HEAD COACH BILL ROBERTS

THIRD YEAR ☆ SPRINGFIELD COLLEGE '92

Bill Roberts begins his third season as the head coach of the Navy men's swimming program this fall, as well as his sixth year at the Naval Academy.

During his initial season as the program's mentor, Roberts coached the Midshipmen to the 2003-04 Patriot League title, a sixth-place finish at the Eastern Intercollegiate Swimming League meet and returned Navy to the NCAA National Championship for the first time since 1996. Along the way, his swimmers won 10 individual and relay titles at the Patriot League meet and captured the 400 freestyle relay event at the EISL championship.

Last season, Navy again won the Patriot League title and recorded the program's highest regular season winning percentage — 62.5 percent — in five years and its most victories — 10 — in seven seasons. The season ended with Joe Smutz and Mike Linn competing in multiple events at the prestigious World Championship Trials in Indianapolis, Ind.

Roberts first arrived at Navy during the summer of 1997 when he joined Lee Lawrence's coaching staff as an assistant coach. In three seasons together, the Lawrence-Roberts duo guided Navy to a 27-10 record, including an 18-9 mark in the Eastern Intercollegiate Swimming League. Roberts coached Navy's 200 freestyle relay team that won the 1999 EISL title, and helped develop sprinter Clint Cornell into a 2000 Olympic Trials appearance and to the 2001 EISL 50-yard freestyle title.

After three seasons at Navy, Roberts took over as head coach of the men's and women's swimming teams at Colgate. During the 2002-03 season, the Colgate women placed fourth in the Patriot League, the program's highest finish since an identical showing during the 1996-97 campaign. His men's teams placed fifth in the Patriot League during each of his seasons in Hamilton, which was highlighted during the 2002 season by Matt Vuturo becoming the program's first individual swimming champion in six years.

Dreams do come true, said Roberts upon accepting the position of head coach at Navy. To coach swimming at the U.S. Naval Academy is an opportunity of a lifetime. I feel blessed to have served at such a wonderful school as Colgate, and to now have the chance to work once again at the Naval Academy. This position means the world to me.

The goals of the program are to provide an environment that will allow every team member to reach their potential academically, athletically and personally. We want to be the premier service academy for those interested in swimming and diving in college.

Additionally, it is our expectation that we will annually compete for a conference championship while sending athletes to the NCAA and Olympic Trial meets.

A 1992 graduate of Springfield College, where he was a four-year letterwinner and served as team captain for two seasons, Roberts began his coaching career upon graduation as the head coach of the women's team at Wells College in his hometown of Aurora, N.Y. After two seasons at Wells, he served as a graduate assistant coach at East Carolina, during which time he earned a master's degree in athletic administration. In the summer of 1996, he joined the Villanova program for one year before coming to the Naval Academy.

Roberts, 35, and his wife, Nicole, have three sons — Will, age six, Nick, age four, and Jackson, age two.

JOE SURIANO
DIVING COACH
28TH SEASON

Joe Suriano begins his 28th season as Navy's diving coach. Under his tutelage, nine divers on Navy's men's team and two divers on the women's team have qualified for 19 NCAA Division I Championships. All told, his divers have earned 14 Division I All-America accolades.

One of the highlights of his coaching career came in 1991 when he was named as the Division II Coach of the Year after Stacia Johnson captured the NCAA title.

Suriano earned a bachelor's degree from Michigan in 1970 and a master's degree from Eastern Michigan in 1978. Prior to coaching at Navy, he served as the diving coach at Eastern Michigan (1971-72) and Vanderbilt (1973-78).

Suriano was named an International Olympic Committee diving expert in 1985 and conducted a 21-day clinic for 30 diving coaches in New Delhi, India. In 1994, he was named an official and an assistant diving coach for U.S. Diving at the Dive Canada International Championships. He also served as an official in 1995 at the World University Games in Fukouka, Japan, and at the World Military Games in Rome, Italy. He also served as a diving coach at two U.S. Diving National Training Camps and was named to the 1995-96 U.S. Diving national coaching staff. Most recently, he directed the American diving team at the 1999 World Military Games in Zagreb, Croatia. Suriano completed a term as the chairman of the NCAA Swimming and Diving Rules Sub-Committee on Sept. 1, 2001.

In addition to his 91 honor from the NCAA, he also has been named the Patriot League Diving Coach of the Year and the Eastern Intercollegiate Swimming League Diving Coach of the Year during his tenure at Navy.

ENS. ADAM KENNEDY
ASSISTANT COACH
SECOND SEASON

Adam Kennedy begins his second season as a member of the Navy coaching staff and his third year as an assistant to head coach Bill Roberts.

Kennedy guided Navy's sprint and breast-stroke groups to four NCAA B cut times last season and saw Joe Smutz and Mike Linn compete at the World Championship Trials in both the 50 and 100 freestyle events. In addition, Kennedy's swimmers qualified for a trio of relay events and several individual events at the USA Swimming National Championship.

Prior to his arrival at Navy, Kennedy was an assistant coach to Roberts at Colgate and served as a graduate assistant at Ohio.

Kennedy swam on the collegiate level at Davidson, earning four letters during his career. His prep career included swimming for Ben Davis and the Tualatin Hills Swim Club and for Sunset High School in Portland, Ore.

2005-06 OUTLOOK

The Navy men's swimming and diving team has won the Patriot League title in each of the two years the Mids have competed in the championship, but in vastly different styles.

Two years ago, Navy won 12 event titles on its way to totaling 810 points and winning the championship in its home pool of Lejeune Hall.

The Mids won two fewer events last year but, thanks to the depth of the team, scored an additional 12 points to again claim the conference championship by nearly 200 points.

This season, head coach Bill Roberts hopes to combine individual excellence and even greater depth into a third-straight Patriot League championship.

Leading the way individually this season are seniors Mike Linn and Joe Smutz, along with junior Kevin Teague.

Linn and Smutz both earned Honorable Mention All-America honors in a pair of relay events at the 2004 NCAA Championship, and have combined to reach the finals in 11 of their 12 individual events at the Patriot League Championship. Both swimmers also competed on the national level after the end of the 2005 regular season with appearances at the World Championship Trials and the ConocoPhillips National Championship.

In a long line of talented Navy divers to have competed under Joe Suriano, Teague is on the verge of moving his name to the top of the list. He was selected as the diver of the year at both league championships last season and has posted a combined 61-3 record during Navy's dual meets over the past two years.

Even with the talented trio, depth should again be a factor as the Mids attempt to win the program's third Patriot League title in as many years. Navy returns 17 athletes who scored points in an individual event at the 2005 Patriot League Championship, with those athletes combining to total 29 appearances in an individual event final.

But Patriot League success is only part of the team goals for the 2005-06 season. The Mids also will be competing at the traditionally strong Eastern Intercollegiate Swimming League Championship, a meet the Navy program has taken part in since its inception over 40 years ago, and look to qualify both individuals and relay teams to the NCAA Championship for the second time in three years.

By continuing to offer and create the best environment possible, we will put ourselves in the best position we can to reach or surpass our goals for the upcoming season, said Roberts. Looking at the team this season, our depth is stronger than it was in 2005. Diving coach Joe Suriano continues to do a terrific job with the divers and assistant swimming coach Adam Kennedy had a solid first season and will look to continue doing great things with the team.

We have a committed and proven group of seniors who will do a terrific job leading the team this year. With hard work and a little luck, I hope and expect to see many people reaching their personal best all season long.

BACKSTROKE

Returns — Josh Andres, Eric Bond, Chris Jenkins, Mike Linn, Kurt Lobaugh, John Lyles, Danny Mizelle, Kevin Mukri

Newcomers — Kyle Abner, Brooks Cameron, Preston Mihalko, Billy Vey

Mukri holds both backstroke records at Navy and has won a pair of Patriot League titles in the stroke during his two years. Mizelle placed fourth in the 200 back at last year's Patriot League meet and reached the consolation final in the event at the EISL championship.

Linn has scored points in the 100 back at both league meets in each of the last two years.

Backstroke will be a strong event for Navy this year, said Roberts. In addition to Mukri and Mizelle returning after solid seasons, we have several athletes who I feel will step up and round out this event for us during both the duals meets and championships.

BREASTSTROKE

Returns — Christopher Jenkins, Jimmy Jones, John Kennedy, Kevin Kysiak, Mike Lowhorn, Justin Wells

Newcomers — Ari Molina, Alex Oldenkamp, Dan Warner

Kysiak and Kennedy each scored points in both breaststroke events at last year's Patriot League meet, with Jenkins also reaching the 200 breast final at the championship. In addition, Kennedy and Lowhorn scored for the Mids in both breast events at the EISL championship.

Everyone is going to be counted on in this event, said Roberts. It starts with goal setting and training. I expect that with greater numbers, despite the loss of front-line breaststroker Brian DeMell, we should be more competitive in this event.

BUTTERFLY

Returns — Seve DeLeonibus, Christian Foschi, Ian Getzler, Tyler Hill, Kurt Lobaugh, Brad Penley, Brad Snyder, Andrew Thorn

Newcomers — Sam Graessle, Preston Mihalko, Billy Vey

Hill emerged as Navy's top butterfly swimmer at last year's league championships, reaching the finals in both events at the Patriot League meet — setting the school record in the 200 fly in the process — and scoring in both at the EISL championship, as well. In addition, Getzler finaled in the 200 fly at both league meets, Penley scored in the 100 fly at the Patriot League meet and Foschi scored at the EISL championship.

Several new swimmers came into this event for us last year, said Roberts. Towards the end of the regular season we finally were able to show signs of our potential. This year, we will continue to work hard in the fly events to round out our entire lineup and make us more competitive as a team.

FREESTYLE -- SPRINT

Returns —Eric Bond, Christian Foschi, Mike Linn, John Lyles, Brad Penley, Andrew Plumb, Joe Smutz, Matt Wood

Newcomers —Preston Mihalko, Alex Oldenkamp, Joe Unruh

Linn swept both sprint freestyle events at last year's Patriot League championship, with Smutz placing second in each event, as well. The duo finished in the 50 at the EISL meet, with Linn placing fourth and Smutz sixth at the EISL championship. Flemming joined Linn and Smutz in reaching the 100 free finals at the Patriot League meet.

We have great depth and potential for the sprints this season, said Roberts. The training environment will be ideal for producing some terrific performances throughout the season. Look for the duo of Mike Linn and Joe Smutz to capitalize on all of the work they have put in since the end of the 2005 season.

FREESTYLE -- MIDDLE DISTANCE

Returns —Dany Flemming, Tyler Hill, Christopher Jenkins, Kevin Mukri, Greg Schmucker, Andrew Thorn

Newcomers —Books Cameron, David Guthmann

Mukri, Flemming and Thorn placed 2-3-4 in the 500 free at the 2005 Patriot League meet, with Flemming and Jenkins placing 2-3 in the 200 free. Flemming would go on to score in both events at the EISL meet.

We will continue to be solid in this event, said Roberts. With several experienced middle distance swimmers on the team, we should be competitive every single weekend. The one aspect we are very well aware of is that almost every team we swim is equally as strong in middle distance freestyle. That is the challenge for us in these events.

FREESTYLE -- DISTANCE

Returns —Josh Andres, Andy Bockus, Ian Getzler, Brad Snyder

Newcomers —David Guthmann, Brandon Wiedower

The Mids accounted for five of the top-12 finishers in the 1650 freestyle at last year's Patriot League meet, and of that quintet only Jake Keefe (12th) is not returning for the Mids. Back for Navy is Snyder (7th), Thorn (9th), Bockus (10th) and Getzler (11th). Bockus and Getzler would also score points for the Mids in the 1000 free at the EISL championship.

Despite the loss of 2004-05 team captain Jake Keefe, the combination of newcomers and greater experience for the returners should make us equally as competitive this coming season, said Roberts.

We have the potential to make this an improved event as we look to achieve this goal in 2006.

INDIVIDUAL MEDLEY

Returns —Andy Bockus, Eric Bond, Steve DeLeonibus, Christopher Jenkins, Jimmy Jones, John Kennedy, Mike Lowhorn, Danny Mizelle, Andrew Thorn, Josh Wells.

Newcomers —Kyle Abner, Sam Graessle, David Guthmann, Billy Vey, Dan Warner

Navy had great success in the IM events at last year's Patriot League meet. The Mids saw four swimmers score points in the 200 IM and four reach the final in the 400 IM. Of that group, only Chris Speicher, who scored in both events at both league meets, does not return. Jenkins is considered the top returning overall swimmer in the medley events after placing eighth in the 200 IM at the Patriot League meet, with Thorn also back after scoring in a combined three medley events during Navy's championship season.

This will be the most interesting event for us this year, said Roberts. Gone are front-line guys like Brian Demell and Chris Speicher, but returning after late season surges are Chris Jenkins and Andrew Thorn. New to the fold are a group of guys with the potential to keep us competitive throughout the dual meet season. By the time championships begin, I expect from our depth will emerge additional leaders in this event.

DIVING

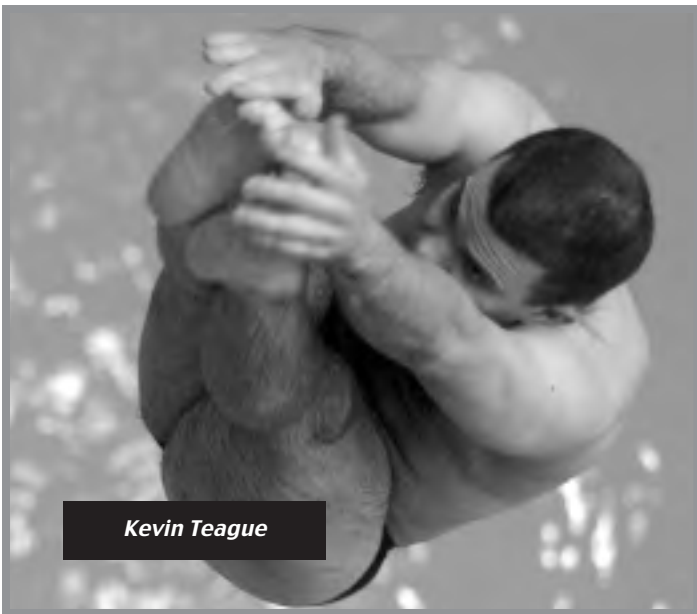

Returns —Adam Niekras, Kevin Teague, Zach Templin

Newcomers —Sam Curlee, Jonathan Galinski

After a freshman year which saw him total a 30-2 dual-meet record, win both boards at the Patriot League meet and claim the three-meter title at the EISL meet, Kevin Teague had an even better sophomore year last season. He finished the year with a 31-1 record during the regular season and won both boards at each league championship. In addition, Niekras and Templin are back for their sophomore years, one year after scoring on both boards at both league meets.

Kevin is already considered one of the top all-around divers to attend the Naval Academy, said Suriano. He hopes to have a great junior year by continuing his dual-meet record, winning titles again at both league meets and returning to the NCAA Championship as he did as a freshman.

Zach is a very talented diver and Adam has the potential to be a great one, as well.

WHY DID YOU CHOOSE TO ATTEND THE U.S. NAVAL ACADEMY?

I chose to come to the Naval Academy because I felt the Academy would provide me with the greatest overall challenges in academics, athletics, and moral development. At that time, I hoped it would prepare me for a career of naval service and a lifetime of dedication to our country.

WHAT HAS COMPETING ON THE NAVY SWIMMING & DIVING TEAM MEANT TO YOU?

During the application process, swimming was something I saw as an extra-curricular activity that I used to stay in shape. After I came here, however, my experiences as a collegiate swimmer taught me that there is more to athletic competition than myself. Swimming at Navy helped me realize how an individual's ambition cannot compare to the importance of self sacrifice and team unity.

WHAT ARE YOUR GOALS FOR THE 2005-06 SEASON?

I would like to see Navy retain the Patriot League Championship title and raise our overall standing in the Eastern League. Navy has the potential to make an impressive showing in the top 8 heats of the Eastern League and to send the most swimmers to NCAA's and Senior Nationals in our program's recent history.

WHAT ARE YOUR CAREER GOALS?

Upon graduation and receiving my commission, I hope to demonstrate my abilities as a reliable officer dedicated to a career of naval service. I intend to earn a master's degree in a field related to naval architecture or ocean engineering after my first or second tour. Upon retiring, I anticipate having the opportunity to use my education as a means of getting involved in the ship building business.

WHY DID YOU CHOOSE TO ATTEND THE U.S. NAVAL ACADEMY?
 I chose to come to the Naval Academy because I wanted to receive the best education I could while earning a commission in the United States Navy. The Naval Academy provides me the opportunity to do both. Similarly, I have the privilege of competing for the men's swimming team, and working with the best group of guys you can find.

WHAT HAS COMPETING ON THE NAVY SWIMMING & DIVING TEAM MEANT TO YOU?
 It has truly been an honor to carry on the great tradition that is Navy men's swimming. The true reward for swimming is not beating Army or earning other accolades, but is establishing a brotherhood between your teammates that will transcend times and races and build an environment entirely conducive to success at all levels of life.

WHAT ARE YOUR GOALS FOR THE 2005-06 SEASON?
 Our goals are to surpass the levels we reached last year, and not just in the pool. We are dedicated to improving this program by challenging ourselves out of the water.

WHAT ARE YOUR CAREER GOALS?
 Athletically I am working on making fitness an integral part of my life and my health. I plan on staying engaged in life fitness for as long as I can. Personally in my life I want to enjoy what I am doing, work hard in all areas and provide for my family.

WHY DID YOU CHOOSE TO ATTEND THE U.S. NAVAL ACADEMY?

I chose Navy for many reasons. I really wasn't aware of the program until the assistant coach contacted me and started telling me about all of the options and great experiences you can have at Navy. After speaking to the staff for a few months, Navy became a very appealing option for me.

WHAT HAS COMPETING ON THE NAVY SWIMMING & DIVING TEAM MEANT TO YOU?

Competing for Navy is definitely one of the most prestigious things I have done. Just being a midshipman is an honor, but to also represent the swim team, which is full of tradition and great guys takes it over the top. Swimming against Army every year is an incomparable experience. It is one of the biggest rivalries in sports and that competition will always remind me of my experiences of swimming for Navy.

WHAT ARE YOUR GOALS FOR THE 2005-06 SEASON?

First, I want the team to be the best it has been in the past four years. The next thing is to have fun. The team has always been very close and had a great time in and out of the pool. Lastly, I want to see myself and the team compete at 100-percent all of the time and surprise ourselves with the desire to achieve any task put in front of us.

WHAT ARE YOUR CAREER GOALS?

Graduating from the Academy is something I have been working for. As an officer in the Navy, I just want to challenge myself and have a successful and fulfilling naval career. I will always continue to be athletic, but I would say a personal goal of mine is to continue the great friendships that have come from my time at Navy.

WHY DID YOU CHOOSE TO ATTEND THE U.S. NAVAL ACADEMY?

I chose the U.S. Naval Academy because I wanted to attend a school in which the intensity for competition and development was present everywhere, both in and out of the swimming pool. My future well-being, beyond a four-year institution, was a main concern for me and I felt being commissioned as a naval officer after four challenging and productive years as a student, varsity swimmer, leader and friend would only help me rise to my full potential.

WHAT HAS COMPETING ON THE NAVY SWIMMING & DIVING TEAM MEANT TO YOU?

Competing for Navy has been not just a time-intensive and demanding endeavor, but also, and most importantly, a rewarding one. Being a member of the Navy swimming team is being part of a family of friends whose hardships, successes, best moments and smallest concerns are all an active part of my own life. Other than trying to better myself by training harder or smarter, swimming for Navy has taught me the ins and outs of what it means to be a teammate.

WHAT ARE YOUR GOALS FOR THE 2005-06 SEASON?

My goal for this season is to be in the fast heats at NCAA's. I want to break the school records in the 50 and 100 free and the 100 fly. I also think we have several relay teams which can set school records and score points at the NCAA's.

WHAT ARE YOUR CAREER GOALS?

My athletic goals are undecided, but at this point I don't think I'll ever stop swimming competitively. Personally and professionally, I just want to be happy and enjoy my job and see my career flow smoothly. Being happy is the best goal I can have. My family and friends will always be there and it's my goal to be there for them.

WHY DID YOU CHOOSE TO ATTEND THE U.S. NAVAL ACADEMY?

I chose the Naval Academy because I wanted to serve my country. I also wanted to attend a strong engineering school because that is what I was planning on studying in college. I was recruited to the Naval Academy for water polo and that helped make my decision easier because I would be teammates with a great group of guys.

WHAT HAS COMPETING ON THE NAVY SWIMMING & DIVING TEAM MEANT TO YOU?

Competing for the Naval Academy has been a great honor. I know many of the previous swimmers who are currently serving in the fleet still keep track of how our team is doing. It is a privilege to keep good news flowing to them.

WHAT ARE YOUR GOALS FOR THE 2005-06 SEASON?

My goals for this season are to continue having success in the Patriot League and EISL. I also plan on advancing to the NCAA Championship again and hope to be a part of two relay teams which compete in the national finals, as well as be an individual finalist.

WHAT ARE YOUR CAREER GOALS?

My athletic goal is to represent the United States in the Olympics, my professional goal is to do my very best at whatever career path I take and my personal goal is to someday raise a family.

UNITED STATES NAVAL ACADEMY

Secretary of the Navy George Bancroft laid the foundation for the Naval Academy when, in 1845, he established the Naval School at Fort Severn in Annapolis. Commander Franklin Buchanan served as the first Superintendent. His faculty consisted of four officers and three civilian professors. There were 50 students. Initially, the academic and professional instruction required five years the first and last at Annapolis, with the intervening three at sea.

In 1850, the Naval School became the United States Naval Academy. The following year, the Academy adopted its current course of instruction which includes four consecutive years at Annapolis, with at-sea training provided during the summers.

The Naval Academy moved to Newport, R.I., during the Civil War. In 1865, it was re-established at Annapolis under the leadership of Vice Admiral David Dixon Porter. During these early years, the Academy was one of the few institutions of higher learning offering a sophisticated undergraduate course in technical education.

The late 19th century saw immense changes in naval technology with the conversion from sail-powered, wooden ships to steam-powered vessels of steel, which also resulted in rapid developments in naval weaponry and tactics. With the Spanish-American War in 1898, the United States became a world naval power, and early Naval Academy graduates like George Dewey and Alfred Thayer Mahan made significant contributions to our national heritage.

The new century saw the nation's undergraduate naval college grow in size and academic prowess. The Class of 1895 had produced 41 graduates. By World War I, there were nearly 200 graduates each year, along with 2,500 reserve officers who received their training at the Academy.

With the entry of the United States into World War I, courses were shortened to three years, a program which remained in effect until 1921.

Between the two world wars, the curriculum and training equipment were modernized to keep pace with rapid advances in the naval profession and American education. In 1930, the Association of American Universities accredited the Naval Academy, and in 1933, an act of Congress authorized the Naval Academy to confer the degree of bachelor of science on graduates, beginning with the Class of 1931. Congress authorized award of the degree to all living graduates in 1939. The Middle Atlantic States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools first accredited the Academy in 1947.

During World War II, summer sessions were instituted and the course was again shortened to three years. As during World War I, reserve officers, along with reserve midshipmen, also trained at the Academy.

In 1963, the Academy initiated the Trident Scholar Program, under which a number of exceptional students are permitted to pursue independent research during the first class (senior) year.

The 1964-65 academic year saw the civilian positions of academic dean and dean of admissions established and far-reaching changes made to the curriculum. The number of required core courses was reduced and, for the first time, each midshipman was allowed to pursue academic areas of individual interest for minor or major. Additional changes, introduced in the 1969-70 academic year, now require every midshipman to complete a major.

In 1975, President Gerald R. Ford signed legislation authorizing admission of women to the service academies. The first women midshipmen entered the Academy in July 1976 and graduated with the Class of 1980.

NAVAL ACADEMY LEADERSHIP

MIDSHIPMEN LIFE

It all begins with fourth class year. From their first day at the Academy, the fourth class midshipmen, or plebes, undergo an intensive and unabated program of military training and indoctrination. Physical and mental demands on them and their time seem never-ending. But it all has a purpose: the development of leadership ability, motivation, moral strength, physical skills and stamina.

Plebe Summer is a time which most midshipmen will remember for many years. New midshipmen are kept constantly busy learning basic skills in seamanship, navigation and marksmanship. Their pride and company spirit are boosted through infantry drill, small arms training, sailing Navy yawls and cruising in yard patrol craft. Their competitive spirit and desire to win are developed in activities such as athletics, dress parades and seamanship.

MISSION OF THE NAVAL ACADEMY

TO DEVELOP MIDSHIPMEN MORALLY, MENTALLY AND PHYSICALLY AND TO IMBUE THEM WITH THE HIGHEST IDEALS OF DUTY, HONOR AND LOYALTY IN ORDER TO PROVIDE GRADUATES WHO ARE DEDICATED TO A CAREER OF NAVAL SERVICE AND HAVE POTENTIAL FOR FUTURE DEVELOPMENT IN MIND AND CHARACTER TO ASSUME THE HIGHEST RESPONSIBILITIES OF COMMAND, CITIZENSHIP AND GOVERNMENT.

Plebe Summer is highlighted in August during Parents Weekend, when parents visit the Academy and witness the progress of their sons and daughters.

The arrival of the upperclassmen in mid-August heralds the beginning of the academic year. The plebes embark on a four-year course of study while plebe indoctrination continues.

September brings the excitement of football and other fall sports. During the football season, only selected units of the brigade travel to away games, but the entire brigade attends all home games and the annual fall classic, the Army-Navy game.

Commissioning Week, in May, brings the graduation of the first classmen and the end of plebe year. Plebes signify the end of the first year at the Academy by scaling the smooth granite sides of Herndon Monument to replace, at its summit, a plebe cap with an upperclass cover.

Between plebe and third class years, midshipmen get their first taste of life at sea and their introduction to the enlisted men whom they will lead when commissioned as officers. Joining ships around the world, midshipmen perform a host of shipboard duties including standing deck, gunnery, operations and engineering watches. Midshipmen also have their first opportunity to visit foreign countries and experience different cultures.

Third classmen begin work in their academic majors and assume more responsibility in the military regimen at the Academy. Less emphasis is placed on indoctrination, leaving more time for studies, sports and extracurricular activities. It's a welcome change from the rigors of plebe year.

During their third summer, midshipmen get their first training in four warfare specialties which comprise the naval service. They learn about submarines at New London, Conn.; surface warfare at Norfolk, Va.; naval aviation at Pensacola, Fla.; and the Marine Corps at Quantico, Va.

Second class midshipmen are assigned still additional military responsibilities. They are selected and trained to direct the Brigade of Midshipmen during absences of the first class. They are also assigned an important role in indoctrination of the new plebe class, which develops their leadership skills. In academics, the second class midshipmen enter increasingly advanced areas of study.

During their final year at the Academy, first class midshipmen complete the core curriculum and their academic majors course requirements. Many undertake independent research projects, and some begin graduate-level studies at nearby universities. The first class midshipmen also take over the responsibilities for plebe indoctrination. They also lead the brigade at parades, formal ceremonies and daily formations. They are responsible for the conduct, military smartness and competitive records of their units. The skills which the first class midshipmen develop this year will help them when they assume their leadership responsibilities in the Navy and Marine Corps following graduation.

One common denominator which binds the four years into a unit which will forever shape the life of an Academy graduate is the Honor Concept.

Established and administered by midshipmen, the Honor Concept is based on the principle that honorable individuals do not lie, cheat or steal. All midshipmen are expected to conduct their lives in accordance with the Honor Concept so that their decisions as midshipmen, naval officers and civilians reflect the highest levels of honorable conduct.

THE CURRICULUM

With the aid of academic and military advisors, midshipmen design their own blend of the curriculum's three elements:

- ✧ Courses providing the professional and leadership skills required in the naval service.

- ✧ Core requirements in engineering, social sciences, natural sciences and the humanities to ensure breadth in education.

- ✧ Completion of a major program in an academic subject chosen by each midshipman to develop individual interests and talents in depth.

The Naval Academy offers major programs in 19 subject areas: eight in engineering; seven in sciences and mathematics, including computer science, as well as information technology, the most recent addition; and four in the humanities and social sciences. Seven of the engineering majors are accredited professionally by the Engineering Accreditation Commission of the Accreditation Board of Engineering and Technology.

Selected humanities and social science majors with excellent records are invited to enter the rigorous honors programs offered by the departments of Economics, English, History and Political Science.

Outstanding students also have the opportunity to engage in independent study and research during their senior year. Those selected as Trident Scholars carry a reduced formal course load so they can pursue a major research project and prepare a thesis. They are assisted by one or more faculty advisors who specialize in the field of study.

A number of first class midshipmen who complete academic requirements early are encouraged to enroll in graduate classes at area universities. This Voluntary Graduate Education Program gives them the chance to graduate and receive commissions with their classmates, finish their graduate studies locally and then go to their first assignments with a master's degree.

All midshipmen undertake professional military training, beginning on the first day of Plebe Summer and continuing through first class year. This includes classroom studies, drills and practical training at the Naval Academy and with Navy and Marine Corps units during summer programs. Navigation, seamanship, tactics, naval engineering, weapons, leadership and military law are among the areas studied. To advance and graduate, midshipmen must pass professional competency examinations covering general knowledge and subjects related to their service selection.

The Naval Academy's physical education program complements academic and professional development of midshipmen. Instruction and training aim to develop individual skills and competitive spirit, life-long habits of physical fitness, and the capability to withstand physical hardship when necessary. All midshipmen must complete the four-year program which includes the Physical Readiness Test (twice annually), water survival, physical development, personal defense and lifetime carryover sports. Women participate in the same curriculum, including boxing, wrestling and judo.

COMMISSIONING WEEK

Six days of parades, athletic events, colorful ceremonies, formal dances and receptions bring to a climax four years of challenging education and training.

One highlight of Commissioning Week is Color Parade. Each year, intra-brigade competition is conducted to determine which of the 30 companies stands highest overall on the basis of academics, intramural sports, professional drills and parade performance. During the parade, the color girl, who is selected by the Color Company commander, transfer the flags from the past Color Company to the new one.

The biggest social event of Commissioning Week is the ring dance for the second class midshipmen. An elegant formal affair, it is at this event that the midshipmen begin wearing their class rings.

First class midshipmen and their families attend the superintendent's garden party and reception, plus other social events. Athletic, academic and professional awards are presented in Alumni Hall. The evening before graduation, everyone is invited to attend the farewell ball.

On graduation day, friends and relatives gather with the midshipmen at Navy-Marine Corps Memorial Stadium. After the diplomas are presented and the oath of office is administered, the senior midshipman of the new first class leads three cheers for "those about to leave us." The graduates, led by the class president, reply with three cheers for "those we leave behind." On the last hooray of this cheer, the 1,000 graduates toss their midshipmen covers into the air. According to tradition, the honor of putting on the new Navy Ensign and Marine Corps Second Lieutenant shoulder devices is shared by mothers and Commissioning Week dates.

NAVY BLUE & GOLD

NOW, COLLEGES FROM SEA TO SEA
MAY SING OF COLORS TRUE;
BUT WHO HAS BETTER RIGHT THAN WE
TO HOIST A SYMBOL HUE?
FOR SAILORS BRAVE IN BATTLE FAIR,
SINCE FIGHTING DAYS OF OLD,
HAVE PROVED THE SAILOR'S RIGHT TO WEAR
THE NAVY BLUE AND GOLD

FOUR YEARS TOGETHER BY THE BAY,
WHERE SEVERN JOINS THE TIDE,
THEN BY THE SERVICE CALLED AWAY
WE'RE SCATTERED FAR AND WIDE;
BUT STILL WHEN TWO OR THREE SHALL MEET
AND OLD TALES BE RETOLD
FROM LOW TO HIGHEST IN THE FLEET
WE'LL PLEDGE THE BLUE AND GOLD.

THE PATRIOT LEAGUE

Athletic and Academic Success in 2004-05

Team Postseason Achievements:

¥ Bucknell men's basketball, Colgate women's soccer, American field hockey, American men's soccer, Navy men's lacrosse and Army baseball all won games in their respective NCAA Tournaments

¥ Holy Cross men's basketball won a first round game in the National Invitation Tournament.

¥ The Patriot League received multiple postseason bids in three sports - Lafayette (automatic) and Lehigh (at-large) football into the NCAA Division I-AA playoffs; Bucknell (automatic) and Holy Cross (at-large) men's basketball into the NCAA Tournament and NIT, respectively; and Navy (automatic) and Army (at-large) men's lacrosse into the NCAA Tournament.

Team Regular Season Achievements:

¥ The following teams broke into the national rankings at some point during their respective seasons - Lehigh, Lafayette and Colgate football; American field hockey; and Navy, Army and Bucknell men's lacrosse.

¥ The following teams defeated nationally-ranked non-League opponents during their respective seasons - Bucknell men's basketball; American field hockey; and Navy and Army men's lacrosse.

Individual Athletic Accomplishments:

¥ Twelve student-athletes were either drafted or signed professional free agent contracts.

¥ Twenty student-athletes were named All-America

¥ Six cross country and track & field student-athletes qualified for NCAA Championships.

¥ Lauren Wible of Bucknell softball led the nation in batting average, and Chris Cara of Bucknell men's lacrosse led the nation in points per game and assists per game.

Record Breakers:

¥ The following five student-athletes set new Patriot League career records in their respective sports - Joe McCourt, Lafayette football (rushing touchdowns and points scored); Daris Wilson, Bucknell football (rushing yards by a quarterback); Emily Ling, Lehigh softball (wins and strikeouts); Lauren Gobar, Army softball (stolen bases) and Chris Cara, Bucknell men's lacrosse (points).

¥ A total of 28 records were broken at the Cross Country, Indoor Track & Field, Outdoor Track & Field and Swimming & Diving Championships

¥ Navy won the first-ever Patriot League Women's Rowing Championship.

League Academic Recognition:

¥ For the sixth consecutive year, the Patriot League led all reporting Division I conferences in overall student-athlete graduation rates.

¥ The Patriot League and all eight of its full-time member institutions reported above average scores in the new Academic Progress Rate (APR), a tool used by the NCAA to measure academic eligibility, retention and graduation of student-athletes.

¥ A UCF/Lapchick study showed that the Patriot League's NCAA Tournament teams in basketball, the Bucknell men and Holy Cross women, both led the nation with 100 percent graduation rates for their basketball student-athletes.

Individual Academic Honors:

¥ Thirty-seven Patriot League student-athletes were cited by ESPN The Magazine/CoSIDA for academic excellence.

¥ Navy baseball's Trevor Thompson was named an ESPN The Magazine Academic All-American and was one of 32 recipients (out of 904 applicants) to garner a prestigious Rhodes Scholarship to study at the University of Oxford, beginning in October.

¥ Lafayette football's Stephen Bono was one of two recipients of the Division I-AA Athletic Directors' Association Postgraduate Scholarship

THE EISL

The Navy men's swimming and diving program will once again continue its longstanding affiliation with the Eastern Intercollegiate Swimming League this season.

Founded at the start of the 1936-37 season, the EISL is comprised of Navy and the eight-members of the Ivy League - Brown, Columbia, Cornell, Dartmouth, Harvard, Pennsylvania, Princeton and Yale. The EISL began its first season by having round-robin competition between the members, with the first league team championship held in the spring of 1962.

Long recognized as one of the premier collegiate swimming leagues on the East Coast, EISL-member schools have won four NCAA team titles, well over 100 NCAA event championships and nearly 50 Olympic medals.

Navy swimmers and divers have captured 44 EISL titles over the years, including Kevin Teague's three diving titles.

LEJEUNE HALL

LT. GENERAL JOHN ARCHER LEJEUNE, USMC

Navy's swimming and wrestling complex is named after the 13th Commandant of the Marine Corp and an 1888 graduate of the Naval Academy. He served more than 45 years in uniform, fought in World War I and completed nearly three terms as Commandant of the Marine Corps until his retirement in 1929.

LEJEUNE HALL

Opened in 1982 at a cost of $13.5 million, it was the first building at the Academy to be named for a Marine Corps officer.

LIGHTING

The pools are illuminated with bright overhead lights that provide 100-foot candle power at water surface. The large sky-lights supplement lighting and add to the aesthetic beauty of Lejeune Hall.

POOL

The large pool is 25-meters-by-50-meters with an eight-foot depth. A movable bulkhead enables Navy's teams to train at any distance. The pool provides 23 25-meter short course lanes or 10 50-meter long course lanes.

DIVING

The diving pool is 60-by-52 feet with depths varying from 14-17 feet. Diving equipment consists of two one-meter maxi-cheese boards, two three-meter platforms and a diving tower with one, five, seven and a half and 10-meter platforms. There is a powerful bubbler system under each level and a trampoline-dry land board port-a-pit spotting apparatus located on the pool deck to assist in training. In addition, the diving wall has three underwater observation windows.

SEATING AREA

The gallery around the pool seats 1,000 spectators in comfortable armchair seats. Although the building is completely modern in conception and materials, its regularly placed columns and raised roof area complement the traditional turn of the century French Renaissance style campus with its vocabulary of granite walls and mansard roofs.

TIMING SCOREBOARD

The Colorado Time Systems scoreboard and timing system is the most up-to-date automatic system in the world. The system determines elapsed time, order of finish and lap splits for each competitive lane to a thousandth of a second. The system records the results and transmits them to the scoreboard.

The diving pool is equipped with a judges system that displays the awards, stores 11 dives for up to 99 divers, handles the addition and multiplication to compute degrees of difficulty, show the leading diver and flash if the current diver takes the lead.

COMPETITORS FACILITIES

Facilities for athletes include separate entrances, locker rooms, showers, three saunas, a large classroom, team locker rooms and a fully-equipped first aid/training room.

"I believe it to be almost universally accepted as sound policy that the cultivation of athletics in a military organization is extremely beneficial to the personnel from the standpoint both of improved physique and improved morale.

-- John A. Lejeune, 1930
