

NOTRE DAME

2007 PREVIEW

Only one season into her career, sophomore Christina Kaelin has already made her mark in the Irish record books. She had five 20+kill matches in 2006 to finish tied for sixth all-time in a single season, and sits just outside the all-time top-10 for career 20+kill matches.

Notre Dame Ready to Bounce Back

Irish confident off-season improvements will put squad back among nation's elite

Most any other college coach in the nation would be content with an 18-14 season that featured a runner-up finish in the conference tournament and a trip to the NCAA Tournament. But not Irish head coach Debbie Brown.

Brown has brought out the big guns since leaving the 2006 BIG EAST Tournament without the league's crown for only the third time since joining the conference in 1995. Accompanying her on the trek to get back on top is a new face on the coaching staff, a pair of three-year starters, two all-conference juniors, an experienced six-member sophomore class, and a freshman that was one of the nation's most coveted recruits as a prep.

The Outlook

Notre Dame is favored to win the 2007 BIG EAST regular-season title after receiving eight first-place nods as voted on by league head coaches, narrowly topping defending champion Louisville by one point. The Fighting Irish are viewed as the team to beat for the second consecutive year, despite ending the 2006 regular season tied for third after going 10-4 in conference play.

"The teams in the BIG EAST Conference are greatly improved, which is quite apparent with three teams from the conference being selected to the NCAA Tournament last season," Brown emphasized. "Each team seems to be getting better and better and our conference competition is as strong as ever, which is great for our program. We'll have our work cut out for us, but just like any other year, we're going into this one set on winning the regular season and conference titles. It's getting harder and harder for us to do that, but we're committed to the challenge."

Seniors Adrianna Stasiuk and Ashley Tarutis look to lead Notre Dame back to the BIG EAST Championship for the fourth time in as many seasons. Stasiuk, a 2006 all-BIG EAST first team selection, and junior outside hitter Mallorie Croal - who was also a first-teamer last season - were both named to the 2007 all-BIG EAST preseason squad. Stasiuk was one of five unanimous selections, joining Kimberley Todd (Marquette), Diana Andreyko (Pittsburgh), and preseason co-players of the year Hui Ping Huang (St. John's) and Tatyana Kolesnikova (Louisville).

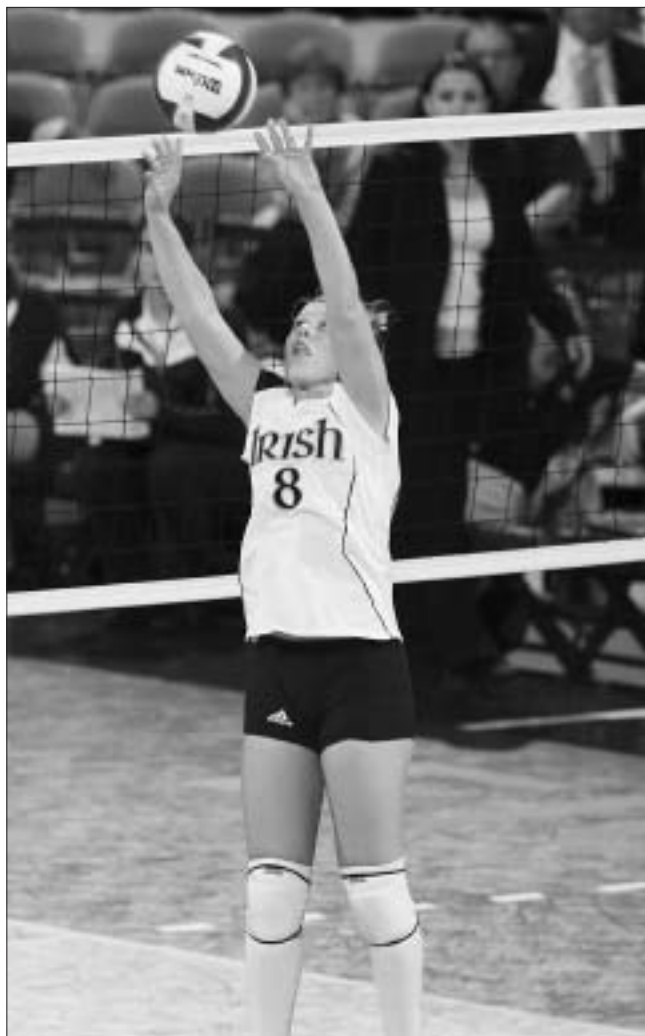

Louisville received seven first-place votes after coming off a 25-7 campaign in 2006 and winning the program's first BIG EAST Tournament title. Led by Huang, St. John's was tabbed to finish third on the heels of posting a 31-5 record and taking home the league's regular season crown with a perfect 14-0 record.

The Schedule

Brown and the Irish set to face 14 teams that earned bids to the 2006 NCAA Tournament and host Minnesota and Florida in the season's opening weekend. The Golden Gophers were ranked in the final 2006 CSTV/AVCA poll and are one of just three teams in the nation to have been ranked No. 6 or higher in the final poll in three of the four seasons since 2003. In fact, the Golden Gophers advanced to the NCAA Regional Finals for the third time in four years and broke No. 7 Florida's 24-match NCAA Tournament home-winning streak before falling to eventual national champion Nebraska.

"I feel our 2007 schedule is very balanced and conducive to us doing well throughout the season," Brown said. "I'm very excited about the overall strength of the schedule with 14 teams that earned bids in the 2006 NCAA Tournament. This schedule is essential for both the growth and development of our program.

"We start the season at home against two very strong, perennial top 20 programs in Minnesota and Florida. Combine those two matches with the teams we are playing in the three early season invitationals, then add in LSU in the middle of the year, and we have quite an impressive non-conference schedule. We feel like we have to take those first few weeks of the season and put together the strongest schedule we can. This is the type of schedule we need to play so we are playing our best volleyball at the right time in late November and early December."

Ashley Tarutis totaled 860 assists in 2006 and now has 3,583 dishes in her career, which is fourth on Notre Dame's all-time list and trails third-place Kristen Kinder by 102.

The Returners

In 2006, the Irish were without five starters from a squad that posted a 30-4 mark one season prior. But six starters that saw significant action last year are back for the most recent Irish campaign. Among the six are seniors Stasiuk and Tarutis, both of whom have been major contributors for the Irish since stepping foot on campus in 2004.

Stasiuk, an outside hitter, is Notre Dame's best all-around player and will serve as team captain this season. Last year she was the team leader in kills (7 times), digs (4), aces (4) and points (9). The Park Ridge, Ill., native had 18 double figure kills matches and 24 double figure dig matches to put her at the #7 spot on the program's single season list. Stasiuk comes off a junior year that saw her earn a spot on the all-BIG EAST first-team and the ESPN The Magazine District V Academic team. Her streak of 10 consecutive matches with 10+ digs from Sept. 17-Oct. 20 tied her for the fourth longest streak in the Notre Dame record book, while she also combined with teammate Danielle Herndon for 936 digs, which is the second highest total for an Irish pair.

Complimenting Stasiuk is the fiery play of co-assistant captain Tarutis, who has seen action in each of Notre Dame's 350 games over the past three seasons. During her junior affair she led the team in service aces with 31 (0.27 per game) and reached double figures in assists in all 32 matches. Her team-leading 860 assists (7.54) helped Notre Dame rank second among BIG EAST squads in that category with 14.78 per game in league contests. Tarutis climbed all the way up to No. 4 on the all-time assist list, trailing third-place by only 113 dish-outs.

"We're could not have been more fortunate to have such a strong senior class," Brown said. "With Ashley and Adrianna starting all four years since they've been here, their court experience is tremendous. But more than anything, both are great competitors and they bring that out in their teammates, and that's something we're looking forward to seeing.

"Adrianna is our best all-around player and will be on the court all the time. She leads by example, whereas Ashley is an emotional leader and her gritty play gets everyone fired up. They're a great combination."

Madison Clark joins Croal and Justine Stremick – both of whom earned all-BIG EAST honors in 2006 – to round out a three-person junior class. Croal will be a co-assistant captain for the Irish, making herself and Tarutis the first in Notre Dame history to hold such a position.

"This is the first year we've had assistant captains," noted Brown. "Instead of going with tri-captains, we implemented this to develop leadership on the team and perhaps groom some younger players for the future position."

Clark continues to punch in solid efforts for the Irish when called upon and gives the team the luxury of working as a setter or defensive specialist. Perhaps one of the most improved players over the summer, she totaled 14 digs (0.48 per game) and had a .941 service percentage in 2006. With the capability of playing on the outside or at the opposite, Croal is a strong all-around player with good skills in the back row and on the front line. As a sophomore, she finished third on the squad with 315 kills and picked up a total of 76 blocks (0.72 per game). A first-team all-BIG EAST selection, her run of seven consecutive double-doubles to end the season was the second longest streak in the record books. As one of the strongest blockers on the squad, Stremick also paced the Irish with a .304 hitting percentage in 2006. And not only did she become the 12th player to record 12+ blocks in a match last season, but her .750 hitting percentage at South Florida was the highest for a Notre Dame player and second-best among league players on the season.

Five of the six rising sophomores broke a sweat in at least 80 of Notre Dame's 114 games this past season. In fact, Brown believes that this class – which was ranked as the third best recruiting class nationally by Volleyball Magazine in 2006 – will play a huge role in the team's success. "They got so much experience last season, with all of them playing a considerable amount," she says. "Having this sophomore class step up this year and play like veterans should take this team a long way."

The Fighting Irish used 11 different lineups in 2006, each of which utilized at least two of this year's sophomores and as many as four members of the class started at the same time.

"I think the team is a in really good place, both mentally and physically. They've worked extremely hard over the summer and are in great shape. You can see that we're still a relatively young team by looking at the roster, but that's very deceptive because our underclassmen have great experience and our seniors are such wonderful leaders."

– Head Coach Debbie Brown

Outside hitter Christina Kaelin had 26 blocks last season, 10 (38 percent) of which were solo, which was by far the largest percentage of solo blocks on the team. Kaelin also had five 20+-kill matches to finish tied for sixth-most in a single season. Notre Dame switched up its two setters – Jamel Nicholas and Tarutis – throughout much of the season, where each one of them led the team in assists in at least 11 matches. Due in part to the two-setter approach, no individual setter was ranked among the top-10 in the BIG EAST but Notre Dame, as a team, ranked second (14.78) in the conference in assists. The hard-hitting Megan Fesl slammed a career-best 16 kills and 18 points against Valparaiso and was sixth on the team with 201 kills (2.42 per game). Tara Enzweiler, who began the 2006 season with a career-best seven blocks against Bowling Green, contributed 21 kills, 24 blocks (0.75 per game) and 37.5 points over the course of the year. Middle blocker Kim Kristoff earned starting nods 22 times to total 122 kills on a .229 hitting percentage, and was second on the team with 88 total blocks (0.92 per game). The Irish leaned heavily on the play of Serenity Phillips, who finished second on the team with a .258 hitting percentage.

The Freshmen

"We're very excited with what our incoming freshmen have to bring," noted Brown. "I look for them to add depth to the lineup and immediately compete for playing time. In having Kellie Sciacca here, we now have four middle blockers training in the gym instead of three, which will pay its dividends.

Sciacca, who was ranked 22nd on PrepVolleyball.com's Senior Aces list in 2006, joins classmates Megan Dunne, Angela Puente, and Stephanie Slatt as Notre Dame's four-deep freshmen class.

The Staff

Returning for his second season with the Irish is assistant coach Greg Smith, who came to Notre Dame from Virginia Tech prior to the 2006 season. He joins Brown on the bench along with a face familiar to Irish volleyball fans.

Lauren Brewster, a two-time All-American and one of the program's most decorated players, is the latest addition to the Notre Dame coaching staff. Brewster will be responsible for working with the middle blockers, coordinating travel, and assisting with virtually all aspects within the Irish program.

Indeed, Brewster knows a thing or two about blocking after having been the NCAA's leader in that category in 2003 while ranking among the nation's top 25 leaders for four straight seasons. She was one of only five Division I players to be an AVCA All-American and CoSIDA Academic All-American in 2005, the same year she was on ESPN The Magazine's Academic All-America second-team. Those accomplishments made her one of fewer than 50 Notre Dame student-athletes in any sport to be an athletic and academic All-American.

Brewster graduated from the Mendoza College of Business with a bachelor's degree in marketing and sociology. After graduating from Notre Dame in 2006 Brewster worked for Team Connection, an athletic apparel distributor based out of High Point, N.C., while leading sales and marketing initiatives for its volleyball department.

Brown's Position Breakdown

Back It Up: "Losing Danielle Herndon was a big blow to the team, but having Madison, Megan, and Angela battle for playing time on the back line will be a healthy competition for our team."

All Settled: "Ashley and Jamel will handle all setting duties for us. They play so well together, and they compliment each other in many aspects. Each brings similar things to the team, but in a different way: Jamel is a good communicator on the floor and Ashley is more outward in how she displays her emotion."

Inside-Out: "We have so many options with our outside hitters. I love the fact that all of them can play left or right – they're pretty interchangeable. Megan Fesl and Serenity Phillips both play the right side really, really well. That lends us plenty of flexibility with how we work the lineup."

It's Big In the Middle: "I'm excited to be able to train with four middle blockers. Kim and Tara improved tremendously over the course of last season, and Justine continues to get better and better. The learning curve for Kellie will be sharp and fast, but she already plays at a high level and should adapt well to the college game."

As a sophomore, Justine Stremick earned all-Big East honors along with Mallorie Croal, who also won a spot on the league's preseason team in 2007.
