2016 RANKINGS

Notre Dame began the 2016 season ranked first in both the Nike/Lacrosse magazine and Cascade/Maverik/Inside Lacrosse media preseason polls, while the Irish were second (behind 2015 NCAA champion Denver) in the United States Intercollegiate Lacrosse Association preseason poll of coaches. Notre Dame moved to the top spot in the Feb. 15 USILA poll, then went back to second in the Feb. 22 and 29 USILA listings. Here are the Feb. 29 polls (italics indicate 2016 Notre Dame opponent):

NOTRE DAME AND THE NUMBER-ONE SPOT

Notre Dame ranked first in all three polls in the Feb. 15, 2016, versions of those ratings.

-- The Irish spent four weeks holding down the number-one spot in 2015, losing that ranking by virtue of a 13-8 loss to Duke in an ACC Championship semifinal match.

-- After beating #1 Syracuse on March 28, 2015, Notre Dame moved to the top of the USILA (coaches) and Inside Lacrosse Cascade/Maverik (media) polls.

-- Since the program’s inception in 1981, Notre Dame has been ranked #1 in both polls for nine weeks. Here are Notre Dame’s appearances at #1:

* April 18-May 2, 2011 (USILA and media polls -- 2 weeks)
* March 25-April 1, 2013 (USILA and media polls -- 1 week)
* April 22/April 29, 2013 (USILA and media polls -- 1 week)
* March 30-April 20, 2015 (USILA and media polls -- 4 weeks)
* February 15, 2016 (USILA and media polls -- 1 week)

THE MARYLAND SERIES

The Irish and Terps have met eight previous times, with Maryland holding a 5-3 edge. The squads most recently played three times during the 2014 campaign (when Maryland was still an Atlantic Coast Conference member), with the Terps winning 12-8 in a regular-season meeting in South Bend, then Notre Dame prevailing 6-5 in an ACC Tournament semifinal in Philadelphia and again 11-6 in an NCAA national semifinal in Baltimore. Here are the details, with four of the eight matchups coming in the NCAA Championship:

THE LAST GAME IN 2016: IRISH MOVE TO 3-0 WITH HOME WIN OVER DETROIT

Irish sophomore Mikey Wynne began his collegiate career a little more than a year ago with a half-dozen goals in Notre Dame's 2015 season-opening win over Georgetown. Last Saturday Wynne did it again, notching six more goals (he had a hat trick before the first period was over) in a 14-5 victory by the top-rated Irish (3-0) over Detroit (0-3) in front of a packed crowd of 1,335 fans indoors at the Loftus Center. (The Notre Dame single-game record for goals is seven, last accomplished by current senior Matt Kavanagh in 2014.)

Notre Dame junior Sergio Perkovic had four goals of his own to nearly match Wynne's pace.

--- The visiting Titans notched the first goal of the game at the 13:51 mark--then it was all Irish from there. Notre Dame put the next seven goals on the board, three in a row by Wynne followed by tallies by freshman Drew Schantz, captain and All-American Kavanagh (he was back in the starting lineup after missing the Wednesday Irish win over Bellarmine), plus two by Perkovic.

-- Perkovic finished off a hat trick of his own before halftime (the Irish led 8-2 at the break). Then he accounted for the first Notre Dame goal of the third period, meaning his four scores came in a 20:39 window.

-- After Detroit stopped the bleeding with a goal in the final minute of the first half, the Irish reeled off six straight to seal the verdict. Wynne had three more goals after halftime (he also had an assist for a seven-point day and was an ultra-efficient six of seven shooting)--and he had help from freshman Brendan Gleason and Anthony Marini who both got their first tallies of the 2016 campaign.
-- Freshman Ryder Garnsey and Kavanagh had two assists apiece. Two of Notre Dame’s final three goals came on extra-man chances. Detroit scored three times in the final period after Kevin Corrigan’s Irish team had built the advantage to 13-2. The Irish outshot Detroit 39-22, won 15 of 22 face-offs (nine by John Traviano Jr.) and forced 23 Titan miscues. Notre Dame was successful on all 18 clearing attempts, while Detroit was only 12 of 20. Irish junior goaltender Shane Doss noted his third win with seven saves (and two goals allowed) while sophomore Owen Molloy played the final 12:36 in the net in his first collegiate action.

IRISH IN 2016 NCAA STATISTICS

Here’s where Notre Dame appears in the current NCAA statistics (through games of February 28):

Team

-- 3rd in caused turnovers per game (10.33), 4th in scoring defense (6.0), 6th in scoring margin (+6.33), 7th in faceoff winning percentage (672), 9th in man-up offense (.571), 11th in ground balls per game (34.0), 12th in clearing percentage (.909), 14th in assists per game (.767), 15th in points per game (20.0), 19th in scoring offense (12.33)

Individual

-- Shane Doss 4th in save percentage (.659) and 5th in goals-against average (5.38), P.J. Finley 9th in faceoff winning percentage (.600), Sergio Perkovic and Mikey Wynne 14th in goals per game (3.0), Wynne 17th in individual man-up goals (2) and 18th in shot percentage (.563)

-- Here’s where Notre Dame as a team and Irish individuals finished in the final NCAA stats for 2015 (top 20 rankings):

Team

-- 4th in man-up offense (.524), 4th in winning percentage (.800), 6th in scoring margin (+3.93), 7th in shot percentage (.333), 8th in scoring offense (13.27), 9th in points per game (19.8), 9th in ground balls per game (33.07), 12th in caused turnovers (7.8), 19th in scoring defense (9.33)

Individual

IRISH IN 2016 ACC STATISTICS (through games of Feb. 28)

Notre Dame currently leads the Atlantic Coast Conference in save percentage (.647), goals-against average (6.00), saves/game (11.00) and caused turnovers/game (10.33). On an individual basis, goaltender Shane Doss leads in saves per game (9.67), while Sergio Perkovic and Mikey Wynne are tied for the lead in goals per game at 3.00 (with Chris Cloutier from North Carolina). Wynne is the only ACC player to score six goals in a game so far in 2016 (he did it vs. Detroit).

-- Notre Dame led the ACC in 2015 (all games) in these team categories: man-up scoring percentage (.524), fewest penalties/game (2.8), goals-against-average (9.25), fewest penalty minutes/game (2.0) and caused turnovers/game (7.8). Matt Kavanagh and Conor Doyle both set an ACC high for assists in a game in 2015 with five (Kavanagh vs. Dartmouth, Doyle vs. Army), with four other conference players also accomplishing that feat. In conference competition, Doyle and three other ACC players set the standard with seven points in a league game (Doyle did it in the Irish regular-season victory at Duke with three goals and four assists).

NCAA RATES 2016 IRISH SCHEDULE FOURTH TOUGHEST

The NCAA Toughest Schedule Report for Feb. 29 lists Notre Dame with the fourth most difficult schedule for 2016, with Irish opponents playing at a combined .649 pace (24-13). Ahead of the Irish are Duke (41-13 for .759), Johns Hopkins (27-12 for .692) and Cornell (23-12 for .657).

IRISH SHUTOUT STREAKS

Notre Dame’s defense already in 2016 has five segments of at least a full period without allowing an opponent goal:

1. Georgetown I — The Hoyas didn’t score for the first 17:34 of the game, as Notre Dame built a 4-0 lead.
2. Georgetown II — Notre Dame held the Hoyas scoreless for an 18:02 period in the third/fourth periods combined, as the Irish built their lead to 10-6.
3. Bellarmine — The Knights didn’t score for an 18:37 window in the third and fourth periods combined as the Irish built their lead to 11-5.
4. Detroit I — The Irish held the Titans off the board for 27:55 in the first/second periods, as Notre Dame scored seven straight goals.
5. Detroit II — The Titans went without scoring for a 21:51 window, including the end of the second period, all the third period and the first six minutes of the fourth period, as the Irish scored six straight goals.

Here are similar (at least a full quarter) shutout streaks from the 2015 season (included nine full shutout periods and a dozen overall shutout segments comprising at least 15 minutes):

-- Michigan I — The Wolverines went 23:26 without a goal (first/second periods) as Notre Dame scored nine in a row.
-- Michigan II — The Wolverines went 15:14 without scoring (third/fourth periods) as the Irish scored five straight goals.
-- Dartmouth — The Big Green did not score at all in the second period and went 27:26 (first/second/third periods) without a goal as Notre Dame scored 14 straight.
-- Virginia — The Cavaliers went scoreless in the first period and were shut out for the first 22:26 as the Irish built a 6-0 lead.
-- Ohio State — Notre Dame posted a 9-0 shutout victory.
-- Syracuse — The Orange went without scoring for 19:50 (first/second periods) as the Irish built a 5-2 lead.
-- Marquette — The Golden Eagles went 15:59 (first/second periods) without a goal while the Irish scored seven in a row.
-- Marquette II — Notre Dame shut out Marquette in the final period, including over the final 17:04 of the contest.
-- Duke (ACC) — The Blue Devils went scoreless in the opening period, including over the first 15:42 of the game.
-- Army — The Irish shut out Army in the opening period, and over the first 16:17, while building a 6-0 lead.
-- Albany — Notre Dame held the Great Danes scoreless for 16:58 (third/fourth periods) while posting six straight goals.
-- Denver — The Pioneers went 16:57 without scoring (first/second periods) while the Irish were scoring twice.
IRISH HAVE SIX PRESEASON ALL-AMERICANS FOR 2016
Six Notre Dame players garnered preseason Division I All-America honors from Inside Lacrosse in its 2016 Face-off Yearbook. Senior attacker Matt Kavanagh, junior midfielder Sergio Perkovic and senior defenseman Matt Landis all merited first-team honors, while junior defenseman Garrett Epple made the second team. Honorable mention picks included sophomore attacker Mikey Wynne and sophomore midfielder Brendan Collins.
-- Virginia was the only other program to have six players recognized.

THREE IRISH ON TEWAARATON WATCH LIST
All three of Notre Dame’s returning first-team All-Americans in men’s lacrosse—attack Matt Kavanagh, defenseman Matt Landis and midfielder Sergio Perkovic—were named February 23 to the 2016 Tewaaraton Award men’s watch list. The list includes the top players across all three divisions of NCAA lacrosse and highlight the early contenders for the 2016 Tewaaraton Award, presented by Under Armour. Among the 2016 watch list returnees are two former men’s finalists—Kavanagh and Myles Jones from Duke.
-- The Tewaaraton Award presented by Under Armour annually honors the top male and female college lacrosse player in the United States. The selection committees are made up of premier collegiate coaches and are appointed annually by The Tewaaraton Foundation.
-- Players not named to the initial list have several opportunities to play their way into a spot as the season progresses. Watch list additions, if applicable, will be announced on March 17 and April 7. On April 28, the field will be narrowed to 25 nominees.
Nominees can be players on the watch list or players not on the watch list, effectively allowing for a third round of additions. Five men’s finalists will be announced May 12 and invited to the ceremony. The 16th annual Tewaaraton Award Ceremony will be held June 2 in Washington, D.C.

2016 ACC PRESEASON ACCOLADES
Reigning Atlantic Coast Conference regular-season champion Notre Dame was selected as the preseason favorite in the 2016 ACC Men's Lacrosse Preseason Poll.
-- The Fighting Irish received 25 points in balloting among the ACC's five head coaches. Duke followed with 15 points. Syracuse and Virginia (13 points each) tied for third, while North Carolina received nine points.
-- All five ACC teams were ranked in the top eight in Inside Lacrosse's Face-Off Yearbook Top 20 poll. Notre Dame led the way at No. 1 followed by Duke (No. 3), North Carolina (No. 5), Virginia (No. 7) and Syracuse (No. 8).
-- The Preseason All-ACC Team included Notre Dame senior attacker Matt Kavanagh, senior defenseman Matt Landis and junior midfielder Sergio Perkovic (all three first-team USILA All-Americans in 2015).

INSIDE LACROSSE 2016 PRESEASON UNIT RATINGS
Inside Lacrosse recently listed its preseason rankings for the top attack, midfield and defense units for 2016—with Notre Dame ranking second in the attack and defense categories and fifth in the midfield standings.
-- In the attack rankings, the Irish were second behind Denver.
-- In the midfield rankings, Notre Dame listed fifth behind Duke, Virginia, Maryland and Denver.
-- In the defense rankings, Notre Dame rated second behind Maryland.
Quint Kessenich recently listed his top 25 college players for Inside Lacrosse and placed Notre Dame’s Matt Landis third, Sergio Perkovic sixth and Matt Kavanagh ninth.

MLL TABS LANDIS, KAVANAGH IN 2016 DRAFT
Notre Dame men’s lacrosse senior standouts Matt Landis and Matt Kavanagh, both first-team All-Americans in 2015, were selected among the top five players in the Major League Lacrosse Collegiate Draft held in January in Baltimore.
-- The Florida Launch made Landis, a defenseman, the third overall pick and the first defenseman selected. The Denver Outlaws followed by making Kavanagh, an attack, the fifth overall selection.
-- The Atlanta Blaze selected Duke midfielder Myles Jones first, while the Charlotte Hounds selected Syracuse attack Dylan Donahue second and Johns Hopkins attack Ryan Brown fourth.
-- Landis represents the highest selection for a Notre Dame player in the MLL Draft, and Landis and Kavanagh are easily the highest-drafted combination of Irish players. Previous Irish first-round picks were Mike PodgaeyJn (seventh overall) in 2008, Zach Brenneman (fifth overall) in 2011 (he was the previous high pick from Notre Dame) and Jack Near (seventh overall) in 2015.

VETERAN QUARTET CAPTAINS IRISH IN 2016

IRISH ON TV IN 2016
The Notre Dame men’s lacrosse program could have seven of its games televised live on ESPN3 in 2016. -- Five regular-season games are slated for ESPN3, and one or two more could be added if the Irish qualify for the 2016 Atlantic Coast Conference Championship April 29 and May 1 at Kennesaw State in Kennesaw, Georgia. In addition, two other nonconference contests will be available on ESPN3.

Irish senior Kavanagh produced points his career out Ohio State 9 of his 14 starts last season.

The senior attackman notched six or more points in three games in 2015 and began the 2016 campaign with five (one goal, four assists) against Georgetown.

Matt Landis, named the top defensive player in the country in 2015, has received the Weaver-James-Corrigan Award representing an honorary postgraduate scholarship from the Atlantic Coast Conference (those awards were announced Feb. 10). The 6-2, 195-pound defenseman from Pelham, New York (Pelham Memorial High School), is a finance major in the Mendoza College of Business. He also was a 2015 ACC All-Academic Men’s Lacrosse Team selection.

Landis received the William C. Schmeisser Award from the United States Intercollegiate Lacrosse Association as the outstanding defensive player in Division I as a junior in 2015. He was a 2015 USILA first-team All-American, the 2015 ACC Defensive Player of the Year and a 2015 first-team All-ACC selection.

The student-athletes will be honored at the annual Cone Health ACC Postgraduate Luncheon hosted by the Nat Greene Kiwanis Club and presented by ESPN April 13 at the Sheraton Four Seasons Hotel Imperial Ballroom in Greensboro, North Carolina.

The Weaver-James-Corrigan Award is named in honor of the late Jim Weaver and Bob James, as well as Gene Corrigan, the first three ACC commissioners. Eugene F. Corrigan (father of current Notre Dame men’s lacrosse coach Kevin Corrigan) assumed his role as the third full-time commissioner on Sept. 1, 1987, and served until August 1997. During Corrigan’s tenure, ACC schools captured 30 NCAA championships and two national football titles.

Three Notre Dame freshmen were selected as Under Armour All-Americans. Hughes Crance (Newport Beach, California/Corona Del Mar), Ryder Garnsey (Wolfeboro, New Hampshire/Brewster Academy) and Timmy Phillips (Alexandria, Virginia/Epicosical) were tabbed as Under Armour All-Americans.

Hugh Crance (Newport Beach, California/Corona Del Mar), Ryder Garnsey (Wolfeboro, New Hampshire/Brewster Academy) and Timmy Phillips (Alexandria, Virginia/Epicosical) were tabbed as Under Armour All-Americans.
-- With his four-goal effort against Army in 2015, he became the sixth 100-plus goal scorer in school history. In addition to Kavanagh, the five others players to reach the 100-goal plateau have been Randy Colley (173), Ryan Hoff (134), Joe Franklin (119), Chris Duseau (115) and Tom Glatzel (106).

-- Kavanagh did not score a goal or have an assist against Towson in Notre Dame's NCAA first-round win over the Tigers. It marked the first time since the 1963 season that the Irish were shut out. The Tigers claimed a 1-0 victory to win.

-- Kavanagh’s 183 career points (103 goals, 80 assists) rank fourth in the Notre Dame record book—behind Randy Colley (273), Pat Walsh (192) and Mike Sullivan (185).

-- Kavanagh’s 103 goals are the sixth most in school history—behind Colley (173), Ryan Hoff (134), Joe Franklin (119), Chris Duseau (115) and Tom Glatzel (106).

-- Kavanagh’s 80 assists are the fifth most in Irish history—behind Ulrich (110), Walsh (108), Colley (100) and Sullivan (88).

-- Kavanagh produced Irish single-season records for points (75) and assists (33) in 2014.

-- Kavanagh’s 42 goals in 2014 were the most for a Notre Dame player since Colley netted a school-record 49 goals in 1995.

-- Kavanagh is the only player in Notre Dame history to register 30 goals and 30 assists in the same season (42 goals, 33 assists in 2014).

-- He has 30 multiple-goal games during his career (17 with three-plus goals).

-- Kavanagh matched a school record with seven goals in the win at Ohio State in 2014.

-- Kavanagh has three overtime game-winning goals during his career. He netted the deciding goal in the 2014 triumph over Albany in the NCAA quarterfinals.

-- During his freshman campaign in 2013, he scored in overtime to win games against Penn State and North Carolina (a three-overtime affair).

ANOTHER SOLID START FOR WYNNE

-- Wynne posted two or more goals in eight of 15 games in 2015. He scored six goals versus Georgetown in his collegiate debut.

PERKOVIC A PLAYMAKER

Junior Sergio Perkovic ranks as Notre Dame's leading returning midfield scorer for 2016 and leading returning goal-scorer overall after 34 goals and seven assists in 2015.

-- Perkovic has 22 multiple-goal games during his career (11 in 2015), including eight games of three-plus tallies (including four goals in the 2016 Irish opener against Georgetown and four more against Detroit). Those four goals against Georgetown earned him the February 22 Atlantic Coast Conference Offensive Player of the Week honor.

-- His top career goal-scoring day produced five in the 2015 NCAA Championship semifinal versus Denver. He previously tied a career-high mark of five points with three goals and two assists versus Marquette in 2015. He had a hand in four straight Fighting Irish goals (two goals, two assists) during the second quarter of that contest.

-- Perkovic netted 28 goals in 2014 as a freshman, including five in the NCAA title game versus Duke. The 28 goals marked the most for a freshman midfielder at Notre Dame.

FANTASTIC FEBRUARYS FOR FIGHTING IRISH

Notre Dame is 24-2 in its last 26 games played in February, thanks to a 3-0 February in 2016. Irish coach Kevin Corrigan is 29-5 in the month of February during his Notre Dame tenure.

-- The last Irish defeat in February came Feb. 22, 2014, in an 8-7 home loss to #12 Penn State.

FIGHTING IRISH SPURTS IN 2015

Notre Dame produced significant scoring runs in each of its last 13 games in 2015:

-- Behind 9-5 with 5:29 to go in the NCAA Championship semifinal versus Denver, Notre Dame scored five times in a 5:20 span (first four were goals by Sergio Perkovic, then one by Nick Ossello to tie the game at the :09 mark).

-- Trailing 9-8 following the third quarter against Albany, the Irish scored the first five goals of the final stanza to break open the NCAA Championship quarterfinal.

-- After falling behind Towson 6-2 with 2:50 to play in the second quarter, Notre Dame scored six unanswered goals to take an 8-6 advantage with 10:01 to play in the third quarter. The Tigers tied the game with 4:31 to play in the third period on back-to-back scores before the Irish rattled off a 4-0 burst to take a 12-8 lead. In all, Notre Dame would score 10 of 12 goals in a run that covered 22:12.

-- Against Army, the Irish led 6-0 after the fourth quarter and scored eight of the contest’s first nine goals.

-- After trailing Duke 12-2 in a semifinal of the ACC Championship with 12:04 remaining, Notre Dame ratted off six straight goals to pull the Irish to within four (12-8) with 4:14 to play.

-- The Irish tallied the final three goals of the game in a span of 1:15 to secure a 15-14 come-from-behind victory over North Carolina.

-- Marquette claimed a 2-0 lead over Notre Dame before the Irish scored seven straight goals en route to the 14-7 win.

-- The Irish scored seven of the game’s first nine goals in the 15-10 victory at Duke.

-- The Irish extended their 5-5 halftime lead against Syracuse with four straight second-half scores to claim a six-goal advantage (9-3) before going on to win 13-12 in double overtime.

-- Notre Dame scored every goal in the 9-0 win over Ohio State.

-- The Irish scored the first seven goals in the 11-9 victory at Virginia.

-- Notre Dame surrendered the first goal to Denver in the regular season before scoring five straight times, but the Irish would suffer an 11-10 overtime setback.

-- After Dartmouth tied Notre Dame 2-2, the Irish ratted off 14 consecutive tallies in the 20-5 victory.

-- The Irish overturned a 1-0 deficit at Michigan with nine straight goals en route to the 17-8 victory.
-- Notre Dame continued that tendency to begin 2016 with the first four goals in its opener against Georgetown going on the Irish side of the board. In its third game Notre Dame produced runs of seven and six goals against Detroit.

SPREADING THE WEALTH
Notre Dame had at least six different goal scorers in 11 of 15 games in 2015.

-- Notre Dame had a season-high 10 goal scorers in wins over Dartmouth and Michigan in 2015.
-- The Irish had a season-low four goal scorers in the win at Virginia.
-- Notre Dame began 2016 with seven goal scorers in its opening win versus Georgetown—and then had six against both Bellarmine and Detroit.

EIGHT IRISH JOIN 2015 ACC ALL-ACADEMIC TEAM
Eight members of the 2015 Notre Dame squad were named to the Atlantic Coast Conference All-Academic Team.
The team was comprised of 33 student-athletes representing all five of the league's men's lacrosse programs. Notre Dame's eight honorees were second only to Duke's nine selections. Jim Marlatt and Sergio Perkovic were among 10 players named to the team for the second consecutive year. The six other Fighting Irish student-athletes honored included Will Corrigan, Eddy Glazener, Matt Landis, Eddy Lubowicki, Jack Near and John Sexton.

-- Three of those individuals--Perkovic, Landis and Near--also earned United States Intercollegiate Lacrosse Association All-America honors.
-- To be eligible for consideration for the All-ACC Academic Team, a student-athlete must have earned a 3.00 grade-point average for the previous semester and maintained a 3.00 cumulative average during his academic career.

KAVANAGH A 2015 TEWAARATON FINALIST
Irish junior attack Matt Kavanagh attended the presentation of the 2015 Tewaaraton Award at the Smithsonian Institution’s National Museum of the American Indian in Washington, D.C., as one of the five finalists for the honor. Albany’s Lyle Thompson won the award for the second straight year. Kavanagh’s parents and Irish coach Kevin Corrigan joined Kavanagh. Also in attendance was Notre Dame women’s finalist Barbara Sullivan and Irish women’s head coach Christine Halfpenny. Notre Dame was the only institution to have both a men’s and a women’s Tewaaraton finalist in 2015.

NOTRE DAME IN THE NCAA CHAMPIONSHIP
Notre Dame in 2015 played in the NCAA Championship for the 10th straight year and 20th time in school history. Every NCAA appearance Notre Dame has made has occurred under current head coach Kevin Corrigan.

-- The Irish own an all-time record of 17-11 in their 20 trips to the tournament. Notre Dame finished as the NCAA runner-up in 2010 and 2014 and also advanced to the NCAA Championship semifinals in 2001, 2012 and 2015.
-- The Irish earned a spot in the 2015 semifinals following a first-round victory over Towson (12-10) and a quarterfinal win over Albany (14-10).

HISTORIC TOP SEED IN 2015
Notre Dame earned the #1 seed in the 2015 NCAA Championship for the first time in school history. In 2013, the Irish garnered the tournament’s #2 seed before falling to Duke 12-11 in the quarterfinals.

-- So 2015 marked the eighth time overall--and seventh time in the last eight campaigns--the Irish earned one of the eight national seeds for the NCAA Championship. The Irish also were seeded for the 2001 (5th), 2008 (6th), 2009 (7th), 2011 (4th), 2013 (2nd) and 2014 (6th) championships.

-- All five teams from the ACC in 2015 were seeded--Notre Dame (#1), Syracuse (#2), North Carolina (#3), Duke (#5) and Virginia (#7).

IRISH CLAIMED 2015 ACC REGULAR-SEASON CROWN
Notre Dame won the Atlantic Coast Conference regular-season title in 2015 in just its second season as a conference member. The Irish finished with a 4-0 record.

-- Coach Kevin Corrigan’s squad clinched the title with a come-from-behind 15-14 win over #2 North Carolina on April 18 in South Bend. Both teams entered the matchup with 3-0 league records.

MULTIPLE #1 VS. #2 AFFAIRS AT ARLOTTA IN 2015
Top-rated Notre Dame's win against #2 North Carolina on April 18, 2015, marked the second #1-vs.-#2 showdown at Arlotta Stadium in 2015.

-- Second-rated Notre Dame knocked off #1 Syracuse 13-12 in double overtime on March 28, 2015.

LANDIS TABBED AS TOP ACC DEFENSIVE PLAYER
Matt Landis was selected as the Atlantic Coast Conference Defensive Player of the Year as a junior in 2015.

-- He started all 15 games for the Irish and anchored a defensive unit that yielded just 9.25 goals per game in 2015. Landis also collected 29 ground balls.

FOUR IRISH PLAYERS EARN ALL-ACC HONORS IN 2015
Notre Dame had four players garner All-Atlantic Coast Conference honors in 2015. Junior attackman Matt Kavanagh earned all-conference honors for the second consecutive season, while senior attackman Conor Doyle, junior defender Matt Landis and sophomore midfielder Sergio Perkovic were first-time honorees. North Carolina and Syracuse each placed five players on the 18-member all-conference team, while Duke placed three and Virginia one.

HOME SWEET HOME
Notre Dame finished 7-0 at home in 2015 for the 10th perfect campaign in school history and first since the 2011 season (6-0). The seven wins matched a program best at home. The 1992 Irish squad finished with a 7-1 home record.
-- Since 2006 (spanning nine seasons), Notre Dame has finished undefeated at home on five occasions. The Irish ended a perfect 6-0 at home during three consecutive seasons from 2006-08.

-- The Irish are 2-0 so far at home in 2016 and will look for a third home victory March 13 versus defending NCAA champion Denver.

PERKOVIC PERFORMANCE LATE IN 2015 NCAA MEN’S LAX SEMIFINAL ONE FOR AGES
It lasted maybe 10 minutes in real time, yet it likely goes down as one of the most stunning individual performances in the history of college men’s lacrosse. The official score sheet said Irish sophomore midfielder Sergio Perkovic scored five goals in Notre Dame’s 2015 NCAA Men’s Lacrosse Championship national semifinal game against Denver in Philadelphia. A close look at the scoring summary showed that all five goals came in the final period. An even closer inspection indicated that the five goals came over a span of 5:57 in clock time. That would be an amazing accomplishment by a team (especially at the NCAA national semifinal level, against a team that ultimately won the title), much less for an individual.

-- The NCAA has no individual scoring-by-period records to prove it, but it’s likely Perkovic did something never before accomplished in NCAA men’s lacrosse history while depositing those five goals into the net. His scores came at 8:00, 4:40, 3:38, 3:01 and 2:03, so the last four came in a 2:37 span. ESPN analyst Quint Kessenich called Perkovic’s performance versus Denver the top moment of the 2015 season.

-- The NCAA record for most goals in the fourth period of a national semifinal game by an entire team is nine (accomplished twice). The NCAA Championship record for most individual goals in a single game is nine (also done twice), while the regular-season mark for individual goals in a game is 11.

-- Those five Perkovic goals tied the Notre Dame NCAA single-game mark for goals set in 2014 by Perkovic in the title game against Duke (also established by Matt Kavanagh in 2014 in the semifinals versus Maryland—as well as by David Earl in 2010 and Randy Colley in 1995). In fact, Perkovic’s late-game show against Denver brought back distinct memories of his 2014 title effort versus Duke when the then-freshman notched his five goals in a 24-minute span during the third and fourth periods.

-- Perkovic’s five goals against the Pioneers in 2015 tied for the seventh most productive output in a national semifinal game, while his five in the 2014 title game tied for the sixth most in a championship game. His five tallies against Denver marked a season high as well as his sixth game in 2015 with three or more goals.

IRISH NCAA VICTORIES
The 2015 Notre Dame NCAA Championships wins over Towson and Albany pushed the Irish NCAA victory total to 17. The only teams with more are Cornell, Duke, Johns Hopkins, Maryland, North Carolina, Princeton, Syracuse and Virginia.

-- The Irish are 12-6 over the last six NCAA events combined (2010-2015), including national semifinal appearances in 2012 and 2015 and title game appearances in 2010 and 2014.

LOTS OF CLOSE NCAA CALLS
Notre Dame’s last six NCAA losses (2010-2015) have come by a combined nine goals, including three two-goal losses and three one-goal defeats (two of those in overtime).

-- Notre Dame played four one-goal games in 2015 (three overtime affairs), winning two of those (Syracuse in OT and North Carolina). The Irish played three other two-goal games (defeating Georgetown, Virginia and Towson). Both Notre Dame OT losses came against eventual national champion Denver.

AGAINST RANKED OPPONENTS IN 2015 AND 2016
Each of Notre Dame’s final 12 games in 2015 came against ranked opponents, including teams rated #1 (Syracuse), #2 (North Carolina), #3 (Denver in NCAA semifinal), #4 (at Denver in regular season), #6 (Albany in NCAA quarterfinal and Duke in ACC Tournament semifinal) and #7 (at Duke and at Virginia, both in regular season).

-- The 12 straight games against ranked opponents qualified as a Notre Dame record, topping the previous record of eight straight to end the 2014 season.

-- That streak moved to 13 with Notre Dame’s 2016 opener against 13th-rated Georgetown—and then ended when the Irish defeated unranked Bellarmine.

-- The remaining 2016 Notre Dame schedule features six teams currently ranked in the USILA poll (Feb. 29 edition): #1 Denver, #3 Syracuse, #4 Duke, #9(tie) Maryland, #9(tie) North Carolina, #17 Virginia and #19 Marquette.

IRISH A STAPLE IN NCAA QUARTERFINALS
No other team in the country has advanced to (at least) the NCAA Championship quarterfinals each of the last six seasons other than Notre Dame. Duke had been tied with the Irish in that category until the Blue Devils fell in the first round in 2015. Notre Dame is 12-6 over that six-year span. (Only Duke at 16-3 has more wins over those six seasons.)

-- Only two teams have played in each of the last 10 NCAA Championships—Notre Dame and Maryland. The Irish are 13-10 over that decade in NCAA play.

MORE IRISH POSTSEASON NOTES
Notre Dame has lost to the eventual NCAA champion in eight of its last 10 appearances in the postseason, including four seasons in a row:

2015—lost to eventual champion and #4 seed Denver in national semifinal
2014—lost to champion and #1 seed Duke in title game
2013—lost to eventual champion and #7 seed Duke in quarterfinal
2012—lost to eventual champion and #1 seed Loyola in national semifinal

BAUMERS ENDOW LACROSSE COACHING POSITION
On the eve of Notre Dame’s participation in the 2015 NCAA Championship Weekend in Philadelphia, an alumnus of the University and his wife made a gift to endow the program’s head coaching position.
- A $3 million gift from John and Mollie Baumer of Manhattan Beach, California, will underwrite the salary of the head coach, provide stability and resources for the long term and create funds for use within the department and across campus.
- Kevin Corrigan, now in his 28th season at Notre Dame in 2016, is the first Baumer Family Head Men’s Lacrosse coach.
- John Baumer is a native of South Bend where his father Fred Baumer was employed as the comptroller at Notre Dame for many years. John earned a bachelor’s degree in finance from Notre Dame in 1990 and a master of business of administration degree from the University of Pennsylvania’s Wharton School of Business in 1995. He is a senior partner at Leonard Green & Partners of Los Angeles, one of the nation’s leading private equity firms with more than $15 billion of private equity capital raised since inception.
- Mollie Baumer is a 1990 graduate of Saint Mary’s College where she was a varsity soccer player. The couple has three children who attend Catholic school in the Los Angeles area.
- John is a member of Notre Dame’s Advisory Council for the Student-Athlete, Campaign Cabinet and Wall Street Leadership Committee.

ACC GAME CHANGERS AWARD TO IRISH LACROSSE FOR 2015
- The "Game Changers" initiative was introduced last year as part of the ACC’s unique and longstanding partnership with United Way to recognize and highlight specific ACC team involvement with its local United Way chapter.
- The award was based on the Irish team’s ongoing work mentoring South Bend middle-school students.

IRISH MEN’S LACROSSE CONTINUES TO HONOR FATHER HESBURGH
The Notre Dame men’s lacrosse squad continues to commemorate the legacy of longtime University president Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh, C.S.C., during the 2016 season. Father Hesburgh died Feb. 26, 2015, at age 97. He served as University president from 1952-87.
- The Irish again feature "Father Ted" stickers on their helmets.

DOMINATING DEFENSE
Since the beginning of the 2007 season (a span of 147 games), the Irish defense has limited opponents to seven goals or fewer 84 times. Notre Dame has held foes to four goals or fewer 18 times during that stretch.
- The Irish have allowed 10 or more goals just 24 times in the last 85 games.
- Notre Dame has allowed an average of 6.0 goals per game in the three-game stretch to open the 2016 campaign (to rank fourth nationally).

2016 6.00 4th (through games of February 28)
* Notre Dame single-season record

Notre Dame began the 2016 season by permitting seven, six and then five goals in its first three outings (18 combined goals allowed). That’s the best three-game defensive stretch (seven goals or less in each) since the middle of the 2012 campaign when the Irish won five straight games by counts of 13-6 over St. John’s, 9-1 vs. Providence, 9-7 vs. Georgetown, 10-7 against Navy and 8-6 over Syracuse. It’s the best defensive stretch to begin a season since that same 2012 campaign began with a 7-3 win over Duke, a 4-3 loss to Penn State and a 6-5 win over Drexel (12 combined goal allowed).

THE 2016 ACC CHAMPIONSHIP
Tickets for the 2016 ACC Men’s Lacrosse Championship to be held April 29-May 1 at Fifth Third Bank Stadium located in Kennesaw, Georgia, are on sale now. Single day tickets start at $20, while all-session books start at $50.
- All five ACC teams (Duke, North Carolina, Notre Dame, Syracuse and Virginia) will travel to the greater Atlanta area, with the top four finishers from the regular season competing for the ACC Championship. The four-team tournament will commence with semifinal action on Friday, April 29, with games at 6 p.m. and 8:30 p.m. The championship game will be played on Sunday, May 1, at noon. The fifth-place team that does not qualify for the tournament will play Brown on Saturday, April 30, at 7 p.m. All game times are subject to change.

-- All four games will be played at Fifth Third Bank Stadium, an 8,300 seat venue in Kennesaw, Georgia. The 2016 tournament will mark the sixth time in the event’s 28-year history that it has been held at a neutral site. Prior to coming to Fifth Third Bank Stadium in 2016, PPL Park in Chester, Pennsylvania, played host in 2014 and 2015, following Baltimore in 2005 and 2006 and Orlando, Florida, in 2001.

-- Tickets for groups of 10 or more start at $15 per ticket. Families, teams and community groups can take advantage of affordable ticket options for either single-day or all-session admission. Fans interested in saving on group tickets should e-mail mgendern@kennesaw.edu or call 470-578-4849.

-- For more ticket information to purchase tickets, call the Fifth Third Bank Stadium Box Office at 470-578-4849 or go to www.wherekennesawplay.com.

The University of Notre Dame men's lacrosse team pursues excellence on and off the field through the three pillars in which the program is built: Character, Culture & Community. These three foundational values guide the promise of the program, which is to provide its student-athletes with the most compelling and enriching experience in all of college athletics. Through academics, competition, service and travel, the program aims to immerse its players in situations that enhance their student-athlete experience to help them become the people, students and teammates they aspire to be.
