rebound percentage of .391, ranking first in the conference. The Spartans have grabbed 20 or more offensive boards three times this season.

What A Difference A Year Makes

Through the first 20 games of the season, Derrick Nix is averaging 8.2 points, 4.2 rebounds and 18.5 minutes per contest. That's a contrast to last season when Nix averaged just 2.7 points and 2.0 rebounds for the season. Nix has even elevated his play recently, averaging 9.8 points and 4.6 rebounds in the last 13 games. In the first 73 games of his career, Nix scored in double figures just three times; he's done it seven times in the last 13 contests. He's been MSU's first sub in 17 of the 19 games in which he's come off the bench.

Guard Rebounding

One of the reasons that MSU is able to rank among the nation's leaders in rebounding margin is that its guards have been strong on the glass. The Spartans' starting backcourt of Keith Appling (3.4 rpg), Brandon Wood (2.8 rpg) and Branden Dawson (4.2 rpg) averages 10.4 boards per contest.

New Faces

Six of the 11 players in the Spartan playing group are seeing their first action in a Michigan State uniform (Russell Byrd, Branden Dawson, Alex Gauna, Brandan Kearney, Travis Trice, Brandon Wood). The six are averaging 37.3 percent of the scoring and 41.0 percent of the minutes. There are just two players on the 2011-12 roster (Keith Appling and Draymond Green) who averaged more than 20 minutes per game last season for MSU.

MSU is 9-0 when committing fewer turnovers than its opponent.

Climbing The Rebounding Charts

With 906 career rebounds, Draymond Green ranks tied with Mike Peplowski for fifth in MSU history, four behind Paul Davis (910) in fifth place. He has a shot at becoming just the fourth player in MSU history with 1,000 career boards, and the third player with 1,000 career points and 1,000 career rebounds, joining Greg Kelsner and Johnny Green. Given that the Spartans play 31 regular season games, at least one game in the Big Ten Tournament and possibly at least one postseason game, Green (10.2 rpg) would need to average 9.03 rebounds this season to reach 1,000 for his career. This season, Green leads the Big Ten and ranks 21st in the nation in rebounding (through Jan. 22). He also ranks 12th in the nation with 10 double-doubles.

Balanced Scoring

Seven different Spartans have led Michigan State in scoring this season. Draymond Green (eight times), Keith Appling (five times), Branden Dawson (three times), Brandon Wood (twice), Derrick Nix, Austin Thornton and Travis Trice have each paced MSU. Adreian Payne also has scored in double figures at least once this season, making eight different players to score 10 or more in a game.

The Turnover Story

One area of concern for the Spartans has been the turnovers. MSU is committing 13.8 per game (although just 12.3 in the last 13 games), while forcing 14.1 by its opponents. The Spartans are averaging 16.4 points per game off opponent turnovers, compared to 12.4 points by opponents off MSU turnovers. The Spartans are 9-0 when committing fewer turnovers than their opponent, but 5-4 when they have more (2-0 when turnovers are equal).

In The Paint

Michigan State has out-scored its opponents in the paint by an average of 36.7-23.9, out-scoring 17 of its 20 opponents. The Spartans even out-scored No. 1 North Carolina in the paint, 34-32, despite the Tar Heels having what some consider to be the premier frontline in the country.

Getting To The Foul Line

Over the first five games of the season, Michigan State was shooting just .629 from the foul line. That has improved recently, as the Spartans are shooting .725 over the last 15 games. For the season, MSU is shooting .698 from the foul line, averaging 22.0 attempts per game.

Green's Weekly Honors

One week after Keith Appling was named Big Ten Player of the Week, Draymond Green earned the honor on Dec. 12, sharing it with Indiana's Christian Watford. Green earned the honor on the strength of his career-high 34-point effort in MSU's win at Gonzaga. For the week, he averaged 24.0 points, 5.5 rebounds and 3.5 assists. He was also named National Player of the Week by ESPN.com's Andy Katz and ESPN's Dick Vitale.

The 1,000-Point Club

With a second-half tip-in vs. Florida State, Draymond Green became the 42nd player in MSU history to reach the 1,000 point mark for his career. With 1,216 points, he ranks 26th in MSU history, needing 27 to move past Stan Washington (1,242 points).

Playing The Best

Since the 1997-98 season (including 2011-12 - through Jan. 23), the year of Michigan State's first of 14 straight trips to the NCAA Tournament, the Spartans have played 151 games against ranked opponents. That total ranks first among teams that have appeared in a Final Four since then. The Spartans are followed by North Carolina (145), Connecticut (139), Kentucky (139) and Duke (137).

Toughest Start Ever

Michigan State opens the season with the toughest start in the nation with back-to-back neutral-site contests vs. No. 1 North Carolina and No. 6 Duke. MSU is the first team to open the season against North Carolina and Duke in back-to-back games since Wake Forest and North Carolina State did it in November 1976. Michigan State also has never opened a season with two games against ranked opponents.

Big Ten Contenders

Michigan State was picked third by a panel of media in the 2011-12 Big Ten preseason poll. Ohio State and Wisconsin were picked to finish first and second, respectively. Draymond Green found a spot on the preseason all-conference team, joining Ohio State's Jared Sullinger, Purdue's Robbie Hummel, Minnesota's Trevor Mbakwe and Wisconsin's Jordan Taylor.

Draymond On Awards Lists

Senior forward Draymond Green is a familiar face among all the new ones in the Michigan State lineup. A three-year captain, Green is on the John R. Wooden Award Preseason Top 50 and the Naismith Award Watch list. He's also one of 30 candidates for the Lowe's Senior CLASS Award. To be eligible for the award, a student-athlete must be classified as an NCAA Division I senior and have notable achievements in four areas of excellence – community, classroom, character and competition.

An Experienced New Face

Although he had never played a minute for Michigan State prior to this season, senior Brandon Wood brings a wealth of college basketball experience to the Spartan lineup. A two-time All-Horizon League performer at Valparaiso the last two seasons, Wood transferred to MSU in May after receiving his sports marketing and business degree. NCAA rules allow an institution to apply for a waiver to allow a student-athlete to transfer without sitting out a season, provided the student-athlete has earned a bachelor's degree, has eligibility remaining and is enrolling in a graduate-level program. In two seasons at Valpo, Wood scored 1,117 points, including averaging 17.7 ppg as a sophomore and 16.7 ppg as a junior. He's also performed at a high level against some of the nation's best teams, scoring 30 points vs. North Carolina, 24 vs. Michigan State and 21 vs. Purdue as a sophomore, followed by 20 vs. Purdue as a junior. This year, Wood's started all 20 games for MSU, ranking third on the team in scoring at 9.7 ppg.

In The Rankings

Seven different Spartan opponents are ranked in at least one of the two polls, including Ohio State (4 AP/3 USA Today), North Carolina (7/8), Duke (8/6), Indiana (16/17), Michigan (20/22), Florida State (23/-) and Wisconsin (25/t-25). MSU is ranked No. 10 by the AP and No. 11 by ESPN/USA Today.

U-S-A, U-S-A

Keith Appling and Draymond Green both benefitted from their experiences with USA Basketball over the summer. Green was a member of the World University Games team, averaging 8.6 points and 6.0 rebounds, ranking second on the team in boards, and serving as a distributor from the forward position. Appling played with the FIBA U19 World Championship team, averaging 4.1 points and 10.3 minutes per contest, gaining some valuable experience at the point.

Same Name, Different Spellings

Among MSU's newcomers, three have the same first name, but it's spelled three different ways. Branden Dawson, Brandan Kearney and Brandon Wood each have a different second-to-last letter in the first name. Pay close attention to eliminate typos.

MSU - 30.6%, UNC - 47.1%

Quotable: "We're all trying to thank somebody. That damn military starts thanking you, and it's killing me because they do so much for us and they're thanking us. They're the most humble group I've ever met ... We played the No. 1 team in the country and in front of the No. 1 team in the world."

MSU - 25-41, UALR - 9-14

Quotable: "I wouldn't say it was a bad game. Lackluster is probably a better word. We need to understand that every night we're being evaluated and have to bring effort. Effort is one thing you control. And if guys aren't making shots, that's OK as long as you're hustling defensively and getting rebounds."

- MSU senior Austin Thornton

Key Moment: With the game tied at 5, Michigan State took control with a 13-0 run to take an 18-5 lead with 11:28 remaining in the first half. After that, UALR never got closer than nine points.

Notes: For the first time on the season, MSU had fewer turnovers (16) than its opponent (19) ... Austin Thornton scored a career-high 13 points and recorded a career-best three steals ... MSU was out-rebounded, 20-17, and did not record an offensive rebound in the first half, but bounced back with seven in the second half and finished the game with a 40-36 advantage on the glass ... The Spartans were just 25-of-41 from the foul line as Keith Appling (4-8) missed as many foul shots (4) as he did all of last season (34-38) ... MSU's defense recorded 14 steals, and held UALR to just 31.5 percent shooting, including 21.1 percent from 3-point range ... MSU held an 18-2 edge in fast-break points, and a 21-12 advantage in points off turnovers.

- MSU senior Brandon Wood

Key Stat: Second-Chance Points
MSU - 21; LEH - 8

Quotable: "If you would have told me we could be 11-2 at the start of season ... I think I would have taken that."

- Tom Izzo, on the non-conference record

Key Moment: With the score tied at 41, Lehigh coach Brett Reed received a technical. MSU hit four free throws on that possession to key a 19-6 run that allowed MSU to push the lead out to 13 points at 60-47.

Notes: MSU finished the non-conference schedule with an 11-2 mark, good for the most number of non-conference wins since a 12-1 mark in 2007-08 ... MSU won for the first time all season when trailing at the half (1-2 on the year) ... MSU won for the first time all season when being out-shot by its opponent (1-1 on the year) ... MSU grabbed more offensive rebounds (23) than Lehigh had defensive boards (20) ... Lehigh's 81 points were the most MSU has allowed in a win since an 84-83 overtime win over Indiana on Jan. 30, 2011, and the most allowed in a regulation win since an 85-83 win over Maryland in the 2010 NCAA Tournament. The previous high this season was 69 points scored by Central Connecticut ... Keith Appling's 12-of-12 performance was just the ninth time in school history a Spartan hit 1.000 percent from the foul line with 12 or more attempts ... One game after shooting .500 (11-22) from the foul line, the Spartans hit .821(32-39) of their foul shots ... Draymond Green blocked a career-high six shots, equaling the second-best effort in school history, and moving into a tie for third on the MSU career list with 97.

Quotable: "It's been a special team already because they've done what we've asked them to do -- defend and rebound. I keep feel like I'm downgrading us, but I feel like we still have so much to learn and that's why we were coaching to the end because we don't want to get casual."
- MSU coach Tom Izzo
