California Leads Third Fall Division I U.S. Sports Academy Directors' Cup Standings

Cleveland, Ohio – For the third time this season, there is a new leader in the fall Division I U.S. Sports Academy Directors' Cup standings. California now holds the top spot after placing third in women's volleyball and 17th in men's soccer. The Bears, who previously scored in men's water polo (1st), men's cross country (16th) and women's soccer (17th), lead all teams with 325 total points.

In second place is Stanford with 315 points. The Cardinal, the leaders in the second fall Directors' Cup standings, fell from the top spot despite finishing second in women's volleyball. Overall, Stanford has captured the women's cross country title, was ninth in both women's field hockey and women's soccer and 19th in men's cross country.

Two teams are tied for the third with 254 total points, as Oregon and Penn State share the spot. The Ducks moved back into the top-three after placing ninth in women's volleyball, while the Nittany Lions jumped five spots after capturing the women's volleyball title.

Oregon, who led the first set of standings, also placed first in men's cross country and second in women's cross country. Penn State previously scored in women's field hockey (2nd) and women's soccer (9th).

One point behind the Ducks and Nittany Lions is Southern California, with a total of 253 points. USC placed third in the most recent NCAA championship, women's volleyball. The Trojans also captured the women's soccer title and placed second in men's water polo.

To date, eight of the nine fall NCAA championships have been completed with eight different institutions earning titles. Most recently, Penn State captured the women's volleyball title, while Wake Forest and Appalachian State earned the men's soccer and FCS football titles, respectively. Also capturing national titles were; Southern California (women's soccer), California (men's water polo), Stanford (women's cross country), Oregon (men's cross country) and North Carolina (women's field hockey).

The final fall release will be published on January 10, 2008, and will include the Football Bowl Subdivision Football standings.

The U.S. Sports Academy Directors' Cup was developed as a joint effort between the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA) and USA Today. The United States Sports Academy, based in Daphne, Alabama, is the program's sponsor. Points are awarded based on each institution's finish in up to 20 sports – 10 women's and 10 men's.

Please note, standings published midseason are unofficial. Official standings will be published upon the completion of the spring season. Complete standings and the scoring structure can be found on NACDA's Web site at www.nacda.com.
