2005 TRACK & FIELD SEASON ONE OF THE BEST OF THE HENRY-ERA

LOBOS EARNED ALL-CONFERENCE HONORS 22 TIMES, WON FOUR MWC GOLD MEDALS AND 18 SCHOLAR-ATHLETE AWARDS

RECAP

The 2005 track and field season proved to be one of the best in head coach Matt Henry's five-year tenure. New Mexico unveiled its new state of the art indoor track at the Albuquerque Convention Center and went on to a record setting winter season. During the outdoor campaign, school records continued to fall and the UNM men and women had their best combined performance at a conference championship meet in 15 years. The year concluded with senior Amanda Barnes (Carlsbad, N.M.) and juniors Dan Feltman (Deming, N.M.) and Matt Keeran (Albuquerque La Cueva) giving New Mexico its largest contingent at the NCAA Outdoor Championship meet since 1991. It also marked the first time in twenty years that three in-state products represented the Lobos at the national meet.

During the indoor and outdoor seasons, Lobo athletes combined to earn all-Mountain West Conference honors 22 times and win four gold medals at the MWC Championships. Senior Matt Gonzales, meanwhile, capped his remarkable career by earning All-America honors in the 5,000 meters in his NCAA Indoor Championships debut. Following the season, 37 men and women earned a spot on the MWC Academic all-conference team, including 18 who were given MWC Scholar-Athlete Awards for posting a cumulative GPA of 3.5 or higher.

MWC OUTDOOR CHAMPIONSHIPS

FORT COLLINS, COLO. - The UNM men and women earned all-conference honors 14 times en route to their best combined performance at a conference meet in 15 years. Juniors Dan Feltman (decathlon) and Matt Keeran (javelin) took home MWC titles, while rookies Ariel Burr (400), Kristan Matison (100), Shadrack Kiptoo-Biwott (800 & 1,500) and Jarrin Solomon (400) were among the all-MWC honorees. The New Mexico men scored 107.5 points to finish fourth, while the women tallied their best score since 2000, to finish sixth (64.5 points).

The men surpassed the 100-point plateau for the second time in the past four years, under fifth-year head coach Matt Henry. It was the team's second-highest output since 1990, only behind the 125.5 points scored by Henry's 2002 team. Prior to Henry's arrival, the Lobos had gone 11 straight years without reaching the century mark. The New Mexico women moved up two spots from the previous year to earn their best place in the standings since 2001. The Lobos finished just 1.5 points behind of fifth place UNLV.

The men and women combined for 172 points over the four-day meet, the best combined scoring output since 1990 when the men finished third in the Western Athletic Conference Championships and the women were the runners-up in the High Country Athletic Conference.

THE ALL-AMERICAN

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. - Matt Gonzales proved once again to be one of the most underrated distance talents in the nation as he knocked off six higher-ranked runners in a fourth place finish in the men's 5,000 at the 2005 NCAA Indoor Championships at the Randal Tyson Indoor Track Center. The University of New Mexico senior improved his own

HEAD COACH

Matt Henry

In his fifth year as UNM head track & field/cross country coach, Matt Henry continued the remarkable rejuvenation of his alma mater's program. Since Henry took over the track and field program in 2001, New Mexico's men and women have combined to capture 19 Mountain West Conference event titles, earn all-conference honors 82 times, garner 10 MWC Athlete of the Week awards and set 21 school records. Henry, the 2002 MWC Men's Outdoor Coach of the Year, sent a pair athletes to the NCAA Outdoor Championships for three straight years, before helping three reach the nationals in 2005. He also qualified the first UNM woman to the national indoor meet in 2003 and helped Santa Fe native Matt Gonzales earn All-America honors in the 5,000 (4th) at the 2005 NCAA Indoor Championships.

In 2003, Henry's Lobo legacy came full circle as the former UNM All-American helped Gonzales finish third in the 10,000 at NCAA Championships, earning the 64th All-America award in New Mexico's proud track and field history. Gonzales earned All-America honors in the 10,000 again the following spring and went on to establish himself as perhaps the top American-born collegiate distance runner by finishing sixth in the 5,000-meter finals at the 2004 U.S. Olympic Trials. Fellow NCAA competitor Mark Johnson, meanwhile, secured the first Academic All-America award under Henry, earning first team honors in 2004.

In 2002, Henry became the first UNM coach ever to be named Mountain West Conference Men's Track and Field Coach of the Year after leading the New Mexico men to their second straight fourth place finish at the MWC Outdoor Championships. The men tallied 125.5 points, an improvement of 34.5 from 2001, and 11.5 more points than the men had scored combined (114) in the five years prior to Henry's arrival.

In his first season at New Mexico, Henry led both the men's and women's track teams to their most successful conference meet performances in 10 years as the women finished fourth at the 2001 Mountain West Indoor Championships, while the men placed fourth at the outdoor championships. Henry's athletes also captured five conference titles, the most since 1991, and earned all-MWC honors in 12 events at the indoor and outdoor championships.

Meanwhile, Henry has also returned New Mexico to its traditional place among the nation's top distance running schools. Last fall, he put together the finest cross country team in school history. Led by two All-Americans in senior Matt Gonzales (2nd) and true freshman Shadrack Kiptoo-Biwott (14th), the men of New Mexico placed ninth at the NCAA Championship meet. However, true to the hard-working character of Henry's program, it was a dramatic late surge by the team's fifth scoring runner, fifth-year walk-on Sean Flaherty, that pushed the Lobos into the top-10. The UNM women, meanwhile, were represented well by senior Jacquelyne Gallegos who placed a strong 69th, ahead of 181 other runners.

MATT HENRY QUICK FACTS

- Named 2002 Mountain West Conference Men's Outdoor Track & Field Coach of the Year.
- Named head coach on June 17, 2000 after spending 15 years as head track & field/cross country coach at La Cueva High School in Albuquerque. While at La Cueva, Henry led the Bears to four straight boys' state track titles ('97-00), three boys' state cross country championships ('95-96, '98), a pair of girls' state cross country titles ('94-95) and was named National High School Track Coach of the Year in 1999.
- A four-year letterman for the UNM track team from 1971-74...competed in the 440-yard dash and 880-yard run...part of the Lobos' WAC champion two-mile relay team that earned All-America honors at the 1972 NCAA Indoor Championships.
- Twin brother Mark Henry is UNM associate head track & field/cross country coach...older brother, Pat, now with Texas A&M, was previously the head track coach at LSU, a program that captured 27 NCAA titles in his 17-year tenure...father, Gwinn "Bub" Henry, spent 30 years at UNM, most of that time as the Director of the Alumni Association...Bub and all five of his sons attended the University of New Mexico...Bub's father, Gwinn, was declared the fastest man in the world in 1911 and later served as the Lobos' athletics director, head football coach and head track coach for three seasons from 1934-36 school record with a time of 13:45.72 in just his second career indoor 5K, finishing less than three seconds behind Stanford senior Ian Dobson, who won the race in 13:43.36. A native of Santa Fe, Gonzales earned All-America honors for the third and final time in his track career, snapping a 15-year drought for the Lobos indoors.

After completing a near wire-to-wire victory (13:49.06) in his first indoor 5,000-meter race the previous week at Notre Dame, Gonzales stayed back in the middle of the 15-man pack for much of the race before making a late charge. Although he passed a pair of runners in the final 400 meters, including top-seeded Matt Tegenkamp of Wisconsin, UNM head coach Matt Henry said the leaders had pulled a bit too far away for the tenacious 5-5 Gonzales to catch.

"It's not typical of the way he normally races, but we thought we'd try to sit back this time and see what we could do," Henry said. "I know we both wish we could do it over again tomorrow, but he showed how special he is once again tonight and I couldn't be more proud of his performance."

Dobson, an eight-time All-American, won his first career national title after finishing fifth in the 5,000 at last year's NCAA Indoor Championship meet. Arizona junior Robert Cheseret of Kenya finished second (13:44.51), while Wisconsin sophomore Chris Solinsky was third (13:45.34).

"This was a very, very good field," Henry said. "Just to get in this race in the final week of the season was something special. We're really excited about what happened and can't wait to see what Matt can do outdoors."

Gonzales, who was the first UNM man to compete at the NCAA Indoor Championships since 1993, became New Mexico's first indoor All-American since weight thrower Darren Crawford in 1990 and the first Lobo to earn All-America honors inside on the track since Ibrahim Hussein finished third in the 1,000-yard run in 1984.

A two-time outdoor track All-American, he became the first men's runner in Mountain West Conference history to earn All-America honors in the indoor 5,000 and never finished lower than fourth in his three career national championship races on the oval.

MWC INDOOR CHAMPIONSHIPS

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. - The New Mexico men enjoyed their best scoring output in 15 years at the Mountain West Conference Indoor Championships, finishing fifth with 67 points, just 11 points shy of fourth place Wyoming. The Lobo women finished with 31 points, an eight-point improvement on their 2004 score, but dropped one spot from the previous year, placing seventh overall.

The two squads combined to earn all-MWC honors in eight events, including conference titles in the 3,000 and 5,000 by Northern New Mexico distance stars Matt Gonzales and Ben Ortega. Four years after winning his first league title as a true freshman, Ortega found himself standing atop the medals podium once again after running a career-best time of 14:06.95 en route to an upset victory in the 5,000.

LOBOS, DUKE CITY ATHLETES CELEBRATE RETURN OF INDOOR TRACK

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. -- The University of New Mexico track and field team and a large, enthusiastic group of friends gathered at the Albuquerque Convention Center on Jan. 15 to welcome back indoor track competition after an 18-year absence from the Duke City. The collegiate athletes, which included the host Lobos and representatives from Oklahoma State, Adams State and Western State, were joined by over 300 athletes of all ages from the community.

Albuquerque mayor Martin Chavez and city council president Brad Winter were also on hand for the meet's opening ceremonies. Chavez was the official starter for the first running event of the day, a celebrity 4x200-meter relay race between the Albuquerque Fire Department and Albuquerque Police Department. Winter later competed in the men's pole vault, tying for first in the second flight with a height of 11-06.25.

The city of Albuquerque's first indoor track meet since the 1987 Western Athletic Conference Championships was a rousing success as competitors from ages 3 to 82 enjoyed the city's state-of-the-art Mondo track. While meet directors did not have enough time to secure NCAA Division I certification, several Lobos turned in impressive early season results in the exhibition meet.

Senior Amanda Barnes opened the day with a fine performance in the shot put, winning the event with ease with a mark of 47-04.50. Fellow seniors Jaime Hall and Cameron Clarke, meanwhile, swept the 800 meters in the first event on the oval. Hall clocked a time of 2:19.56, while Clarke was just off his personal record with a time of 1:55.62.

Jacquelyne Gallegos, a junior in indoor eligibility, ran a sizzling time of 10:13.68 to take second in the 3,000. Had results been official, her approximate altitude adjusted time would have been a personal best 9:51. In the men's race, fifth-year senior Ben Ortega would have also shattered his PR with his runner-up finish. Ortega clocked a time of 8:31.05, which would have translated to an altitude adjusted time of about 8:12.

"This is the best indoor track I've ever seen," said Ortega after his race. "The banks (of the indoor track) were so perfect, I hardly noticed them. I just felt like I was floating out there and I only wish we could move the conference meet here this year so I could have one more chance to run on this surface."

Perhaps the best performance of the day came in the meet finale, when New Mexico's Derek Mackel, an indoor junior, flew a career-best 17-00.75 to win the men's pole vault. Mackel, who set his official indoor career-best of 16-01.25 last winter, just missed on his final three attempts at 17-06.

"I'm really excited about what happened today," said UNM head coach Matt Henry. "I'm excited about the performances and that so many of our athletes were able to get an early start on the 2005 season. This facility is an outstanding step forward for track and field in the state of New Mexico. I've already had calls from about 15 universities asking if they can come and compete here next year. This was a special day and the future is only going to get better."

INDOOR TRACK AT THE ALBUQUERQUE CONVENTION CENTER

Good timing, a proactive city council and an irresistible sale all contributed to the return of indoor track and field to the Albuquerque after nearly a 20-year absence. During the spring of 2004 Albuquerque city leaders learned of a $1 million unused and undamaged indoor track sitting in storage in Canada that could be purchased for a mere $500,000. The state-of-the-art Mondo track had originally been ordered, then later declined, for use in the Los Angeles Staples Center arena.

The track finally found a home inside the Convention Center in downtown Albuquerque and made its debut on Jan. 15, 2005 for the inaugural Albuquerque All-Comers meet. Nearly identical to the track used by the University of Arkansas at the Randal Tyson Track Center, Albuquerque's new indoor facility received rave reviews from athletes, coaches and fans. Like the Arkansas facility, which has been the site of every NCAA Indoor Championship meet since 2000, Albuquerque and University of New Mexico officials believe the city now has an indoor track that will be a destination for some of the nation's premier events.

The new Albuquerque indoor track is a 200-meter, 60-degree banked track that has 60m straightaways running the entire length of the facility. It also includes men's and women's jumping runways and pits, as well as an areas for shot put, pole vault and high jump events. The surface of the track is red and white Mondo.

The Albuquerque All-Comers meet marked the University of New Mexico's first indoor competition at home since hosting the 1987 Western Athletic Conference Championships in Tingley Coliseum at the New Mexico State Fairgrounds. Current UNM assistant coach Scott Steffan, who competed at the '87 WAC Championships as freshman decathlete, said the new indoor track will provide a tremendous boost to the head coach Matt Henry's rejuvenated Lobo track and field program. The U.S. Air Force Academy has hosted every Mountain West Conference Indoor Championship meet since the league formed in 1999, but UNM coaches are hoping for a change of venue as early as next year.

"We've now joined Air Force as the only two programs in the Mountain West that have NCAA sanctioned indoor track facilities," said Steffan. "We're going to host one meet this year, but, with the city's help, we would like to once again make Albuquerque one of the country's top destinations for indoor track competition. We've already put in a bid to host the 2006 conference meet and we think this could be a future site for the NCAA Championships as well, which is great for our recruits to know."

In the mid-60s Albuquerque was one of the nation's elite indoor track and field locations. The 1966 AAU Indoor Nationals (now known as the USA Indoor Track & Field Championships) drew a two-day total of nearly 20,000 fans to Tingley Coliseum and was featured on the March 14 cover of Sports Illustrated. Albuquerque officials were able to lure the meet away from its regular home at Madison Square Garden in New York City that year.

INDOOR RECORDS CONTINUE TO FALL

Under fifth-year head coach Matt Henry, the Lobos have rewritten the UNM indoor record book. Since Henry took over the program in 2001, an amazing 13 winter records have been set, including five in 2005. Junior Jacquelyne Gallegos had one of the more impressive record-setting performances as she opened the season with the best 3,000-meter race in UNM history at the Air Force Invitational.

Two years removed from a near career-ending auto accident, Gallegos secured her status as one of the finest distance runners ever to compete at the University of New Mexico. The Pojoaque, N.M. native won the seeded 3K event with an altitude adjusted time of 9:54.07, besting Kelly Dix's (now Kelly Dunbar) 1993 record by 0.3 seconds. Dunbar, who is currently a volunteer assistant coach for the Lobos, still owns the UNM indoor 5,000-meter record which she also recorded in 1993.

Senior Amanda Barnes reclaimed her weight throw record from teammate Jamie Fishencord with a throw of 60-10.75 at the Mountain West Conference Championships and also improved her own standard in the shot put with a toss of 49-04.50. On the men's side, senior Matt Gonzales clocked a record time of 13:45.72 in his All-America run in the 5,000-meters at the NCAA Championships. Teammate Ben Ortega had set the previous mark with an altitude-adjusted time of 14:08.70 before Gonzales' late season surge. Gonzales also teamed with freshman Shadrack Kiptoo-Biwott, senior Cameron Clarke and sophomore Randle McCain to smash the UNM distance medley record with an altitude-adjusted time of 9:46.26 at the MWC meet.
