Rams To Make 5th Consecutive Bowl Appearance

Colorado State University will make its 5th consecutive bowl game appearance and 8th since 1994 under Coach Sonny Lubick when the Rams play in the 2nd Annual Diamond Walnut San Francisco Bowl Dec. 31 at Pacific Bell Park in San Francisco. The Rams earned the trip with a dramatic 24-23 come-from-behind win over UNLV, capped by QB Justin Holland's 3-yard scoring pass to H-Back Joel Dreessen with 53 seconds to play. Colorado State had trailed by 9 points, 23-14 in the 3rd quarter. Holland, replacing starter Bradlee Van Pelt (broken right hand), guided the Rams on a 9-play, 80-yard drive to win the game and send Colorado State to postseason play once again in 2003. RB Jimmy Green, the Mountain West Conference offensive player of the week, finished the game with 113 yards rushing on 25 carries and scored a touchdown. Defensively, LB Jeff Flora had a career-most 15 tackles - the highest figure by a CSU player in 2003, to spark the Rams. DB Benny Mastropaolo finished with 11 tackles on the night. Colorado State will face a Big East Conference member institution in the 2nd annual game in San Francisco set for New Year's eve.

2003 RAMS FOOTBALL

Sonny Lubick, Head Coach
11th Season • Western Montana '60)

Colorado State football coach Sonny Lubick has been paid many tributes during his 11 seasons at the helm.

For instance, he has been honored as the conference coach of the year four times.

In 1994, SPORTS ILLUSTRATED honored the personalbe Lubick as its national coach of the year. That same year he received several national recognition from several other organizations as well.

But perhaps the greatest tribute and a testimony to what he has meant not only to Colorado State's football program but the entire athletics department, university community and the region came in May of 2003.

During the announcement of a $15.2 million gift by Pat Stryker and the Bohemian Foundation to renovate and expand the school's football stadium, officials announced that the field would be named in Lubick's honor.

That "Sonny" spring day will long be remembered as one of the greatest moments in Rams' history. Sonny Lubick Field at Hughes Stadium is undergoing significant changes that will expand the capacity, provide two new scoreboards including a state-of-the-art video replay board, expanded premium club level seating, and the addition of luxury suites. There will also be a new playing field installed, as well as other fan amenities to provide Ram fans the finest spectator experience.

More than anything else, the gift and the ensuing renovation and expansion serve as daily reminders what Lubick has meant to the program and the university.

It is more than his performance on the field, which has been remarkable: 6 conference titles, 8 bowl appearances, and ranking among the top 15 programs nationally in total victory.

Lubick has won 91 games in 11 seasons including four times guiding the Rams to 10 or more victories in a campaign.

It is more about who he is as a person, a husband, and father, more about what he stands for and cares about.

In the summer of 2003, he was recognized by the American Diabetes Association's Colorado Chapter as a "Father of the Year." He is an annual contributor and participant in several local and national charities, including the St. Jude's Children's Hospital campaign.

Each spring, Lubick can be spotted visiting local elementary schools to visit students about the importance of education and being a solid citizen.

On the school's campus, he has achieved celebrity status, not because of the success and recognition he has generated for the entire institution, but for his gentle nature and caring personality.

Those who have had the pleasure of dealing with Lubick quickly recognize why he has succeeded as a coach.

Lubick cares deeply about the people around him - from the members of his coaching staff to every player on the roster. He has built Colorado State's program into one of the nation's finest with hard work, dedication, and a commitment to helping people attain success.

He has a philosophy he shares not only with his team, but with the community and Ram fans nationwide.

- Responsibility: Having each member of Colorado State's program take responsibility for their actions and impact on the success of the team.

FOOTBALL

- Character: Lubick places a premium on student-athletes who display integrity, honesty and character.
- Respect: Earning respect among peers, fans, and colleagues remains more important to the veteran coach than gaining popularity.
- Keep winning and losing in perspective: Sonny Lubick has many attributes. Chief among them is keeping his program on an even keel - not too high after a monumental victory, of which there have many during his career, nor too low following defeat. Lubick has the presence in the program to keep his program focused on the goal ahead.
- Work hard and enjoy what you do: Sonny Lubick works tirelessly. His work ethic, dedication and enthusiasm is contagious to those around the Rams' program. He also firmly believes that individuals - whether they are involved in intercollegiate athletics or industry - perform at peak levels when they enjoy what they are doing.

Lubick's philosophy has paid tremendous dividends to Colorado State's program. Consider that in 11 seasons, he has won 91 games and appeared in 7 bowl games while winning 6 conference titles.

In 11 seasons prior to his arrival, the Rams' program tasted victory only 47 times and played in a single bowl game.

He is without question the most successful coach in school history and has earned the reputation as one of the nation's finest football coaches. He has brought unmatched success and popularity to the base of the Rocky Mountains with his style and grace.

"People know who Colorado State is now. When we go to a bowl game, and see the fans and students enjoying the game, that's what we talk about as coaches and makes us excited," Lubick said.

Lubick is quick to credit his staff and the student-athletes for the program's prominence.

"It's about good coaches and having good student-athletes. Players know they are being treated fairly and that this is a good place," said Lubick.

"It takes all of us to have a good program: the student-athletes, coaches, staff, the student body. Those are the little things that make big things happen."

While Lubick is pleased with the program's progress, he is not satisfied or complacent.

"I'm proud to be part of something like this," he said of the Rams' achievements. "But we're going to keep pushing to get better. We want to maintain a solid program that has respect throughout the country. Other coaches from around the country look at our program and know something good is going on here."

The Rams under Lubick, who signed a new 5-year contract in 2002 have:

- Earned 8 bowl invitations in 10 seasons, more than any other MWC team and among the most appearances nationally;
- Won or shared six conference titles;
- Won conference games since than any other MWC program;
- The Rams rank among the top 15 programs nationally in total victories since 1994;
- Seven times since 1994, the team has won eight or more games in a season. Four times - the only times in school history it has happened- the Rams have won 10 (three times) or more (11) games in a season.
- Twice, in 1999 and again in 2002, the Rams completed a "Front Range" sweep by beating Air Force, Colorado and

2003 RAMS FOOTBALL

Wyoming.

- In 2002 for the first time in school history, Colorado State owned wins over AFA, BYU, Colorado, Utah and Wyoming in the same season.

Lubick has won more conference titles - 6 - than any other MWC head coach. The veteran coach also ranks among the national leaders in career victories.

The Rams' program has attained lofty status with 10 consecutive winning seasons from 1994-2002, among the highest totals in the nation.

Success on the field has been transformed into overall popularity of the program. Colorado State, since Lubick's arrival, has appeared in 97 regional and national television games.

In 2003, Colorado State finished among the top 15 programs nationally in percent capacity, 102.1, having drawn more than 183,000 fans for 6 home games, 30,631 per contest. All of those figures rank among the top three in school history.

Additionally, the top eight home season and individual game attendance records have come during Lubick's career at Colorado State.

The Lubick File

Family: Sonny and wife Carol Jo have three children: sons Matt (1/26/72) and Marc (11/13/77) and daughter Michelle (1/4/73). Matt is the Rams' wide receivers coach and Marc works in the player development department for the St. Louis Rams of the NFL. Michelle and husband, Gerard Boyle, live in Chicago, Ill., along with one-year-old son Matthew Gerard.

Education: Graduated from Christian Brothers High in Butte, Mont., in 1955. Earned bachelor's degree from Western Montana, 1960; earned master's degree from Montana State, 1978.
