Alabama Crimson Tide

Alabama was 19-15 in 2016-17 and 10-8 in the SEC. The Crimson Tide participated in the NIT, falling to Richmond in the first round. Head coach Avery Johnson is 37-30 in two seasons at Alabama. Johnson played in the NBA for 16 years and won an NBA Championship with the San Antonio Spurs along with Naval Academy graduate David Robinson in 1999. Johnson also coached in the NBA and led the Dallas Mavericks to an appearance in the NBA Finals in 2006. Alabama is the fourth SEC team to compete in the Veterans Classic, following Vanderbilt (2016), Florida (2015) and Tennessee (2014).

Alabama Head Coach Avery Johnson:

“The Alabama basketball program is honored to be a part of the 2017 Veterans Classic. As a program, we have great respect for all members of our armed forces and how they dedicate their lives to protecting our country. We look forward to being involved in every aspect of this great event. Not only will we have the opportunity to see the Naval Academy in person, but it also gives us the chance to personally thank the men and women of Annapolis for their daily efforts to keep our country safe. Most importantly, this will serve as a tremendous educational experience for our student-athletes and one they will remember for the rest of their lives.”

Memphis Tigers

Memphis was 19-13 in 2016-17 and 8-9 in the American Athletic Conference in head coach Tubby Smith’s first season at the school. Smith served as the head coach at Kentucky for 10 seasons and led the program to a national championship in 1998. Smith has also been the head coach at Tulsa, Georgia, Minnesota and Texas Tech. Memphis will be the second AAC team to compete in the Veterans Classic after Temple in 2015.

Memphis Head Coach Tubby Smith:

“It is an honor to be participating in the Veterans Classic to be held at the Naval Academy in Annapolis, and I want to thank CBS Sports Network for inviting us to play in this event. I grew up in Southern Maryland, and am quite familiar with the rich traditions of the Naval Academy. I’m excited to be a part of this event – it is a wonderful opportunity for our players to show their appreciation and to learn more about the young men and women that serve our country, and the great tradition of the Naval Academy.”

Navy Midshipmen

Navy had an overall record of 16-16 in 2016-17 and was 10-8 in Patriot League play. Under sixth-year head coach Ed DeChellis, Navy increased its conference win total for the fifth straight season and finished in fourth place in the Patriot League. Navy advanced to the Patriot League Tournament Semifinals for the first time since 2001, where the team lost to eventual league champion Bucknell, 70-65. Shawn Anderson was named to the All-Patriot League Second Team and Bryce Dulin was named to the Patriot League All-Defensive Team.

Navy Head Coach Ed DeChellis:

“We are very proud to once again host the Veterans Classic. We have a great group of teams joining us this year with the University of Pittsburgh, the University Alabama and the University of Memphis. The Veterans Classic will be held the night before Veterans Day and once again, we will honor our nation’s veterans with this event. As part of the Veterans Classic experience, we will give the visiting teams an in-depth look of the life of a midshipman and immerse them in our culture here at the U.S. Naval Academy. We thank CBS Sports Network for their continued support of the Veterans Classic, as both games will be televised nationally.”

Pittsburgh Panthers

Pittsburgh was 16-17 overall and 4-14 in the ACC in head coach Kevin Stallings’ first season at the school. Senior forward Michael Young was named the All-ACC Third Team and senior guard Jamel Artis received All-ACC honorable mention recognition. Stallings arrived at Pitt after spending 17 seasons at Vanderbilt, where he became the program’s leader in coaching wins (332) and took the school to the NCAA Tournament seven times. Pittsburgh is the second ACC team to compete in the Veterans Classic after North Carolina in 2015.

Pittsburgh Head Coach Kevin Stallings:

“We are honored to compete against Navy in the 2017 Veterans Classic. The opportunity to interact with and observe the dedication and drive of the men and women in the United States Naval Academy will have a lasting impact on our young team. We have an unbelievable level of respect for those who protect our country and it will be invaluable for our guys to witness their selfless service.”
VETERANS CLASSIC HISTORY – THE NAVAL ACADEMY EXPERIENCE

Prior to the 2014-15 college basketball season, CBS Sports Network and the Naval Academy partnered to create a new college basketball event, the Veterans Classic, an annual showcase bringing together top teams from across the country in celebration of Veterans Day. The Veterans Classic enters its fourth edition in 2017-18.

The inaugural event was Friday, Nov. 14, 2014 with No. 15 VCU playing Tennessee and Navy hosting No. 18 Michigan State. CBS Sports televised the doubleheader and had on-site pre-game, halftime and post-game studio coverage, live from Alumni Hall in Annapolis. The second edition featured No. 1 North Carolina, Temple, Florida and Navy, while the 2016 event consisted of Marquette, Vanderbilt, Ohio State and Navy. Alabama will play Memphis and Navy will host Pitt in 2017.

Each year, the three visiting schools receive a glimpse of what life is like as a midshipman at the Naval Academy. The teams tour the ‘Yard,’ watch noon meal formation and eat lunch with the Brigade at King Hall. The teams board a yard patrol ship, go into a ship simulator, tour a MH-60S helicopter and a Marine Corps humvee.

The teams are immersed in the culture and tradition of the Naval Academy as the event includes a number of other unique experiences, including military demonstrations, receptions and guest speakers.

CBS Sports produced a 30-minute ‘Hoops Confidential’ documentary on each of the first three events and will do so again in 2017.

2017 VETERANS CLASSIC

VETERANS CLASSIC – GAME RECAPS

2014

#15 VCU 85, Tennessee 69

In the opening game of the inaugural Veterans Classic, No. 15 VCU defeated Tennessee, 85-69, at Navy’s Alumni Hall. VCU built an 18-point halftime lead and Melvin Johnson scored a game-high 23 points. Teammate Treveon Graham registered his 11th career double-double with 15 points and 14 rebounds.

After falling behind 55-35 with 16:44 remaining, Tennessee closed to 67-59 but could not complete the comeback.

Josh Richardson and Detrick Mostella each scored 17 for Tennessee, playing its first game under coach Donnie Tyndall. The Volunteers had 19 turnovers, yielded 23 offensive rebounds and were outscored 24-17 at the line.

Johnson had 20 of the Rams’ first 36 points. Even though he played only 13 minutes in the first half, he still had time to take 10 shots, get two steals and pick up an assist.

“It’s been a phenomenal experience,” said VCU head coach Shaka Smart. “It gave our coaches and players a real appreciation of what goes on here. This was a first-class event; the people at the Naval Academy did a phenomenal job. For any team that has the opportunity, they need to get here.”

Before the game, the Vols wore warm-up shirts with “McKAMEY” on the back and “I WILL” on the front. It was a salute to Knoxville native and former Navy football player Will McKamey, who died on March 25, 2014 after collapsing on the practice field.

#18 Michigan State 64, Navy 59

Navy battled #18 Michigan State for the entire game, but came up just short in a five-point loss at the inaugural Veterans Classic, falling to the Spartans, 64-59.

Travis Trice scored a career-high 25 points for the Spartans, who blew most of a 13-point lead in the second half.

Though having a height advantage and supposedly a huge talent edge, Michigan State got all it could handle from the disciplined Midshipmen.

Michigan State led 44-43 with 11 minutes left and 53-50 with seven minutes remaining before Navy went cold. A 3-pointer by Denzel Valentine, coupled with a layup by Branden Dawson with 5:29 to go, upped the margin to eight points.

It wasn’t good enough. The Midshipmen cut it to 60-57, and again the Spartans appeared in trouble.

Trice made the difference. His driving shot with 1:46 left made it 62-57, and his three free throws in the final 18 seconds sealed it.

Edward Alade led Navy with 12 points. The Midshipmen were outrebounded 38-30 but stayed close by forcing 15 turnovers and committing only 10.

A 3-pointer by Trice with 17:55 remaining put the Spartans up 42-29, their biggest lead. But the Midshipmen answered with a 10-0 run, getting points from four different players, and Izzo reluctantly took a timeout. When play resumed, Navy missed a chance to tie it when a 3-pointer by Brandon Venturini rimmed out. Trice scored on the other end, but it was hardly the beginning of the end for the Midshipmen.

#1 North Carolina 91, Temple 67

Kennedy Meeks had a career-high 25 points and 11 rebounds to help No. 1 North Carolina launch a season of lofty expectations with a 91-67 win over Temple in the opener of the Veterans Classic, a doubleheader at the U.S. Naval Academy.

Brice Johnson contributed 16 points and 10 boards, and Nate Britt scored 15 for UNC, who took control late in the first half.

Meeks scored in the lane, connected on fadeaway jumpers and squared up from 15 feet. He went 10-for-14 from the floor and sank five of seven free throws in posting a career high for points.

With Meeks leading the way, North Carolina finished with a 49-32 rebounding advantage.

Devin Coleman led Temple with 19 points.

The score was tied at 34 late in the first half before the Tar Heels showed why they’re currently considered to be the best team in the country.

Isaiah Hicks made a layup, Meeks hauled in a Temple miss and Britt nailed a 3-pointer. A steal by Joel Berry II led to a basket by Meeks, and another 3 by Britt concluded the 10-0 run that put North Carolina in control.

To hammer home the point, Theo Pinson drilled a long-range jumper at the buzzer, turned around a strutting toward the locker room with the score 47-36.

North Carolina remained comfortably in front during the second half, and coach Roy Williams began substituting liberally with 6 minutes left and the Tar Heels up by 18.

Florida 59, Navy 41

Playing in the second annual Veterans Classic on its home court of Alumni Hall, the Navy men’s basketball team suffered a 59-41 loss to visiting Florida on the opening night of college basketball.

The Mids had a strong start to the game and led after the first 10 minutes, 11-9, but faded into a very poor night of shooting against Florida’s strong defensive play. The Mids shot just 29 percent from the floor, 21 percent on 3-pointers and 25 percent from the free-throw line.

Navy rattled off an early 9-0 run that saw Will Kelly make a layup while being fouled and then sophomore Shawn Anderson drilled a 3-pointer. The Mids went up 9-2 after Zach Fong’s basket was ruled good after a goaltending call.

However, the Gators made their comeback and closed the first half on a 25-10 run. Navy had a chance to cut the halftime deficit to five in the last 10 seconds, but instead missed a jumper and then gave up an and-1 play to Devin Robinson to go down 10 at 29-19.

Florida’s lead grew early in the second half and the Gators extended their lead to 16 after a 3-pointer from Brandone Francis-Ramirez and a dunk by Dorian Finney-Smith.

Robinson scored a game-high 13 points for Florida and also added 10 rebounds, while Finney-Smith grabbed a game-high 12 rebounds.

Florida outrebounded Navy, 47-33, but the Gators also turned the ball over 19 times.

The doubleheader was played in front of a sold out Alumni Hall crowd of 5,710 fans.

Marquette 95, Vanderbilt 71

Four players reached double figures as Jajuan Johnson led the way with 21 points and a game-high six steals as team defense and a big second-half surge propelled Marquette to a convincing 95-71 win over Vanderbilt in the Veterans Classic at the U.S. Naval Academy.

The Golden Eagles forced 19 turnovers, converting them into a whopping 35 points, and used a 16-0 run to break open a 46-44 lead early in the second half en route to the win. Marquette established its presence inside early on, scoring 20 of its first 25 points in the paint, before an impressive perimeter display left the Commodores without an answer.

Marquette shot 52.7 percent (39-74) from the field and went 13-for-31 from long distance. After shooting over 45 percent in the first half, Marquette shot a blistering 59 percent (23-39) in the second half, going 10-for-19 from three-point range.

Johnson finished with a game-high 21 points on 9-of-13 shooting, including 3-of-5 from long range. Luke Fischer added 18 points and seven rebounds to go along with three blocks and two steals, and Haanif Cheatham chipped in 15 points, six rebounds and three assists.

Freshman Sam Hauser went 5-for-8, including 4-of-7 from three-point range, to finish with 14 points in 19 minutes off the bench. MU’s bench outscored Vanderbilt, 32-19.

The Golden Eagles led for the majority of the first half, but trailed 40-39 at halftime after shooting 45.7 percent (16-35) from the field.

Luke Kornet led Vanderbilt with 15 points on 4-of-9 shooting in 23 minutes. The Commodores shot just 39.7 percent (23-58) from the field and were just 8-for-24 from long distance.

Ohio State 78, Navy 68

Despite a career-best 22-point performance from sophomore Hasan Abdullah, the Navy men’s basketball team fell short to Ohio State, 78-68, in the season-opening Veterans Classic presented by Northwestern Mutual at Alumni Hall.

Abdullah had a team-high 22 points on 8-of-17 shooting, including 6-of-14 from beyond the arc, along with four rebounds, one assist and one steal. Abdullah missed the majority of the second half of his freshman season with a hip injury and made his first career start against Ohio State.

Navy had a fast start to the game, pulling ahead for a 7-3 lead at the first media timeout. The Buckeyes rallied to take the lead, but the Mids hung tough throughout the first half and trailed by five (33-28) at the break.

Abdullah had a team-high 22 points on 8-of-17 shooting, including 6-of-14 from beyond the arc, along with four rebounds, one assist and one steal. Abdullah missed the majority of the second half of his freshman season with a hip injury and made his first career start against Ohio State.

Navy senior Edward Alade’s dunk evened the game at 35-35 with 18:20 remaining. But on the strength of Kam Williams’ scoring, the Buckeyes would pull ahead, leading by as much as 18 before a late Navy rally would bring the final margin back down to 10.

As a team, Navy shot 23-of-61 (37.7%) from the field and 8-of-29 from three-point land. The Mids controlled the offensive boards holding a 13-6 edge over Buckeyes. Ohio State shot 57.4 percent in the contest and held an overall rebounding edge of 39-31.

Navy senior forward James Hemphill scored a career-high 12 points and sophomore guard Ryan Pearson scored a career-best 10 points. Both Hemphill and Pearson came off the bench to provide offensive support.

Anderson finished with 11 points, seven rebounds, six assists and two steals in a fine all-around game. He led Navy in rebounds, assists and steals on Friday.

Williams scored a game-high 23 points for Ohio State. He was 7-of-9 from the floor and 5-of-6 on 3-pointers. Keita Bates-Diop recorded a double-double with 14 points and 14 rebounds.

As the undergraduate college of the Naval service, the Naval Academy prepares young men and women to become professional officers and leaders in the U.S. Navy and Marine Corps. Naval Academy students are midshipmen on active duty in the U.S. Navy. They attend the academy for four years, graduating with a bachelor of science degree and commissioned as ensigns in the Navy or second lieutenants in the Marine Corps. Naval Academy graduates serve at least five years as Navy or Marine Corps officers.

Founded in 1845 by Secretary of the Navy George Bancroft, the Academy started as the Naval School on 10 acres of old Fort Severn in Annapolis with an original class of 55. In 1850 the Naval School became the United States Naval Academy. A new curriculum went into effect requiring midshipmen to study at the Academy for four years and to train aboard ships each summer. Congress authorized the Naval Academy to begin awarding bachelor of science degrees in 1933. Today, the Academy offers 24 major fields of study, a wide variety of elective courses and advanced study and research opportunities.

USNA Mission Statement

“To develop midshipmen morally, mentally and physically and to imbue them with the highest ideals of duty, honor and loyalty in order to graduate leaders who are dedicated to a career of naval service and have potential for future development in mind and character to assume the highest responsibilities of command, citizenship and government.”

From the first athletic competition played on the gridiron in 1879 to Navy's recent triumphs, several events, people, rivalries and personalities have shaped the entire Naval Academy athletic program. Below is a look at just some of the history and traditions that make Navy one of the most storied programs in all of collegiate athletics.

Anchors Aweigh

“Anchors Aweigh” was written by Lt. Charles Zimmermann, Musical Director of the Naval Academy in 1906, with the lyrics provided by Alfred H. Miles of the Class of 1906, as a fight song for the 1907 graduating class instead of the usual class march. Zimmermann had composed for previous classes. The song made its debut at the 1906 Army-Navy game, and when the Midshipmen won the game, the song became traditional at this game. It gained national exposure in the 1920s and 1930s when it was heard on the radio and was in a number of popular movies. In 1997 a one-hour documentary on the history of Navy football, titled “Anchors Aweigh for Honor and Glory”, was produced by NFL Films. The film was deemed a success by both critics and fans alike. Here are the words:

Stand Navy down the field, Sails set to the sky,
We'll never change our course, So Army you steer shy.
Roll up the score, Navy, Anchors Aweigh,
Sink the Army Grey

Bancroft Hall

Named after former Secretary of the Navy George Bancroft, the Hall is home for the entire Brigade of Midshipmen. It contains 1,873 midshipmen rooms, nearly five miles of corridors and approximately 33 acres of floor space, making it one of the largest single dormitories in the world. All of the basic facilities midshipmen need for daily living, and many for recreation, are found in the Hall.

Bill the Goat

The first recorded use of a goat mascot for Navy athletic teams was in 1893 when an animal named El Cid (The Chief) was turned over to the Brigade by young officers of the USS New York. El Cid helped Navy to a 6-4 triumph over Army that year. Two cats, a dog, and a carrier pigeon have also enjoyed brief reigns as the Navy mascot, but goats have served without interruption since 1904. Bill XXXIII and XXXIV are the current mascots. They are taken care of by 15 goatherdiers made up of five midshipmen from the first, second and third classes. The goatherdiers undergo rigorous training prior to handling Bill on the field.

N-Star

Members of varsity teams who qualify for their varsity letter receive an N-Star if they participate in a victory over Army in any sport’s designated “Star” competition. Navy is 16-0-1 against Army over the last 17 years in the Star series and is 30-3-2 over the last 35 years.

Blue & Gold

This song was written in 1923 by Cmdr. Roy DeS. Horn, USN (Ret.) with music composed by J.W. Crosley. Following every home athletic competition, the team faces its fans with their hands on their heart and sings the following:

Now, colleges from sea to sea may sing of colors true;
But who has better right than we to hoist a symbol hue?
For sailors brave in battle fair, since fighting days of old,
Have proved the sailor’s right to wear the Navy Blue and Gold

Gokokuji Bell

The bell is an exact replica of the 1456 casting brought to this country by Commodore Matthew C. Perry following his expedition to Japan in 1854. The original bell, donated to the Naval Academy by Commodore Perry’s widow, was returned by the Navy to the people of Okinama in 1987. Like the original bell, the replica is rung to celebrate football victories over Army. The bell is stationed in front of Bancroft Hall.

I Believe That We Will Win

“I Believe That We Will Win” is one of the most popular sports chants in the country, and while often replicated, the chant can trace its roots back to the Naval Academy. In 1998 at the Naval Academy Preparatory School, Jay Rodriguez was tasked to come up with a cheer for his platoon. He began by chanting the word “I” and then asked his classmates to chant it back. He then said “I believe” and again asked them to chant it back. This continued until the full phrase of “I Believe That We Will Win” was completed and it was then repeated multiple times in unison while everyone jumped up and down. The chant made its sporting event debut at the Army Prep vs. Navy Prep men’s basketball game in Newport, R.I. that year.

The following year, Rodriguez was a plebe at the Naval Academy and he taught the chant to classmate Corey Strong, a member of the cheerleading team. During Navy’s 19-9 win over Army at the 1999 Army-Navy football game in Philadelphia, Strong led the Brigade of Midshipmen, over 4,000 strong, to a stirring rendition that helped the chant reach a new level of prominence.

Midshipmen have since been performing the chant at football games and other sporting events in the closing minutes of games in which a Navy victory is imminent.

Tecumseh

The familiar Native American figurehead facing Bancroft Hall and Tecumseh Court has been an Annapolis resident since 1866. Originally, the figurehead of the USS Delaware was meant to portray Tamanend, the great chief of the Delawares. It developed that Tamanend was a lover of peace and did not strike the fancy of the Brigade. Looking for another name, Midshipmen referred to the figurehead as Powhatan and King Philip before finally settling on Tecumseh, the fierce Shawnee chief who lived from 1768-1813. It is considered a good-luck “mascot” for the midshipmen, in times past would throw pennies at it and offer left-handed salutes whenever they wanted a ‘favor’, such as a sports win over West Point, or spiritual help for examinations.

Building Features
- Prior to the 2014-15 season, Navy added a new Daktronics centerhung video board that features four individual video displays each measuring approximately eight feet high by eight feet wide. The board shows live video, vivid graphics, animations, statistics and instant replay.
- For the 2011-12 season, a new Smalley Court was purchased to adapt to a pair of new rule changes implemented for the season. In addition, new banners have been raised in Alumni Hall.
- The hall has two exterior, landscaped memorial plazas donated by the classes of 1942, ’58 and ’59.
- All seats in the facility are dedicated to the memory of individuals who have committed themselves to the cause of freedom.
- The approximately 40 rooms in the building have plaques dedicated to individuals and organizations who have supported our country and the Naval Academy.
- A wall is reserved by the Pearl Harbor Survivors Association to commemorate those who were killed during the attack on Pearl Harbor.
- One concourse was dedicated to Lt. Lloyd Garnett and his shipmates on the USS Samuel B Roberts (DE 413) who earned their ship the reputation as the “destroyer escort that fought like a battleship” in Leyte Gulf.
- A music room was named for Lt. Mark Lange, Class of 1979, whose plane was shot down over Lebanon in Dec. 1983. Residents from Lange’s hometown of Detroit and the surrounding areas funded the room.
- Several high-profile speakers, including three former presidents, a prime minister and a vice-president, have given speeches at Alumni Hall. Well-known music artists include Zac Brown Band, Katy Perry and Carrie Underwood.
