Notre Dame Women's Lacrosse in the NCAA Championship

The Notre Dame Fighting Irish women's lacrosse team has advanced to the NCAA tournament in three of the last five years with the 2006 appearance taking them all the way to the national semifinals in Boston, Mass.

In just 10 seasons as a Division I program, Notre Dame women's lacrosse has become a major player on the national lacrosse scene.

The Irish first appeared in the tournament following the 2002 season and hosted their first-ever tournament game versus Ohio State, taking an 11-7 win over the Buckeyes. That win moved Notre Dame into the quarterfinals where they met the top team in the nation on the road at Princeton. The Tigers ended the Irish season with an 11-5 loss at the hands of the eventual national champions.

After just missing the tournament in 2003, Notre Dame was back again in 2004 and would travel to Midwest-rival Northwestern in the first round. The Wildcats handed the Irish a 10-8 loss in their second tourney appearance.

Following a disappointing 2005 year, Notre Dame bounced back last season by recording the biggest turnaround in NCAA history, going from 3-12 to 15-4, a +10 change. That helped the Irish get their second-ever home NCAA game as they opened with a visit from Cornell. Notre Dame responded with a 16-8 win to advance to the quarterfinals for the second time in the program's history. That game would also be at Moose Krause Stadium and the Irish would face fourth-ranked Georgetown, a team they had never beaten. That seven-game losing streak would come to an end as the Irish handed the Hoyas a 12-9 loss to move on to the NCAA finals, held at Boston University. In the semifinals, the Irish faced Dartmouth and saw the most successful season in the program's history come to an end as the Big Green downed Notre Dame, 14-8, to move on to the finals against Northwestern.

Notre Dame will look to continue its recent success and be a part of the 2007 NCAA Division I Women's Lacrosse Championship. This year's 16-team tournament will begin on Sunday, May 13 with eight games at campus sites. The four quarterfinal games will be played on campus on Saturday, May 19 with the finals to be held at Philadelphia's Franklin Field with the University of Pennsylvania serving as host. The semifinals will be played on Friday, May 25 with the championship set for Sunday, May 27.

2002 NCAA Tournament - First Round

#7 Notre Dame 11, #12 Ohio State 7

May 9, 2002 • Notre Dame, Ind.

Making their first-ever NCAA Tournament appearance, the Notre Dame Fighting Irish opened at home against 12th-ranked Ohio State and had to battle back from a three-goal deficit in the second half to pull out an 11-7 win over the Buckeyes.

Sophomore Meredith Simon led the way with three goals and two assists while Alissa Moser, Natalie Loftus and Kassen Delano each scored two goals in the victory. Lauren Cochran led Ohio State with three goals while Regina Oliver had a pair for the Buckeyes.

Ohio State led 5-3 at halftime and had a 7-4 lead with 20 minutes left when the Irish offense went into gear, scoring the final seven goals of the game for the 11-7 win. Danielle Shearer's goal with 19:53 left sparked the comeback. Her goal was followed by two from Loftus, two from Simon and two from Delano on the way to the win.

Junior goalkeeper Jen White made 11 saves in Notre Dame's first-ever NCAA tournament game, an 11-7 win over Ohio State.

Notre Dame fired 30 shots on goal to Ohio State's 25. Irish goalkeeper Jen White made 11 saves in the victory while Erin Forquer surrendered 11 goals while making 14 saves.

The win moved the Irish into the quarterfinals against top-ranked Princeton.

2002 NCAA Tournament - Quarterfinals

#1 Princeton 11, #7 Notre Dame 5

May 12, 2002/Princeton, N.J.

The Notre Dame women's lacrosse team saw its dream season come to an end in Princeton, N.J., as the Irish fell to top-ranked Princeton, 11-5, in an NCAA Quarterfinal contest.

The loss ended Notre Dame's season with a 13-5 record, the best in the program's six-year history. Princeton advanced to the NCAA semifinals with the victory.

Princeton's offense was led by Whitney Miller, Lauren Simone and Charlotte Kenworthy as each player recorded three goals and two assists for five points in the game. The Irish got two goals each from Danielle Shearer and Meredith Simon while Natalie Loftus had a single goal.

The Tigers jumped out to a 5-1 lead in the first half as Notre Dame goalkeeper Jen White made several big saves to keep the game close.

Simone opened the second half with an early goal to make it 6-1 when the Irish made their run to get back in the game. Loftus made it 6-2 just 32 seconds after Simone's goal. Simon scored her first goal of the game a minute later to cut the score to 6-3.

Two Princeton goals made it 8-3 before Shearer got her second goal of the game to make it 8-4. That's as close as the Irish would get as Princeton scored the next three goals to make it 11-4. Simon closed the scoring with her second goal of the game for the 11-5 final.

The Tigers outshot the Irish, 36-20, in the game. White made 11 saves for Notre Dame while Sarah Kolodner had five saves in the victory.

2004 NCAA Tournament - First Round

#8 Northwestern 10, #9 Notre Dame 8
May 13, 2004 • Evanston, Ill.

Notre Dame's women's lacrosse team made its' second appearance in the NCAA Tournament in 2004 and the Irish faced one of their biggest rivals, the Northwestern Wildcats.

The two teams met at Northwestern where the Wildcats rallied from a 6-4 halftime deficit to pull out a 10-8 win to advance to the NCAA Quarterfinals.

The Irish were led offensively by senior midfielder Kassen Delano who equaled a career-best four-point game on three goals and an assist. Crysti Foote scored two goals and added an assist in the lost.

Northwestern was led by freshman midfielder Kristen Kjellman who matched Delano with three goals and an assist and Laura Glassanos had three goals of her own to pace the Wildcats.

Notre Dame took an early 2-0 lead on goals by Kristen Gaudreau and Lauren Fischer.

Glassanos put the Wildcats on the scoreboard only to see Foote make it a 3-1 game. Northwestern surged ahead with a three-goal outburst in a 1:04 span to take a 4-3 lead.

Delano took over for the Irish, scoring three straight goals to send the game to the intermission with Notre Dame leading 6-4.

The Wildcats opened the second half with a pair of goals by Aly Josephs to tie the game at 6-6. Abby Owen scored her only goal of the game with just over 21 minutes left to put Notre Dame ahead for the final time at 7-6.

Kjellman sandwiched a pair of goals around Albrecht's second goal of the game to make it 9-7 with 8:15 left. Foote scored her second of the day with 6:25 left on the clock to narrow the Northwestern lead to 9-8. Glassanos closed out the scoring with 1:25 left for the 10-8 win.

The Irish out shot Northwestern by a 19-18 margin. Carol Dixon had seven saves while Ashley Gersuk finished with six in the game.

2006 NCAA Tournament - First Round

#7 Notre Dame 16, #10 Cornell 8
May 14, 2006 • Notre Dame, Ind.

After a year away, the Notre Dame women's lacrosse team returned to the NCAA Tournament, opening at Moose Krause Stadium, against the Cornell Big Red.

The Irish scored early and often in dispatching Cornell by a 16-8 score. Senior Crysti Foote and freshman Jillian Byers led Notre Dame with four goals and a pair of assists each in improving the Irish to 14-3 on the year. The win advanced the Irish to the quarterfinals versus No. 4 Georgetown.

Caitlin McKinney added three goals while Heather Ferguson and Kaki Orr scored twice and Brittany Fox scored a solo goal in the win.

Carol Dixon paced the Irish defense as she made 12 saves in the game.

Noelle Dowd led Cornell (12-4) with four goals on the afternoon. Allison McKeown, Allison Schindler, Mimi Baveye and Courtney Farrell scored single goals for the Big Red.

Cornell jumped out to an early 3-0 lead over the first 8:19 of the game. Following the third goal, head coach Tracy Coyne called a timeout to settle her team down. The strategy worked as Foote scored a little over a minute later to start the Irish on a 10-1 run that would give Notre Dame a six-goal lead early in the second half.

Orr cut the lead to 3-2 on a free-position shot and Byers then scored twice in a 1:05 span to give the Irish their first lead of the game at 4-3.

Dowd would tie the game 34 seconds after Byers' second goal, but that would be as close as the Big Red would get. Orr would score her second goal at 14:56 to make it 5-4 with McKinney scoring twice and Byers closing out the half with Notre Dame in front 8-4.

The lead would go to 11-5 early in the second half before Cornell got a pair of goals at 18:07 and 16:56 to cut the Irish lead to 11-7. Notre Dame then ran off the next five goals in a seven-minute span to make it 16-7. Dowd would close the scoring with 1:33 left for the final of 16-8.

Notre Dame out shot Cornell by a 29-26 margin. Maggie Fava made eight saves while giving up 15 goals. Mary Montague gave up one goal on the only shot she would face.

The win marked the 200th victory of Irish head coach Tracy Coyne's career.

2006 NCAA Tournament – Quarterfinals

#7 Notre Dame 12, #4 Georgetown 9 May 20, 2006 • Notre Dame, Ind.

For six years, the Georgetown Hoyas stood in the way of the Notre Dame women's lacrosse team in its attempt to win a BIG EAST Conference title. Three times, including the 2006 season, the Irish finished second to the Hoyas in the league with their lone conference loss coming at Georgetown. Now, only the Hoyas stood in the way of Notre Dame in its bid to advance to the NCAA Finals in Boston, Mass.

Things finally would be different this time around as the trio of Crysti Foote, Jillian Byers and Caitlin McKinney combined for nine goals and six assists to lead the Irish to their first win in eight tries against the Hoyas, a 12-9 NCAA quarterfinal victory that sent the Irish on to the NCAA semifinals at Boston University.

Mary Carpenter, Jane Stoeckert and Heather Ferguson also scored for Notre Dame in the upset victory.

Georgetown got three goals each from Coco Stanwick and Schuyler Sutton while Lucy Poole, Paige Andrews and Courtney Hubschman each scored once for the Hoyas who fell to 14-4 for the season.

The Irish got off to a fast start in the game thanks to Byers who scored Notre Dame's first three goals on the way to a five-point game (3g, 2a).

Hubschman cut the lead to 2-1 with a goal at 19:39 only to see Foote, the nation's leading scorer, set up Byers for her third goal of the game just 31 seconds later at 19:08.

The lead would go to 4-1 when Carpenter found Stoeckert sliding down the middle for a close in shot that beat Georgetown's Maggie Koch at 16:49

After falling behind, Georgetown roared back, scoring the next five goals to take a 6-4 lead.

The Irish were able to regroup and Foote got an important goal with 1:32 remaining to cut the Georgetown lead to 6-5 at halftime.

Notre Dame came out fast in the second half and tied the game when Ferguson converted on a free-position goal at 28:35 to make it 6-6.

Stanwick scored her second of the afternoon at 26:18 to restore the Georgetown lead at 7-6. The score would stay that way until 20:57 when McKinney scored her first goal of the half on a free-position shot to even the score at 7-7.

Stanwick gave Georgetown its final lead of the game (8-7) when she scored at 18:47. From there, the potent Notre Dame attack took over as the Irish scored four straight goals – one by McKinney, one by Carpenter and two by Foote – to make it 11-7. Sutton scored with 7:37 left to make it 11-8 and McKinney closed the scoring with her third goal with 4:08 left in the game.

For the game, the Irish out shot Georgetown by 26-18 and allowed just seven shots in the second half. Carol Dixon made three saves for Notre Dame while Koch had eight saves for the Hoyas.

#7 Dartmouth 14, #6 Notre Dame 8 May 26, 2006 • Boston, Mass.

Crysti Foote's brilliant behind-the-back goal was one of three she scored in her final game at Notre Dame, an NCAA semifinal loss to Dartmouth (14-8) on May 26, 2006 at Boston University's Nickerson Field.

The Notre Dame women's lacrosse team saw its' dream season come to an end in the NCAA semifinals at Boston University's Nickerson Field as the Irish were defeated by the Dartmouth Big Green, 14-8, in front of 3,701.

The loss ended Notre Dame's finest season ever at 15-4 while Dartmouth moved on to face Northwestern in the NCAA title game.

As usual, the Irish were paced by All-American and Tewaaraton Trophy finalist Crysti Foote who had three goals and two assists in her final game for the Irish. Caitlin McKinney added three goals of her own and Heather Ferguson scored twice on the evening.

Dartmouth was led by Whitney Douthett with four goals and two assists and Kristen Zimmer also had six points with three goals and three assists. Casey Hazel, Sarah Szefti and Kristen Barry each had two goals to round out the Big Green scoring.

Dartmouth, a team known for its stingy defense, took the play to the Irish early in the game, scoring the first four goals. Douthett scored twice with Szefti and Zimmer contributing a goal each in the first eight minutes.

McKinney and Foote answered for the Irish, cutting the lead to 4-2. A Dartmouth goal made it 5-2 but Foote scored again with less than seven minutes left in the half to make it 5-3. Kristen Barry's goal at 27:28 gave the Big Green a 6-3 lead at the half.

Dartmouth got off to a fast start in the second half, scoring the first three goals to make it 9-3.

McKinney and Ferguson scored 3:10 apart to make it 9-5 but again Dartmouth scored three straight to open a seven-goal lead.

Foote scored her third of the game to make it 12-6 only to see Hazel and Leibovitz close the Big Green scoring with under six minutes left run the lead to 14-6. McKinney (her third) and Ferguson (her second) each scored in the last minute of the game for the 14-8 final.

Dartmouth out shot Notre Dame, 25-19. Carol Dixon finished with six saves while Devon Wills had four stops for the Big Green.

Meredith Simon ('04) was the BIG EAST attack player of the year in 2004 and was Notre Dame's first Tewaaraton Trophy nominee. She was a first-team all-BIG EAST selection and the first-ever Irish IWLCA first-team All-American following the 2004 campaign.

One of the top defensive players in the 10-year history of the Notre Dame women's lacrosse program, Andrea Kinnik ('04) led the Irish in ground balls and caused turnovers in both 2003 and 2004. She was a second-team IWLCA All-American during her senior season (2004).

Irish women's lacrosse players have always been outstanding in the classroom. Lauren Fischer ('04) got it done both on and off the field. A three-time letter winner, Fischer had 64 goals and 20 assists in 52 career games. She was also the team's winner of the Rockne Student-Athlete Award and was selected twice (2003 and 2004) to the IWLCA All-Academic Team.
