Patriot League Announces Baseball Academic Honor Roll

54 student-athletes receive Honor Roll recognition

Center Valley, Pa. – Army's Tyler Anderegg, the 2009 Patriot League Baseball Scholar-Athlete of the Year, is one of 54 baseball student-athletes named to this year's Patriot League Academic Honor Roll.

Anderegg earned a 3.69 GPA in the spring semester in his Life Science major at Army, and the Grand Junction, Colorado native will attend the Colorado School of Medicine following graduation. He was named to the Patriot League Academic Honor Roll in all four of his seasons, and was also tabbed an ESPN the Magazine/CoSIDA Second-Team Academic All-American this year.

Lafayette senior Ryan Hanna earned a perfect 4.0 GPA in the spring semester as an English and Spanish major.

Bucknell paced all Patriot League schools with 17 student-athletes making the Academic Honor Roll. Lafayette tallied 11 student-athletes for Honor Roll selection, while Lehigh placed 10 on the list.

To be eligible for the Academic Honor Roll, a student-athlete must earn a 3.20 grade-point average in the spring semester and be awarded a varsity letter in one of the Patriot League's winter or spring championship sports. The criteria for awarding varsity letters are different at each institution.

"Today's Scholar-Athletes, Tomorrow's Leaders" – The Patriot League continually demonstrates that student-athletes can excel at both academics and athletics without sacrificing its high standards. The Patriot League's athletic success is achieved while its member institutions remain committed to its founding principle of admitting and graduating student-athletes that are academically representative of their class. Participation in athletics at Patriot League institutions is viewed as an important component of a well-rounded education.
